Cool and Clear.
A couple of cargoes of Kennebec flint ice have just been received by Messrs. W. E. Davis & Son. The ice is of the very best quality, and clear as crystal. The Captain of the schooner Ella M. Hawes, who has been in the ice business for fifteen years, avers that he never saw clearer ice. The cargoes average 433 pounds to the block, and a newspaper can be easily read through one of the immense cakes.

The New Grocery.
Messrs. Crapon & Pickette last night threw open the doors of their new grocery house on South Front street.—They have a beautiful stock, all new and fresh and direct from first hands, and they will, we think, do a fine business. They are both very clever and enterprising gentlemen, and good business men, and they deserve success. They will be open regularly for business to-morrow.

An enricher of the blood and purifier of the system; cures lassitude and lack of energy; such is Brown's Iron Bitters.

Wilmington Timber.
We understand that Messrs. Colville & Co. of this city, have secured the contract for furnishing the timber for building the bridge over the Tar River, at Tarboro, for the Seaboard & Raleigh R. R., now in process of construction. The first installment of this timber has gone forward, and a friend at Tarboro, who is a good judge in such matters, writes us that it is the finest timber he has ever seen for large timber, and we think, with him, that it speaks well for our city that the contractors should have had to come to us to get the timber they need.

A Monster Alligator.
Messrs. John Risley and William Craig killed an alligator yesterday in Greenfield Creek which measured 10 feet, 6 inches in length. These young men were at the creek on Thursday and saw the 'gator and got a shot at him but he got away. They went back yesterday and traced him to his lair, near which they found him sunning himself. They shot him under the fore-paw and killed him, with a load of buckshot. This alligator was an old coaster and had been seen a number of times by parties straying in the vicinity of the creek, and he is said to have killed and devoured a number of dogs.

Anything in the hardware line can be found at reasonable prices at JACOBI'S.

Missing.
We have had two complaints to-day from subscribers in Richmond, Va., to the effect that the REVIEW had not been received by them for several days. It is evident from this that the entire Richmond package must have miscarried. We are at a loss to account for the fact otherwise, as the mail leaves this office regularly every morning in full time for the Northern mails. If there are any further omissions after this we trust that our Richmond friends will notify us once more but we think that the papers will go correctly hereafter.

To Promote a Vigorous Growth of the hair, use Parker's Hair Balsam. It restores the youthful color to gray hair, removes dandruff and cures itching of the scalp.

Fell Overboard.
A devout old colored man, giving his name as Prince, fell overboard last night in trying to get on the camp-meeting boat. Officer Griffith ran to the rescue and saved the old man from a watery grave, who upon reaching the cap of the wharf, knelt down and prayed fervently for the safety of his rescuer. The officer was moved to tears and fumbled around in his pockets for some minutes in search of a nickle with which to warm and comfort the old man. He succeeded at last in finding a bright button and told the man to go on his way rejoicing.

Best ever made, Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, pleasant to take, sugar coated; no griping; only 15 cents a box, of Druggists or by mail, Standard Cure Co., 114 Nassau Street, New York.

OUR BOYS IN GREY.

Twenty-Ninth Anniversary of the Wilmington Light Infantry—Target Practice at Hilton, and a Prize Drill at the Opera House—A Handsome Testimonial for the Gallant Commander.

The Wilmington Light Infantry celebrated their anniversary yesterday by a parade through the streets, and target practice at Hilton, the prize being the beautiful gold badge which was worn last year by private Johnson.

The members met promptly at the Armory at 8 o'clock, and marched to Hilton, where a rifle range 200 yards long had been selected. Three shots were allowed each man, and at the conclusion the judges declared private George McDuffie the winner of the contest. After the practice, the Company marched back to their Armory and broke ranks, to meet again at 8 o'clock in the evening.

At night the Company was formed in the Armory and marched to the Opera House, where the competitive drill in the manual of arms took place. The prize for the best drilled member in the manual was a handsome silver cake basket.

The Company was formed in single rank across the stage and facing the audience, after some preliminary marches, when quite a spirited competition took place in the presence of the Judges, Messrs. Jno. C. James, H. C. McQueen and F. A. Lord. The audience was quite a good one and manifested great interest in the competition. The whole number of members competing were first carried through the entire manual and the least proficient then dropped, under direction of the Judges. This programme was repeated until the competitors were narrowed to Orderly Sergeant B. W. Dunham and Corporal George Harris. These two were very closely matched, but after two trials between them, the decision was finally rendered in favor of Sergt. Dunham.

Hon. A. M. Waddell then made a handsome little presentation speech, bestowing the prize for the best shot in the target practice upon Mr. McDuffie, and the prize in the competitive drill upon Sergeant Dunham. Mr. W. B. McKoy received the prize on behalf of Sergeant Dunham. Then came the most pleasing incident of the evening. Col. Waddell called up Capt. Cantwell and presented this veteran commander, on behalf of the members of his company, a handsome gold-headed cane. Though completely surprised Capt. Cantwell was equal to the occasion and returned his thanks in a very happy manner. The ranks were again formed and the company marched back to the Armory where a nice little collation had been prepared for them, and thus very happily ended a pleasant anniversary.

We must say in conclusion that many compliments were passed upon them for their very creditable drill in the manual of arms.

Promoted.
Dr. Fairfax Irving, Surgeon-in-charge of the Marine Hospital, in this city, has been promoted to a Passed Assistant Surgeon. His promotion was received from the War Department on yesterday. A compliment justly deserved and worthily bestowed.

Saw Fish.
The run of saw fish at the Inlet has been very good. During the past week eighteen large ones were caught at the fisheries of Messrs. W. E. Davis & Son. These fish are only valuable for the oil which their livers yield—eight gallons being the average—and is worth from 70 to 75 cents per gallon. It is used for lubricating purposes.
