Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., as Second-Class Matter.

The Republican Congressional committee embraces the names of all the South ern contestants for seats in Congress. It would seem that the rightful members. are all to be turned out.

Lord George Montague, an attache of the British legation, who lately died at Washington, was a son of the late Duke of Manchester by a second wife, and consequently, half-uncle of Lord Mande-Mr. Stevenson Blackwood, a connection of Lord Dufferia. He leaves one sister. now Countess of Kintore. Lord George was a promising young man.

In the New York Herald, of the 27th instant, is an editorial article headed "Guane in the Senate," and we would suggest that if the article only alluded to the odor in which that body is held throughout the country it is very appropriate, and it might be extended so as to include the House of Representatives, the different departments and appearances would indicate that the same ight soon apply to the White House.

General McDowell has been placed upon the retired list and General John Popos has been promoted to the Generalship, thus made vacant. at, both of them, to be tried by a court martial and dismissed the service, for their infamous conduct af amounted to what is termed with ordina ry thieves as "till-tapping," but he escaped unwhipped of justice. More recently, his brother, John Sherman (Honest John) has been charged with the same offence of "till tapping," but in his case it was the United States Treasury into which he got his fingers. There seems to be but little doubt of his guilt, but he will probably escape the punishment due to violated law and trust.

Another one of this delectable family. U.S Marshal Sherman, of New Mexico, has been discharged, without any other panishment, for embezzlement of the government funds. Surely, they are a fortunate lot, if their morals are not of the highest type. General W. T. Sherman, another of the family, has not yet been charged with any such offenses, and we hope that he may not be, It is enough for him to ville. His mother married secondly be the author of the burning of Columbia, and it will take all his spare time to attempt to prove that it was "some other man" who was respensible for that transaction, without having to be put by all intelligent sufferers. They are upon the defensive on a charge of robbery.

falsehoods relative to General F.tz John this trial, we are at a loss to know what constitutes that revolting crime. Aside from the bad odor which envelopes them relative to that matter, they were never a success as military officers.

Governor Hawkins, of Tennessee, thinks the prospects of the South as manufacturing section are very .flatter ing, and he is especially enthusiastic about his own State. About $2.000, 000 are now invested in Tennessee in cotton factories, and they are in .a. pros perous condition and paying large pro fits. In 1000 the capital invested in the manufacture of iron was $3,684,776, and the Governor is confident the iron in dustry has increased fully fifty per cent. since. There is a deep interest in the iron industry in the State, and capital alarm .- Baltimore Ev. Sat. is being put in it constantly.

Orlando B. Potter, owner of the mantrap building in New York where six lives were lost during a recent fire, escapes indictment by the grand jury. and is likely to suffer nothing worse than the bitter public condemnation which was quick to overtake him. In spite of his arraignment by the coroner's jury, and a careful presentation of the case by the district attorney, the grand jury were unanimous "that no evidence had been adduced before them to show that the owner of the building was responsible for the calamity." It is the same story which repeats itself in nearly every disaster for which somebody has been to blame-popular horror, a demand for punishment as a warning and safeguard, and the final petering out of the slow processes of law in the escape of everybody but the buried victims of blundering.

Judge Advocate General Swaim has made his report to the Secretary of War on the findings of the court martial in the trial of Sergeant Mason, for shooting at Guiteau. He holds that the sentence, on account of certain irregularities and informalities, is invalid.

If this be the case, then the findings and sentence must be laid aside, but it
