A Curiosity.

VOL. VI.

Mr. Henry Von Kampen, at the corner of Nutt and Brunswick streets, has a lusus nature which would indicate that even hens have some idea of time. It is an egg, on one side of which Blossom & Evans. is a perfect representation of a watch face. The surface is flattened, and the face has twelve notches at almost regular distances, of one hour apart, as it were. It is a curiosity, and was evidently laid by a hen that wanted to convey to the world that there was no tick there.

A Colored Cotton Broker,

A colored man claiming to be a cotton broker of Liverpool, was arrested yesterday on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. He came here about two weeks ago and represented himself as having a considerable amount of money in U.S. bonds, and succeeded in borrowing $41.00 from Burrell Ames, the mail contractor. The man failed to square his account with Ames, and it was subsequently ascertained that he had no bonds. He was bound over to await an investigation this morn-

A man by the name of Pennington, who has for some time past been the postmaster at Rocky Mount, was arrested on Monday last, by a special agent of the P. O. Department, charged with robbing the U.S. mails. He was bailed in the sum of $5,000 to appear for examination yesterday before a U-S. Commissioner, in Goldsbore.

Pennington is well connected and his friends and relatives, we understand claim that he is innocent of the charges made against him.

Senator Ransom in Charlotte. From a gentleman in this city, who was present in Charlotte, last Tuesday, we hear something of Senator Ransom's speech in that town, on that day. The distinguished gentleman was greeted by a very large audience. Col. William Johnston, the father of that crowd in North Carolina whom Gen. Leach speaks of as having lately "turned to niggers," was on hand, and a division of time was agreed upon. Where it came from is a puzzler to the citizens.

Durham Plant: On Sunday last there was a serious cutting affray on the Roxboro road, between the poor house and Mt Hebron church. The parties who engaged in this pastime were Sandy Hopkins and Mabin Johnson, two young white men. Johnson received several severe wounds in the abdomen, and it is feared they will prove fatal. John Barleycorn was the cause of the difficulty. Charlotte Journal: The store of Mr Wilson Ashcraft, near Beaver Dam, on the Carolina Central railway, was entered by a burglar Suuday morning and robbed of about $50 worth of goods. There is no clue to the robbers. -A very fine vein of ore was struck at the old Crump mine, near Stouts, on the Carolina Central, last Friday while a shaft for ventilation was being sunk at Monroe yesterday, was valued at $400. On another occasion at the opera house he saw a nice dark spot in a corner which he took for a spittoon.

He chewed his quid, spit and laughed at the play until it was concluded, when looking around for his hat he found that it was the spittoon at which he had been directing his expectorations during the evening. The top of the hat was an inch deep with tobacce in ice. an inch deep with tobacce juice. Robesonian: Fever is prevailing to a considerable extent in this county. There have been several deaths.
