FOR SOLICITOR: SWIFT GALLOWAY, OF GREENE.

FOURTH JUDICIAL DIST

FOR JUDGE:

JAMES C. McRAE, OF CUMBERLAND.

FOR SOLICITOR: JOHN D. McIVE, OSOF MOORE!

SIXTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

FOR JUDGE:

WILLIAM M. SHIPP. OF MECKLENBURG.

FOR SOLICITOR: FRANK J. OSBORNE, OF MECKLENBURG.

We are glad to know that the Monroe Enquirer agrees with us so heartily on some points. Still, we would suggest that when it copies an article from the editorial columns of the REVIEW into the editorial columns of its own paper, it might manage to slip in the credit marks somewhere.

We point with pride to our own county. In all of New Hanover, the home of the unfledged "Jedge" Darby, there are but two "Liberals"-but two Democrats who have been attracted by the love of place and pap into the Republican lines. New Hanover is always 'right on [the goose." If the other ninety-three counties in the State will but do as well, we may count on 20,000 majority.

One Will G. Means, which means that he will if he can, who hails of course from Concord, where all means meet and where much sometimes means but a little, wants to be Solicitor in the Sixth district, on the platform of opposition to the present system of county government and the "trade" on this matter alleged to have been made in 1876 in the Legislature, which has al ready been disproved by the records.

effected a fusion with the Greenbackers licans. The following are the nominations of the convention, made last Tuesday:

For Governor-Harris M. Plaisted, For Congressmen - First District, Gen. S. J. Anderson; Second district,

Daniel H. Thing; Third district George W. Ladd, Forth district, T. H. Murch. The Congressional ticket is composed of one Democrat and three Greenback-

A New York letter says: "The wiser heads of the Republican party here, I am informed, are sending strong remonstrances to Hon. Jay A. Hubbell against any further controversy just now with the Civil Service Reformers, and also against any turther attempt to collect money for campaign purposes from Federal employes. They characterize it as an unprofitable issue any way, and obtruded upon the public at a most inopportune time. Moreover, if there is any possible advantage to accrue from it, they are cer tain it will be reaped by the Democrats. and not the Republicans. The men who are thus advising Mr. Hubbell, and the Republican committee, for whom he is acting, are understood to be merchants, bankers and business men—persons who have heretofore been among the most liberal contributors to the election expenses, and who expect to do so again, though none of them are or expect to be office holders. It is not the first remonstrance of the kind from the same source, but it is uttered now in the imperative mood."

Bro. Jones, of the Charlotte Observer. s "getting it hot" all around. We are almost sorry for him, poor fellow. Capt. Ashe, of the News and Observer, takes him up with a sharp turn of the wrist when, in response to the assertion that in 1876 there was a bargain between the East and the West on the county government and railroad questions, he tells him that "the record refutes this foul slander on the Democratic party." Bro. Jones will return to his normal condition when he wakes up some bright morning next Fall and finds that Mecklenburg county has gone Republican by several hundred majority.

Cotton is slowly gathering speculative interest as good average crops reduce the risk about grain. The Egyptian crop, it is now generally admitted, will amount to little. It is a mere fraction of the world's supply: 425,000 to 500,-000 bales out of 8,000,000; but it has a special importance owing to its long staple and its importance in use with other cottons. This circumstance leads to its importation to this country, for instance. With the Egyptian cotton out of the way, a small or average crop in this country will put cotton high, as the year will close with about one-fifth to one-sixth the usual amount left over. The Financial Chronicle, in its reports, puts the reduction in acreage low-not over 14 per cent .- and looks for a fair crop. Until the next few weeks' weather has settled the question, however, little can be known.

The New York Produce Exchange has voted to adjourn from Saturday, July 1, until Wednesday, July 5th. The Cotton Exchange goes further, deciding to reassemble on Thursday, July 6. Holidays have fallen conveniently this year for the purpose of extending them. The new year came silver certificates $66,076,810; certificates cates of deposit outstanding $13,320,000; lation of Malcom is homeless. Every church and public house is destroyed.

Easter Monday was more generally observed than usual this year, and Decoration day on the Tuesday after Whit Sunday, so that many people managed to put in a three days' vacation at that time. Now, the occurrence of the 4th of July on Tuesday will give New York another chance for a three days'

According to the New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger the quarantine authorities at that port are disturbed by the announcement of a fatal case of yellow fever at New Orleans. From the exceptional thoroughness of the quarantine arrangements inthe latter city there this season, it was not deemed probable that, even if the pestilence made its appearance, it would get beyond the Marine Hospital at the South Pass. The immediate effect at New York, it is stated, will be to quarantine all vessels from New Orleans, a proceeding which means a deal of embarrassment and trouble for steamships and merchants having business connections with that port. Owing to this case Governor McEnery, of Louisiana, has suggested the advisability of extending the quarantine at New Orleans, for essels from infected ports to twenty days, but, after some discussion, it was decided to postpone any decision in the

A Fearful Struggle for Life and a Terrible Death.

[By Telegraph to Dath Review.]

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 1—Noon.—A special from Cadiz, Trigg county, says that Jno. Bridges was hung here yesterday in the presence of the largest crowd ever assembled in this county. At the foot of the gallows the doomed man exhibited considerable nervousness but met the ordeal bravely. Bridges took his stand on the trap, when the black cap was drawn over his face, and the noose was adjusted, Sheriff Boyd quickly sprung the trap and with a dull heavy thud the body fell. At the instant of the fall the noose slipped and [By Cable to Dally Review]
