Politics in Onslow.

We are very much gratified to learn that the Democracy of Onslow are rapidly uniting so as to secure the success of the entire local ticket in that county, and that our candidates on the ional) will receive the full strength of play. the party there.

The efforts of Ransom, Green and Galloway have done much to solidify the ranks of the party in Onslow, and if they failed to achieve this result all along the lines the deficiency was entirely supplied by Wassom, the colored Republican candidate for Solicitor, who spoke at Jacksonville last Tuesday, and in his speech declared that he favored an amendment of the existing of this afternoor. The contests will be law concerning the apprenticing of minors so as to allow white children to be bound to colored masters. This declaration aroused the indignation of all the white men present, (and they were quite numerous), and the Democrats, who had weakened before, found their backbones stiffening to orthodox consistency. Wassom's speech made some of the white Republican candidates look rather dejected, and they dy's Hollow, was drunk and down, and will probably remain unhappy for the
