

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1883. NO. 15

Senator Ransom was duly reelected U. S. Senator yesterday in the General Assembly, by something more than a party vote, four Republicans having voted for him in the House, namely: Messrs. Frazier, Pender, Cain of Davis, Candler of Jackson, and Landreth of Alleghany. Two others, one of them Representative Green, from New Hanover, were excused from voting. In the Senate, Mebane, a Republican, withheld his vote, and in the House seven members were absent, one of whom was paired. The entire vote cast was 106 for Ransom and 47 for Johnston. It is likely but for the action of the Republican caucus in tendering a complimentary vote to Col. Johnston, Gen. Ransom's election would have been almost unanimous. Several who felt compelled to abide by the action of that caucus and vote for Johnston, very plainly intimated their regrets at not being able to cast their ballots for Ransom. The two Houses will meet to-day at noon to compare the vote and to announce the result and thereupon Matthew W. Ransom will be formally declared the representative of the people of North Carolina in the United States Senate for six years from March 4th, 1883.

The News and Observer avers positively that Col. Dockery will contest Judge Bennett's seat in the next Congress. It gives the following as the grounds upon which the contest will be made:

That in several counties in the State there was fraud in the registration of voters.

That ballots given for Dockery were fraudulently counted for Bennett.

That the poll-holders and supervisors were assaulted and driven from the polls.

That men were allowed to vote in counties not their legal residences.

That legally qualified voters were prevented and obstructed from voting for O. H. Dockery, in the interest of R. T. Bennett.

That ballots, by design or otherwise deposited in different boxes for O. H. Dockery, were thrown out in violation of the United States Statutes on elections.

That in localities the ballot boxes were secreted until a convenient and agreeable hour for counting out the votes was determined on.

That the boxes were reopened after sundown, in violation of law.

About thirty rafts of timber, "little and big" have arrived here on this freshet from the upper waters of the North West Cape Fear.

The Charlotte Observer learns that the depot agents and all other employees of the Carolina Central R. R. are preparing to present Capt. V. Q. Johnson with a suitable testimonial on his retirement.

Tremendous freshets are reported in Black river from the country above Point Caswell. Reports say that there are great fears that Beatty's bridge will be washed away. It has recently been thoroughly repaired but is now so badly damaged by the freshet that it is impassable.

On the 12th inst., while Mr. E. H. Anders, who is running a steam saw-mill near Beatty's Bridge, was moving a log, his foot slipped and struck the saw, which was running at the time. The toe of his boot was split open in the twinkling of an eye, but fortunately no other injury was inflicted. Entirely too close a rub for pleasant reflections.

Almost a Fire.

On the night of the 11th inst. the residence of Rev. Colin Shaw, at Gravel Hill, Bladen county, was discovered to be on fire, but the flames were fortunately extinguished before any serious damage had been done. A hole, about ten feet long by three feet wide, was burned in the roof, which was the extent of the injury. The fire occurred between 11 o'clock and 12 o'clock at night, and the saying of the house from complete destruction was indeed fortunate.

Personal.

We were pleased to receive a call this morning from our old acquaintance, Mr. Arthur L. Butt, of Charlotte, a North Carolinian and a gentleman of much talent. Mr. Butt is the artist who painted several panoramas which have been exhibited with much success in various parts of the country. He has now a new painting representing the beautiful stories of the Bible, together with his panorama of "Revelation," will be exhibited in this city early in February.

A Michigan boy ate a bar of soap, drank a lot of soda water and went to bed to cure his cold. The doctor had a hard time to pull him through, but the boy says the next time he catches a cold he will use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Then and Now."

This is the title of a book recently written by a lady of North Carolina, who writes under the nom de plume of Zillah Raymond, in which is given the history, trials, successes and perplexities of "Hope's First School." The scenes are all laid in this State and the plot, characters introduced and incidents are all North Carolinian. It is to be sold by subscription only, the price being fixed at $1 per copy, and Miss Lou H. Frayser, of Pender county, is now in the city canvassing for the work. This lady gave us the pleasure of a visit this morning, and we were glad to learn from her that she was meeting with very good success in her undertaking. She will remain in the city some days longer during which time she will call upon the citizens and give them an opportunity of securing a copy of the book.

A Narrow Escape.

Miss Matilda Peterson, of Beatty's Bridge township, Bladen county, aged about seventeen years, a pupil in the school being taught by Mr. W. Irving Shaw, while standing with her back to near the fire, on the 4th inst., had her dress ignited by the flames and had it not been for the presence of mind and hard work of two young men, Messrs Ed. L. Henry and Willie Beatty, who were present and were her classmates, she would have met a horrible death. When she became aware that her dress was on fire she started to run, but was caught by the young men who fought the flames until they were extinguished. The young lady escaped with no further injury than a severe fright and a ruined dress, but we are sorry to learn that both of the young men had their hands badly burned in their humane and noble efforts to save their fair schoolmate in the hour of fearful peril.

"The Maseotte."

There was a large, fashionable and critical audience assembled at the Opera House last night, drawn thither by the performance of the above-named comic opera by the Gorman Opera Troupe. The opera was well rendered and, as a consequence, was well received. In some of the parts there was a slight falling below other performances we have heard and some of the parts were never excelled, so that, taken all together, it was as good as any that has been put upon the stage here. We were considerably but happily disappointed, as we had recently seen adverse criticisms upon the merits of the troupe and, consequently, were somewhat prepared to witness a performance not equal to the demands of our music loving public. But everybody seemed in the best of humor and entirely satisfied, as in our opinion they should have been. The vocalization of Signor Tagliapietra, the baritone, was excellent, and his acting perfect. In the spoken dialogue his rather imperfect English pronunciation was quite manifest, but it rather added to than detracted from the interest attached to his part. There were quite a number of local "gags" and slang expressions, not in the original text, interpolated into the dialogue, which, though in rather questionable taste, had a very happy effect upon the audience. We regretted to see so many leaving the house just before the conclusion of the last act, thereby creating an annoying confusion to those who were being delighted with the fine music and acting.

The Bladen.
The steamer Bladen will hereafter run regularly between this city and Willis' Creek, in Bladen county, leaving her wharf, foot of Dock street, every Tuesday and Friday, and leaving Willis' Creek, on the return trip, every Monday and Wednesday. Messrs. C. S. Love & Co. are the agents here, with office near the steamer's wharf, and they solicit freight and passengers for all way landings.

Railroad Meeting.
The meeting which was announced to take place in the Court House here to-day, in the interest of the proposed Coast Railway, was well attended by representative colored men from various sections of the State. The meeting was called to order at 12 o'clock, with James D. Dry, of this city, in the chair and J. C. Daney, of Tarboro, as temporary secretary. Afterwards on report of committee, Rev. J. C. Price was made permanent Chairman, and J. C. Daney and J. O. Nixon permanent secretaries. The meeting is still in progress as we go to press, and hence we are unable to present a full report in this issue.

Death of Mr. Brown.
Mr. Thos. O. Brown, a prominent citizen of Bladen county, and a gentleman nearly connected with a number of our own citizens, died yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. Samuel Hall, on Sixth, between Dock and Orange streets. Mr. Brown was about 60 years of age and had been suffering for some time past with the maladies which terminated his life. About two weeks ago he came here to obtain medical advice and assistance but help was beyond the reach of human skill. The body was taken up on the steamer D. Murchison to-day for interment at the family burial place. The remains were accompanied by a number of relatives and friends from this city.

The Princess Louise.
A telegram received here this forenoon from Richmond makes announcement of the fact that the Princess Louise and her suite will leave that city to-night, for Charleston, and will arrive here to-morrow morning on the 7:02 train from the North. The travelers occupy two parlor coaches of their own and it will be necessary for them to change cars here, taking the Atlantic Coast Line parlor cars for the balance of the way. They will remain a day or two at Charleston but the Princess will not remain there for the winter but will go to Bermuda in the British steamer Dido, which is now at that port, awaiting their arrival. There will probably be a great many of our citizens who are not too republican to turn out at 7 o'clock in the morning to catch a glimpse of a genuine scion of royalty.
