No City Court yesterday.

The Supreme Court meets at Raleigh next Monday.

The receipts of cotton yesterday at this port were 711 bales.

DYER & SON have work for more hands on coats, pants and vests.

There will be services this morning in the Temple of Israel at half-past 10 o'clock.

The yawl boat used by the cotton thieves on Saturday night has been claimed by Messrs Watson & Eckles.

We regret to learn that Mr. Jas. G.
Bradley is rapidly sinking, and that but little hopes are entertained of his recovery.

The steamship Gulf Stream, Capt.
Ingram, from New York, arrived at her wharf in this city at about 10 o'clock last night.

The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage will lecture in Charlotte in March and the Library Association of this city have invited him to lecture here.

The Claire Scott Combination, fourteen in number, arrived in this city last night. They cancelled their engagement at Wilson in order to reach here in good season.

A little colored girl was arrested Sunday night at the gas house charged with stealing wood. There was no one to appear against her at the City Court yesterday morning and she was discharged.

Freshwater Perch, Trout and Black fish books and lines. A full assortment and lowest prices at JACOBY'S.

Removal.

The office of the DAILY REVIEW and WILMINGTON JOURNAL will be removed, on October 1st, to the second and third stories of the building on Market street, South side, between Front and Second, occupied on the first floor by Messrs A. & I. Shriver's Clothing Store, 24 Market street, where we will be pleased, at all hours of the day and night, to welcome our friends.

A Stolen Watch.

Some time ago a young man in this city lost a hunting case silver watch and yesterday sued out a warrant before Justice Millis against a colored man who he claims had the watch.
A timepiece resembling very much the lost watch was found on the man's person. Justice Millis heard the case yesterday afternoon but withheld his decision until to-day at 12 o'clock.

The New Telegraph Company.

We understand, says the Charlotte Observer, that the wires of the new Southern Telegraph Company, a corporation formed to buck against the Western Union, as we mentioned some months ago in this paper, are up and doing business between Richmond and Raleigh, and are being strung Southward from Richmond by two routes, one through Wilmington and the other through Charlotte. The Wilmington line is to be finished first. The Charlotte office will be opened about the first of next January. The new company will extend its lines to Norfolk, Charleston, Savannah, Augusta, Charlotte, Atlanta, Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans and all the principal cities of the South. A line will also be built to connect Louisville with the new Southern system via Nashville and Chattanooga. About the time they get everything finished and ready for business the Western Union will no doubt take the whole thing down at one swallow, as it did the American Union.

Senator Ransom's Appoint- ments.

Senator M. W. Ransom will address his fellow-citizens as follows: Haywood, Chatham county, Wednesday, October 4.
Lillington, Thursday, October 5.
Laurinburg, Richmond county, Friday, October 6.
Abbeotsburg, Bladen county, Saturday, October 7.

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VI. WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28 1882. NO. 231.

AT POINT CASWELL.

Col. Jno. N. Staples Speaks to a Very Enthusiastic Assemblage and is Attentively Listened to for Two Hours—Col. Kerchner Breaks Ground for the Point Caswell & Clinton R. R.

The steamer John Dawson left her wharf Tuesday morning for Point Caswell having on board about forty persons. The trip up the river was a very pleasant one and was enjoyed by every one notwithstanding the fact that a steady rain set in about 8 o'clock and continued until about 2 o'clock. Owing to the falling weather there was not as large a crowd at Point Caswell as was expected. The fair sex was well represented and we never saw the ladies look handsomer.

The assemblage gathered in and around the new academy and a little after 2 o'clock Dr. Geo. F. Lucas stepped forward and introduced Col. Staples in a terse and appropriate speech. Col.
Staples arose and commenced his masterly and able speech. He threw hot shot into the Radical camp and made a very fine impression. At the outset he won the admiration of his audience and chained their attention to him. His incontrovertible arguments carried conviction with them and dispelled all doubts, if there were any, in the minds of his audience. He was frequently applauded and won the smiles of the fair ladies.

At the conclusion of Col. Staples' speech Chief Engineer Duncan McRae O'Hanlon ordered his "railroad hands" to the head of the Clinton & Point Caswell railroad. They promptly obeyed instructions and arriving at the starting point of the road fell into line and were marched to the stake which indicates the starting point of the road. Mr. H.
McL. Green was made Chairman of the Rosette Committee and pinned a white and pink rosette on each young lady's shoulder. He had evidently performed similar offices before, and on account of the graceful manner in which he performed his duty no one doubted the wisdom of his selection as Chairman of the Committee. Col.
Staples stepped out in front of the young ladies and made a short speech and introduced Dr. W. T. Ennett who delivered an address to them. As they were drawn in line we thought they were the prettiest and most bewitching set of "railroad hands" we ever saw.
Dr. Ennett made a very handsome address to them, at the conclusion of which Col. F. W. Kerchner, President of the Clinton and Point Caswell railroad, stepped forward with spade in hand and threw out the first spadeful of dirt. The young ladies then took the spades and followed President Kerchner's lead. As they leaned on their implements they presented a picture rarely ever seen. Spades were trumps and there were forty-two queens in that pack. One of them on fun intent, threw a spadeful of dirt at the local which fell on his inoffensive head which made him the jack of the deck. At the conclusion of the breaking ground the ladies dispersed to their homes to prepare for the ball at night. Rarely have we ever seen so much grace and beauty in one ball room as was seen in the Academy at night. The music was fine and the ladies were, in the language of Oscar Wilde, charmingly bewitching and exquisitely lovely.

The Chairman of the Rosette Committee was quite carried away and enjoyed the mazy waltz to an extent hardly to be expected in one of his advanced age.
The dancing was kept up to a late hour and was voted the pleasantest ever had at Point Caswell. Much of the success and pleasure of the ball was due to the perfect arrangements of Mr. L. Vollers and Dr. Geo. F. Lucas, to whom we doff our hat for kind attentions paid us.

The Tariff Commission.

Hons. John L. Hayes, H. W. Oliver, Jr., A. M. Garland, A. R. Boteler and R. P. Porter, of the Tariff Commission, accompanied by Messrs. C. F. Williams, Secretary; H. G. Hayes, Associated Press Stenographer; C. D. Fraser, Clerk; C. F. Rainey, Sergeant-at-Arms, and Walter H. Page, the New York World's staff correspondent, arrived in this city yesterday morning from Charleston in their special Pullman coach. The members of the Commission and their attendants registered at the Purcell and were called upon socially by quite a number of our citizens. At 11 o'clock the Commissioners sat in session at the Custom House.
Hon. D. L. Russell made a preliminary statement, briefly giving the outlines of the matter which would be laid before them and introduced Messrs. Donald McRae, Geo. Z. French and S. L.

Fremont.

Mr. McRae arose and handed the Commission a written article giving statistics of the rice produced in this State, and asked that the duty be not abolished, and explained the process of the cultivation of upland rice. He presented able arguments in favor of a protective tariff on rice, and showed that the industry of rice culture in America would be crippled if the duty was taken off.

Mr. G. Z. French next claimed the attention of the Commission, and spoke in the interest of a protective tariff on peanuts. He asked that the present duty be allowed to remain. He stated that 125,000 bushels of peanuts were raised in this State last year, and that Tennessee and Virginia gave a still larger yield. The competition in peanuts now is in the African nut, and he showed conclusively that if the tariff was taken off of them that the farmers could not successfully compete with Africa. He thought that the duty was low enough and advocated an increased tariff on them. He also asked for a duty on chalk, [which is now free.— He showed that chalk could be imported from England at a less rate of freight than it could be taken from his place to New York.

Col. S. L. Fremont agreed with the gentleman who had preceded him in regard to rice and peanuts, and gave some valuable statistics.

There being nothing further to claim the attention of the Commission, the morning session was brought to a close.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At 2 o'clock the Commissioners met in the parlors of the Purcell House and were called to order by the President, Hon. John L. Hayes.

A paper, by Mr. Pembroke Jones, asking for a tariff on rice flour, which is now free, was received and filed away for future consideration. Messrs. H.
C. McQueen and R. E. Calder, representing the Produce Exchange, laid before the body some port statistics, giving the receipts and exports of cotton and naval stores. They suggested that the duty on salt and cotton ties is excessive and recommended a reduction. The Commission listened to their views and made minutes of the facts laid before them. There being nothing further before the session it was adjourned and the Commission met in Executive Session, Commissioners Ambler, Underwood, Kenner and McMahon were not with the Commission. Mr. Jno.
L. Hayes is from Massachusetts and is Secretary of the Wool Growers' Association of that State. Mr. H. W.
Oliver, Jr., is from Pennsylvania, and is largely interested in the iron industry of that State. Mr. A. M.
Garland is from Illinois, and is Secretary of the Wool Growers' Association of that State. Mr. A. R. Boteler is from West Virginia, and is a lawyer by profession. Mr. R. P. Porter is from Washington City, and has been employed in the Census Bureau as a statistician.

The Commissioners left last evening for Richmond, Virginia, where they will hold a two hours' session to-day, and will then leave for Baltimore, where they will hold a two days' session.

Personal.

Mr. D. S. Cowan, of Columbus county, who has been absent for some months past in Florida, where he has a contract on a railroad now in process of construction in that State, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. M. M. Katz returned here on Monday night from his regular Fall visit to the Northern markets. As usual, he bought largely and handsomely and the ladies will look with impatience for the display of his new stock.

Senator Ransom will probably speak here towards the close of the campaign.
His appointments for this section, which we publish in this issue, run to October 12th at Clinton, and after that we hope to hear him in Wilmington.

Capt. R. M. McIntire has also returned from New York, after a two weeks' tour of the Northern markets. He arrived last Saturday night and we regret to learn that he has been sick and confined to the house ever since his return.
We are pleased to see Mr. James Sprunt at home again. Mr. Sprunt has been absent for several weeks at some of the Northern watering places, in search of health and pleasure combined.
We are glad to see him looking in improved health.

We were pleased to receive a call last night from Col. John N. Staples, who was accompanied by Capt. W. P. Oldham. Col. Staples left this morning for Greensboro. We are glad to know that he has enjoyed his visit to our city and section, and he may rest assured of a warm welcome here always.

Mr. A. D. Brown, of the firm of Brown & Roddick, returned here on Tuesday night after an absence of about six weeks at the North, much of which time was spent in the New York markets in the purchase of Fall and Winter goods for the house. Mr. Brown was accompanied by his family.

We were pleased to receive a call yesterday morning from Mr. Walter A. Page, special correspondent of the New York World, who has been traveling with the Tariff Commission and reporting their proceedings direct to his paper. Mr. Page is a North Carolinian and a native of Wake county.

Invalid wives and mothers quickly restored to health by using Brown's Iron Bitters. A true tonic.

STATE NEWS.

Greensboro Patriot: Mr. Elisha Flack, one of the oldest citizens in the county, died at his home, near Brown Summit, last Saturday. Mr. Flack was born in the year 1800.

Durham Plant: Wm. M. Blalock, of Red Mountain, raised a head of wheat the past season that was seven inches long, had seven grains to the mash and contained in all one hundred and thirty-four grains.

Charlotte Journal: Let nobody say that Charlotte is not prospering. Ten brick stores are going up, a three-story 150x50 foot brick addition to Wilkes Foundry is begun, a $40,000 college is being built at the Biddle Institute, a large reduction works is being planted near the city, and new residences are going up in every quarter.

Robesonian: Mr. Alexander Morrison, of Shoe Heel, was buried on the 21st inst., having lived to the ripe old age of eighty-one. Mr. S. Smouthers, living about 8 miles south of Shoe Heel, killed a rattlesnake on his premises which had ten rattles and a button; this was on the 7th inst., and two days later he killed another like unto it, with the same number of rattles, five feet, three inches long.

News and Observer: We learn from President Battle that there are now 182 students at the University, and more are coming. Dr. Deems, the talented pastor of the Church of the Strangers, New York, lectures here on the 5th prox., in aid of the Edenton Street Methodist Church building fund.
The Supreme Court meets next Monday, and will devote that day and Tuesday to the examination of applicants for attorneys' licenses. Thus far seven applicants have registered their names on Clerk Bagley's books.

Newbern Nut shell: A colored woman living below this city gave birth to triplets on Friday last. The steamer Violet, Capt. McInnis, arrived at foot of Craven street Saturday night, having made the run from New-berne River Light House, a distance of about 40 miles, in two hours, fifty-nine minutes. Yesterday morning Joseph Faulkner, aged 10 years, was caught upon a wheel in the mill of Cochrane & Alexander, in Mallard Creek township, and so terribly torn and mangled that death resulted in a few hours.

Newbern Journal: Dr. Bates received information on Monday morning that a colored woman had been found in Bachelor's Creek, near the bridge on the Washington road who was supposed to have been drowned.
The doctor summoned a jury of inquest and repaired to the spot when upon examination it was found that she had been choked to death, the points of the fingers being plainly visible. The body was recognized by several witnesses as that of Fannie Williams.
The evidence pointed to one Jim Boone, col., as the perpetrator of the crime.

Anything in the hardware line can be found at reasonable prices at JACOBY'S.
