LOCAL NEWS.

Green-Bennett Club.
A meeting of the Green-Bennett Central Club was held in the Mayor's office, in the City Hall, last night. A plan of organization and rules for the government of the club were adopted. Several new names were added to the roster of the club. The meeting was harmonious and the views of the "old war horses" were exchanged.

The Surveying Party.
The engineering corps which is now at work surveying the Point Caswell & Clinton Railroad, will reach Clinton on Monday. They are now surveying the upper route by Delta and Black Creek. On their return they will survey the lower route from Clinton to Point Caswell. It is thought that the upper route will be the one decided upon after the survey.

Cotton Seed Oil Mills.
Mr. Geo. Dick, of Baltimore, has been in this city for the past week, talking cotton seed oil mills to some of our merchants. We do not know exactly what success he has met with, but trust that some one will take hold of the matter and erect a mill in this city. There is plenty of seed in the country, which would be sent him if there was a good demand for it. As an investment, we judge from statistics we have seen published, there is a good margin for large profits.

For the Young.
We have received the August number of the Original Chatterbox, edited by J. Erskine Clarke, M. A., and published by Messrs. Estes & Lauriat, Boston, Mass. This magazine is intended for the young of both sexes; is elaborately illustrated and filled with very superior reading matter for the amusement and instruction of that class for whom it is especially designed. It is one of the most popular of the multitude of periodicals gotten up for the young. Subscription price $1 per annum.

STATE NEWS.

Oxford Torchlight: The Oxford & Henderson Telegraph Company has just declared a dividend of 27 per cent. on the capital stock.—We regret to chronicle the death of Stephen Satterwhite, the well known merchant and business man of Midway, which occurred on the night of August 8d. He was about 70 years of age.
Elizabeth City Falcon: A man by the name of John Palmore, of Columbia, Tyrrel county, tried to commit suicide last Wednesday by taking a dose of strychnine. He took an overdose, which even then liked to have killed him. Antidotes in the shape of strong coffee and tea revived him, but report has it that he is in a very precarious condition.
Catawba Mercury: As we go to press we learn of a fearful boiler explosion occurring yesterday morning at Shrumtown, the present terminus of the Chester and Lenoir Narrow Gauge Railroad. The train had arrived and the engine and two passengers, all on board, had left the train while the fireman was raising steam. He had been hearing the engine without a sufficiency of water, and on turning on the water the explosion occurred, literally tearing him to atoms. His head was found some distance from where the explosion occurred.
Goldboro Messenger: The Richmond and Danville Railroad declares an annual dividend of 8 per cent., or two per cent. quarterly.—Senator Z. B. Vance, Gen Graham, Col John A Gilmer, Maj J W Craik, Col Thos S Kenan, and other distinguished citizens are expected here on the occasion of the 27th Regiment reunion.—We learn that Messrs John A Komegay and W B Whitfield, of Indian Springs township, held an investigation into the recent unpleasantness at White Hall last Tuesday. Mr A T Uzzell was fined $10 and the other parties were acquitted. This was on the charge of an affray prior to shooting. We learn that Mr O K Uzzell, who is charged with having shot Dr Seawell, waives preliminary examination and will give bail for his appearance at court. Dr Seawell, we are glad to learn, is out of danger and improving.
Charlotte Observer: Mr. R. T. Bradford, of Clear Creek township, has struck a gold bonanza on his farm. The vein was discovered last spring, but has been worked only at odd times since, by Mr. Bradford, his son and Mr. D. M. Miller, and they have taken out in these odd workings, with the rude implements they use, between $900 and $4,000. The vein is very small and irregular, being wide as it descends. They have sunk but twelve feet as yet. From all the indications it promises to be a very rich strike. Two or three days ago the residence of Mr. John Vogel was entered in broad daylight by a couple of little negroes, who succeeded in taking away a large lot of jewelry belonging to Mrs. Vogel, consisting of earrings, necklaces, bracelets, rings, &c. A portion of the jewelry was recovered by a little negro boy, who stated that he found it in the street. Mrs. Whisnant's house was yesterday morning entered, it is supposed by the same boys, and a still larger quantity of jewelry was stolen. The jewelry stolen from Mrs. Whisnant is valued at several hundred dollars, among the lot being pearl, jet and gold jewelry.
Malaria, Chills and Fever, and Bilious attacks positively cured with Emory's Standard Cure Pills—an infallible remedy: never fail to cure the most obstinate, long-standing cases where Quinine and all other remedies had failed. ## Another Rumored Sale of the Richmond and Danville Railroad.

Once more rumor has it that the Richmond and Danville Railroad company has passed under the control of the Baltimore and Ohio road, that road being reported as having bought a controlling interest in Richmond and Danville stock. The rumor goes on further to state that Mr. Garrett, a brother of the president of the Baltimore and Ohio, will succeed Col. A. S. Buford as president of the Richmond and Danville, and that Col. G. J. Foreacre will succeed Col. T. M. R. Talcott, as general manager. All this is only a general rumor, and we give it merely to show what the talk is in railroad circles in this city, without placing any special dependence upon its accuracy. We clip the above from the Charlotte Observer.

Got Us That Time.

Capt Frank Wilkinson was limping down the street yesterday, as we approached him to get him to tell us what he knew about the rig of the British vessel Mersey, now in port. He drew a long sigh, and said he was not feeling well, and could not talk much. We asked what was the matter, and he replied: "The ventricular and auricular forces are not in equilibrium, there is an increased centripetal action about the cerebrum and medulla oblongata, the portal circulation vasculature, suspended nature seems hesitating, and that his starboard side was trying to crawl around to the leeward of his port. We could not have the heart to interview a man who was as near dead as that, and advised him to go to a physician immediately. He smiled sweetly, and with one of your kiss-me-quiet or-I-die looks, he replied that he thought we were unnecessarily alarmed, as he only had a crink in his neck. We saw he was in for long nautical technicalities, and left him in a hurry.

Meeting of the Carolina Yacht Club.

The annual meeting of the Carolina Yacht Club was held at the office of Messrs. Giles & Murbison yesterday afternoon. The old officers were re-elected for the ensuing year—new applications for membership to the club were received and acted upon. A resolution was passed requiring the yacht carrying the champion flag to sail all challenged races under the rules of the club.
The Seaside Park Company extended an invitation to the club and tendered a purse of $50 as a prize to be sailed for by the yachts of the fleet. The regatta committee will meet in a day or two to arrange for a race resulting from a challenge to the Apple for the champion flag.

"Gulley of Justifiable Homicide."

The case of Andrew J Walker, charged with manslaughter, occupied the attention of the Criminal Court yesterday. Mr. Solicitor Moore represented the State, and Messrs M Bellamy and D L Russell the defense. The case was given to the jury about 7 o'clock. After being out for about two hours, the jury announced that they were ready with their verdict. His Honor, Judge Meares, was sent for and upon his arrival the verdict was taken. The foreman of the jury gave in a verdict of "guilty of justifiable homicide." The counsel for the defense and prosecution did not understand what was meant by the verdict, and His Honor was requested to ask whether the jury wished to convict or acquit the prisoner. The jury signified their belief in his innocence, and a verdict of "not guilty" was recorded. Walker was discharged, and after a general hand-shaking with his friends, left the court room once more a free man, though having been pronounced "guilty of justifiable homicide."

How do you Manage.

"How do you Manage," said a lady to her friend, "to appear so happy all the time?" "I always have Parker's Ginger Tonic handy," was the reply, and thus keep myself and family in good health. When I am well I always feel good assured." See other column.
