Anthony Trollope, the novelist, and one of England's most charming writers of fiction, is dead.

Senator Beck is determined to secure an investigation of the political assessments upon government employees.

The fact that "the message" overlooks J. Hubbell's arduous labors during the late campaign, should be almost sufficient cause for impeachment.

Remarks at this time about the free staple are supposed to be aimed directly at cotton, only, as it happens, it is generally the farmer who is fleeced.

The Mason (Ga.) Telegraph blandly says that "no matter which one of the 48 Congress men, Aeklen or Kellogg, it will soon wish it had seated the other one."

Congress is asked by the tobacco manufacturers of Chicago to take immediate action on the tax question, as the continued agitation is depriving operatives of their subsistence.

If anything is left over from J. H.'s campaign fund it should be disbursed in the purchase of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for the benefit of those Stalwarts who have read "the message."

Senator Morgan has offered an amendment to the Bankrupt bill, now before Congress, making it an act of bankruptcy to deal in futures in certain articles of prime necessity, such as corn, cotton, sugar, rice, &c., and the amendment has been agreed to.

The pension scare is going to wake no some dead people in this country. The estimate is over $100,000,000, a nice little sum which might with the proper economy keep a small family comfortable during the winter. It is that even if the one hundred million is granted it is probable that the estimate will be fifty millions short of the expenditures. There is going to be the very hades to pay before this thing is through with.

There is but little doubt, we presume, of the result of the election to be held soon by the General Assembly of the State for a successor to Gen. Matt Ransom in the U. S. Senate. It is pretty evident, we think, that he will succeed himself. He has made a faithful, honest and upright representative, a true sentinel on the watch tower, a tried and unflinching friend to the best interests of his dear old native State, and North Carolina can not more thoroughly honor herself than by allowing him to remain where he is.

There is much talk in Washington now as to what President Arthur's message really means. The Stalwarts are asking themselves if Mr. Garfield's successor is really a Stalwart, or is he a Half Breed. There is much in the tone of the executive message to justify this query, and there is much political distress in consequence. If Arthur has profited by the lesson so sharply administered to him last month, and has really determined on attempting a more conciliatory policy, what asks his political beliefs to become of them, and who is to fill the chair at the head of the table. There is, therefore, much trial and trouble and tribulation and anguish among the faithful, few in the Capital of the country.

The House committee on Appropriations, through its Chairman, Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, has reported the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill. It appropriates $1,258,255, being $79,650 less than the appropriation for the current year, and $133,500 less than the estimates.

Hon. S. S. Cox, of New York, is in the race for the next Speakership of the House of Representatives, and he will prove a formidable antagonist for any man to run against. He claims that the State of New York, with her 900,000 majority, has a right in this regard equal to either Pennsylvania or Kentucky. Randall, in the former, and Carlisle, of the latter, must look sharp or S. S. Cox will be the next Speaker.

Mr. W. T. Dortch, of Wayne county, has announced himself as a candidate for the Senate to succeed Gen. Ransom. Mr. Dortch is chronically inclined towards office and the people are just as chronically inclined towards keeping Mr. Dortch among them. Seriously, though, Mr. Dortch is an honorable, able, thorough man and would perhaps make an excellent Senator, but his ambition has soared rather high and he is barking, this time, up the wrong tree.

Night follows so near after sunrise now—a days that those who have much to do have to be very busy and active to accomplish it in the time.

An increase of over forty new subscribers in two days, since our "change of base" is rather flattering to us as newspaper men. Don't you think so?

Rev. F. W. E. Peschau of the Lutheran Church, will fill the pulpit of the Front Street Methodist Church to-morrow (Sunday) evening at 7:30 o'clock.

THE REVIEW has now, and has had for nearly a year past, the largest circulation of any daily newspaper published in the State East of Raleigh. We are prepared to back up this assertion, if any one is disposed to dispute it.

Exports Foreign.

Brig Carrie E. Pickering, Captain Marshall, cleared to-day for Point-a-Pitre, Gaudaloupe, with 201,133 feet of lumber and 165,650 shingles, valued at $2569, shipped by Messrs. Northrop & Cumming.

Useful Holiday Present.

We know of no better present to be made than a genteel suit of clothing or a fine overcoat, and, of course, to find these, you have only to step into the store of A. & I. SHREE, No. 34 Market street.

City Court.

There were two cases for the Mayor's adjudication this morning, both of which were white. The first was a case of disorderly conduct which was settled by the payment of a fine of $2.50. The second was a drunk and down, which was discharged.

Art Exhibition.

An art exhibition was given at Mrs. Parsley's, corner of Second and Red cross streets, last evening, and was continued to-day from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m., and also will be held to-night from 7 until 10. The exhibition is under the management of Mrs. Parsley's Drawing Class, and Misses Lossie Myers, Nellie Draper, Katie Johnson, Ellen Empie, Agnes Daniel and Sue Comming, comprise the reception committee.

Personal.

Mr. Norwood Huske, of this city, returned here last night from the North with his bride, after a ten days' visit to relatives and friends in New York City. Mr. Huske was married on the 27th ult., to Miss Kate Myers, daughter of the late Mr. George Myers, and the happy couple left directly after the ceremony on their pleasant little tour. Our heartiest congratulations are respectfully tendered.

Freshwater Perch, Trout and Black fish hooks and lines. A full assortment and lowest prices at JACOB'S.

The Ladies' Bazaar.

Mrs. S. J. Baker has purchased the stock and good will of the well-known millinery and variety store recently conducted by Mr. Flanagan, and will reopen there with a new and elegant stock. In addition to the millinery department there will be displayed a fine assortment fancy goods and fireworks and toys for the holidays, which all are invited to call and inspect. The establishment will be known as the Ladies' Bazaar.

A doctor in Richmond says that if people will take a bath in hot whiskey and rock salt twice a year they will never catch a cold. Until somebody says this new remedy we would not stick to the old and reliable Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Our Ten Cent Column.

Attention is called to the new feature inaugurated by us to-day and which will be found in the first column of the first page of this issue. This "ten cent column," wherein short advertisements of wants, losses, finds, or even the sale of merchandise may be advertised at a very moderate cost. It will be borne in mind, though, that no advertisement will be inserted for less than 30 cents.

Special Rate on Apples.

Capt. T. M. Emerson, General Agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, informs us that in response to a request made by the Editor of this paper, he has obtained a special rate of freight on apples from the West to Wilmington. This rate has been placed at 35 cents per 100 pounds from Salisbury and all points West to the terminus of the Western North Carolina R. R. This special rate means about 20 cents per bushel, as apples will weigh not more than 60 to 65 lbs. per bushel. Capt. Emerson was induced to give this reduced rate in response to the numerous enquiries made of the REVIEW from producers in the West.

The Lamented.

We thank our numerous editorial friends for the kind and complimentary terms in which they have obtained our part of what they have said. If they will only recall the fact of the demise and speak of the resurrection, leaving in all of the complimentary resolutions so solemnly adopted by them, we shall feel correspondingly grateful. Some of them talked so sweetly and so generously of the lamented departed that had we been really dead, we verily believe that the cements of the grave could not have held us, and that we should have revived immediately, if for nothing else, to tender the warmest thanks of the so sorely lamented, even had the immediate penalty thereafter been an everlasting oblivion.

Anything in the hardware line can be found at reasonable prices at JACOBI'S.
