been discontinued for a few Sundays.

Singing Contest.

Love and Union Lodge, No. 40, Good Samaritans, will give an excursion to Smithville to-morrow. One of the features of the excursion will be a musical contest between singing clubs of the city. A silver butter dish is the prize to be awarded to the club which can sing four pages of sacred music with the greatest harmony.

Explanation.

The Josh Telfair alluded to in our article yesterday headed "sneak thieves at work," was not the grown son of Josh Telfair, Sr. A note from a gentleman in this city who knows and employs grown Josh Telfair says he is a very reliable man and would not be guilty of theft. We do not desire to injure any one and gladly make the explanation. The real thief is named Nelson Hargrave and he has confessed to the theft.

Three Stocks.

Mr. A. Shrier leaves here on Monday for the Northern markets. During his absence from the city he will purchase three very large stocks of goods. He will buy clothing and furnishing goods for A. & I. Shrier, boots and shoes for A. Shrier, and the large and varied stock which is intended for the new establishment of Messrs. Shrier & Dryfoos. They will be on hand and duly advertised in the columns of the REVIEW next month.

The New House.

The copartnership which has heretofore existed between Messrs. Sol. Bear, Samuel Bear and Marcus Bear, has been dissolved and the business will hereafter be conducted by Mr. Sol. Bear alone, who will leave here on Monday afternoon for the Northern markets where he will purchase a large assortment of all kinds of goods in his line of business. Mr. Bear will purchase extensively as the season progresses to be propitious.

The Davis Mulletts.

Messrs. W. E. Davis & Son have inaugurated a system in selling fish which we think will prove to be very satisfactory. They are now selling mullets of their own catch by the pound. It is the most equitable way in which to sell them. A dealer pays only for what he gets and gets what he pays for.—The fish put up by Messrs. W. E. Davis & Son are of excellent quality—fine, fat and juicy—and are well worth the very moderate price at which they are sold. See advertisement elsewhere.

Stole for His Sweetheart.

About two weeks ago we published an account of the robbery of the clothing of Louisa Jackson, from her house on Dock, between Seventh and Eighth streets. It will be remembered that the larceny was committed in the daytime, the thief effecting an entrance by pushing in a window in the back of the house. Since then an officer has been on the qui vive for the stolen articles and the thief. Yesterday he found the clothes in the house of a colored woman, who stated that they were given to her by her sweetheart, one Albert Herring. She promptly gave the stolen articles up and stated that when they were presented to her, Herring said he had bought them. He has been arrested and is now in jail, and will have a preliminary hearing before Justice Hill to-morrow.

Theatrical Engagements.

We have been kindly furnished with the list of companies which have dates for the Opera House this season. Negotiations are now pending with other first-class troupes. The list we append below is an unusually attractive one and the prospect for a brilliant theatrical season is very flattering. We give the dates and companies:
September 16, C. B. Bishop; October 6 and 7, Madison Square Theatre in Esmeralda and Hazel Kirke; October 12th, "My Partner;" October 13 and 14, Ada Gray; October 16, James O'Neil; October 19 and 20, Mrs. Oates in Opera; October 23 and 24, John Stevens; November 3 and 4, Ford's Opera Troupe; November 6, "Child of the State;" November 13, Salisbury's Troubadours; November 14 and 15, Norcross Opera Troupe in "The Merry Men," and "Mascotte;" November 16, 17 and 18, Mr. and Mrs. Chanfrau; November 20, "All at Sea;" December 5, "Jesse James;" December 6, Tony Denier in Pantomime; December 15, Marion Ellmore in "Chupa;" December 20, "Maid of Avon;" December 26 and 27, Rose Eyttinge; December 29, Baker and Farron; February 9th, Rentz-Santley Troupe; April 2 and 3, Milton Nobles; April 9, "Hermann."

City Court.

There was only one case before the Mayor's Court yesterday morning. The colored man who was arrested Friday evening for disorderly conduct at the foot of Market Street was fined $5 or 10 days imprisonment. He took the 10 days.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port, for the week ending yesterday, foot up 12 bales only, as against 72 bales for the week ending August 22nd of last year, a decrease this week of 60 bales. The crop receipts to date foot up 136,453 bales as against 119,326 bales to August 22nd, last year, an increase this year of 17,127 bales.

Donations.

The Rev. S. T. Hallman, of Concord, N. C., who has been in this city for some days asking donations with which to build the St. James' Lutheran Church in Concord, has returned home. While here he collected $315. We are pleased to know that the reverend gentleman was so successful.

The Fatal Pistol.

We learn that two colored boys, brothers, were playing with a pistol at Fayetteville on Friday last, where the pistol was discharged, the ball entering the bowels of one of the boys, inflicting a wound which the physicians pronounce necessarily fatal. We were unable to gather further details of the occurrence as our informant was possessed of only those given above.

Our Nobby Young Man.

Our nobby young man, whose sweetheart is on a visit at the sea coast, has gone out of town. He was much frustrated before leaving, and in his excitement left on "ye local's" desk the following inventory, which he supplied himself with before going: 1 cake of sweet soap, 1 lb. peanut candy, 1 lb. taffy do., 1 qt. peanuts. That boy is reckless—a regular spendthrift—and is bound to have a good time if it kills all the cows in Brunswick county. Oh, Ephraim! Ephraim! spare the cows!

The Convicts.

Yesterday the following named prisoners, who were convicted at the last term of the Criminal Court, were taken out to the County House of Correction by Superintendent Savage. Wm. Davis, larceny, 2 years; Clara Metts, larceny, 1 year; Margaret Croom, slander, 3 months; Mary Borden, affray, 3 months; Edie Divine, assault and battery, 30 days; Lewis Williams, assault and battery, 30 days. This morning Deputy Sheriff Howard will start to Raleigh with the following named prisoners for the pen: Frank Baker alias Frank Mott, larceny, 4 years; John Johnson, robbery, 10 years; J. H. McFarland, larceny, 5 years; Robert Stephenson, larceny, 4 years; Sophia Swain, perjury, 4 years; Mary Eliza Green, perjury, 7 years; J. R. Teboe, horse stealing, 5 years; Jos. Teboe, horse stealing, 5 years.

Narrow Escape.

Mr. Philander Pearsall, a traveling salesman for the shoe house of Messrs. Geo. R. French & Sons, of this city, met with a serious accident a few days ago, which came near costing him his life. He was going from Mt. Gilead to Wadesboro, in Anson county, and came to a stream which was very much swollen by the heavy rains, but which he had safely crossed in the morning. When nearly in the middle of the stream his horse, which was attached to a buggy, had to swim and sank before the traces could be cut. The current caught the horse and buggy and carried them madly down the stream, and Mr. Pearsall was compelled to jump out, and finally succeeded in gaining a footing on a log. He hurried to Wadesboro, which was only about one mile distant, and reported his mishap. Men were sent out to recover the horse and buggy and found the animal some distance down the stream. The wheels of the buggy were found still lower down the stream, but the top of the buggy has not yet been recovered. A satchel and sample case which was in the buggy was found on the banks of the stream about four miles from the crossing but a large trunk containing a line of samples, which was on the back of the buggy, has not yet been heard from. The last of the cases which grew out of the riot at Smithville, about ten days ago, was disposed of yesterday. Several of the ring-leaders have been committed to jail in default of bond for their appearance at the next term of the Superior Court of Brunswick Court.

More Perjury.

Nelson McKay had a preliminary hearing, yesterday, on the charge of perjury. He was one of the witnesses in behalf of the highway robber, John Johnson, and was committed to jail in default of bail for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court. Recently there has been some very reckless swearing before the courts and we are glad to see that the law is sitting down on the perjurers.

Handsome Done.

The following correspondence between Col. F. W. Kerchner, President of the Seaside Park Improvement Company, and Mr. Norwood Giles, Chairman of the Regatta Committee of the Carolina Yacht Club, will sufficiently explain itself:
N. GILES, Esq.:—Dear Sir:—Being desirous of infusing new life into an association, that has, for years, afforded so much amusement and interest to all sounders, I tender you on behalf of the Seaside Park Improvement Company a purse of fifty dollars to be competed for in such manner as you may deem best. With kind regards,
F. W. KERCHNER,
President S. P. I. Co.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 11, '82.
F. W. Kerchner, President.

DEAR SIR—At a meeting of the Carolina Yacht Club, held yesterday, as Chairman of the Regatta Committee, I was instructed to return the hearty thanks of said Club to the gentlemen of the Seaside Park Improvement Company for their liberal donation and practical encouragement. This is timely aid and highly appreciated by every member of our Club.

It has been decided to have two races, a prize of $25 having been offered at each—the first to take place August 23, the other two weeks later. In the near future, we hope to show our appreciation of your kind interest, and trust to exchange many courtesies with your Company. Meanwhile, assuring you of our best wishes for your success and prosperity,
I am, Yours respectfully,
NORWOOD GILES, Chm'n
Regatta Com., C. Y. C.

Rice Culture.

This surplus (14,602,600 lbs.) is nearly equal to the whole production of the United States in 1867-68, and exercises a decided repression in the price of rice in the American markets. Its influence would be more potential were foreign equal in quality to American rice and did not the marked increase in domestic productions strengthen the competitive forces in the American markets. These competitive forces are twofold—first, between the domestic production and foreign importation; second between the domestic producers themselves. The effects of this competition would be more decided but for the increase of population and consequent increase of consumption. In 1869-'70 the consumption was 95,900,697 pounds or 2 1/2 pounds per head (of population.) This remarkable increase in consumption is in great measure due to large Chinese immigration into the Pacific States, and to the introduction of rice into new objects of industry. It is into these States that the great bulk of foreign rice is imported, amounting for the year terminating on the 1st day of August, 1879, to over eighty per cent. of the gross foreign importation. Of this nearly seventy-two per cent. came from China and Hong Kong. Seven per cent. duty free, from the Hawaiian Islands and seventeen per cent. from England, the latter the production of East India labor. Holding in view these prominent facts it may be now considered whether the protection given to the domestic rice industry by the import duty may be justly maintained. It has been seen, that the domestic production increased 130 per cent in twenty years—from 1840 to 1860. During this period the duty on foreign rice was twenty per cent, ad valorem. In all the rice producing divisions of the country slave labor was then employed and no foreign rice was imported. Quite contrary to present experience, when so little domestic rice is exported, as to be inappreciable in the marketing of the crops—more than 147,000,000 pounds were exported in 1850 and 112,000,000 pounds in 1860, while in 1881 only 150,451 pounds were exported. In the former years the average price of rice in the New York markets was $3.18 per 100 pounds. The average price for the whole period from 1850 to 1860 was materially increased by a great storm of 1854 which swept away the greater part of the crop and of that year and by the draft made on the labor of the South Atlantic States, by emigration to the West and Southwest. But it may be stated as evidence of the cheapness of production, that not long anterior to this period, in January, 1843, prime rice sold in the Savannah market for $1.50 to $1.75 per 100 pounds. These prices then represented about one-third more than the sheer cost of production, with slave labor, before the war between the States. The per diem of slave labor (in Georgia and South Carolina) did not much, if at all exceed twenty cents, and on this basis the cost of cultivating rice was about $1.10 per hundred pounds. PLANTER.
