Edwin Booth appeared as King Lear on Tuesday night at Berlin.

East River, between New York and Brooklyn, was blockaded with ice on Tuesday.

Walcott, the bird-eater, threw himself on Wednesday outside of his eighteenth pair of quails.

A coasting surface a mile long affords sport to thousands of Montreal men, women and children every evening.

On Tuesday last the thermometer ranged from 30 degrees below zero at Chicago to 60 degrees below at Winnipeg.

Moody's success among the students of Oxford and Cambridge is confirmed by reports of conversions by the hundred.

There is a crisis of no ordinary importance hanging over France and in a few days there may be some startling news.

Two very eminent Europeans have died in the past six months whose end is enveloped in mystery—Skobelev and Gambetta.

Part of the town of Wilkesbarre, Pa., is sinking into the earth, and will probably lodge in the coal mines which are immediately under the town.

A fearful accident occurred on Tuesday on the George's Creek and Cumberland R. R., in West Virginia. Three coaltrains were coupled together. They became unmanageable and started down a steep grade at a fearful rate and were dashed down a bank a hundred feet. Each train had a conductor, an engineer, a fireman and two brakemen and not a man was found alive.

They appointed a committee on fisheries yesterday in the House and although three of the members thereof were taken from the seacoast three also came from the interior. What the gentlemen from Cumberland, Iredeell and Graham counties may know about the fisheries of North Carolina it is not very easy to understand. And apropos of this fact we find in the Congressional Record of yesterday's date a "few remarks" made in the House by Mr. Belford, of Colorado, on the navy question, which may provoke a smile with some and a laugh with others. Said Mr. Belford, the navy question being under discussion:

I do not know on which side of this amendment I stand. I desire to make the clear and unequivocal statement that I know nothing whatever about this bill. I never saw the ocean until last summer. I represent a State where we pay 40 cents a barrel for water. [Laughter.] And yet I believe it to be my duty to discuss as an enlightened statesman this great question. [Continued laughter.]

I have been here for four days waiting the passage of this bill. I have been edified and electrified by the learned discourses of Rear-Admiral Calkins, from Indiana [laughter], and of Commodore Anderson, from Kansas, the western part of whose State does not contain water enough to freshen a salt mackerel. [Laughter.] Then I have been absolutely delighted by the learned dissertation by the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. Blount], whose vision evidently rests upon a sand-hill where there is not water enough to mellow a sweet potatoe. [Laughter.]

This whole debate reminds me of a sermon I heard delivered once by a distinguished African preacher. He said: "Brethren, we have assembled here on the sacred Sabbath day to discuss great and sacred questions. In the first place I will proceed to discuss some matters about which I know a little and you know nothing. In the second place, I will proceed to discuss matters concerning which you know a little and I know nothing. We will then conclude with elaborate dissertations on question about which none of us know anything." [Laughter.] And that has been the conduct and character of this discussion during these four days.

But I rose for the purpose of calling the attention of the House to this one fact: that the days of this session are shortening; that there are great and important national questions in which the people are deeply and vitally interested, and to the consideration of which we ought to give earnest attention. I refer especially to a consideration of the tariff bill. [Applause.] In the name of God, let the statesmen from the prairie States that have no water and expect to get none allow us to expedite the passage of this bill! [Great laughter and applause.]

Personal.

Mr. Sumner P. Thomas, formerly a resident of this city, but now of Laredo, Tex., where he is married and engaged in business, is here on a brief visit to old friends and acquaintances. We are glad to learn that he has prospered in that thriving city of the "Lone Star" State, and to see that he appears in excellent health.

Baker & Farron.

We clip the following from the New York Evening Telegram:
Some things improve with age. Old wine, old song, old friends, are best. "Chris and Lena" is an old play, but it has been improved upon by degenerate and those who have seen it heretofore are just the ones to enjoy it again. There was a good sized audience at the theatre last night to greet Messrs. Baker and Farron and their excellent company in this piece. Never was an audience better pleased.
Seats are on sale at Dyer's, and are selling fast.

Inspecting the Road.

Charlotte Observer: Col. C. Jones, the new superintendent of the Carolina Central railroad, accompanied by president J. M. Robinson, and general manager J. C. Winder, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from Shelby, and put up at the Central. The party inspected the Carolina Central depot and yard, and expressed themselves highly pleased with the condition of things and the general management of the affairs of the company in this city. The party spent only a few hours here, when they took the train for Raleigh via Hamlet.

Rebuilding.

Our energetic friend, Mr. J. W. Taylor, is hard at work preparing to put up a saw mill on the site of the building which was recently burned. He expects to have the mill built and ready for business in about two months. We hope he may be spared from another such disaster as he has experienced upon two occasions within the past few years, for although it may be a source of pride to think a mill may arise, Phoenix like, from its own ashes, a frequent repetition of the Phoenix racket we should imagine would become monotonous.

Farmers wishing to be successful with sheep should guard them against exposure. But if in sheltering his sheep the farmer exposes himself and catches a cold, he must use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

I. O. B. B.

District Grand Lodge, No. 5, I. O. B. B., will convene in its sixteenth annual session, in this city, February 6th, and will continue until the business of the Lodge is completed. There are thirty-four subordinate Lodges in the district, located in Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and the District of Columbia and as each Lodge is entitled to three delegates, a large attendance may be expected. The sessions will be held in Tienken Hall, South Front street, and will be public, except when working on secret work. Arrangements for the entertainment of the Grand Lodge are being made by North State Lodge, No. 222, of this city. As this will be the first representative body of Jews ever convened in this State, every exertion will be made by their Wilmington brethren to make the visit agreeable.

The programme, so far as it is completed, for the occasion is as follows: Tuesday evening, Feb. 6th, a musical and literary entertainment at the Opera House, at which there will be a lecture delivered by Hon. Simon Wolfe, late Consul-General to Egypt; vocal solos by Mrs. D. B. Kahnweiler, Mr. Nathan Mayer and others; recitations by Mrs. L. Dryfoos. The Arion Society is also expected to participate. On Wednesday evening, Feb. 7th, a grand ball and banquet will be given at Germania Hall, and on Thursday, Feb. 8th, a trip to Wrightsville Sound for an oyster roast will take place.

M. J. Solomons, of Savannah, is the presiding officer, and Dr. S. B. Wolfe, of Baltimore, is the Secretary.
The committee of arrangements consists of Messrs J. I. Macks, Chairman; Nathan Mayer, Secretary, and S. H. Fishblate, H. Brunhild, F. Rheinstejn, S. Solomon and Wm Goodman.

Skating Pleasures.

We learn from one who was present that the party at the skating rink given last night was well attended, and it was a time of real enjoyment with no disturbances to mar its pleasures. Skating commenced at about 8 o'clock and continued uninterruptedly until nearly or quite ten o'clock. At that time the skates were laid aside and the visitors engaged in dancing, which continued until about one o'clock this morning. The music for the occasion was furnished by Prof. Raymond's Quadrille band and was of a superior order. We understand that the programme of last night, with some variations, will be repeated in a few days, notice of which will be given through the press in due season.

Exports Foreign.

Schr. Maggie Abbotts, Capt. McIntosh, cleared today for Port-au-Prince, Hayti, with 177.177 feet lumber and 57,900 shingles, valued at $3,960.10, shipped by Messrs. Northrop & Cunningham.

Great Closing Out Sale.

Having on hand a large supply of Clothing, and in order to make room for coming Spring Stock, we will sell the remainder of our Winter goods regardless of cost. A. & I. SHIRAZ, Reliable Clothiers, No. 34 Market street. Jan 6

At a meeting of Germania Lodge No. 4, K. of P., held last evening, the announcement was made that P. C. W. F. Wentzel died in New York on Monday last, and as a token of respect to his memory the Lodge adjourned without transacting any further business.

The Ore Company

The Southern Ore Company having been incorporated by the Legislature, and the arrangement of the works having been completed, it now ranks as one of the institutions of Wilmington. The stock has all been subscribed for, except one hundred shares, and these it is proposed to place here. With this object in view subscription books have been opened at the First National Bank and Bank of New Hanover, under charge of Messrs J. Beno and E. S. Latimer. The books are to remain open but two days and it is confidently expected that the business and moneyed men of Wilmington will avail themselves of the opportunity to engage in this enterprise.

Legislative Locals.

In the Senate, yesterday, Mr. Scott introduced a petition against the passage of an act allowing the issue of bonds by the Board of Commissioners; also a petition from citizens of Pendler county in regard to the bill authorizing the issue of bonds by that county; also, a petition from the citizens of New Hanover against the no-fence law for this county.

Mr. Toon introduced a bill to prohibit the sale of liquor in five miles of Mt. Olivet Methodist church, Robeson county; also, bill to incorporate the Wilmington, Chadbourne and Conwayboro Railroad Company.

Bill to amend the charter of the Atlantic Coast Railway Company, passed its second reading.

In the House the bill to amend the charter of the town of Clinton was reported favorably.
