The Case of Dr. Lamson. LONDON, April 1.—The St. James' Gazette, referring to a despatch from the New York correspondent of the Standard, stating that the American Secretary of State had requested Mr. Lowell to apply for a reprieve of Dr. Lamson, hopes that Mr. Frelinghuysen has not instructed Mr. Lowell to do anything so unusual and so improper, and has the following offensive paragraph: "We trust that if the United States government should really have committed themselves in the manner alleged they will receive the rebuff at the Home Office which they so richly deserve and which the Secretary, among his other accomplishments, is very well qualified to administer to them."

An American Heiress. PARIS, April 1, 1882.—Mrs. Mackay is exceedingly indignant at the reports current in Paris of her daughter's approaching marriage with a scion of the Bourbons. She informed a Voltaire reporter the other day that there was not a word of truth in the story. "If a monarch were to propose for Miss Mackay," declared her mother, "he would be refused." Mrs. Mackay expressed herself very strongly on the whole subject. She complains that she is besieged by fortune hunters. "If this goes on I shall have to put a notice up on the door," said the wrathful little lady, "announcing that in conformity with American customs Miss Mackay will not have any marriage portion."

The Czar of Russia on being apprised of the murder of General Strelnikoff, ordered that the two assassins who were arrested be executed within twenty-four hours. They were accordingly hanged at Odessa early yesterday morning. The situation at Barcelona is improving. Yesterday, however, there was a riot at Sans, a suburb of Barcelona. Concord Sun: The fine wheat is the subject of remark by all who travel through the county. It is not only finer, but there's more of it growing than we have known in a long time. Newbern Journal: Several boat loads of oysters came in on yesterday, and the canning factory was put to work. About 75 hands were opening. The interest in the revival at the Methodist church is unabated. Dr. Burkhead preached to a crowded house last night and at the conclusion of his sermon many responded to an invitation to kneel at the altar. He was followed by an exhortation from Dr. W. H. Barker which had the effect to bring several more to the altar.

Hickory Press: An evidence that this is a healthy community is that Hickory, a town of 1,500 inhabitants, has not had a single death (to our knowledge) since the year 1881. —Estelle, little daughter of Mr. F. A. Clinard, caught on fire Wednesday evening and was badly burned before the flames were put out. She suffered a great deal but is better now. —Mrs. Silliam Fisher, three miles south of Hickory, who is now in the 92nd year of her age, is quite ill. She has been blind for nearly 23 years but nearly all the while in splendid health, and possesses a most extraordinary memory.

News and Observer: Chatham produces more curiosities than any other county in the State. —This season we have received 55,866 bales of cotton here. —The revenue collections in this district in the month of March, were $71,663.69. —Work on the large shops of the Car Manufacturing Company is progressing with marked rapidity. —A clergyman yesterday said that the whole world is divided into three classes—saints, sinners and the Beecher family. —Sheriff N. A. McCallum, of Columbus, yesterday placed in the penitentiary three negro prisoners, all convicted of larceny. —Yesterday afternoon, while skating at the club rink, Miss Katie Poe, daughter of Mr. George Poe, fell on her arm, fracturing a bone. —At the colored Baptist church we learn that there was quite a row on Friday night, in which a number of negroes were engaged, and during which much noise was made. Several persons were hurt, one colored man severely by a hit in the face with a piece of plank.

Charlotte Observer: As the people of Mooresville were assembling for religious services at the Presbyterian church in Mooresville, night before last, about half past seven o'clock, fire was discovered issuing from Leazar's Academy, near the church. The alarm was instantly given, and in a few minutes the fire was subdued by the aid of buckets, water and ladders. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary, as no fire had been made in the stove since 12 m. —Last night, about 9 o'clock, Policemen Farrington & Healey had their attention drawn to the actions of Geo. Walker, a mulatto man, and stepping into the store of Mr. Stacey, East Trade street, they caught George in the act of helping himself to a quantity of flour and onions. On their inviting him to accompany them across the way, George objected, and wildly scattering his booty in various directions, he put himself in a fighting attitude, and in strong language declared he wouldn't be arrested. He became so very violent that the police had a very exciting time in securing him, using their billies prettily freely in the fight. —Last evening as Mr. Caldwell was returning from Charlotte to his home at Stonewall Station about nine miles from this city, on the Atlantic, Tennessee and Ohio railroad, his wagon being laden with a bale of hay, and other produce, when about a mile and a half from Charlotte the wagon ran into a rut, and Mr. Caldwell, who was sitting on the bale of hay, was pitched backward and fell heavily on his head and shoulders, being knocked insensible.
