THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VI. WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1882. NO. 104.

DOWN THE RIVER.
A Review Reporter on His Travels--The Government Works at Snow Marsh and New Inlet--The New Hotel at Smithville, &c., &c.
A DAILY REVIEW reporter left Wilmington last Monday on board the steam tug Wm. Board, Capt. George Doerer, for a visit to Smithville and the river works. He landed first and spent the day at Snow Marsh and New Inlet and found there some items of interest for our readers. At Snow Marsh two large dredge boats are at work, which necessitates the use of four tags to haul off the mud and sand which are brought up from the bed of the river.
The two dredges at work, the E. F. White and the Christfield, move about 3,000 cubic yards per day, the dredgings being loaded on lighters and carried to the breakwater at New Inlet and there deposited. The depth of water in the channel at Snow Marsh at low tide is 16 feet, with a rise of four to five feet, the latter for Spring tides, which will give 20 and 21 feet of water on full tides. The width of the Snow Marsh channel is about 270 feet at the upper end and 250 to 260 feet at the lower end, and the work on it, which is progressing finely, reflects great credit on Mr.
Bacon, the U. S. Engineer in charge, as also on the contractors, Messrs. Ferriss & Co., who seem thoroughly at home in the big job they have on hand. The government has an inspector on each dredge boat to see that the work is properly done. Mr. Wm. Lewis is the inspector on the E. F. White to whom our reporter is indebted for much valuable information. Col. D. Klein is the inspector on board the Christfield, but this dredge was not at work on Monday, as the boat was undergoing some repairs. The reporter desires to make his acknowledgments to Capt. Doerer, of the tug Wm. Board, and to an old friend, Capt. Thos. Morrison, of this city, the engineer of the boat, for their many courtesies.

THE NEW HOTEL.
Work on the new hotel at Smithville is progressing rapidly under the direction and management of Mr.
Joseph Silva, of this city, the contractor, and Dr. W. G. Curtis, the owner of the property. Capt. Perry's lease is for five years and by the middle of June the contractors expect to deliver the house completed. The wing on one side of the main building is three stories high and the dining-room, which is in the opposite wing, is 60x20 feet.
The location is one of the most beautiful in Smithville, and we hear that the accommodation of the hotel are to be still further increased by the addition of the Morrison house, just opposite, which it is said that Capt. Perry has leased, thus making the accommodations some 55 or 60 rooms in all. Now let the Smithvillians go to work and build a pretty shell drive for two or three miles along the bluff or the bay front and somebody open a livery stable down there and we may look to see the wealth and beauty and fashion of two States thronging in the old town during the merry Summer months.
Let us mention, in addition to the accommodations to be furnished by the new hotel, that the venerable Mrs.
Stewart still keeps up her house in a comfortable style. She has been very busy renovating and cleaning up this week and will offer an attractive house to visitors.

THE LADY MAYORESS.
The Reporter will close this account with a little anecdote which he has heard related of an old lady resident of Smithville who was at one time in fact, if not in title and salary and fees, the Lady Mayoress of Smithville. Previous to the war her word was the law of the land in the municipality, and they still tell how that she was the best and wisest ruler they ever had there. On one occasion much complaint was made of the hogs and cows which were allowed to run at large in the town, committing depredations there just as they do in Wilmington now. Having suffered by their ravages the Mayoress issued an ordinance that no fence law be adopted in the town and that the four-footers be all confined at home, otherwise they would be shot. Some porkers, disregarding the order, invaded her premises for the second time when the old lady sallied out with her gun and shot them with her own hand and had their carcasses thrown into the street. This was effective, and thereafter all of the commands of the Lady Mayoress were duly regarded. This lady still lives, and it is interesting to listen to her many tales of the great past. She is now 88 years of age.

Exports Foreign.
Br. brig Signal, Capt. Williams, cleared to-day for Bristol, England, with 500 casks spirits turpentine and 2,065 barrels rosin, valued at $19-150, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son. Nor. barque Hektor, Capt. Tel-lessen, cleared to-day for Stettin, Ger., with 3,940 barrels rosin, valued at $4-450, shipped by Messrs. E. Peschau & Westerman.

"De Provisions." A bag containing meat, meal and cooking utensils was picked up on the wharf by a police officer on Wednesday night and carried to the City Hall. Yesterday morning the owner of the lost bag proved property and again came by his own. He says that he sat the bag down on the wharf while he went on his raft to see that everything was right and that when he came back the bag and contents were missing. Later in the evening another bag containing meal was picked up on Market, between Front and Water streets, and carried to the City Hall and is now awaiting an owner.

Robbing the U. S. Mail.
A colored boy, name not learned, who is said to have run away from his parents in Wake county, was arrested at Old Hundred, on Tuesday last, for robbing the U. S. mail. Old Hundred is what is known as a "catch" station, and the mail bag is dropped as the train passes through. The young thief grabbed up the bag and made off with it to the woods, where he cut it open with a flint stone. All the letters were opened and left on the ground. The thief had a preliminary examination before a U.
S. Commissioner, and was sent to jail to answer to the charge of robbing the mail.

Stockholders' Meeting, Carolina Central R. R.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Carolina Central Railroad Company was held at the Company's office, in this city, on yesterday morning.
The following gentlemen were elected as directors to serve for the ensuing term: M. F. Leek, of Anson; D. W.
Oates, of Mecklenburg; C. M. Stedman, of this city; J. L. Minnis, of Baltimore; W. W. Chamberlain, of Norfolk; J. C.
Winder, John M. Robinson, R. S.
Tucker, of Raleigh; J. S. Whedbee and R. C. Hoffman, of Baltimore.

Immediately after the adjournment of the above meeting the new Board of Directors met and unanimously elected Col. John M. Robinson President.

Senators Bayard and Vance.
The Wilmington Library Association, through Col. F. W. Kerchner, has recently extended invitations to Senators Bayard and Vance to lecture here for the benefit of the Association and we are sure that our readers will join with us in regretting the fact that they can neither of them accept, because of pressing duties and other engagements. We have been permitted to publish the replies received from those distinguished gentlemen and they are as follows:
U. S. SENATE CHAMBER,
WASHINGTON, April 24, 1882.
F. W. Kerchner, Esq.,
Wilmington, N. C.:
DEAR SIR:—If it were reasonably within my power I would be very glad to comply with your desire that I should deliver a lecture before the Library Association in your city, but I am so surrounded by duties and engagements that it is impossible for me to comply with your request. Wishing every success to your Association, I am, very truly and respectfully yours,
T. F. BAYARD.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25, 1882.
Mr. F. W. Kerchner:
MY DEAR SIR:—My engagements are such that it is impossible for me to promise to lecture for the benefit of your Library. I have been betrayed into some engagements that have given me much trouble and I could no more accommodate my friends who ask me to address this, than the other association then I could move the world. My strength is not enough. If I had the strength of ten men I couldn't do it. So you see now how I am compelled to decline going even to my own towns and among those I care most for.
As soon as Congress adjourns I will have that committee of investigation on my hands, and then the canvass work is to be done; so that I see but little rest before me. You will see that my reasons are many and strong for not doing what would accommodate the people of Wilmington. Every mail brings some such request, and so I have to say no to my best friends.
Yours truly,
Z. B. VANCE.

Prize Drill.
The Wilmington Light Infantry will parade on the 30th of May, their anniversary, and in addition to the usual target practice for a gold badge, there will be a competitive drill in the manful for an elegant silver cake basket. This basket is now on exhibition at Mr. Honnet's jewelry store, on Market street.
Much interest is already being manifested by the members of the good old company, and it is thought that there will be a large and full turnout on that occasion.

The Arion Club.
On Tuesday next the Arion Club will give one of their grand musicale at the Opera House. Several ladies and gentlemen have kindly consented to assist the Arions and the public is promised a rare musical treat. The ability of the club is too well-known to require any endorsement from us and we write this notice simply to remind our many readers that the sale of reserved seats will commence at Dyer's this morning. The price of reserved seats has been put at a moderate figure and we predict that a large audience will greet them.

Bursted a Blood Vessel.
A colored woman named Lizzie Self, residing in the southeastern section of the city, came near bleeding to death, yesterday afternoon, about 6 o'clock, caused by the bursting of a blood vessel between the knee and ankle. She was taken up and carried into the residence of a lady where she received all the aid in the power of the ladies of the neighborhood. Physicians were summoned but before they arrived one of the ladies succeeded in checking the flow of blood. The unfortunate woman was placed on a couch and conveyed to her house.

Our Facilities and Insurance Premiums.
There are now in this city seventy-five fire hydrants, of which sixty are double and fifteen single. In addition to these there are several private hy-drants and the city has recently made an appropriation for thirty additional ones, which will be placed in position at the earliest possible moment. The authorities have had made about twenty-five large cisterns, in different portions of the city, and our fire department is as well organized and equipped as that of any city in the South. A fire hydrant is almost of as much use in an emergency as an engine, but notwithstanding all of these increased facilities for extinguishing the fire fiend there has been as yet no deduction on fire insurance rates which are looked upon by the property-owners of the city as burdensome and out of all reason. It is a well-known fact that we have not had "a decent fire" in the past two years and the insurance companies have met with but few and comparatively small losses.
We think that the Board of Underwrit-ters will reduce the rates on fire risks at their next meeting; at least they should do so.

Messrs. Munds Bros., in Brooklyn, have a fine stock of goods at reasonable prices. They pay especial attention to the selection of good goods and invite the patronage of the public. Their soda water is fine as can be attested by the many parched and thirsty souls who stop in to quaff a glass of this favorite beverage.
