Sermon by a Wilmington Minister.

We find in the Raleigh Recorder of this week's issue the following notice of the sermon preached last week at the Commencement of Chowan Female Institute at Murfreesboro, N. C.:

After prayer by Rev. W. M. Kennedy, Dr. J. B. Taylor, of Wilmington, preached the sermon to the graduating class from Prov. 4: 26: "Ponder the path of thy feet and let all thy ways be established." The speaker said he deemed it appropriate to call their attention to that part of their life which lay before them—their future career. The mistakes of school days may be corrected, but blunders after life is commenced in earnest, are fatal. They must then, 1. Persevere in education. Your education is not complete when you go from here. You must develop the whole being, persevering in order that you may attain the greatest development of all your faculties. He was pleased to witness the calisthenic exercises of the morning. It was for physical culture, and was necessary, yet true womanhood cannot be attained by the cultivation of one part of our being. All must be included. He warned the young ladies against the abuse of dress and the enchanting mirror. They must make their virtues their true dress, genuine ornaments.
The battle of life is not ended with your school days. When you leave here you are just prepared to enter upon the vast field of knowledge before you. If you fail to see this, the hope of friends will be disappointed at that which promised so much, but which ended in failure. 2. Have a fixed plan in life, and bend all your energies to its fulfillment. This lesson is taught in the fact that God himself is definite in his plans. Distinguished men in life, as great statesmen and wise generals, have an object before them to be attained. It is as necessary for every one to have a plan. The question, "what shall be your plan," will be met by the Lord. He will be your guide. Have an object. Be not willing to do nothing. Make the world better. You may not be able to be stars, but may do good, and be willing to do it in little things.
3. Glorify your God and Saviour. He rejoiced to know that all the graduating class belonged to Jesus. (Glorify God.
How you yourself must decide. Not to see God's glory, is to miss your own.
She who guards not this, must shed tears over a misspent life. Such a life is a failure. On the other hand, she who consecrates her life to Christ blesses all around her. Earth brightens about her. She looks back over a well-spent life—over a path of glory, and such experience pours into her ears the divine truth, "Thou livest forever!" Which of these shall be yours? Dr. Taylor was at times genuinely eloquent, and in our hearts we thanked him for his sermon, so sound in advice, but, above all, so deeply spiritual.

The Cape Fear Steam Fire Engine Company returned to this city yesterday from Charlotte, where they went to spend the Fourth. They say they were well received and kindly treated by the authorities and firemen of Charlotte.

Anything in the hardware line can be found at reasonable prices at JACO Bros.

Wah!

A little wool-pulling took place at a dance house, on Water street, last night.
Knives were drawn and one or two knock-downs are recorded, but there was no blood shed, except a flow of claret from the vitiated olfactories of the combatants.

Matrimonial.

Miss Laurina Hewlett, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr.
Elijah Hewlett, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock, last evening, to Mr.
James Holton, of High Point. The ceremony took place at Masonboro Sound and a large number of friends and acquaintances witnessed the ceremony. The happy pair will make High Point their future residence. May peace be theirs through life.

Stolen Brass.

Yesterday a railroad official swore out a warrant against a junk dealer, charging him with stealing or having stolen brasses in his possession. The man was arrested and promptly gave up the stolen brasses and stated that he had bought them from a person whose name he gave to the officer. A warrant was issued for the person and he was arrested yesterday afternoon as he stepped off of the Passport. The brasses stolen were very valuable and were identified by the official but we suppress all names until the preliminary investigation of the case.

Terrible Catastrophe Averted.

The accident to the Vesta, Tuesday night, came near being very serious, and one which might have resulted in great loss of life and a total destruction of the boat, had it not been for an engineer, who was one of the passengers. It is the place of the fireman to attend to the boiler and pumps and see that things at his end of the boat go on well. The fireman on the Vesta did not on this occasion attend to his duties, and, worst of all, was drunk, if we are reliably informed. He filled the furnace full of wood and laid down and went to sleep. When the engineer spoken of above discovered the condition of affairs he roused the fireman and tried to make him put out his fires and blow off steam, as the boiler was almost dry. The drunken fireman in his stupor started to pump cold water into the boiler, but was stopped in time to avoid an explosion.
The owners of the steamer promptly discharged the man, who heretofore has been considered reliable and sober, and regret far more the little fright the passengers received than any one else.

Vessel Ashore.

The schooner L. Sturdevant is ashore six miles to the Northeast of New Inlet. She was bound from New York to this port and is laden with brick water pipe. She was discovered to be leaking very badly on the Fourth and the men were put at the pumps but found the water was rapidly gaining on them. The captain found it necessary to put her ashore Wednesday night, to keep her from sinking at sea. The crew, together with the sails and rigging of the vessel, were saved, but the hull and cargo will prove a total loss.
The captain's wife accompanied him on the trip out. He came up to this city yesterday morning and reported the disaster to Messrs Geo. Harris & Bo., the consignees of the vessel. The crew stayed by the vessel to save all that they could of her tackle, sails, spars, etc.

Durham Plant: Capt. Laswell, who has been in a precarious condition for several years, died at his residence in Durham last Saturday. —James Jackson, a fifteen-year-old son of Jack Jackson, was drowned in Redmond's pond, three miles West of Durham, Sunday afternoon. The lad, in company with several companions, was out on the pond in a boat, when young Jackson signified his intention of jumping overboard. He did so and not being able to swim was drowned in a few minutes.

Catawba Mercury: Henry Keever, an old and respected citizen, residing near the Shuford gold mine, died suddenly last Thursday morning, while sitting in his chair. —On Tuesday, June 27th, Newman Golden, colored, from Third Creek, an employee on the construction train of the W. N. C. R.
Co., in attempting to pass from the platform of a coach to a flat car, loaded with cross-ties, stepped on the bumper, and his foot having slipped, fell between the cars and was run over by two coaches, receiving mortal injuries.

News and Observer: General R. D.
Hancock has assigned Lieutenant Colonel John W. Cotten to the command of the First Regiment. Captain Washington Bryan has been appointed assistant Adjutant General of the First Brigade. —We are informed that the rain storm was so severe and heavy yesterday afternoon that the "Shoo Fly" train from Goldsboro was stopped near Clayton and the engine was unable to move the train during the storm.
The flashes of lightning were terrific.
The cuts along the line were flooded with water to such an degree that the engine was compelled to feel its way slowly. It is feared that the rain storm did the crops along its course much amage.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin of Somerville Mass., says: In the fall of 1876 I was taken with bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and I was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the Hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar.
At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the lungs. I got a bottle, when to my surprise, I commenced to feel better and day-by-day I feel better than for three years past.
"I write this hoping every one afflicted with Diseased Lungs will take William Hall's Balsam, and be convinced that Consumption can be cured. I can positively say it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness."
