A BANKER'S LESSON IN POLITICS.

Mr. John Thompson, Vice-President of the Chase National Bank in New York, sent an address to the Banker's Convention at Saratoga, in which he discusses the dangers of the future. He thinks the political stements of this country are inflammable; that "monopoly is raised against strike;" that hundreds of millions are accumulated by a dozen rich men against multitudes of "restless, impecunious voters;" and that money, whiskey and detraction dominate where patriotism should rule.

Mr. Thompson's picture, says the New York Sun, is not a pleasing one. Whether its contemplation will do bankers any good or not, depends on the moral they draw from it. Rich men are prone to conclude that the true remedy for the evils he portrays is what they call a strong government. Such people, at the time of the great railroad strikes some years ago, wanted the Federal troops sent everywhere to quell the disturbances; and they advocated an increase of the regular army. They favor harsh laws against combinations of laborers, and they think it is practicable to make men moral by statute. Their views are hopelessly wrong. Intelligence must be the saleguard of the future-greater intelligence on the part of the capitalist and greater intelligence on the part of the workingman as to their respective interests. When they learn that these are harmonious instead of hostile, and when they act so as keep them in harmony, the country will be secure enough against the anarchy which Mr. Thompson fears we shall

We have said that greater intelligence on the part of capitalists is needed; and to this need the assembled bankers at Saratoga might profitably direct their attention. The men in this country who have amassed great wealth are, for the most part, unwisely selfish in the ways in which they use their money .-They are unsympathetic with their fellow-men. When a vast body of employees demand larger pay of a capitalist than he can afford to give, a harsh refusal is too often the only response.-Why does he not assume a more friendly attitude? Why not explain the reasons which prevent compliance, calmly and in a clear manner? He need not fear that he will not be understood. If such a disposision as this were more frequently manifested, the common errors about the irreconcilable hostility between capital and labor would soon be obliterated.

Once make the poor believe that the rich are their real friends and want to see them rise to prosperity, and what Mr. Thompson calls the political elements of the country will no longer be inflammable. The remedy rests with he rich themselves.

There is no permanent quarrel between labor and capital. The dangers that some fools so wildly anticipate are mainly the creations of their own stupid imaginations,

The Philadelphia Ledger, noting what it considers the phenomenon of teach- God, 2,000 are to be found on Sunday ers' institutes in Texas, sapiently remarks that, "all of reconstruction groaning was the adding up and compounding of what the South had failed to do for education." If we mistake not, there is a citizen of Pennsylvania who has given reconstrution deeper study than our protound cotemporary. particularly the earpet-bag phase of it. His name is Jere Black. His conclusion that the Spencers, Chamberlains and Bullocks not only robbed the living but plundered posterity, contain a fund of truth. Had Pennsylvania enjoyed a similar experience, she would not only have groaned, but howled.

GOOD WORDS.

The people of the North are in fact and in earnest awakening to the knowledge that the South is THE place in which money can be safely and profitably invested. The Atlanta Exposition, held last year, seems to have called especial attention and awakened interest in this direction, as, since that time, the papers of the North have teemed with articles showing our advantages as an agricultural and manufacturing, and consequently, commercial, section. The New York Mail and Express, of a recent date, gives some very interesting statements regarding the great and profitable features of agriculture in North Carolina.

Truck farming in North Carolina, says the above paper, is assuming immense proportions. Almost every body who has land near the lines of transportation is going into it. If the of seventy-two years. stories told of the profits are true, this is not a matter of wonder. One man is said to have sold $80,000 worth of Irish potatoes this year off his own place. Another cleared $35,000. Another, Mr. Joseph Rhem, of Newbern. went into the business five years ago with sixty acres of land, and has cleared since then $105,000, besides the increase of his land, which amounts to 900 per cent. His crop this year is worth $55,000 and it cost him $14,000. His sales for the first five days of the season averaged $3,000 a day. All sorts of small fruits and vegetables seem to thrive on the soil, and sometimes they or three small Southern coasters, and get two crops a year from it.

The Stalwarts have hugged Mahone to their bosom in preference to old, true and fire-tried Republicans. They are now working to secure the election of Chalmers, of Mississippi, to Congress, whom a few days since they summarily kicked out, and it now remains to be seen whether they will endorse Cash, the duelist, or Mackey, in South Carolina, with the probabilities he would have them punished as the strongly in favor of the former. Of law prescribed. He was now going to course they will, for they endorse the enforce the rules strictly, as he had 280 lbs., with sales of receipts at quotadevil himself in order to crush the intelligence, wealth and respectability of the yellow fever now prevails.

The New York Commercial Bulletin notes the fact that the Government printing office at Washington is getting to be a prolific source of jobbery, and it justly thinds that if the office cannot be reformed upon some economical basis, it ought to be abelished. Says that paper: "Members of Congress just now are having long-winded speeches printed there at the public expense, which were never delivered in either House. Not that the public have lost anything by the non-publication, but in this making other people pay for printing one's speeches, there is something so ineffably mean that, aside from the heavy drafts it entails upon the Treasury, for shame's sake it ought to be

Search for Vessels From Southern Ports Which Have Evaded the Quarantine Regulations-A Destructive Conflagration.

[By Telegraph to the Review.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Noon.—Dr. Walter DeForest Day, City Sanitary Superintendent, caused a general alarm to be sent out from police headquarters yesterday evening, on account of a violation of quarantine regulations by two search was made for the vessels along the wharves until 6 o'clock, at which time they had not been found. Dr. Smith, Health Officer of the port, said that on Thursday he was informed that several vessels had gone up to the city without anchoring or waiting for an inspection. Quarantine regulations had already been violated several times in this manner by small vessels that came up from Southern ports, principally from the Carolinas with fruits. He had given them several warnings already, and the next time that he caught the offenders heard that about 50 vessels were being laden with timber at Pensacola, where

A fire broke out between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, in the enormous factory of Hartman, Dowling & Peck, at 10th avenue and 57th street. and destroyed the entire building. The total loss is estimated at $375,000 upon which there are large amounts of insurance, but not enough to cover the loss.

The factory was occupied, except the fourth floor, altogether by Hartman, Dowling & Peck, whose loss is put at $350,000, the stock and building being a total loss. The fourth floor was occupied by Oakly & Keating, manufacturers of washing machines. Their stock and machinery was likewise destroyed, the loss being put at $20,000, partly insured in a number of companies.

Peculations of Indian Agents and their Subordinatesthe Tonto Apaches.

[By Telegraph to Daily Review.] Tucson, Arizona, August 19-Noon. The Star special advices from Sau-Carlos says that P. B. Wilcox, the newly appointed Indian agent for that reservation, has refused to assume charge, as he found its affairs in a frightfully confused condition. The commissary and sub-agent have suddeny disappeared, and evidences of gross fraud and peculation, under the Tiffany administration, are alleged to be overwhelming.

The Tonto Apaches are very restless. Last Friday night they had prepared to make a break, but one of their squaws gave the whites warning, and the Mohave Indians, the bitter enemies of the Tontos, were armed and turned out. and prevented the emeute. MALARIA

Malaria is an almost indescribable malady which not even the most talented physicians are able to fathom. Its cause is most frequently ascribed to local surroundings, and there is very little question, but this opinion is substantiated by facts. Malaria does not necessarily mean chills and fever while these troubles usually accompany it. It often affects the sufferer with general lassitude, accompanied by loss of appetite, sleeplessness, a tired feeling and a high fever, the person afflicted growing weaker and weaker, loses flesh day after day, until he becomes a mere skeleton, a shadow of his former self.

> Malaria once having laid its hold upon the human frame, the door of the system is thrown open to nervous diseases. The body weak and enfeebled absorbs no weak and entertied absorbs no nourishment, but subsisting upon itself, the digestive organs no longer perform their functions; the liver becomes torpid, and other organs failing to do their routine work, speedily become disordered, and dissolution and death are apt
