SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Mr. McPherson presented petitions from citizens and boards of trade in New Jersey in favor of the Lowell Bankruptcy bill.

Mr. Voorhees offered a resolution creating a Committee of Investigation to ascertain whether any corrupt or improper influences have been brought to bear on any member of the Senate in regard to the bill pending before the Senate Finance Committee to amend the laws regarding distilled spirits in special bonded warehouses; also to inquire if any attempt has been made to bring such improper or corrupt influences to bear on any member of the Senate to secure the passage or defeat of any bill; that the Committee be authorized to send for persons and papers, and report as early as practicable.

Upon Mr. Voorhees stating that his resolution was based, not upon facts within his knowledge, but upon newspaper rumors, Mr. Morrill objected to its present consideration, and the resolution went over for a day.

The Senate devoted the remainder of the time reserved for the Calendar, to political disabilities bills, repealing the statute prohibiting appointments of ex-Confederates in the army or navy.

Mr. Ingalls moved to amend so as to continue the statute, but to confine its operation to officers who left the army and navy to enter the Confederate service. Mr. Ingalls moved to commit the bill and amendment.

In discussion of this motion, a rather warm debate ensued between Messrs. Ingalls and Hampton as to what were the actual issues between the North and the South in the late war.

The bill finally went over without action.

The bill to create a Court of Appeals then came up as unfinished business.

An amendment affecting the jurisdiction of the court in patent and copyright cases was lost, leaving the jurisdiction the same as now. Other committee amendments were agreed to. Mr. Butler moved an amendment requiring the Judges to be transferred from one circuit to another under the rules of the Supreme Court. In explaining, he remarked that it would have the effect incidentally of enabling certain localities to get rid of unworthy judges. In this connection he expressed the opinion that the Judge in the circuit in which he (Butler) lived was utterly unfit to discharge his duties and that some of his acts was a disgrace to American citizenship.

Mr. Joyce, said he did not know of what the Senator from S. C. complained unless it was the recent rulings in the election cases in that State. The testimony in those cases, if true, disclose a much greater disgrace to American citizenship, than had ever before been perpetrated upon the continent. He wanted the fact noted, if such was the fact, that the object of the Senator (Butler) was to render the administration of the Judge obnoxious to the people of his State.

Mr. Butler sarcastically rejoined that he acknowledged the superiority of Mr. Joyce's facilities over his own for acquiring information concerning events transpiring in South Carolina, but he thought he would be able to demonstrate at the proper time that a Circuit Court Judge had been guilty of conduct that was disgraceful to American jurisprudence, notwithstanding the opinion of the Senator from Kansas.

Mr. Sherman asked whether the references now made are to Judge Bond.

Mr. Butler replied in the affirmative. The amendment was then rejected, yeas 17, nays 33.

Mr. Vest offered an amendment that no Circuit or District Judge, before whom a case or question may have been tried or heard in a District or Circuit Court, shall sit on the trial or hearing of such case or question in the appellate Court.

Pending this amendment, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

After a number of bills had been introduced and referred the House went into Committee of the Whole. Mr. Robinson, of Mass., in the chair, on the Tariff Commission bill.

Mr. Springer, of Ill., opposed the bill. He called attention to the fact that the present revenues exceeded the government necessities to the extent of $150,000,000 a year and surmised that the advocates of the bill were desirous of increasing that immense revenue. The measure simply postponed for one year the whole subject of tariff revision when there were facts enough before Congress to authorize the passage of a bill to reduce taxation.

Mr. Burrows, of Mich., followed Mr. Springer. After some remarks upon the merits of the bill, he criticised what he termed the vacillation of the Democratic party on the subject of the tariff commission, quoting from speeches made by Democratic Senators in support of the bill, and the declaration of Gen. Hancock, favoring the adoption of "some such measure as the Eaton bill," in order to show the change of front made by that party within two years. He was glad that the party had now run up a flag of free trade. Let it not strike its colors before the combat is opened. The issue had been made up, and on it the Republican party would go to the people and await their verdict with the utmost confidence and composure.

Mr. Blackburn, in reply to Mr. Burrows' criticisms upon the Democratic party, declared that there is no degradation politically to which that party had never submitted; it had never gone into league with the flag of a commonwealth's politics, without regard to its antecedents, gathering up Rebel and Union elements together, making a conglomeration like Hecate's hell broth, "tongue of dog and toe of frog," in order to obtain an ascendancy in the Federal Congress, while blasting the escutcheon of the proud old commonwealth on which had been written the story of the Nation's glory. It had never held power in either House of Congress as a result of such foul and unnatural amalgamation. [Applause.] He criticised the committee on Ways and Means for "pleading the infant act" and daring to fling such a measure as the pending bill into the House and then passing on to a discussion of the tariff he declared that a tariff for protection was pillage and robbery. In an eloquent peroration which was loudly applauded he stated his hopes as to the country's future prosperity and declared that his motto shall be "Protection for every citizen abroad, justice and equality for every citizen at home."

The committee then rose and Mr. Henderson, of Ill., Chairman of Committee on Military Affairs, to which was referred the President's message relative to lawlessness in Arizona, reported a bill amending section 15 of bill, making an appropriation for the support of the army for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1879, so as to allow the military forces of the United States to be employed as a posse comitatus to assist the civil authorities within any territory of the United States to execute the laws therein when requested by a Governor of such territory.

The Speaker announced the enrollment of the Chinese bill and affixed his signature thereto. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON.

The Soldier's Home—How Officers of the Army Monopolize Its Products.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Night.—The Senate Military Committee to-day rendered the report of their investigation of the affairs of the National Soldiers' Home. The committee pass sweeping condemnation upon the management of the Home, specifying for example the circumstance that the Surgeon-General and the Commissary-General of the army—two members of the Board of Commissioners have for years been in the habit of receiving from the soldier's home farm regular supplies of vegetables and flowers in season, and that flowers went to these officers at times when none were to be had for the Soldier's Home Hospital, and that these farm and garden products were raised by civilian labor paid for out of the funds of the Home. The Adjutant-General of the army, the third member of the Board, had refused to profit in this manner from his position. The committee submit testimony taken, together with a bill, which provides for various changes in the method of governing the Home and among other things, for adding the Quartermaster General and Inspector General of the army to the Board of Commissioners.

The President to-day issued a proclamation commanding the dispersion of all persons who have been obstructing the proper enforcement of the laws in Arizona, and warning them to return to peaceful pursuits on or before noon of May 15th.

As a mark of respect to the late ex-Postmaster-General Horace Maynard the Postoffice Department will be closed on Friday next, the day of the funeral, and the building will be draped in mourning for 30 days.

A Shocking Disaster at Dover.

DOVER, N. H., May 3.—A fire here yesterday destroyed several buildings and partly destroyed the Washington Street Baptist Church. In the afternoon a storm arose and about twenty persons, principally visitors from the surrounding towns, took refuge in the ruined church for shelter from the rain and hail. While the storm progressed the walls of the church fell in and buried several persons under the partly burned floor of the second story. Everybody was supposed to have been rescued with no more serious injury than bruises or broken arms, and the extent of the disaster was not realized until to-day when the discovery was made that Judge John R. Varney, one of the editors and proprietors of the Dover Enquirer, was missing. Close search was made in the ruins and Varney's body was found crushed to pieces. He was 63 years old, a prominent lawyer and politician, and was formerly Professor of Mathematics in Dartmouth College and was law partner of the late Senator Jno. P. Hale.

STATE NEWS.

Whiteville Enterprise: The wife of Council Leanon, colored, on the night of Monday, 24th of April, fell in the fire while having an epileptic fit and was burned to death.

Oxford Torchlight: The farmers and laborers of Graunville are watching with the deepest interest the growing wheat crop. It is so promising that many of them say it is looking too well.

Kinston Journal: Mr. J. L. Lincoln, of Pamlico, who was in the city yesterday, says a large area of rice has been planted this spring. He thinks the acreage is somewhat increased over last year.

Greensboro News: Dr. Benbow says there will be more fruit raised within two miles of Greensboro than the farmers can utilize. He exhibited yesterday a sprig of a peach tree two feet long, on which there were over 30 healthy peaches.

Charlotte Observer: The idea seems to be prevalent in some sections of Iredell that the prospects for a wheat crop were never more promising. The fruit crop is abundant up to this date. A gentleman in Iredell county, a few days ago, made an interesting discovery while engaged in cleaning out a low land ditch, near Bell's bridge; at the bottom of the ditch was found the walls of a house, the logs composing which were almost all quite sound. The wall was four logs in height and 8 feet long by 10 feet wide, and there was a double floor made of split timber. This discovery puzzles the oldest inhabitant, there being no one living in the neighborhood who remembers any house standing there.

News and Observer: There is some rust in the wheat hereabouts. We hear of its appearance at several farms.—Hon. Wm. M. Robbins, of Statesville, has accepted an invitation to deliver the annual address before the literary societies of the University at the commencement in June. Revivals have been in progress this season, or are now in progress, at the following white churches in this city: First Baptist, Second Baptist, First Presbyterian, Person Street Methodist; also at the following colored churches: First Baptist, Methodist and Hayes.—Sunday morning twenty-eight converts of the First Baptist church, colored, were baptized in Taylor's pond, by Revs. W. A. Green and A. W. Shields. Next Sunday 122, it is said, will be baptized. In all there have been over 150 conversions at the revival, which is now in its fifth week.—We learn from a gentleman of this city, who has just returned from a tour through the eastern counties, that the farming prospects are promising. In Lenoir and Craven particularly, the corn, cotton and wheat look well.

A gentleman informs us that last week Mr. George F. Parrott, near Kinston, had a large field of wheat averaging about 4 feet high; 3000 acres in cotton which he is now bringing to a stand, and his entire crop of corn worked over once. This is going ahead with farming.—The interesting services at St. Augustine church, in this city, on last Sunday morning, when the Bishop made his annual visit to the parish, were attended by a very large congregation. The Bishop was assisted by the Rev. Bennett Smedes and the acting rector of the church, Rev. J. E. C. Smedes. At the end of the second lesson sixteen candidates for confirmation were presented, who, after receiving the apostolic rite, were earnestly and impressively addressed by the Bishop. At the close of morning prayer the Bishop preached an able and eloquent sermon on the divine origin, authority and blessings of the Christian ministry, and ordained to the diaconate William R. Harris and Hannibal S. Henderson, who were presented for ordination by the principal of St. Augustine Normal School, in this city. This ordination, as we are informed, has added two very promising recruits to the ranks of the clerical alumni of St. Augustine's, which has now trained and sent out, for missionary work among their benighted brethren in the South, eight colored clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal church.
