THE LIVERPOOL & LONDON & GLOBE is the strongest Fire Insurance Co. in the World. JNO W. GORDON & Bro. Agents. Jan 23-1t

London has a tailor, Alfred Monarch Kinn, who has failed for £64,000.

There was a big cold wave, a blizzard of 300 diameters in progress out in the Northwest on Saturday last.

Emperor William has made a donation worthy of his rank, $125,000, for the benefit of his inundated people.

Mr. Kenna, of West Virginia, recently elected to succeed Senator Camden, will be the youngest man in the Senate next March.

According to Gov. Cameron, of Virginia, Beas Butler sent a check of $1,000 to help out the canvass of the Re-adjuster Republicans in Virginia.

New England has a Stonewall Jackson Association, and they will send delegates to the unveiling of the statue of Gen. Lee, at Lynchburg, in June.

At the instance of the Berlin Anti-Cruelty Society, all public performances of tamed lions and other dangerous animals will be henceforth prohibited.

Inventors of patent medicines like Ayer, Helmbold and others show tendencies to craziness after a while, though Lydia Pinkham is said to be still on deck.

One Dr. Wild, of Toronto, Canada, makes the discovery that Adam was seven feet high. This mild assertion is based upon the proposition that seven is a perfect number.

An old bachelor by the name of Arthur Schonfield, said to be worth a million or so, was found dead in bed at the Hotel St. Stephen, in West Eleventh street, last Friday night.

Some idea of the character of the Schuylkill water may be inferred from the recommendation made by the Philadelphia Press that it should be carefully washed and bleached before being used.

It is asserted that Harvard College is about to receive a gift of $250,000 for the erection of a new dormitory, the rooms in which may be rented at an expense of not more than $50 a year.

The seat in the House which, for nearly two years past, has been occupied by Hon. John W. Shackelford, was on Friday last draped in mourning and a basket of beautiful, pure white flowers adorned the desk.

The New York Herald claims that "reputation is hateful to men of all parties in the North" and yet the repudiators, vide Mahone and Riddleberger, are very dear in the sight of the Radical saints every where.

A bride of a day was arrested at Bowling Green, Carolina county, Va., on Thursday last, charged with stealing $1,000 from her uncle. A search revealed $150 in greenbacks hid in her back hair. The money was all recovered eventually.

There is another faint murmur of a third-term boom heard in and around Washington. It will become a roar when Joyce and McDonald, and Boss Shepherd and Babcock, et al omne genus, are gathered once more around the public well-tub in the capital.

There is evidently something bad in the air in Australia. It is said that women childless in Europe, after years of marriage often have families in Australia. This reminds us that we once heard an eminent North Carolinian "damn" the waters at Catawba Springs as producing results which they were not called upon or expected to produce.

Prince Napoleon, "Plon-plon," is 60 years old. He is the son of Louis Bonaparte and his second wife, the daughter of the King of Wurtemberg. He resembles his great uncle in features as well as in characteristics of mind. During the second Empire he married Clothilde, daughter of the King of Italy. His son Victor is nephew of a king, grandson of a king, great-grandson of a king, and a great nephew of the first Napoleon.

Frederick Warle plays Virginius this evening in Charlotte.

This weather has busted every weather prophet in the country.

For Pocket Knives or Table Cutlery, go to JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Talking about difficult feats did you ever attempt to select a name for a baby?

Indian meal and lemon juice or vinegar used on the hands will heal or soften them.

Silver Plated Spoons and Forks, low prices, at JACOBI'S.

It is said that Dr. Bliss attended Hon John W. Shackelford during his illness at Washington City.

It is said that when so-called silk burns well there's cotton in it. Real silk smolders into an ash.

Bad company is like tobacco smoke—you cannot be long in its presence without carrying away the taint of it.

Mr. H. E. Scott, Senator for the district composed of New Hanover and Pender counties, is in the city to day.

Gentlemen who have been in Raleigh during this wet weather have some terrible tales of shipwreck to tell on their return home.

Alcohol was first invented and used to stain the cheeks of the ladies of Arabia 969 years ago. It now stains noses and characters.

We are sorry to hear that our good friend, Col. E. R. Liles, of Anson county, a gentleman known to many in this city, is very ill at his residence at Lilesville.

The price of silver has fallen to the lowest point reached since the early part of 1879, and the bullion value of the "standard" dollar is but little over 82 cents.

Yesterday was no exception to its predecessors, so far as the disagreeable weather is concerned, but this morning we had some sunshine and the atmosphere was much cooler.

There will be a meeting of the Literary Club to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. Oration, Reading and Declaration. The public are invited. Members are earnestly requested to attend.

Mr. L. E. Wood, Advance Agent for Messrs. Baker & Farrah, is in the city making arrangements for the appearance of the troupe here next Monday night. The repertoire is "Chris and Lena" and "Max Muller," and they are to play the former.

We are glad to learn from Mr. Frank H. Darby, who returned to the city from Florida last night, that his brother, Mr. Thos. A. Darby, has been successful in several important lawsuits he has on hand in that State, in which he has had his brother Frank to advise and assist him.

Rose Eytinge. There have already been many inquiries at the box-sheet office, as to when the sale of seats will begin for next Saturday afternoon and night; we learn that the sheet will be opened on Wednesday morning. Miss Eytinge will doubtless have large houses. At the matinee, she presents the Princess of Paris, adopted by Cyril Searle, from Dumas' great play, especially for ladies and children; at night, "Felicia," Miss Eytinge's latest success, will be presented. Seats at Dyer's.

Cold Feet. Don't go to bed with cold feet; better still, don't go about your daily work with cold feet, if you can help it. It is the cause of many of the "ills that flesh is heir to." If sitting quietly in the house and your feet are cold, take off the shoes and give the feet a good warming by the fire. On no account never retire to the bed with cold feet. If you do, you will be apt to experience the cramp or the nightmare. Warm feet prevents cold and headaches, and promotes sound and refreshing sleep—look to the children's feet. Many a croup and cough is due to wet and cold feet in winter. Frequently foot baths in warm water are a necessity in winter. Remove the cause of cold feet and you prevent the troubles.

The Vice-regal Party.

On Friday morning last, when the car containing the Vice-regal party passed through this city, Mr. Alex. Sprunt, British Vice Consul, who is also President of the St. George and St. Andrew Society, had conveyed to the Marquis of Lorne, who had not then arisen, an address which had been tendered him by the Society. In response to this Mr. Sprunt received today a communication from Col. DeWinton, Aide-de-Camp to the Marquis, conveying his chief's acknowledgments and his regrets that he did not know before his arrival here of the intention to welcome himself and party as he would in that case have responded in person. The letter was very handsomely worded and was written on parchment paper stamped with the royal seal.

Lippincott's Magazine.

Lippincott's for February opens with a descriptive paper on "Saragossa," by S. P. Scott, which is well written and attractively illustrated. "Home-Life in Bombay" is graphic and lively. Dr. Wister's account of "A Cruise Among the Windward Islands," is concluded in this number, Edward C. Bruce writes of "Our Native Fauna" in a very pleasant semi-scientific strain. "This Our Brother," by Louise Seymour Houghton, depicts the condition and character of the freedman in Florida. The anonymous author of "Beauty Versus Bric-a-Brac" denounces the prevailing rage for rarities. In the second installment of "The Jewel in the Lotus" the separate threads developed in the first are gathered up and woven together, giving promise of a strong and well-sustained interest as the story proceeds. "A Wayside Episode," by Rebecca Harding Davis, is written with characteristic vigor and many fine touches of humor and pathos. "The Queer Service" and "A Work of Imagination" are clever and amusing short stories and the editorial departments are, as usual, well filled.

Byron never uttered truer words than when he said, "Physicians mend or mend us." But while doctors disagree, all the world has agreed that there is no remedy equal to Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Death on a Train.

Mr. John B. Fuller, Secretary of the Tolland County (Conn.) Mutual Fire Insurance Company, died on the train of the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad at about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, while near the Pee Dee bridge. The deceased had been in Florida about three weeks, where he had gone in the vain hope that his shattered health might be improved. He was, however, disappointed, as he continued to grow worse, until seeing the rapid approach of death, he started up on his return home, hoping that he possibly might survive until he reached there. But his strength was not equal to the task, and he died as we have related. He was about 32 years of age, and his disease was consumption. His wife and child accompanied him and were with him in his last moments.

Upon the arrival of the train in this city yesterday morning, the sleeping car in which the dead and his sorrow-stricken widow and child were passengers was switched off on a side track to enable her to secure a casket in which to place his remains for conveyance the rest of the sad journey. This was accomplished during the day and they left last evening for Tolland, Conn., where he formerly resided.

Mrs. Fuller maintained a wonderful fortitude under her sad bereavement and the peculiarly trying circumstances in which she was placed. A stranger in a strange land, with the loved and dead demanding service she could not render unaided, her situation was indeed such as to call for assistance and sympathy, all of which she received. In speaking of the matter Mrs. Fuller spoke with earnest gratitude of the kindness and consideration with which she had been treated by every one. Of the conductors and employees of the railroad and especially of the railroad authorities here, who kindly switched off the car for her accommodation, she spoke with deep feeling and with earnest thankfulness. She had received the most delicate attention, sympathy, and kindness from every one, and he stricken heart overflowed with a gratitude she could find no language to express.

The celebrated "Fish Brand" Gills Twine is sold only at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

The country folks say that this has been the worst spell of rainy weather they have known in eighteen years.

Exports Foreign.

Nor. barque Esra, Capt. Albrethson, cleared to-day for Antwerp with 3,540 barrels rosin, valued at $5,853, shipped by Messrs. D. R. Murchison, & Co. Nor. barque Christine, Capt. Jensen, cleared to-day for Liverpool with 1,298 bales cotton, valued at $56,011, shipped by Messrs. D. R. Murchison & Co. Brig. C. S. Packard, Capt. Harkness, cleared to-day for Cape Vincent, Cape Verde, with 210,000 feet lumber, valued at $3,444.45, shipped by Messrs J. H. Chadbourne & Co.

Five men leaned up against the bar for a nightcap. One drank whiskey because the doctor ordered it; two others drank a hot-scootch because he couldn't sleep a wink without it; a fourth drank brandy for his chofera morbus and the fifth man drank whiskey because he liked it. And there were only four liars in the crowd.

A fashion paper says: "Crinoline is coming to the front again." Ho, that shows how little we know about these things. We thought it went all around. However, the fact that is "coming to the front again" shows that it was "not left but gone behind."

Our country friends are still complaining of the difficulty of getting about because of the water, which has overflowed the banks of all of the water-courses and now threatens to inundate the fields.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 260 bales.
