JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Published at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., as second-class matter.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 2, 1883.

One of the features of English rule in Ireland is thus described by the Pilot: "There are thirty-two counties in Ireland and there is an average of fifty police barracks in every county and in each of these is an average of twenty-five men and several arms and accoutrements. This immense force is entirely under the authority of the English and magistracy may call upon them, as they have of late, even to commit murder without fear of the law. The orders printed for certain policemen a few months ago were that they should fire even before violence was offered, they being the judges of the intentions of the people."

The Railway Age publishes a table showing that the number of miles of main track laid during 1882 was 10,821, on 316 lines, in 44 States and Territories. Full returns will probably make the grand total 11,000 miles, which is 1,500 miles more than was constructed in 1881—the banner railroad building year up to that time. The number of miles constructed in the States mentioned below was as follows: Iowa 953, Texas 817, New York 752, Ohio 555, Arkansas 529, Indiana 529, Colorado 500, Dakota Territory 480, Pennsylvania 464 and Minnesota 444. Of the 316 roads noted 140 are still incomplete. The capital invested during the year is estimated at $270,000,000, exclusive of the amounts expended in the preparation of the road-beds on which tracks are not yet laid.

Abdul Hamid, Sultan of Turkey, says he isn't afraid of anything on earth; but he nevertheless constantly fears assassination, and makes his attendants nervous by carrying two revolvers wherever he goes. The Sultan has grown so suspicious that when a servant knelt at his feet the other day, and thrust his hand into his breast to draw out a petition for leave of absence, he shot him dead. Only a crumpled piece of paper was found in the clenched hand where the brave monarch expected to discover a deadly weapon; so the affair was for a time kept secret. And this terrified person, too, rides closely guarded in a bomb-proof carriage to his devotions in the mosque. The Turkish army murmurs with a discontent, which frequent dismissal and changes fail to allay. The people are disquieted, and everywhere in Constantinople, it is reported, there are signs of a violent outbreak. The Sultan never ventures from his palace except on Fridays, and looks with suspicion upon his most intimate associates. The death of Abdul Aziz has left its impressions upon Hamid.

It appears that Hon. William H. Bulkeley, the Republican candidate for Governor of Connecticut in the late election, is not at all in accord with those of his party who would steal the State from the Governor-elect and confer the dignity upon him. The following letter from Mr. Bulkeley is straightforward and manly and shows his position in the matter in such a way that it cannot be misinterpreted or misunderstood:

HARTFORD, Dec. 30. Chas. J. Cole, Esq., Chairman Republican State Committee:

DEAR SIR: My attention having been called to the various discussions which have appeared in the public prints relating to "black ballots," so-called, I desire to say for myself that, under the circumstances, no matter what doubts may exist in regard to the legal election of Gov. Waller, I do not entertain, and have not for some moment entertained, the idea that it would be possible for me to hold the office of Governor under the existing circumstances, no matter what the General Assembly may do or declare, and any action they may take must be with the knowledge that in no event will I serve or take the position which I believe it was the intent of the electors to give to another.

It is refreshing and gratifying to know that there is one Republican at the North who is willing that the majority should rule, although their wishes might have been expressed in such a manner as to permit of a legal quibble.

The Petersburg Index Appeal indulges in some very sensible and appropriate remarks regarding the Senatorial contest in this State. "If," says that paper, "our North Carolina friends are engaged in an attempt to prevent the reelection of so able a Senator as Ransom simply because his action on a subject of no public interest did not suit them, they are doing a very injudicious thing indeed. We do not learn that any considerable number of Democrats disapproved of the general course of the Senator, or question his ability or influence. When a measure proposing further recognition of a Federal military officer was before the Senate, and Mr. Ransom's duty was to vote on it, he voted for such recognition. So did other Democratic Senators. He and they may have believed that the new honors were demanded by the services of the soldier, or they may have thought it proper, as ex-Confederates, to be guided in such matters by the wishes of those who were Unionists when this officer performed his service. They may have looked upon the proposition as they do upon the general pension bill, which all Congressmen vote for annually. Various other considerations may have moved them, but we are sure that in Senator Ransom's case, at least, and we believe in no case at all, was the motive an unworthy one. If Senator Ransom has been unfaithful to any interest of North Carolina, the people of the State should endeavor to elect him."

No matter what your opinion is, Brown's Iron Bitters will surely benefit you.

PERSONAL.

Madame Bonaparte is now regarded as well on the road to restored health. Ohio has an other candidate for sergeant-at-arms of the House—a Mr. Leonard.

Harry Brown, a San Francisco sport, will bet $5,000 that Su Ivan cannot stop Mace or knock him down in four rounds.

The death is announced, at the age of sixty-eight, of Nicolo Loxardo, chief of the firm that manufactures the famous Larachino liqueur.

Edward V. Valentine, the sculptor, of Richmond, Va., is at work on a marble bust of ex-Gov. Robert Y. Hayne, of South Carolina, for the city of Charleston.

P. Lorillard & Co. distributed a week's wages extra to each of the 3,000 employes in their Jersey City Tobacco works for a Christmas gift. Over $18,000 was given away.

The Rev. Dr. Crosby has little faith in the effectiveness of Mr. Moody's evangelistic work. He says that whatever Moody did in New York was undone within twelve months after he left.

Gov. Cleveland, of New York, says he knows nothing of the plans for the Presidential campaign of 1884, and shall be content if he is able to perform the present duties to the entire satisfaction of the people.

Farmers and others desiring a general, lucrative agency business, by which $5 to $20 a day can be earned send address at once, on postal, to H. C. WILKINSON & Co., 185 and 197 Fulton Street, New York. dec 18-8-n.

SHORTS.

Great distresses from want of food threaten Ireland.

A country editor has been made the victim of a diamond robbery. His opponent stole the ace of that suit out of the pack.

Only eight cases remain for the decision of the Spanish-American Claims Commission. These claims aggregate $4,088,000. The commission has been at work eleven years.

A Chicago paper says that at least one-third of the unmarried dry goods clerks in that city paint their cheeks and scores of them wear corsets and cultivate a sorrowful look.

The Postmaster-General says that more letter matter has passed through the mails within the last ten days than ever went through before in a like period in the history of the Post-office Department. This increase is owing to the great number of Christmas cards sent out.

Ex-Gov. Wm. Sprague, of Rhode Island, has become a leading temperance advocate, and is already regarded as the standard bearer of the Independent Republican party of the State. He is talked of for the governorship, and it is confidently predicted that he will break up the Republican ring that governs Rhode Island.

Chicago presents some figures which start the inquiry as to what she may become in the next quarter of a century. The new structures erected there aggregate $17,500,000. The aggregate street frontage foots up a total of 74,000 feet, or fully fourteen lineal miles of frontage. The value of the buildings erected this year ranks the third highest since the fire.

MOONSHINE.

A little Southern boy, when asked if his father had a good mule, mournfully replied: "One end of him is good."

An old lady from one of the rural districts astonished a clerk in one of the stores by inquiring if he had any "yaller evelupements" such as they did up letters in.

Instead of calling it mince pie, the knowing ones now style it menagerie pie. This is because traces of several different animals have been found in the same pie.

A New York letter carrier was arrested for stealing money letters, when it was discovered that he had four wives. No wonder he had to steal.

A Cincinnati paper reports the wedding of Adolph Limberger with Augusta Schwellzer. Each thought the other "just the cheese."

Pious old lady: "Just think, Rose, only five missionaries to twenty thousand cannibals." Kind-hearted niece: "Gracious! The poor cannibals will starve to death at that rate."

No Whiskey!

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is one of the very few tonic medicines that are not composed mostly of alcohol or whiskey, thus becoming a fruitful source of intemperance by promoting a desire for rum.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is guaranteed to be a non-intoxicating stimulant, and it will, in nearly every case, take the place of all liquor, and at the same time absolutely kill the desire for whiskey and other intoxicating beverages.

Rev. G. W. RICE, editor of the American Christian Review, says of Brown's Iron Bitters:

Cin., O., Nov. 16, 1881. Gents:—The foolish wasting of vital force in business, pleasure, and vicious indulgence of our people, makes your preparation a necessity; and if applied, will save hundreds who resort to saloons for temporary recuperation.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS has been thoroughly tested for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumption, liver complaints, kidney troubles, &c., and it never fails to render speedy and permanent relief.

THE SUN.

NEW YORK, 1883.

More people have read THE SUN during the year just now passing than ever before in its history. It was first printed in 1791, and published on this side of the earth has been read and read in any year by so many men and women.

are credibly informed that people read and like THE SUN for the following reasons, among others: Because its news columns present in a clear and concise manner the most important events, the doings and misdoings, the triumphs and the failures of the world at present revolving space.

Because people have learned that in the marks concerning persons and affairs THE SUN makes a practice of telling them the truth to the best of its ability three hours and sixty-five days in the year, before each other as well as after, about the whales as well as about the small fish, in the face of a plain and fearlessly as when supported by general approval. The Sun has absolute purpose to serve, save the information of news and the furtherance of the common good.

Because it is everybody's newspaper. man is so humble that THE SUN is inclined to his welfare and his rights. No man is rich that it can allow injustice to be done. No man, no association of men, is powerful enough to be exempt from the strict application of its principles of right and wrong.

Because in politics it has fought for forty years, without intermission and sometimes most alone among newspapers, the cause of the oppressed, and has never been defeated. It has resulted in the recent overthrow of the worst government. No matter what party is in power, THE SUN stands and will continue to stand like a rock for the interests of the people.

Because it is the most reliable of newspapers. It is the only newspaper that is not a mere organ of a party or a mere tool of a man. It is the best religious newspaper ever published because its Christianity is undiluted with any worldly views. Another holds that it is the best newspaper printed in the world, and that it is the best of the race out of that and is proceeding against the other half of the undiminished vigor. A third believes in the newspaper printed by him, and that it is the best of the race out of that and is proceeding against the other half of the undiminished vigor.
