The Rechabites.
The grand family excursion, under the auspices of New Hanover Tent, No. 57, I. O. of Rechabites, on the Passport on Tuesday, will in no way be less enjoyable than others given by them. The committee are well qualified for the duties they have assumed, and guarantee a pleasant time to all who take part in the excursion.

Burglary.
Saturday morning about one o'clock a burglar was seen in the residence of Mr. Andrew J. Mott, on Bladen between Fourth and Fifth streets. The inmates gave the alarm and the thief, who is said to have been colored, made good his escape. He effected an entrance by crawling through a window in the back part of the house. The police were soon on the spot, but the rascal evaded them by jumping fences and getting a good start on them.

The Association's Certificate.
A certificate, issued by authority of the Cigar Makers International Union of America, is now being placed on the boxes containing cigars made by first-class workmen. Hirschberg is Superintendent, are supplied with the labels of the Association.

Dippers will be at the spring and the public are invited to quaff the waters.

Col. Alfred M. Waddell, of this city, is to be the Editor-in-Chief of the Daily Journal, a new Democratic daily to be started in Charlotte on the 22nd inst. The business department of the paper will be in the hands of Mr. W. C. Wolfe, of Monroe, and Mr. R. H. Cowan, of Wadesboro. Both these gentlemen have much experience in the management of newspapers. Col. Waddell is one of the best writers in the State, and will give the people of Charlotte a paper which will be an honor to the town.

Increased Facilities.
Mr. W. L. DeRossett, Jr., has removed his printing establishment to the building in the custom house alley, formerly used as the Office Saloon. He has increased his facilities and in addition to his material has added about two hundred pounds of new type, and is now prepared to do all kinds of work. His new press is one of the nicest we have ever seen. It is supplied with all the modern improvements, but as the same time is not at all complicated. It is much larger than ordinary tread presses, and is calculated by its improvement to turn out excellent work.

THE SPEAKING.
Grand Rally of the Democracy of Brunswick at Smithville-- Speeches by Col. Wharton J. Green, Hon. R. T. Bennett, and His Excellency, Governor Thos. J. Jarvis.

At a quarter to 9 A. M., yesterday, the steamer Passport left her wharf with a good crowd, Col. W. J. Green and the Governor being on board. Col. Bennett arrived at Smithville about an hour later on the Minnehaha. After resting for about an hour and making some necessary arrangements as to where would be the best place and the coolest (for it was a frightfully hot day), it was decided to have the speaking from the Hotel Brunswick piazza.

At half past 12 o'clock Dr W G Curtis introduced, in a short and neat speech, our gallant standard bearer for Congress, Col. Wharton J. Green, who came forward and spoke of the high compliment which had been conferred upon him by the people of the 3rd Congressional District. Col Green then commenced a review of the administration, from the day they first held the reins of government, both National and State, and poured hot shot into their camp. He spoke for about three quarters of an hour, and was listened to with marked attention by the audience.
Col. Green said while he knew and believed that if the Democrats of the Third District would turn out in November, as he was satisfied they would, the district would be carried by a large majority, but he counselled his Democratic friends not to be idle, but to buckle on their armor and work until the election in November. Col. Green dwelt particularly upon Radical misrule and the atrocities committed by them. He said that in the short time allotted him he only intended this as an introduction of himself but soon he would appear in Brunswick to discuss the issues of the day.

Capt. V. V. Richardson then introduced in very appropriate speech, Hon. R. T. Bennett, who made one of the finest political speeches we ever listened to. He dwelt particularly on the tariff question. We would be doing gross injustice to this distinguished son of North Carolina to attempt even a synopsis of this master speech, which was listened to by the audience with the greatest attention, and was frequently applauded and cheered.

Judge Bennett spoke three hours and a half, and delivered one of the most exhaustive arguments it has been the good fortune of the people of Brunswick to hear in twenty-five years.
Then the distinguished speaker reviewed the county government question, and handled it with the same mastery he did the other questions discussed, and at the conclusion, a distinguished son of South Carolina pronounced Judge Bennett's speech one of the ablest, most argumentative speeches he had heard since the days of Webster, Calhoun and Clay. There was but one expression of opinion about Judge Bennett's speech, and that was it was the finest argument ever delivered in old Smithville. At the conclusion of his speech, the whistle sounded for the boat to leave, and we were unable to hear Gov. Jarvis, who was introduced by Capt. V. V. Richardson, and was speaking as we left the wharf.

Excursion to Waccamaw Lake.
Wyoming Tribe No. 4, Improved Order of Red Men will give an excursion to Waccamaw Lake on Thursday next. The fare for the round trip has been placed at the reasonable price of 75 cents and the committee promise that no intoxicating liquors or objectionable persons will be allowed on the train. The trip to the lake will be a diversion and no doubt that the excursion will be well patronized. See advertisement elsewhere.

Knights of Pythias Excursion.
Germania Lodge, No. 4, Knights of Pythias, will give a grand excursion to Smithville, on the Passport, on Wednesday next. The committee in charge are gentlemen whose former reputation in managing excursions insures perfect success for the one now pending. They have made all arrangements for pleasure and comfort and will faithfully fulfill their promises.

The Hibernian Benevolent Society will give an excursion to Smithville on the Passport on Thursday next. The Hibernians are proverbial for their pleasant excursions and will spare no pains to sustain their reputation in this instance.

Sanitary Precautions.

Yellow fever, of late, is now and then reported off our coast ports—on ship-board—being brought from West Indies and South American ports. Recently it has made a lodgement in the lands in Texas, but up to this writing no cases have been known to come to our quarantine. Our health authorities are vigilant, and will do every thing skill and wisdom can suggest to prevent its introduction here. Still what has been may happen again. What we mean to speak of now is the condition of our city. Our authorities are doing something toward keeping the city clean, and perhaps their best. We would urge on every citizen that each second all their efforts and each assist all in their power to this end; let every one police his own premises and all resolve to keep the town cleaned; make this work a daily duty and let it be well performed. Having no intention to alarm, it would be well to look at matters seriously. If the weather continues as for the past two weeks, that is frequent and abundant rains and hot sun, we shall have the condition conducive and essential to sickness. To ward off this result as far as possible cleanliness is imperative. We would therefore suggest to all householders not to allow servants to throw garbage in the street. As we understand it our city authorities have no systematic provisions for its removal, save and except when the garbage is thrown on the trash piles in the street and then its removal may be delayed several days, which we are forced to say is too often the case now. We would urge that all garbage and vegetable matter, the kitchen refuse, be made as dry as possible, and then destroyed by fire; put it in the stove; burn it up, or make a fire in the yard and effectually destroy it. It will take some care and trouble, but we had all better task the means than run the risk of worse things. Too many people hereabouts are too much given to throwing all manner of trash—papers, tin cans, bottles, rags, etc., in fact everything they wish to get rid of—into the streets. This was bad enough, but to add to this all manner of garbage and kitchen refuse, with the addition of stumps and dirty water beyond the reach of decency. From these piles come odors, not only offensive and producing discomfort to the neighborhood, but fully charged with disease. Can we expect health when we will not take sanitary precautions? Go where you will, in this town, and unless you leave your nose at home, you cannot get away from offensive smells. Very many at home sometimes wish they had no nose, by reason of careless and thoughtless neighbors. In very many places it is bad enough by day, but to tell the honest truth, the night smells are rank. In brief, cannot our city fathers put a stop to the throwing of offensive matter into the public streets? They can at least use disinfectants freely and enforce its application on private premises by their own health officers; let every citizen lend a helping hand. Let all have a general cleaning up, and then keep clean. The worst of the summer is to come, and now is the time for earnest work. Better spend the penny now than be compelled to expend dollars when too late. Remember 1862!

DIED.
VANBOKKELEN—At Brooklyn, N. Y., on Wednesday, August 2d, 1882, DEBORAH VANBOKKELEN, relict of the late Adrian H. VanBokkelen, aged 85 years.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.
At a regular meeting of the Hibernian Benevolent Association, the following resolutions, evincing a deep and genuine sorrow at the death of one of its most esteemed members, were unanimously adopted:
WHEREAS, it has been the will of an All-wise Providence to remove from our midst our worthy member, WALTER FURLONG, who departed this life August 2d, 1882, be it Resolved, That, as members of this Society, while acknowledging the loss of one of its brightest ornaments, we meekly bow with submission to the inscrutable will of our merciful Father, who doeth all things for his own wise purpose.
Resolved, That as members of this Society we will ever cherish the memory of him who while in life became characteristic for his benevolence toward the distressed, and whose patriotic love for his country he proved financially by supporting such lawful measures that would ameliorate the condition of her people.
Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the family of our deceased Brother in their affliction; in him they have lost a kind and indulgent father; but knowing they will find consolation in him who will be to them a father and protector.
Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the family of our deceased Brother, and that they also be published in the REVIEW and Star of this city.
