CANONCHET.

Sprague and His Shot-Gun Hold the Fort.

[By Telegraph to Daily Review.] PROVIDENCE, R. I., September 9.—Night.—In the Supreme Court this morning, in the case of the petition of Z. Chaffee, trustee and assignee of the Sprague estate, for advice and assistance in the matter of the sale of Canonchet to F. D. Moulton, the petition was dismissed, thus leaving William Sprague in practical possession of Canonchet indefinitely, unless ousted by procedure of law.

DANVILLE.

A Serious Affray Between City Officials.

[By Telegraph to Daily Review.] DANVILLE, Va., Sept. 9.—Night.—This evening John H. Johnston, Mayor of the city, shot Jno. E. Hatcher, late Chief of Police, inflicting what is believed to be a mortal wound. The parties met casually this evening and Hatcher demanded an apology for a statement made by Johnston that Hatcher had not accounted for the fines he had collected. An apology was refused and a scuffle ensued and Johnston shot Hatcher. Johnston surrendered himself and was admitted to bail in $5,000.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

[By Telegraph to Daily Review.] WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Night.—Surgeon-General Hamilton, of the Marine Hospital Service, has received the following: Brownsville, Sept. 9.—Fifteen new cases of fever and three deaths.

PENSACOLA, Sept. 9.—Night.—Twelve new cases and two deaths. The National Board of Health received the following: Pensacola, Feb. 8—10:45 p. m.—12 new cases to-day and 2 deaths, 1 colored. The weather for the week up to noon to-day was very warm. It is now cool and a rain storm is threatening.

PENSACOLA, Sept. 9.—Night.—The Board of Health declares the yellow fever epidemic. We have in 24 hours 16 new cases and 3 deaths. Collections are being almost entirely suspended and business men are greatly embarrassed and an appeal is made to the generosity of the country. Contributions should be transmitted by telegraph when possible as there is an imperative need of funds. The large proportion of Northern and unacquainted men render us singularly accessible to the ravages of the disease while the number of sick and sickening is greatly disproportionate to the number of trained nurses.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Sept. 9.—Night.—There were 57 new cases of fever to-day. There were also 3 deaths—all Mexicans. There was one death in Fort Brown.

At Matamoros the fever is very much on the decrease. There were 2 deaths in the last 24 hours; $14,000 is the total amount sent us by subscription.

FOREIGN NEWS.

[By Cable to Daily Review.] LONDON, Sept. 9.—Night.—Reuter's Telegraph Company has the following: Kossassin, Sept. 9.—The enemy attacked both banks of the British position this morning. A sharp encounter ensued, resulting in the repulse of the Arabs. General Wolsey is now on his way to the front. Troops are marching from Tel El Mohuta to Kossassin. Reuter's has also the following later despatch from the British camp: Kossassin, Sept. 9.—Night.—The attack of the enemy has been repulsed but the action still continues along the front which extends a distance of three miles. All of the troops are out from the British camps. The wounded are now being brought in but the total casualties are not yet exactly known. The British loss is roughly estimated at 100 killed and wounded. Many shells fell in the British camp before the enemy was repulsed.

VIENNA, Sept. 9.—Night.—A telegram from St. Petersburg is published here stating that the convicts in the prison at Khokham revolted recently and the guard was called out to suppress them. A struggle ensued and 40 of the convicts were killed.

KOSSASSIN, Sept. 9.—Night.—All of Arabi Pasha's troops from Cairo have been brought to Tel-El-Kebir; also the black regiments which form the elite of the Egyptian soldiery. The enemy is working night and day at his entrenchments across the fresh water canal on his right. General Wolsey is now in direct telegraphic communication with London.

LONDON, September 9.—Night.—The British bark Cosma, from Sunderland, for Java, has foundered and the crew, numbering 30, were drowned.

DUBLIN, September 9.—Night.—The Freeman's Journal says: Marwood, the hangman, arrived in Ireland last evening to superintend the execution of Francis Hines. Marwood is guarded by the police, and a number of Irish detectives will escort him to Limerick.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Night.—General Wolsey telegraphs to the War Office from a point 3 1/2 miles west of Kossassin Lock the following report of the morning's operation: September 9th.—Night.—The enemy reconnoitered our advanced posts with considerable force of all arms. At day-break this morning General Willis advanced and attacked them, driving them back with loss. We have taken four guns. Our loss is very trifling. The enemy have retired into their works from which they are now firing at 5,000 yards range. I shall return to camp Kossassin with all my force. I have removed my camp there as the railway, canal and telegraph are now working fairly. We have found and buried the body of Lieut. Gribble. Lieut. Gribble, of the Dragons, mentioned in General Wolsey's dispatch, had been missing since the great cavalry charge at Kossassin. His body having been found unburied it is thought probable he was murdered on the approach of General Wolsey.

PANAMA.

Further Reports of the Earthquake.

[By Telegraph to Daily Review.] NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Night.—The Central & South American Telegraph Co. have received a dispatch from their general manager at Panama, stating that there was another short but sharp shock this morning. For the past two nights the population of Panama have slept in or walked about the squares. Many families camp on the plains. Few dare sleep in high buildings, or narrow streets. Much sickness from fright and exposure is expected.

Traffic on the Panama R. R. is suspended as the bridges are out of line. Barcear's Bridge is safe but its approaches are sunken and the masonry cracked or fallen. The freight houses at Colon are badly damaged. It is hoped traffic may be resumed on the 11th. The Island of Tobago suffered considerably this a. m. Interior towns are reported badly damaged. The long dormant volcanoes of Chiriqui are reported to be in active eruption.

Telegraphic Brevities.

A gun belonging to the British team at Creedmore was tampered with by some unknown person, much to the indignation of the Americans.

Some very startling developments of theft and fraud have been disclosed in regard to the management of the Alms House, in Philadelphia. Among other things the roof, which was of copper, was taken off and sold and not one dollar accounted for.

E. S. Sanford, V. P. of Adams' Express Company and a director of the Western Union Telegraph Company, died suddenly yesterday.

W. J. Menden, a notorious white man, who was elected by the Republicans to the N. C. Legislature some years ago, and who was in jail at Hartford for abduction and robbery, escaped thence on Friday night in company with five colored prisoners.

THE STAR ROUTERS.

No Verdict as Yet—Estimated Cost of the Trial.

[By Telegraph to Daily Review.] WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 9.—Night.—At 2 o'clock the Star Route Jury again came into Court and reported that they had failed to agree. They were directed to return, and report again at 6 o'clock. When they came into Court at the latter hour they announced that they had reached an agreement in regard to some of the defendants, but not as to others. Judge Wylie stated that he was not prepared as yet to accept a partial verdict, and the jury were told to return for the night, and come into Court at 10 o'clock to-morrow. The session of the Court has been continued from day to day since Friday by recess, no adjournment having been taken. One of the prosecuting counsel was interviewed to-night and expresses the opinion that the jury have reached a verdict of guilty as to Brady, Rodell, Morier and Valle, and possibly an acquittal as to Turner, and that they are still considering the case of the two Dorseys. It was ascertained at the Treasury Department to-day that payments already made on account of the expenses in the prosecution of the Star Route cases are as follows: For services and expenses, B. H. Brewster, for his appointment as Attorney General, $5,000; W. A. Cook, services and expenses, $6,702; George Bliss, services and expenses, $19,251.60; W. W. Kerr, services and expenses, $6,527; R. T. Merrick, services and expenses, $5,000; A. M. Gibson, services and expenses, $5,000; total $47,480.80. It will be seen that the above expenses include only lawyers' fees and expenses and only so much of that class of accounts as has been passed by the accounting officer of the Treasury. None of the accounts of special agents, court expenses, etc., have yet been presented at the Treasury. It is estimated that these expenses, together with the additional amount to be paid as counsel fees, will swell the total expenses of the Star Route trial to about $200,000.

A couple of small colored boys were arrested last night on the wharf for stealing bags from the office of Messrs. Norwood Giles & Co. There is a broken pane of glass in the front door of the office and the boys fished the bags out with a pole. They have been plying their avocation for the past two or three nights.

Strictly Business.

Mr. C. B. Bishop the inimitable comedian, will show here next Saturday night. He will open the theatrical season in Gantor's play of "Strictly Business." Mr. Chas. A. Wing, the agent, was here yesterday making arrangements for the appearance of Mr. Bishop. He received the following telegram dated at Richmond from the manager, Mr. F. W. Paul: "We are triumphant; opened at Norfolk to seven hundred and forty dollars. To-night, Richmond eight hundred, and eighty. Prospects big to-morrow."

The above will show what a strong hold Mr. Bishop's new piece is taking on the public. All the scenery used in this production is carried by the company which is pronounced the best that has ever supported Mr. Bishop in any of his tours through the South.

Terribly Mutilated.

Coroner Hewlett was notified on Friday that the body of Primus Young, an old colored man about 70 years of age, was found lying in the yard attached to his residence, on the Hooper plantation, in Cape Fear township, about six miles from this city. The remains were so terribly mutilated as to be almost beyond recognition. Primus left here about one week ago and was then complaining of feeling badly. No one seems to know when the old man died or how long before death he was sick. Coroner Hewlett went out to the home of the deceased yesterday and had the mutilated remains interred. His idea is that Primus died in his bed and the dogs in the neighborhood dragged the body out of the house into the yard where the body was gnawed by hogs and picked by buzzards. There is no suspicion of any foul play in connection with the death.

The Circus.

Barrett's circus troupe will arrive in this city this morning and will show on Dickinson's hill to-morrow. Whosoever they have been they have received commendations from both press and people. We have been watching our exchanges very closely and are satisfied that the troupe is one which is well worthy of the confidence and patronage of the public. Surely the bills tell of enough to drive sleep from the eyes of the young, and to revive in the hearts of the old much of the consuming circus fire of youth, and when the splendid street parade arrives, with its elephants, camels, dromedaries and wild beasts in caravan; its grand and gorgeous chariots, cars and cages; its three fine martial bands and new Leviathan Locomotive Steam Orchestra, and its hundreds of wonders and amusing sights, everybody will be attracted to the half million yards of brilliantly electric lighted tents.

The Cyclone.

One year ago yesterday the most disastrous storm which has ever passed over this city burst upon us about 12 o'clock. Buildings were leveled, roofs were blown off and, we regret to say, lives were lost. The city for several days presented a dilapidated appearance and some portions of it could well be compared with the ruins of ancient Rome. Yesterday about the hour of 12 o'clock the War Department sent out the following from the Main Office at Washington: "The Gulf cyclone has recurred and is now central off the mouth of the Mississippi. Its course cannot be defined at present, but it will probably move Northeastward. Shipping on the South Atlantic coast is warned that dangerous winds may be anticipated to-night and to-morrow."

At 6 o'clock the following message was flashed over the wires: "Up signals Smithville, Wilmington and Macon. Cyclone central South of Pensacola apparently moving in North-east direction."

As we write the heavens look black and angry but there is little or no wind. It may be the calm before the storm. We trust our city will be spared from a similar visitation of September 9th, 1881.
