HEINBERGER—Lodgers and Day Books.

Barque Traceler, hence, arrived at Pernambuco, Aug. 16th.

An entirely new system of cutting is used by DYER with perfect success.

Mr. Fred Metts, formerly of this city, but now of Newbern, was here yesterday in the interest of a tobacco house in Newbern with which he is connected.

Mr. R. C. Jones, who has for some years past been employed at the Purcell House in Norfolk, Va., has accepted a position at the Commercial Hotel in this city.

A couple of hucksters were arrested on warrants yesterday for non-payment of the market tax. His Honor the Mayor postponed the trial of the cases until Monday.

Capt. Lee Hand, a conductor on the Carolina Central Railroad, has resigned his position. He is a clever and popular man, and will be missed by his many friends along the line.

Rev. C. M. Payne, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, has returned to the city, looking, we are pleased to see, in improved health from his sojourn in the Western part of the State.

Mr. S. P. Collier has been appointed to succeed Mr. John C. James, in the position at the railroad freight offices here, made vacant by Mr. James' appointment as Freight Agent at Richmond of the Richmond & Petersburg Railroad.

We publish to-day the second number of the series of articles contributed to the REVIEW on rice culture. This number should have been published previous to that given last Tuesday, but through a mistake No. 3 was published before No. 2.

Dave Mallett was drunk and down yesterday, and was "taken in" on a dray. He was "very sick," and was not aware of the attention which was being paid him. When he wakes this morning, he will find himself surrounded by familiar scenes, and recognize the well-known voice of the janitor, when he says, "Well, Dave, drunk again!"

Rice Birds.
To-day is the time when tradition and our "oldest and most respected citizens" say that the frisky rice birds will make their appearance. We learn from rice planters that the birds which were reported as rice birds a day or two ago were black birds. Now you can listen to the "bang" of the old musket as it rains out death and destruction to the ravenous birds.

Odorless Excavators.
There is a very general complaint against the present unhealthy and very disagreeable and disgusting mode of removing night soil. In large cities odorless sink excavators are used for such purposes and no one is inconvenienced in any way by their use. Why cannot the city authorities invest in one and spare the olfactories of a suffering public?

To Builders and others—Go to JACOBI'S for Sash, Blinds and Doors, Glass, &c. You can get all sizes and at the lowest prices.

Politics in Pender.
The Democracy in this county are organizing, and will make a vigorous campaign. The first county Democratic mass meeting will be held at Long Creek, on Saturday, September 2nd. Distinguished speakers have been invited. Other similar mass meetings will follow in September. The county convention for nominating county candidates will meet at Burgaw, on Monday, October 9th, and then the nominees and other speakers will make a thorough county canvass. The primary township meetings for appointing delegates to the county convention will be held on Saturday, 30th September. Dr. Satchwell, the energetic Chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, and Mr. A. H. Paddison, the efficient Secretary, are wide awake, and will faithfully attend to the duties of their respective positions.

Exports Foreign.

The Nor. barque Vanadis, Captain Petersen, cleared yesterday for Riga, Russia, with 3,300 barrels rosin, valued at $6,700.53, shipped by Messrs. DeKoset & Co. The German brig Herman Friedrich, Captain Niejahr, cleared yesterday for Hamburg with 1,000 casks of spirits turpentine and 1,125 barrels rosin, valued at $22,543, shipped by Messrs. D. R. Murchison & Co.

Promotion.

Mr. J. C. James, of this city, for a number of years past Assistant Freight Agent at the depot of the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta R. R., in this city, has been appointed Freight Agent at Richmond of the Richmond & Petersburg R. R. Mr. James will leave here on the 25th inst. and will assume charge of the office in Richmond on the 1st of September. His family will follow later in the Fall.

A Thief Shot At.

Yesterday morning, about 4 o'clock, a man was discovered by the police coming stealthily out of an alley running through from Front to Second streets, between Market and Princess. He carried on his shoulder a bundle, and when ordered by the police to stop, gave leg bail. He was chased as far as the wharf, and was there lost sight of. One of the police fired at the man, who was undoubtedly a thief, but it is supposed that the shot did not take effect.

The Rain—It Raineth.

The rains of yesterday were copious and of long duration. Market street was a sheet of water and boxes and barrels were carried by the falling water in the gutters to the turbid waters of the Cape Fear. Farmers say that we are getting a little too much rain, but then "it is an ill wind which blows nobody any good," and we can console ourselves with the knowledge of the fact that the filth on the streets was washed off and carried by the tide from in front of our residences and places of business.

At Pine Grove.

About one hundred and fifty persons were at Pine Grove, Wrightville Sound, on Wednesday evening. The young people indulged in a dance in the pavilion and enjoyed themselves as only young people can who dote on the giddy dance. Captain Manning, as usual, made his guests feel at home by giving them a hearty welcome and so to speak, "the keys to the city." In this connection we will state that Captain Manning will cheerfully give the use of his pavilion to any of his guests or their friends who desire to spend an evening on the sound and indulge in the dance. He has a fine string band at his house which can be employed at reasonable rates.

Fire at Smithville.

Yesterday morning, between 1 and 2 o'clock, the store and stock of Captain Fred Small, at Smithville, was totally destroyed by fire. The fire was first discovered bursting through the roof of the building, and when persons arrived at the scene of the conflagration, it was found that the interior of the store was in a sheet of flame. An effort was made to save the books and papers of the establishment, but the volunteer firemen were driven back by the intense heat.—Capt. Small estimates his stock at from $800 to $1,000 on which there was only a portion of insurance. The building was the property of his father-in-law, Capt. W. J. Potter, and was not insured. No one can surmise the origin of the fire. The store was closed about the usual hour, by the clerk, and at that time there was no evidence of the destroying element.

A Confession That Was Not a Confession.

The woman, Mary Eliza Green, who was placed in jail some time ago for the larceny of jewelry, clothing, &c., from a residence in this city and who, about three weeks ago, swore out a warrant against Daniel Howard, the Jailor, charging him with a serious crime, was taken into court yesterday, upon her own request, to make a confession. She stated that a woman named Mary Borden had instigated the charge against the jailor, and she consented to sue out the warrant and swear that the assault was made upon her. She was ordered off the stand by His Honor, Judge Meares, who stated that he did not believe a word she uttered.—Before she went into Court, she stated, in the presence of several witnesses, that a man, whose name she gave, was the cause of her taking out the warrant and perjurying herself, but when she got on the stand she changed her mind, and laid the instigation at the door of Mary Borden.

Sentences of the Criminal Court.

The August term of the Criminal Court was brought to a close yesterday. Forty-two cases were disposed of during the term. During the session the community was rid for a time of some "hard citizens." The following are the sentences to the penitentiary: Frank Baker, alias Mott, larceny, four years; J. R. Tiboe, and Joseph Tiboe, larceny, five years; John Johnson, highway robbery, ten years; Robert Stephenson, larceny, four years; J. H. McFarland, larceny, five years; Sophia Swain, perjury, four years; Mary E. Green, perjury, seven years.

To the County House of Correction: Clara Metts, larceny, twelve months; Mary Borden, affray, three months; Wm. Davis, larceny, two years; Lewis Williams and Edie Devine, larceny, three months.

Picked His Pockets.

James Brown, a verdant colored man from Cheraw, S. C., was robbed on Water, between Chestnut and Mulberry streets, on Wednesday last, about 3 o'clock. He was walking up the wharf when he was accosted by a white woman, answering to the name of Carrie Hill. The woman placed her left hand on the shoulder of the man, and while asking him for a drink picked his pocket. He felt the woman's hand in his pocket and pulled it out, the woman taking his pocketbook along with it. He saw his purse in her hand and told her to give it back to him. The woman ran in a house and the man, who says he did not know exactly what to do because he did not know the law mentioned the matter to some one who was passing. He was advised to take out a warrant against the woman and did so. He went with the officer to identify the woman, but could not find her in the house in which she ran after picking his pockets. The woman, who proved to be Carrie Hill, a notorious character, was found in a dance house near by. She was arrested and placed in jail. Brown claims to have lost $72. He seems very much worried over his loss, and cannot speak of it without crying. None of the money has been recovered. We were cognizant of this robbery in a very short time after it occurred, but upon the request of the officer and magistrate, who were making every effort to recover the money, we did not publish it yesterday.—Brown says he never saw the woman before she robbed him, and that he pursued the course he did because he was a stranger, and was afraid of getting into trouble.

Lightning's Freaks.

A very severe thunder storm passed over this city yesterday afternoon. The peels of thunder and flashes of lightning were perhaps, the most terrible and awe-inspiring during the summer. The telephone bells rung, and the wires popped, and in many places balls of fire ran over the wires and were carried off by the ground connections of the instruments. Ye local was seated at his desk writing up his news, when he was startled by the snapping of wires over our head and the balls of fire running down their narrow track into the ground.—We were not hurt but were a least bit "scared!" However, we suddenly remembered that we had some business to attend to out in the rain, and, with coat in hand, left the telephone and electric fluid to take care of themselves. We drifted into the City Hall, and found that the lightning had played the wild with the telephone in the court room. The wires were snapped in two and the window facing down which they ran, was badly scorched.

The officers in the building say that balls of fire were flying around extensively and that the report made by the lightning was as loud as a cannon. It was first thought the end of the court room had been punched out. The smell of sulphur for some time was very strong. The alarm wires at the Adriaan engine house were also broken, and the report is said to have been very loud. The fire alarm box at the corner of Fourth and Harnett streets was badly damaged by the fluid. The lightning ran into the telephone exchange and telegraph office and is said to have been very severe. A hole was burnt in the switch board in the latter place.

A little girl who was drawing water at the residence of her father on Eighth, between Mulberry and Walnut streets, at the time of the flash, had her hand slightly scorched by the lightning running down the well chain. The lightning struck the telegraph wires near the corner of Eighth and Campbell streets, and ran down the wires to the foot of Red Cross street, where it was carried off by a ground connection. A gentleman and lady who were riding up from the sound were badly shocked by the lightning, and were dazed for some minutes. Mr. J. C. White, manager of the telephone exchange, made a personal inspection of all the fire alarm stations yesterday afternoon, and found several of them more or less injured, but not to the extent he had anticipated. They will all be put in working order this morning. We have not the slightest doubt but that the telephone wires scattered about the town arrested the electric fluid, and so scattered it as to prevent serious damage to life and property.

A Rare Opportunity.

A rare opportunity is offered the truck farmers and fruit raisers to purchase one of the most desirable farms in this vicinity. The city is accessible to it either by rail or water. The soil is particularly adapted to the cultivation of early fruits and vegetables, and the lands are well protected from early frosts. Read the advertisement of Col. S. L. Fremont in another column.

Geo. W. Price has been lecturing in Newbern. His subject was, "England" It is said that his description of the habits and customs of Englishmen, their mode of traveling, of doing business, and of living, was intensely interesting.

Anything in the hardware line can be found at reasonable prices at JACOBI'S.

Rice Culture.

No. 2.
From the year 1773 down to 1791, a period mainly covered by the Revolutionary War, there are no statistics of production or of exportation, but in the latter year there was exported from the United States 96,980 tierces of 600 pounds each or 58,368,000 pounds. The following year, 1792, the exports sprung up to 141,762 tierces or 85,057,200 pounds. The following table shows the export of rice from the United States from 1791 to 1830 in decades:

Year.	Production	Exports	Home Consumption
1800	80,841,422	60,996,000	19,845,422
1810	215,313,097	68,000,000	147,313,097
1820	187,167,082	75,373,000	111,794,082

In the first of these years the export was 75 per cent.; in the second 31 per cent.; in the third 40 per cent. of the production. In 1860 ended the first period of the American rice industry, which was distinctive in the absence of the importation of foreign rice, in maximum home production, in low prices and in exportation, which controlled the markets of foreign countries, and made them large contributors to American prosperity and wealth.

The second period began in 1861 and ended in 1866. In 1860, there was no importation of foreign rice, and the export of domestic rice reached 75,373,000 lbs. In 1861, the first year of the Civil War, there was imported 148,550 lbs., and there were exported only 39,683,000 lbs.

The blockade of Southern ports was commenced in 1861, and the Government's record of domestic rice could have been but partial only. [See REVIEW of the 15th for a continuation of the statistics of this period.]
