The Young Catholic Friends Society will give another of their pleasant excursions on Wednesday next, on the steamer Passport. There will be music for dancing and refreshments for the inner man and a good time is promised all who may attend.
The Raleigh News and Observer says: From Inspector-General Cameron, who has just returned from a visit to Wilmington, we learn that the Wilmington Light Infantry is in a very flourishing condition, and is a credit to the State Guard. Capt. Cantwell, its gallant commander, admirably fills that position. The company now has about fifty-five uniformed members.

City Court.

Peter Smith, colored, was drunk and disorderly on the streets on Sunday morning about 3 o'clock and when arrested by the police resisted. He was soon run in and this morning was fined $10 or twenty days imprisonment by His Honor, the Mayor. Peter took the 20 days and will have time to reflect over his misdoings.

Removal of a Fire Alarm Station.

The fire alarm telephone has been taken down from the corner of Market and Front Streets, and has been put in the place of one of the instruments which was destroyed by lightning a few days ago. Any alarm of fire from that location will now be given through the Telephone Exchange which is open day and night.

The Rain and the Crops.

The heavy rains of last week worked some damage, although not a great deal, to the crops in Pender county. At Rocky Point the cotton was injured somewhat and farther to the East, in Holly Shelter district, the corn was damaged. A week or two of warm weather will, however, probably bring it out all right again.

The Pt. C. & C. R. R.

A note from Capt. R. P. Paddison, dated at Clinton, on the 19th inst., says: "The surveying party reached this met with a very kind reception, and place at two o'clock to-day. They everybody is happy. The people seem perfectly satisfied now that the Point Caswell & Clinton R. R. will be built." Cap. Paddison means business, and is showing the work as rapidly as possible.

Badly Hurt.

George Penny, a little boy about 7 years of age, the son of Mr. W. J. Penny, of this city, but who is now residing in Brunswick county, was severely hurt yesterday by gun-powder flashing in his face. The little fellow had poured the powder on the ground and stuck a match to it when the powder flashed up burning his eyes and face very badly. We are pleased to know that his eyesight is not affected, and trust he will soon be over his suffering.

The Angola Tramway.

We understand that the roadway of the Angola Tramway has been cut out all along the line of the route from Croom's Bridge, on the Northeast river, to Maple Hill, ten miles above. The roadway is 30 feet wide and with a little more labor will be ready for the track, which we hope soon to hear has been laid. The tramway will be twelve miles long, running from Croom's Bridge to Mr. Jacob K. James' distillery, near what is known as "The Corner," where Duplin, Onslow and Pender counties meet.

Venor's Latest.

Venor, the weather prophet, says:—"In 1881 the latter portion of August was characterized by severe storms along the South Atlantic States coast and in the vicinity of Charleston. The most severe of them occurred on the 26th or 27th of the month. The present indications, to my way of reckoning, point to a recurrence of these storms towards the end of the present month, and in about the same localities, if not slightly further Northward along the coast. It would be well to take precautions against damage by such storms in those places where they occurred last season, as well as along the New Jersey coast. The entry of September is likely to be accompanied by severe disturbances in many parts of the North and South Atlantic States."

A House Divided Against Itself.

There seems to be a Conway and an anti-Conway faction in the First Baptist Church, colored, of this city. The Rev. A. M. Conway is and has been pastor of the church for some time past, but does not seem to give satisfaction to his entire congregation. A portion of it has deposited him, but he refuses to leave.—The wrangling has been going on for some weeks, and publicity was given through the daily press to the matter, over the signatures of some of the deacons and the pastor. The matter has at last gotten into the Courts. Samuel G. Jenkins, the treasurer of the church, who is an anti-Conway man, had a preliminary examination yesterday morning on the charge of embezzling the funds of the church. Yesterday afternoon, Eli Curry, John Cash and George Franklin, three staid old deacons who are classed among the anti-Conway men, were tried for disturbing a prayer meeting. The matter is apt to be sent to the Criminal Court, when all the facts in the case will be brought out.

Not So.

A statement to the effect that work on the out-off from Wilson to Florence has been commenced by the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. is going the rounds of the State press. We have inquired of the officials in this city and learn that the work has not been commenced and that there is no immediate prospect of its being done.
The only iron preparation that does not color the teeth, and will not cause headache or constipation, as other iron preparations will, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

First Ward Democratic Club.

The organization of the First Ward Democratic Club was completed in Brooklyn Hall last night by the election of Mr. David H. Walsh, Jr., as Secretary and Treasurer. The President of the Club, Mr. W. H. Strauss, called the Club to order and stated the object of the meeting. Mr. T. B. Kingsbury and Capt. W. M. Parker were called for, and in response spoke for sometime upon the issues of the campaign. The Club adjourned to meet on the 29th inst.

Committed to Jail.

Albert Herring, who was arrested Saturday for the larceny of Lousia Jackson's clothing, had a preliminary hearing yesterday and was sent to jail in default of bond. Mary Williams was also committed to jail for receiving the goods knowing them to have been stolen. Herring is said to be a man who has frequently had the finger of suspicion pointed at him and has once or twice been tried for larceny but has so far succeeded in getting off. This time the evidence is bang up against him and he will probably take a trip ere long to Raleigh at the State's expense.

Important Business.

The members of the Central Executive Committee are requested to meet this evening at the office of Hon. Wm. L. Smith, on Princess Street for the transaction of business of importance. The following gentlemen compose the Committee, viz:
Chairman.—Col. E. D. Hall.
First Ward.—J. W. Gerds, Dan Quinlivan, Simon W. Sanders.
Second Ward.—Roger Moore, J. Hubert Smith, J. D. Smith, Jr.
Third Ward.—J. C. Stevenson, L. W. McLaurin, Jno. Ruff.
Fourth Ward.—W. P. Oldham, M. S. Willard, Alex. Adrain.
Fifth Ward.—Wesley Millis, J. D. H. Klander, W. H. Griffith.

Disastrous Conflagration at Rockingham.

Yesterday morning about 4 o'clock, a fire broke out in the business portion of the thriving little town of Rockingham, in Richmond county. The fire was discovered bursting through Mr. Russell's warehouse, and soon communicated to his store. The stores and stocks of Messrs. Leak, Everett & Co., F. S. & H. C. Watson and J. W. Holt were all consumed. Mr. Holt also lost his dwelling, but saved most of his furniture. A store belonging to a Mr. McCaully was also destroyed. We are pleased to know that the losses will not be very heavy as the stores and stocks were pretty generally insured. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

Family Reunion.

There will be a reunion at Ridley Creek, near Chester, Penn., on the 24th inst., of the descendants of John Sharpless, who came to his country 200 years ago. There are about 500 of his descendants in this city, some of whom have gone on to attend the reunion which is intended to be a social gathering to promote friendship among kindred, and strengthen the bonds of relationship.—There are said to be about 25,000 of his descendants in Pennsylvania. In 1755 Richard Bradley married Elizabeth Sharpless, and in 1792 John Lord married Elizabeth Bradley, their daughter. Invitations have been sent to all the descendants of John Sharpless. They are surrounded by the family coat of arms, which is a hand holding a sword above a shield in which are stars and crescents and beneath is the motto, "Pro Veritate suffer fortius." Bishop Green, of Mississippi, who is probably the oldest descendant in the South, will be present at the reunion, which will be held on the site of John Sharpless' cabin at West Chester.

Pamlico Enterprise.

Mr. Joshua Dean, one of Pamlico's most enterprising citizens, met with a very severe loss on Friday night last, the 11th inst., by the burning of his steam saw and grist mill and cotton gin and fixtures. His losses are between $6,000 and $7,000. No insurance.—Rain! rain! rain! all the time, every day, every night and almost every hour and minute. The whole surface of the earth is covered with water. The ditches are filled with it, and still it comes. The farmers all wear long faces.

Lexington Dispatch.

Gen. Leach has gone to Long Branch. President Arthur is there also. Rumor has it that the farmer has gone to try to persuade the latter to appoint Col. Henderson marshal for this district, to succeed Bob Douglas. —On Wednesday morning C. C. Green killed a crane near Rich Fork Bridge. It was 5 feet 7 inches high, and 6 feet 6 inches between the extremities of its wings. The bird showed fight and whipped a dog, and bruised the eye of its captor before it was killed.

Rice Culture.

Comparing these data, ascertained as nearly as possible for the same period and for the same industry, in China, now the great competitor with the American producer, it is found that in 1847 the wages of a Chinese laborer were about fourteen cents a day. He could live for about $2 to $2.50 per month, including clothes and rent, or from 7-10 to 9-3-10 cents per diem for twenty-six working days. We learn from the same authority that rice was worth about nine mills per pound or ninety cents per 100 lbs.

In view of these facts alone it is evident that if American rice was produced at $1.10 per 100 lbs. Chinese rice could not have been profitably brought into the United States, even if relieved of the then subsisting import tax of 20 per cent. ad valorem. The result was a monopoly to the American producer, not only in the home markets, but practically in the European and West India markets, where the American staple predominated. This commanding position gave the American producer greater and more assured profit than is now possible with free labor, even with the advantage of a heavier import duty on foreign rice.

In the period between 1840 and 1860, the duty on foreign rice was absolutely needless as a protection to the American producer, and valueless as a source of revenue to the government. The former was wholly independent of labor in cheapness second to that of Asia only, and in effectiveness, unsurpassed. He was in a position to defy competition, and triumphantly met the almost free importation of East India rice even in the English markets. He pointed to his fields as unexcelled examples of industry, skill and profit. Holding the same rank with the American cotton producer, and moving pari passu with him in the commerce of the civilized world, protection was as unnecessary to him as it was useless to the government. To have called the duty protection would have been absurd: it was in fact merely supererogatory.

But in 1862 the importation of foreign rice was 56,961,317 pounds. Except for the internal supply of the Southern States, the cultivation of rice was then rapidly diminishing. The rice fields which lay chiefly in the great delta states, the first to be reached in the military operations against the South, were soon laid waste or abandoned. The planters retreated with their slaves into the interior. The result was that in 1865 the crop had dwindled from 187,000,000 pounds, in 1860, with an exportation of 75,000,000 pounds to 12,000,000 pounds. Indeed the importation for 1864 was nearly 100,000,000 lbs. and the production ought. In short, Asiatic rice had taken entire possession of the American markets, except within the Confederate military lines, and at this time, despite the immense volume of importation, the prices in the New York market ranged as high as from $12 to $14.50, and in some exceptional instances to $17 per 100 pounds.

The duty on cleaned rice had been raised in 1862 to 14 cents per pound. In 1864 it was again increased to 23 cents per pound, and so remains unchanged. AUG. 21ST. PLANTER.

For the Review.

EDITORIAL REVIEW.

Through the medium of your popular paper I ask permission to present to the Democracy of this, the Twelfth Senatorial District, a candidate for the position of Senator—subject, of course, to the action of the nominating convention of this District. These are trying times, and in making selections for political preferment we should take only those whose records are free from stain, and whose fidelity to principle has never been questioned.

I think in placing Capt. A. A. Moseley, of New Hanover county before the people of this District as one suitable in every way to represent them in the next Legislature of this grand old Commonwealth, that I in no way flatter him. Capt. Moseley will never fill any public place if his promotion must come by the low, disreputable trickery that characterizes so many of those known as the "politicians of to-day." He was never known to buttonhole a man and ask that he vote for him, and he never will.

The men that we should put in public places should come from among those who are not professional office-seekers, and not of the class who, like the old maid when praying for a husband, wound up by saying, "Anybody, Lord, just so it's a man." Born and reared in the old banner county of Sampson, Capt. Moseley imbibed in early life a love and reverence for those grand old Democratic principles that must ever live while a love for good government exists. An agriculturalist from choice, his interests are thoroughly identified with the great masses of our voters who form the backbone and sinew of our land, and who are ever foremost in acts calculated to advance the interests of our Section and State. While living quietly, devoting himself to the welfare of his family, he is ever responsive to any requirements that may be made of him, looking to the promotion of the Democratic party. While there are many tried and true Democrats, any of whom would make good officers, none could be found who would fight harder and fight longer for Democracy than A. A. Moseley.
