There is something rather peculiar about the full moons this year. The first seven months they full very near the first day of the month and during the last five months near the close. In January the moon filled on the 4th, in February on the 3d, in March on the 4th, in April on the 3d, in May on the 3d; in June it will fill on the 1st and in July on the 1st.

An enricher of the blood and purifier of the system; cures lassitude and lack of energy; such is Brown's Iron Bitters.

Times are getting better, and a great many nice young men would marry if they could get girls who were able to support them comfortably.

Red stockings will be all the rage this summer for pic-nics and rural rambles; they hide the dust, and the same pair may be worn for a week.

The new style blood red straw hats are not pretty and never will be; it is a matter for surprise that any girl, pretty or ugly, will consent to wear one.

The great comet of 1882 will come within a thousand miles of the sun. A magnificent display will take place about the middle of June unless astronomers are at fault.

There's fun ahead for those who will attend the Republican nominating convention at the Court House to-day. There will be contesting delegates from the First and Fifths Wards and the "session of the convention" promises to be unruly and stormy.

Base Ball.

In a match game of base ball played yesterday afternoon between two juvenile base ball clubs, the Tar Heels and Little Buds, the score, as claimed by the former, was 23 for the Tar Heels and 20 for the Little Buds. Per contra, since the above was written, the Little Buds have appeared on the scene and claim the game by a score of 27 to 21.

The Delegates.

The delegates to the Republican Nominating Convention to be held to-day from the out-of-town precincts are as follows:
 Masonboro Township—Elijah Hewlett, W. H. Waddell, Wm. Pratt.
 Cape Fear—Jas. A. Sharpless, Julius Bizzell, Geo. W. Price, Jr.
 Federal Point—B. W. Wade, Henry G. Davis, Claman Moore.
 Harriet—Not yet reported.

 Nor. barque Gobi, Capt. Svendsen, cleared yesterday for Sunderland, Eng., with 2,184 barrels rosin and 50 casks spirits turpentine, the whole valued at $6,450, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son.

The Missing Found.

Mr. Lucien Pridden, who was reported missing a few days ago and for whose safety some anxiety was felt, turned up safe and sound Thursday night. He had been at or near Abbotts burg getting out cross ties and thinks it funny that "such a row should be kicked up" about a man who was off working, trying to make an honest living.

Death of Col. Tucker.

Our telegraphic dispatches to-day announce the death in Raleigh, last night, of Col. W. H. Tucker, one of the oldest and most prominent citizens of Raleigh and the senior member of the widely-known firm of W. H. & R. S. Tucker. The deceased gentleman died very suddenly, of apoplexy, aged about 60 years. No further particulars are furnished.

Knights Templar's Excursion.

The Knights Templar's excursion down the river on the Passport on Wednesday was not as largely attended as we had hoped it would be, but those who attended were well paid in pleasure and recreation. The gentlemen of the committee did all in their power to make the day a memorable one for those who participated in the excursion.

Nine New Members.

The Produce Exchange is booming. At a meeting of the Board of Managers, held yesterday, the following applications, nine in all, were acted on, and the gentlemen named therein admitted as members of the Exchange, viz: Jno W Gordon & Bro., E B Dickson, A A Willard, Jno E Crow, E J Pennypacker, P. Cumming & Co., Jas I Metts, W P Oldham, F W Clark of the C C R R.

Flies and Bugs.

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, gophers, chipmunks, cleaned out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

A Lucky Cat.

A large cat made a leap for life from the third story window of the Commercial Hotel, yesterday morning, and came near frightening our young friend, Henry Savage, out of seven years' growth. The cat had been trying to catch a pet canary which was in a cage in a room occupied by the owner of the bird when a boot-jack was hurled at it. The cat jumped from the window, landed on Henry's shoulder and started off up Market street in a fresh trot.

The Tragedy at Monroe.

The Monroe papers contain a very full account of the unfortunate homicide which occurred there last Wednesday evening, which resulted in some very painful injuries sustained by Mr. Berry Binford, formerly of this city, and the killing by that gentleman of his assailant. The deceased man was a colored prisoner confined in the county jail at Monroe on the charge of an attempt to assassinate a colored woman. He was a very muscular man and was known as a desperate character. He had confided to a fellow-prisoner in the jail, (as has since been confessed) that he was determined to play a violently insane dodge and attempt to escape from the jail, even if he killed some one in the attempt. On Wednesday he was confined in a cell alone, and refused his dinner, when it was sent to him, stripped himself to the waist and began with his naked hands to tear off the wooden ceiling of his cell. We must now let the Express tell the following:
 The Sheriff finally summoned a posse to aid him to remove the negro and as it was impossible to keep the crowd back, the corridors of the jail were soon filled with people. The negro defied the crowd, cursed them for everything he could think of, dared them to enter the cell, saying that he would kill the first one who did so, and when some one threatened to shoot him, he replied, "blaze away; I haven't got but one time to die and would as soon die now as any time." He told the Sheriff that he had just as well prepare his rope and hang him at once; that he would have to do it, as he intended to kill somebody if he ever got out, and he had just as well prepare his rope and do the job. He had torn off six or eight square feet of the ceiling, and the pieces of plank, of suggestively convenient size for handling, were lying scattered around the room, and no one was willing to enter it. The crowd was there probably half an hour trying to devise means to get at him, when Doss Williams, a very stout negro man, proposed to enter the cell, but when the door was opened, before Doss could make an attempt to enter it, with a bound, like an enraged tiger, he was through the cell door and in the midst of the crowd, with a piece of plank in either hand, which he was striking about him indiscriminately. Some of the crowd, panic stricken, rushed for the steps, but several closed upon him, but he was so slick, being entirely naked to the waist, that he slipped through their hands like an eel. Finally Mr. J. S. Richardson caught him by a piece of cloth which he had tied around his neck, and in the struggle they went into the cell which was opposite the one in which he had been confined, carrying Mr. Berry Binford with him. The negro appeared to pay no attention to Mr. Richardson, but threw him around as if he was a child, and seeing Mr. Binford before him he made for him and struck him two severe blows with the plank, and was in the act of striking him again when he was jerked around by Mr. Richardson, when Mr. Binford, having drawn his pistol while he was in close quarters, shot him twice in the back and in the right arm, when he fell with a groan. Mr. Binford, who was very seriously hurt—and who would undoubtedly have been killed if the negro had had a fair lick at him—was conveyed to a bed room in the second story of the building, where he was immediately attended by Dr. W. C. Ramsay. Dr. S. J. Welsh was summoned to attend the negro, but pronounced his injuries mortal as soon as he examined him. The negro lingered about two hours after being shot, dying about half an hour before sundown.
 Mr. Binford was stricken on the arm and shoulder, and very painfully, but not seriously injured. He will probably be able to be out to-morrow. Mr. Binford had borrowed the pistol which he used in the morning, to practice for the 4th of July shooting, and was in the act of returning it when he heard the fuss in the jail and went up with the crowd. It was a fortunate circumstance that he happened to have it.
 The coroner held an inquest over the remains this morning and the jury, after hearing the evidence, which was in accordance with the above facts, rendered a verdict entirely exonerating Mr. Binford from all blame. It appeared from the evidence of Werry Clyburn that the negro intended to make his escape at all hazards, and had told him that he intended to act just as he did.

Shot and Cut.

There was a little set-to yesterday on the excursion train at Whiteville. Two drunken colored men quarreled, when one of them, Ellerby, cut Geo. Freeman in the left shoulder with a large knife. Ellerby leaped from the train and ran for the woods, but was shot by some one as the train moved off. We have tried to get particulars, but have failed. The excursionists are reticent about the matter, and seemed to think we were a sheriff, backed by a posse comitatus, who was asking questions with a view of getting them into trouble. Both of the men were from Marion. Freeman's wounds are not very severe, but it is not known to what extent Ellerby is hurt. When he was shot he dropped and crawled into the woods while the train moved off.
 Albert Walker, colored, was arrested yesterday for playing ball on the streets.

The very latest for young men of the extreme type of fashion, is pants cut skin tight, gently sloping toward the feet, where they are pasted to the ankles with mastic, intended to keep ants from crawling up a man's legs at picnics.

We are authorized and requested to state that the assertion made by us a few days since, to the effect that Mr. Samuel Bell's attempt on his life was due to domestic difficulties, is erroneous and that it was not due to this cause.

Anniversary Celebration.

The anniversary of the Wilmington Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, was celebrated last night by the members of the Company and their invited guests at Pine Grove, Wrightsville Sound. The members and guests rode to the Sound in ambulances, wagonettes, etc., and were met by Capt. E. W. Manning, who gave them a hearty welcome, and the freedom of his beautiful place. Lolling on the lawn and rambling on the beach, was indulged in until supper was announced.

The elegant repast, rich in Sound fare, which had been prepared, was done ample justice to by those whose appetites had been whetted by the ride and the invigorating salt breeze.

Washington Irving Whitney Flirts with Fortune.

He is 48 years old, but has the appearance of one who has gone through with long years of hard work. His family consists of a wife and four children. He bought a half of ticket No. 78,637, in the April (the 143d) Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery for one dollar. He received promptly $15,000, and has invested $3,500 in the purchase of house No. 265 W. Jefferson st., and the rest he will invest against a future possible rainy day.—Fort Wayne (Ind.) Sentinel, April 17th. The next drawing will occur June 13th, when Gen'l G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va., will scatter over half a million dollars amongst those wise enough to invest. Any one can apply for further information to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La.

Burgaw---Religious Meetings in the Presbyterian Church.

BURGAW, May 25, 1882.

DEAR EDITOR: Rev. C. M. Howard is holding religious meetings, day and night, in the Presbyterian church at this place, with most remarkable success. These moonlight nights, the people gather for miles around, and listen with marked and eager attention to the wonderful powers of this man of God. His devotion in prayer, his great desire to be like Jesus, and the many examples he gives to plainly illustrate his doctrines carry the people with an irresistible force. Many are enquiring the way to be saved, and we think we do not exaggerate if we say 30 persons went up last night to the bench of prayer. We hope this good man will remain here until much good may be done, and it can be truly said of these people, "Behold, how they love one another."

Solicitations to visit other churches are pressed upon this excellent and powerful man, and it is believed he will go to Mt. Williams and then to Topsail churches when he leaves here. We want the people to come out and hear him, for we believe he will cause them to think as they never thought before. His teaching and training of the children has a happy and beneficial influence over them and makes them anxious for the hours of church services to arrive.
 May he live long to push forward the great work in which he is engaged.

Best ever made, Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, pleasant to take, sugar coated; no griping; only 15 cents a box of Druggists or by mail. Standard Cur Co., 114 Nassau Street, New York. 8m d&w.

The receipts of cotton at this port yesterday foot up only 5 bales.

Chatham Record: Mr W E Griffin, of New Hope township, has shown us a Spanish silver dollar that bears date of 1726.—Mr H L Burns, of this township, has a two-acre field of wheat, in which the stalks will average six feet in height, and all well headed.
 During the month of April Mr Lucian Tyson, of Bear Creek township, had six swarms of bees to come from one hive. Who can beat that? —Mr James N Green, of Hickory Mountain township, informs us that in shearing his sheep, two weeks ago, he clipped even and a half pounds of wool from one sheep.
 The Convocation of Raleigh will meet in the Episcopal church at this place, on the 14th day of June, and remain in session until the Sunday following, when Bishop Lyman will make his annual visitation to this parish.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City, and you will receive it.
