WANTED—Board. S. JEWETT—Carpets. MUMFORD—We Think. MUMFORD BROS.—We Carry. C. W. YATES—School Books. HEINSBERGER—School Books. H. A. BAGG, Chm'n.—The Registrars. CRONLY & MORRIS—Fruit at Auction. J. J. BONEY, Chm'n.—Public Speaking. J. W. MOORE and others—To the Public.

The receipts of cotton at this port yesterday foot up 1,158 bales.

Schr. Mary E. Van Cleaf, from this port, arrived at Boston yesterday.

This warm weather is trying to the temper of the mercantile community.

Warm enough yesterday for a June day, although the wind was from the North throughout the day.

Mr. Jno. D. Stanford and Capt. Swift Galloway will speak at the Oaks, in the Fifth Ward, this evening. Let every Democrat hear them.

Hons. A. M. Waddell and John W. Shackelford will speak in this city tomorrow evening, from the stand on Third street. Let everybody hear them.

The Hewlett men will have a big meeting to night at the corner of Fourth and Brunswick streets. There will be a number of speakers and a lively time is looked for.

Sch. Julie Elizabeth is here with a cargo of very fine West India fruits consigned to Messrs. Cronly & Morris. It will be sold at auction sale commencing to-day at 11 o'clock.

A colored man, a train hand on the W. C. & A. Railroad was struck by the bridge on Sixth street yesterday as the train was passing under it, and seriously injured. He was taken to the Hospital where the necessary assistance was rendered him and there are doubts as to his recovery.

We are requested by Dr. Satchwell, Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Pender county, to state that there will be a meeting of the Committee at Burgaw, at 11 o'clock a. m., on Monday next, the 6th inst. A full and prompt attendance is requested.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the month of October, just closed, foot up 26,693 bales, as against 27,870 bales for the same month last year. The receipts to date foot up 36,112 bales, as against 38,892 bales to same date last year. A decrease this year of 2,690 bales.

Boy's Clothing.

Our patrons are informed that the supply of clothing for which they have been waiting has arrived, it is the largest and handsomest lot ever received by us. Call and we shall be pleased to show them. A. & I. SHRIER, Reliable Clothiers, 34 Market street.

Harnett Township.

There was a large and enthusiastic Democratic meeting in Harnett township yesterday. Maj. C. W. McClammy, Mr. John D. Stanford and H. A. Bagg, Esq., made rousing good speeches. It was a stirring occasion and the result indicates that the Democrats in Harnett will do their duty next Tuesday.

Anything in the hardware line can be found at reasonable prices at JACOBI'S.

A Beautiful Number.

Golden Days, in the monthly part for November, is already at hand. It is, as it always has been, a superb publication, and we know of no monthly which excels it in interest, in the number and beauty of its illustrations or its typographical appearance. It is published at Philadelphia by James Elverson, at $3 a year.

Last Rally.

There will be a rally of the Democrats of Pender, at Burgaw, on Monday next, the 6th of November. Prominent Democrats will make the rallying speeches. Among them will be Major Charles W. McClammy, the Democratic candidates, and other speakers. Democrats of Pender! your County Executive Committee have nobly done their duty. You have a good ticket. The truth has been eloquently told you upon every stump. Vance and Ransom have spoken to you. Now, come forward, every one of you, like brave men and elect your entire ticket.

Freshwater Perch, Trout and Black fish hooks and lines. A full assortment and lowest prices at JACOBI'S.

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VI. WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1882. NO. 261.

Depositing the Ballots.

The following copy of a correspondence between Mr. Thos. E. Bond, on behalf of the Young Men's Democratic Club, and Hon. D. L. Russell, for the Republicans in this city, will sufficiently explain itself. It will be seen that Judge Russell accepts Col. Moore's opinion as correct, and Col. Moore's opinion is identical with that expressed in the editorial columns of the Review on Tuesday last. The following is the correspondence alluded to:

Hon. D. L. Russell—Dear Sir:—I enclose herewith copy of a letter addressed by Col. B. R. Moore to S. H. Manning, Chairman Republican Executive Committee, in regard to counting of votes at the approaching election. Please state whether the opinions therein contained coincide with your own, and oblige.

Yours Very Truly, THOMAS E. BOND, for Young Men's Democratic Club.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 1, 1882.

DEAR SIR:—In reply to yours asking for my opinion on the conclusions of Col. Moore, Solicitor, upon certain points of the election law, I have to say that I think his conclusions correct, and no wrong can come of them if they are fairly acted on. He does not say that it is the law that every ticket must be folded. This is the right of the voter. If he does not choose to assert it, but votes an open ticket, then the poll-holders should look at it and place it in the right box. The poll-holder is responsible for placing open ballots in the wrong box; and if he does it purposely is liable to indictment.

To Col. Moore's conclusion that all ballots in the wrong box should be discarded, I would state an exception, which in substance can be stated thus: When the deposit of the ballot in the wrong box is manifestly a mistake and the counting it would not contradict the record, which ought to show just who and how many voted in each box, then it ought to be counted. For example, suppose a man should vote a ballot written in red ink and it should be the only one of that kind in the entire poll, and it is found in the wrong box and is the only one so found, and one of the poll-holders says "I took that ballot. I remember it because of the red ink. Mr. A voted it and I must have inadvertently put it in the wrong box," and it appears that, adding this one vote to those in the right box, you have the precise number which the poll list calls for—in that case the ballot ought to be counted. Other like cases might occur. But wherever there are more ballots in the wrong box than with those in the right box, were actually voted then all those found in the wrong box should be excluded from the count. They should be kept as a memorandum of the precise facts made at the time.

Very truly yours, D. L. RUSSELL. THOS. E. BOND, Esq., for Young Men's Dem. Committee.

District Court.

This court adjourned for the term yesterday, having been in session but two days. The following cases were called and disposed of yesterday:

U. S. vs. Laurence Weatherby, abstracting money from the mails. Judgment suspended upon the payment of costs and the money taken from letter.

United States vs. R. Williams, abstracting money from the mails. Judgment suspended upon the same conditions as above.

U. S. vs. Hinton Strickland and Marshall Jones; the former charged with perjury and the latter with attempting to pass counterfeit coin.—Cases continued for the term and defendants placed in the custody of Deputy Marshal Phillips, to be confined in Cumberland county jail until the requisite bond be furnished.

"The Merry War."

So much has already been said relative to Ford's Opera Troupes, as they have appeared before the public in the last few years, and the excellence of their performances has been so freely conceded by the public press, as well as by an appreciative and discriminating public, that all we might be able to say would add nothing to the general verdict. The "Merry War," as presented at the Opera House last night, for the first time in this city, added to the well-established fame of Mr. Ford as a caterer for the music and amusement-loving people. As a musical composition the "Merry War" far exceeds the average of comic operas, as may be well imagined when it is known that the eminent composer, Johann Strauss, was the author. It was put on the stage in excellent shape and was rendered in a manner to give entire satisfaction to the critical audience. Solos, duets, trios, quartettes and choruses were given superbly, and that is all we can say about it.

There will be a barbecue and oyster roast to-day, and some good speaking besides, at Fowler's Point. The indications are that the turnout will be a large one.

Depth of Water.

The last report of soundings taken at the mouth of the river show that at mean low water there were 13 feet and 6 inches at Bald Head bar, and 11 feet and 6 inches at the Western bar.

Harbor Master's Report.

This report of Capt. Joseph Price, the harbor master, shows that the arrivals of vessels at this port for the month ended Oct. 31st, 1882, were as follows:

Table with columns: AMERICAN, FOREIGN, Grand total. Rows include Steamers, Barquentines, Schooners, Barques, Brigs, Total American, Total Foreign, Total Am.

A Collision of Comet and Sun.

It was Sir Isaac Newton who first predicted that a comet would fall into the sun, increasing the heat of the latter so much that the earth would be burned up. Prof. Proctor now predicts that a collision between the sun and a comet will occur very soon, perhaps before Christmas. He believes that the great comet which has been so brilliant during the present month is identical with that of 1668, 1843 and 1880, its time of circulation having been reduced from 175 years to thirty-seven and then to less than three. He regards the comet as so near the end of its career that its next and last circulation will be accomplished in about three months, hurrying it against the face of the sun at a speed of 900 miles per second. But, although Prof. Proctor heretofore declared that the result of such a collision would probably be fatal to the earth, he professes to have discovered recent evidence that the substance of comets is so much less in magnitude than was formerly believed that no disastrous consequences to the sun or to the earth are to be apprehended, however much the comet may suffer from the collision. Much heat may be generated, and the approaching winter may be phenomenally warm, but the end of the world is not to be expected. Prof. Proctor's oracular utterance is diverting, but its chief value is the intimation it gives of the ignorance of the best astronomers as to the power and future movement of comets. Prof. Proctor has leaped from one antipode to the other so readily in his estimate of the effect of a collision between the sun and a comet that the conclusion is irresistible that while his opinion in the matter is interesting, it has no great value.

STATE NEWS.

News and Observer: Cotton receipts yesterday 800 bales.—Cotton pickers are in demand. Never was cotton known to open so rapidly, and the farmers have all they can do to keep up with it.—Work on the court house now goes on quite rapidly. Most of the roof timbers are up. The general shape of the building is now plainly visible. The heavy carved granite blocks on either side of the entrance are being placed in position. The entire building has to be completed by May 20th next.

Charlotte Journal: Sunday night in Rockingham two men, employees of the Pee Dee manufacturing company, had a bloody fight during which one of them, an Irishman, cut the other, named Tom Elliot, across the stomach, laying open his bowels. Raising his knife to cut again, Elliot received the second blow on his right arm, the muscles of which were severed. The recovery of the wounded man is doubtful. Only a day or two before this, in Rockingham, a man named T. J. Perdue cut another named Dan McCaskell half a dozen times with a pocket knife, making some ugly flesh wounds. Perdue had insulted McCaskell, and the latter making at him, threw him down, and while upon him was cut in the manner described.

Charlotte Observer: Saturday night there were two hundred car loads of cotton in the city, for shipment North.—At Laurinburg last Saturday a negro named Cunningham got into a quarrel with a negro named Roper. Amos, a brother of Roper, took up the quarrel, and got a load of duck shot in his high for his pains. Cunningham picked up a shot-gun and fired at Amos, the whole load entering his thigh.—About seven o'clock Sunday evening, as Mr. John Mann and his brother were walking along Fifth street by the old Rock Island factory, they met a colored man and became involved in a fuss. During the difficulty the colored man struck John Mann a severe blow on the head with a piece of iron, cracking his skull and knocking the young man senseless. The negro escaped, and has not since been heard of.

A remedy resting on the basis of intrinsic worth demands the confidence of all. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is known and used most satisfactorily throughout the land, as is attested by its great sales. Your druggist keeps it.
