

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

A Georgia man broke his back with a sneeze.

The Philadelphia Ledger describes enlilaga as saur-krout for farm cattle.

During the first half of January forty-six locations of quartz mining were recorded in Montana.

The Paris Figaro, which alone published Prince Napoleon's manifesto, sold 300,000 copies that day.

The bill requiring voters to remove their hats when approaching the polls to vote, has been reported adversely in the Connecticut House.

Mr Freeman, the historian, intends to collect into a volume his "Impressions of the United States," which have appeared in various magazines.

Miss Alice Stanwood Blaine, eldest daughter of the ex-Senator, was married on Wednesday to Brevet-Col. John J. Coppingen, of the U. S. Army.

A Minnesota farmer advertised that if the man who had run off with his wife, two children, and $500 would return the young ones, he might keep the money and the wife.

During the recent cold snap an ice bridge formed across the Straits of Mackinac, Mich., so firmly as to resist the efforts of the ferry company to blast a channel with dynamite for their boats.

The body of an emigrant who died three months ago, directly on arriving in this country, was disinterred on Wednesday at the request of his brother who knew that he had money concealed on his person. Sure enough $2,091 were found in a pocket in his under shirt.

The Associated Press reports lied on Gen. Fitzhugh Lee. He did not say that at Appomattox he became convinced that secession was not right, but he did say that he then "recognized that secession was not the remedy for the existing evils." There is a world of difference between the two.

General John B Gordon, of Georgia, sees a rainbow arching the South from the Potomac to the Rio Grande. Business is good, manufacturing establishments are being built, foundries are making trip hammer marks and the colored people are becoming accustomed to new habits of industry.

Pennsylvania and New York last year produced about 26,000,000 barrels of petroleum. The consumption was about 11,000 barrels a day less than the supply during the year, making a total accumulation of 4,015,000 barrels. January 1 the various pipe and storage companies had on hand in all 35,000,000 barrels.

We congratulate Brother Stallings, of the Clinton Caucasian, upon the very much improved appearance of that journal. In its last issue there are two articles copied from the REVIEW, at which we are not a little gratified. We are pleased with his criticisms upon the same, and will try to furnish him other articles for his instruction and entertainment.

Will Carleton contributes to the current number of Harper's Weekly a poem on John Howard Payne, the author of "Home Sweet Home," whose remains are now on their way to this country. Among the interesting engravings in the Weekly are a portrait of the Crown Prince of Germany, illustrations of ice-yachting on the Hudson, and of a series of Canadian character sketches by Dan Beard.

The men charged with the murder of the Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland in Phoenix Park are James Carey, William Mullette, Joseph Mullette, Peter Carey, Patrick Whelan, Brady, Kelly and Kavanaugh. So far as we have seen, there is not one particle of positive evidence introduced implicating them in the murders. If they are hung at all on the present circumstantial evidence it will be as Mrs. Surratt was hung—murdered by the hands of power to satisfy the cries for blood of infuriated partisans.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee arrived in New York last Wednesday. His party consists of Col. Charles J. Anderson, of the First Virginia Regiment; Col. C. C. Wertenbaker, of the Third Virginia; Maj. Robert W. Hunter, of General Fitzhugh's staff; Dr. George Ben, Johnston, Brigade Surgeon, and N. V. Randolph. They were met at Jersey City by the committee of the Thirteenth Regiment, and were escorted to the New York Hotel, where supper was awaiting them. General Lee reviewed the Thirteenth Regiment at the armory in Brooklyn.

We said, "sacrifice the State's interest in the C. F. & Y. V. R. R.," and the Greensboro Patriot didn't like it. We say it again. Read the debate in yesterday's News and Observer and see if there isn't a wheel within a wheel there. There was but one voice raised there in opposition to the sacrifice and that was the voice of Tom Purnell, a Republican. Mr. Pemberton said it was the first offer ever made for this road and Mr. Pemberton displayed a wonderful lack of acquaintance with the facts. Mr. Dortch did indeed interpose a feeble protest a few days since in the shape of an amendment to sell the road by public auction to the highest bidder but yesterday Mr. Dortch yielded to the pressure and withdrew his amendment. Why? Because he had been assured by the Senator from Guilford that if it were put up at auction it "would place the road in another railroad's hands." That is to say, some body besides Mr. Gray and his associates might bid higher than those gentlemen can afford to bid; therefore, the State's interest must be sacrificed to oblige a few individuals who want the Legislature to let them have the road at their own valuation, and in violation of the rights of others to bid on the same property.

Orchestral.

A permanent orchestra has been organized for entertainments at the Opera House. It consists of Prof. F. Rieman, leader, and Messrs I. Greengwald, pianist; S. A. Schloss, cornetist; F. W. Ortman, flutist. They furnished the music at the Humpty Dumpty performance last night and it was excellent.

Mr F C Vaughan, Warrenton, N. C., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is a first-class tonic; it cured me of chills."

Phonographic.

We learn that a class in the important science of phonography is now forming in this city, who will be under the accomplished tutelage of Mr. D. A. Rees. Instruction will be given in what is known as the "Pitman System," which is the one now most generally in use. This is a study especially deserving the attention of every one as in these days of telegraphs, telephones and lightning railroad trains, it becomes of immense importance that men and women should be able to jot down ideas, whether their own or of others, in the shortest possible space of time, a feat only made possible by some system of phonography. We wish the class much success.

Great Inducements

The New Southern Humpty Dumpty.

This organization is composed entirely of young Wilmingtonians, and made its first public appearance at the Opera House in this city last night. There was a large audience in attendance to rejoice in the success or sympathize with the failure of this hazardous enterprise, which we are happy to state was more than a success—it was a triumph. The young men composing the troupe have, with one exception, had no instructive training in their several specialties, but the performance showed that they all had an inherent talent which fitted them for the parts severally assumed, and a latent dramatic ability which only required an opportunity to show its brightness. Of the characters we may say that Mr. Robert A. Hewlett, as Humpty Dumpty, was, of course, the most conspicuous. He has had considerable experience in the business, and bids fair to stand at the head of the profession. Messrs Hall and Burch, in their respective parts, were equal to the occasion, and added much to the fun of the evening, while Mr. Murray, as a contortionist, performed wonderful feats such as we have seldom witnessed in the arena of a circus when attempted by professionals. Mr. Mart. Daniels gave exhibitions of his skill on the "harmonica," which were really excellent, and an imitation of the xylophone upon an ordinary lead pencil, which was marvellous. In both of these performances he was greeted with shouts of applause, and was called before the curtain twice before the audience would be satisfied. The other characters were well sustained, the stage management excellent, everything being made to move promptly, thus avoiding all annoying "waits" on the part of the audience. We must not omit to mention that little Johnny McQuade, only 8 years of age, acted exceedingly well and added much to the interest of the entertainment. This organization owes its existence and present perfection to Mr. R. A. Hewlett, who originated the idea and has been zealous in establishing a first-class company, such as will be able to live and prosper upon its own intrinsic merits. The music, under the direction of Prof. F. Rieman, was first-rate, and the entire performance would have reflected credit upon a professional troupe. They will give a matinee to-morrow afternoon, and we learn that they contemplate taking the road and giving exhibitions in the principal towns and cities throughout the State, in which case we bespeak for them the generous patronage they fairly and honestly merit. At each entertainment Mr. Hewlett will give an exhibition of his skill as a tight rope performer, in which he is unrivalled.

The Lord Mayor of London was only a porter in a warehouse, but he persevered in the face of all opposition and rose rapidly. It is only persistency and merit that has made Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup the greatest family remedy for coughs and colds now offered to the suffering public.

The Silk-Tights.

The arrival of the Rentz-Santley burlesque company (who will get here this evening, is awaited with anxiety by the masculine portion of creation, and there will be many people away from home at "lodge meeting," &c., to-night. Some absentees will be gathered together at the Opera House, with the sole purposes of "seeing the Elephant." They will see it. An exchange says: "After a capital lot of performances and specialties, the entertainment concluded with the burlesque entitled, 'The Daughter's Banker,' which served to display a large number of silk-tighted anatomies in elegant costumes, and introduced the entire company. Mr. Arthur Johnson, as the child, created a great deal of merriment by his infantile make-up and precocious actions, and the different points of the burlesque were received with roars of laughter."

Exports Foreign.

Swed. brig Sigrid, Capt. Henriksen, cleared to-day for London with 2,500 barrels rosin, valued at $3,750, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son, Schiff Stephen Bennett, Douglas, cleared for Ponce, Porto Rico, with 216,312 feet of lumber, valued at $3,219.77, shipped by Messrs Northrop & Cumming.

Bishop Lyman will visit Wilmington on Palm Sunday, March 18th, and will remain here until the following Wednesday. He will be in Wilson on Easter Day.

To Builders and others—Go to JACOBI'S for Sash, Blinds and Doors, Glass &c. You can get all sizes and at the lowest prices.
