What Mr. L. W. McLaurin, Laurinburg, N. C., says of the Wilcox, Gibbs & Co's. Manipulated Gunpowder used in seven years, commend it to the standard, sold at higher price than other brands, but the difference in price over others does not amount to the difference in the quality, universally popular, and sold by JAMES T. PETERWAY, Agent. Jan 6 8.

WANTED—To purchase entire, or an interest, in an established, paying business in this city. Address, giving full particulars for one week. JOHN W. R. KNOX, care box 45, Cheraw, S. C.

WANTED—A good Cook. Fair wages. Nothing but cooking required. Apply at S. E. Corner Third and Mulberry streets. Dec 11

Wm. H. Vanderbilt sails from New York to-day for Havana, from whence he will go to Mexico. He says that his trip is for relaxation, and not for business—in other words a relaxation of the mind and not of the purse-strings.

Mr. Blackburn, of Kentucky, thinks that Mr. Randall is too strong for either himself or Mr. Carlisle to cope with and he therefore favors a union of their forces on Mr. Morrison, of Illinois, who he thinks is the only man who can defeat Mr. Randall.

EXTRACTS FROM THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

THE AUDITOR'S REPORT.

In the Auditor's report there is a table, never before published, to which I desire to direct your special attention. I refer to the table showing the assessed value of land per acre in the different counties and of the leading articles of personal property which appear upon the tax list. It will be seen that these values in all the counties are surprisingly low, and by comparing one county with another, they will be found to be very unequal. I beg that each member will examine this table and see how land, horses and mules are valued in his own county. A stranger looking over this table would think that the lands in North Carolina were wretchedly poor, and grave doubts will arise whether it is not better to suppress the table, unless its publication is likely to lead to the adoption of some plan by which the property can be assessed at something like its actual value. I know of no subject likely to come before you more important or more difficult to deal with. It is manifest that under the present system the valuations are greatly below the cash value of the property and very unequal in the various counties and townships. If some one could devise a plan that would secure the listing of all property and uniformity in its valuation, he would put the whole State under obligations. The taxation necessary to support the government is the price the citizen pays for the protection of law and the benefits of civil society. The burden of this taxation ought to be borne uniformly upon all. At present it does not, owing to the great want of uniformity in assessing the property for taxation.

It requires about $525,000 to carry on the State government for each year, and this amount must be raised, whether the property be valued at its present low valuation of $167,000,000, or at something like its real value of $300,000,000. To raise that amount on the present valuation, it is necessary to levy a tax of twenty-eight cents on the hundred dollars' worth of property; but if the property had its reasonable value of $300,000,000, eighteen cents on the hundred dollars would be sufficient. So it is practically the same to the taxpayer whether the valuation of the property be higher and the rate of taxation lower, or the valuation lower and the rate higher. But for the State, when these reports are sent abroad, it is infinitely preferable that the value of the property of the State should appear as the facts justify, and the rate of taxation should appear as low as possible.

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, JANUARY 6, 1883. NO. 6

Cove, in the county of Stokes. This work has been done by convict labor entirely, and for it the State holds a first lien upon the property which may be discharged by the mortgage bonds of the colliery.

ATLANTIC AND NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.

This property was leased for thirty years by the stockholders on the 1st day of July, 1881, to the Midland North Carolina Railroad Company, for the sum of forty thousand dollars a year and upon the condition that the Midland Company would build a road from Goldsboro to Salisbury. It was this condition that secured the vote of the State in favor of the lease. The Midland Company built a railroad from Goldsboro to Smithfield, a distance of twenty-two miles, on their way to Salisbury, and there stopped. In consequence of this cessation of the work, the stockholders of the Atlantic Company, after full notice to the Midland Company, on the 10th of November, 1882, declared the lease forfeited and directed the President of the Company to take the necessary steps to repossess the Company of its property. A suit for this purpose has been or will soon be commenced.

If the road could be completed to Salisbury, it would run through the heart of the State, and would give to a productive section ample railroad facilities. It would run along or near the fine water power of Chatham and Randolph and would greatly aid in their development. Its value to the State could be built, would be great, and I ask you to authorize me or some one else to enter into a contract with any person or corporation to give them the State's interest in the stock of the Atlantic road upon the completion of the road to Salisbury. I do not know that such a contract can be made, but it is worth the trial. The State's interest in the Atlantic road is not to-day practically worth anything to the State, while an hundred and fifty miles of new road from Goldsboro to Salisbury would be worth a great deal.

It is true that the State has a nominal interest in the stock of the Atlantic road to the amount of $1,266,000. For this she issued her bonds to that amount, beginning 1st of January, 1856, to run for thirty years, and pledged her stock in the road for their redemption. Some of these bonds have been taken up by the State at forty cents in the dollar, but there is still outstanding $218,000, with fourteen years accrued interest, which is a lien upon the State's stock. Some of these bonds fall due January 1st, 1886; so that in three years from now, the stock will be sold out and the State's interest in the road lost. If in the meantime, this stock could be utilized to secure the building of one hundred and fifty miles of new road, it would be good for the State. The bondholder would not be hurt by it, because his interest could not be affected, and the purchaser would not be deceived, for he will have full knowledge of the facts. The State now has an interest in the stock with which she can part, and I advise the passage of an act authorizing it to be done upon the completion of a railroad from Goldsboro to Salisbury, Charlotte or a hundred and fifty miles in any direction.

Personal.

Sheriff Black, who has resided for years past on Middle Sound, he having purchased the old Moore place, not long since removed to Point Caswell and is Principal of the Academy at that place. We were pleased to meet him in the city to-day on one of his rare visits here and to find him looking well.

The Carolina Central.

One of the new coaches to be put on the Carolina Central R. R. was placed on the line on Thursday night and the other will be ready in a few days. It is arranged for a first class car, and a sleeper combined. It is divided in the interior, the forward compartment being designed as a first class compartment while the other part is arranged for sleeping berths.

On Skates.

The Skating Carnival given at the Rink on Thursday evening was very well attended, the inclement weather appearing not to have been a serious drawback to the amusements of the young folks on that particular occasion. Some of the costumes were very elaborate and all were appropriate. The dancing was spirited and all present seemed to have enjoyed the evening very much. There is a call made upon the management for a repetition.

Still There.

Mr. W. T. Bannerman, for years past the efficient and accommodating Clerk of the Superior Court for Pender county, is still filling that position. It will be remembered that a Republican was elected as Clerk but he failed to file an acceptable bond and the Board of Commissioners declared the office vacant. Mr. Bannerman was thereupon appointed by Judge McKoy and he now continues to fill the office as acceptably as of yore.

Mr. Scott's First Bill.

In the Senate, on Thursday, Mr. Scott presented a bill to amend chapter 900, Laws of 1879, so that the provisions of said chapter shall not apply to New Hanover county. We hope the Legislature will do no such thing. Let the law stand as it is. It is very short, and has but one small section, besides the enacting clause, and reads as follows: Section 1. That it shall be a disqualification and ground of challenge to any tales juror that such juror has acted in the same court as grand or petit juror within two years next preceding such term of the court.

In the December number of the North Carolina Medical Journal, Dr. Wood, the Editor, has a very pungent editorial article on the release of DeJarnette, the slayer of his sister, who was adjudged insane on the testimony of medical experts, sent to the asylum and recently released. Dr. Wood says distinctly that he has no issue to make "as to the scientific diagnosis of Dr. Grissom as regards the insanity of the person, for it is presumed that he made a careful and conscientious study of it in all its bearings, but there is abundant room to protest against a law that makes it possible for the escape of even an insane criminal. Such imperfections of the law, only make it possible for what we recognize as high science, (because we have none better) to come in and shield a dangerous criminal, allowing him to pass from the prisoner's dock through the asylum as a place of purgatory, and thence into the world, rehabilitated with the privileges of former citizenship."

There is much food for thought here

Robbery.

The market house of Mr. W. M. Hays, Jr., on the corner of Chestnut and Sixth streets, was entered last night and beef, pork, sausages, &c., amounting in value to about $40, were taken therefrom. There was a vicious bull dog in the building at the time, with whom the thief or thieves made friends by giving him a piece of beefsteak. An entrance was effected through a window on Chestnut street by prying it up and knocked off the boarding on the inside which had been placed there as a protection to the premises. This is the third or fourth time within a few months that Mr. Hays' premises have been entered, and it is very evident that the robbery was committed by some one entirely familiar with the premises. Mr. Hays is ever prompt to wait upon customers at any reasonable hours, and takes especial pains to accommodate his patrons, but the frequency with which people are helping themselves at his expense has become monotonous, and he would like the parties either to give him a rest or get arrested. Police!

Foreign Cargoes.

The Br. barque Geo. Davis, Capt. Macumber, which cleared yesterday for Liverpool, took out what is, we think, the largest cargo of cotton that was ever shipped from this port in a sailing vessel, she having taken 2,303 bales, valued at $115,150.

The Asheville Citizen, commenting on the size of the cargo of the Norwegian barque Saga, which was 2,183 bales of cotton, says that it is "the largest cargo of cotton ever shipped to a foreign port from Wilmington." In this the Citizen is not so well posted as it might be, as there have been a number of cargoes of cotton shipped hence in sailing vessel larger than that taken out by the Saga, and the steamship Barnesmore, which sailed hence for Liverpool Oct. 5, 1881, took out a cargo valued, in all, at nearly twice that carried by the Saga. The Barnesmore had 3,458 (1,625,065 pounds) of cotton, valued at $178,775; 550 bbls rosin, valued at $1,250; and 673 casks spirits turpentine, (32,100 gallons), valued at $16,550, the value of the entire cargo footing up $196,575.
