PUBLISHED AT:
STATESVILLE, IREDELL CO., N. C.

It is the only Democratic Paper published in Iredell county—one of the largest and wealthiest counties in the State—and has attained a larger local circulation than any paper ever heretofore published in the county.

Its circulation in Alexander, Wilkes, Ashe, Alleghany, Yadkin, Davie and Iredell, is larger than that of any two papers in the State combined; and is rapidly acquiring a strong foothold in Forsythe, Surry, Rowan and western Mecklenburg.

It is the only paper in Western North Carolina that employs a Regular Canvassing Agent, and is thus kept constantly before the people. Under this system a rapidly increasing circulation is the result, making the Landmark

The total rainfall in this city for the past 24 hours, as registered at the Signal Office, amounts to 5.49 inches, which is an almost unprecedented amount to fall in that space of time.

Mr. J. W. Strauss, whose decease we chronicled some two weeks ago, was a member of Cornelius Harnett Council No. 231, Royal Arcanum, and the Council has received the sum of $ 00, it being the amount of policy on his life, which will be paid at once to the beneficiaries.

The Literary Club connected with the Library Association will hold a meeting at their rooms at 8 o'clock this evening. It is expected that quite a number of ladies will grace the meeting by their presence, and add to the interest of the occasion. The exercises will be very agreeable in character, and the public are cordially invited to attend.

There is a gentleman residing in Robeson county who has been the father of twenty-one children, seventeen of whom are now living. He was in our office to-day and is a hale, hearty man of 56 years. Of course he takes the JOURNAL, and his business to-day was to settle for a year's subscription. He has our sincere wishes that he may "live long and prosper."

Steamboatmen report that the river is very low on the shoals, and that unless this rain reaches well up the country the traffic on the Cape Fear will be seriously retarded. There was a slight rain yesterday, at Fayetteville, when the boats left, but there was none of consequence until when within about 60 miles of the city.

President Arthur has nominated Mr. W. S. O. B. Robinson, of Goldsboro, as U. S. District Attorney for the Third District of North Carolina. Mr. Robinson is well known in this city. A few years ago he was a postal clerk running between Wilmington and Weldon, and gave up his position to study law. He is a young man of energy.

Unavailable matter, addressed as follows, remains in the Postoffice in this city:

London Westva; H C Long, King's P. O., Brunswick, Co., N. C.; Stalen Slapleton, Island, Richmond Co.; G. W. Skipper, Conwayboro, Ark.; Mrs. F. Harriet Johnson, Charleston, S. C.

A gentleman in Warren, Pa., Mr. F. Baltzinger, suffered so with rheumatism that he was unable to put his feet to the floor. A friend recommended St. Jacobs Oil, and twenty minutes after applying it, all pain had vanished. The use of less than two bottles performed a perfect cure. He says he would as soon be without bread as St. Jacobs Oil.

On Deck Once More.

Capt. Robeson, of the steamer Wave, was in the city to-day, having come down on his first trip since his recovery from the severe sickness with which he has been for some weeks afflicted. We congratulate him upon his recovery, and are glad to see him at his accustomed post of duty once more.

For the Juveniles.

We have received the April number of Our Little Ones, published by the "Russell Publishing Company," Boston, Mass., and it is a pretty and interesting magazine for the "young folk." The illustrations are very attractive and the reading matter such as to engage the attention and interest of young minds and also to assist in mental development.

An exchange says: "Man's average life is 23 years." Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will always live.

Remarkable Longevity.

Mr. Francis M. Pridden, of Kaintuck, in Pender county, died at his residence in that township, on the night of the 23rd inst., at the advanced age of 85 years. His disease was dropsy, from which he had been a sufferer for several months. A singular and notable incident connected with his death, was in the fact that it occurred on the sixtieth anniversary of his wedding day, and that she, who 60 years before, had stood by his side and promised to love, cherish and obey, was present to soothe his last hours and close his eyes in death. Mr. Pridden was the father of eighteen children, seventeen of whom lived to be men and women.

To be Regretted.

We are sorry to learn that the fish in Mr. Jacobs' Loeb's fishpond were destroyed this morning in consequence of the lime which was washed into the pond at the time of the fire. The building in which the lime was stored was contiguous to the pond and considerable quantities of lime were washed into the latter with the deadly effect we have mentioned. This is very much to be regretted. Mr. Loeb has always taken a just pride in the propagation and care of the finny inhabitants of his pond, and had quite a number of the noted German Carp, some of which were 14 inches in length, and it will take some time to make good his loss.

Big Words.

In promulgating your esoteric cogitations or articulating superficial sentimentalities and philosophical or psychological observations, beware of platitudinous ponderosity. Let your conversation possess a clarified conciseness, compacted comprehensibility, coalescent consistency, and a concatenated cogency. Eschew all conglomerations of flatulent garrulity, jejune babblement, and asinine affections. Let your extemporaneous descanting and unpremeditated expatiations have intelligibility and veracious vivacity, without rhodomontade or thrasonical bombast. Sedulously avoid all polysyllabic profundity, pompous prolixity, psittacous vacuity, ventriloquial verbosity, and volative vapidity. Shun double entendres, prurient jocosity, and pestiferous profanity, apparent or non-apparent. In other words, talk plainly, naturally, sensibly, truthfully, purely, and don't use big words.

Aqueous.

Our friend, "T. H. W. M.," who writes to us from the flooded district of the Mississippi Valley, to which "watery waste" he has recently migrated from Pender county, seems to be taking "water in his'n with a vengeance." He is quite a philosopher and maintains his good "sports," notwithstanding the quantity of water with which they are diluted:

RED CROSS, MISS., March 18, 1882.

DEAR REVIEW:—Since writing you last there has been a general inundation of this whole valley, caused from the breaking of the levees, both on the Mississippi and Tallahatchie rivers. The water is higher than ever known before. A great amount of damage and suffering are the effects, particularly to the farming interests. Water from two to six feet deep everywhere. Ladies wading through parlors. Deer, wolves and other quadrupeds being killed by the thousand. One man killed 45 deer.

The flood has been on us ten days, but is abating. We want to see a rainbow. A few spots of dry land are showing to-day.

We have all enjoyed good health and have had "a good old time sleaching around." I am writing with the water running under me only four inches from the floor. No mail in seven weeks.

Hastily, T. H. W. M.

City Court.

Charles Clayton was brought before the Mayor this morning, having been found dressed in disguise under suspicious circumstances for which he was arrested. As nothing positive could be proven against him, he was discharged. He is a stranger in this city.

Important Meeting.

At the First Baptist Church to-night the Rev. Mr. Baldwin, who has been ably assisting the pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Taylor, during the series of meetings, which are now being held with so much of interest and profit, will preach in that church; the sermon being especially intended for the benefit of young men. We hope and trust that all who can will attend and can assure such that they will be benefited socially and religiously, and that they will never have cause to regret the disposition made of the evening.

This Morning's Fire.

At about 2:30 o'clock this morning, a fire was discovered in the building on Marcus' Alley, between Front and Second streets, in which Messrs. E. G. Barker & Co. had stored about 300 barrels of lime. The alarm was promptly given, and, although the rain fell in torrents at the time, the fire department was on hand with its accustomed activity in such emergencies. The roof of the building was totally destroyed, as was also the lime, the latter being fully covered by insurance.

The Seven Wonders gave another of their levices this afternoon. Their full dresses of hair attract all who see them. They certainly are phenomenal.

An Exchange Says:

The seven sisters comprising this family are modest, graceful and pleasant in manners and are all fine vocalists. Their hair is beautiful in color, and averages from four to seven feet in length, Miss Victoria having the longest hair in the family. She is above the average feminine height, and when standing her hair flowing loose over her shoulders trails upon the ground.

Merited Appointments.

Mr. F. W. Clark has been appointed General Freight and Passenger Agent of the Carolina Central, Raleigh & Augusta and Raleigh & Gaston Railroad Companies. The appointment is made by Maj. J. C. Winder, General Manager of those roads, who has also appointed Mr. Thomas Badger Assistant Freight and Passenger Agent of the same. Mr. Clark has for a number of years occupied the same position on the Carolina Central Railroad, and this extension of his duties, responsibilities and usefulness is but a just recognition of his services. He will, we understand, make his headquarters in this city, but Mr. Badger will be stationed at Raleigh.

A Narrow Escape.

On Sunday last, three young ladies of Bladen county, Misses Lizzie Jones, Sae C. Smith, and Ella King, had a very narrow escape from drowning while returning from church at Kelley's Cove, to their homes on the opposite side of the river. The ladies, who resided at Carver's Creek, were escorted to church by Messrs. J. D. Smith, engineer of the steamer Wave, Wiley Ford and James and Lester Devane. After the services at the church were over the ladies and their escorts repaired to the landing at the river, and the ladies and Mr. Smith were in the boat ready to cross the river. Mr. Devane shoved the bow of the boat off and unfortunately it was in some manner capsized, precipitating the ladies and Mr. Smith into the river, which at that point is about 25 feet deep. Mr. Smith caught Miss Smith and swam ashore with her. Mr. Wiley Ford, who was on the bank, plunged in the water to the rescue of Misses Jones and King. The ladies were very much alarmed and caught Mr. Ford in such a manner that his arms were pinioned to his side for a short time, when, after sinking below the surface, he extricated his arms and held the ladies up until Mr. Smith could come to their assistance. When the two were reached by Mr. Smith, Miss Jones had sunk beneath the surface of the water, but the gentlemen brought her to the top, and swam ashore with both of the ladies. On reaching the bank the ladies and gentlemen were so nearly exhausted that they were unable to move. The conduct of Messrs. Smith and Ford deserves much praise. Had it not been for their prompt, manly and self-sacrificing action the ladies would have undoubtedly shared a watery grave.
