Probably Drowned.

Mr. W. J. Davis, a fisherman emplayed by Messrs, W. E Davis Son, at their fisheries at Federal P int, and a very worthy man, was do wned last saturday afternoon. Soon after dinner Mr. Davis started to go home to nis family, resident in Brunswick county, on the West bank of the river A. he did not appear there, however, inquiries were set on foot in regard to his disappearance and on Sunday his boat was found, bottom up, on Battery Island, opposite Smithvitie. There was, berefore, but one presumption, and hat to that his boat was upset and that he occupant was drowned. Mr. Davis estiled near Smithville at a place known as Bowensville, and leaves a wife and a large and helpless family the charge of Capt. S. W. Nobjes, are who were dependent upon him for

At the Wilmington Cotton Mills, yes terday foremoon, Mr. A. M. Chadwick who was in charge of the machine known as the picker, had his left hand caught and bailly crushed in the masame. He was picking little pieces of otton waste from the picker, while i. was in motion, and in this way his nand was caught, Mr. Chadwick, as soon as his hand was caught, with great presence of mind managed to sick off, with his feet, some of the belis out could not reach the main belt and was in great danger of having his arm trawn in when Mr. Roderick McRay happened to enter the room and seeing as predicament at once ran to the nain belt which he threw off and so topped the machiney Mr. Chadwick and the first three fingers badly crushand little finger. The unfortunate nan was carried to his house and Doctors Love and Wood were called in and amputated the rushed fingers. Mr Chadwick has and much sympathy in his mistortune. le was a good workman and is said to be one of the most careful men in the nill. He is about 40 years old and has a family. Farnished Rooms.

There will be something good presented at the Opera House this evening, that is if the press of the country may be rejed upon. It is C. H. Smith's Furnished Rooms" and is said to be in excellent entertainment. - An epit mized idea of the play is as follows: 'Farnished Rooms" is an original fouract farce comedy, by Scott Marble, al ich portrays the troubles and tribulations of many who live in rented apartments. Mr. Peterson Sodd, desirous of living a life of peace and quiende, purchases an elegant house and furnishes it in an elaborate manner, Mr. Sodd is impressed with the idea t'eat he can, by reuting his furnished; reoms to proper parties, gather about him a set of people who will so harmonize in their tastes and ideas, that his establishment will become a sort of a 'Home, Sweet Home." He secures as tenants, after much consideration, an artist in water colors, a composer of n-ie, an author, a physician, a book tent a college student, and a young lady who officiates us copyist and accountain for him. To superintend his household he procures a garralous old lady (Mrs. Grumpy) as housekeeper. This venerable soul, inspired by a feeling of curiosity to know "just who the entire household. The Lecture Last Night.

Notwithstanding the very inclement weather there was a very fair audience present last evening in the rooms of the Wilmington Library Association to hear the lecture delivered by Rev. Mr Puts on "Dickens as a Humorist." There were a number of ladies present an the attendance numbered in allnearly one hundred persons, which, considering the disagreeable weather, might be called a fine audience. The lecture was a very interesting one and claimed the close attention of the entire andience throughout, Toe reverend gentleman was thoroughly at home with his subject and handled it in a masterly style. The lecture season was happily inaugurated and we trust that it may prove a successful and an interesting one. The centlemen of the Literary Club propose to present these entertainments twiceevery month during the season and we hope that their efforts to cater to the literary tastes of the public may meet with the proper appreciation, which can be best testified by large audiences on each occasion.

STATE NEWS.

News and Observer: Yesterday was quite a busy day in the cotton market. The receipts were 600 bales. The market closed quit and firm. Great quantities of grain are being sowed in this county and section, even more, it is said, than last year. This is certainly a sensible act on the part of the farmers. - Mr. Kidder, of Bos ing the city with a view of erecting a large ice machine.
