THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C. TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1883. NO. 39

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Texas has now 6,000 miles of railway completed.

Since 1879 manufactures to the value of three million dollars have been put up in Augusta.

Mrs. John Jacob Astor is the only woman in America who has a dinner service of solid gold.

An English Court has recently decided that an innkeeper is bound to admit travellers at any hour.

A rumor prevails in Washington that one of the star route defendants is about to turn State's evidence.

The Salvation Army in New York is to be sat down on by the police and forbidden to march through the streets.

The separation of England and Scotland by a canal from the Solway Firth to the River Tyne is talked of.

Prince Charles of Prussia, recently deceased, kept a negro valet and rendered himself being unpopular thereby.

The Edison Electric Light Company in New York city now furnishes light to 310 buildings and uses 6,225 lamps.

It is claimed by a correspondent that Blaine of Maine was highly gratified at Windom's failure in the Senatorial election.

The Czar of Russia has broken up the medical college for women at St. Petersburg, which was founded by his father.

The merchant's Exchange, of New Orleans, have bought an Exchange the old St. James' Hotel in that city, paying therefor $75,000.

Oscar Wilde says that he didn't accomplish much in America, in which case he seems to have had a very slight regard for the $30,000 he carried away with him.

Canadian papers report the arrival of a new bird in considerable numbers which preys upon the English sparrows. No description is vouchsafed, save that it is a native of Egypt.

The Czar has already announced that he will be crowned May 27th next, and Leo Hartman says that he won't. Merely a question of veracity and of dynamite, we presume.

The Bell Telephone Company threatens to prove another giant monopoly whose oppressions will be felt at no distant day. They are buying up and consolidating with all rival lines.

About the best thing on the German blue book is the governor generalship of Alsace Lorraine, worth $45,000 and now held by Gov. Mantelien. Prince Bismarck's gross emoluments do not exceed $30,000.

The Boston Herald, independent, and sometimes well-nigh Democratic, thinks that "if the next Presidential election is to be a mere weighing of the blunders of one party against the other, it is hard to tell which will kick the beam."

A century since the Hawaiians were savages and cannibals. Now there are three hundred telephone wires in use in the City of Honolulu, and the application of the telephone is made throughout the islands on the plantations. Some of the planters are now cutting their cane at night with the aid of electric lights.

If we are correctly informed, says yesterday's News and Observer, the State treasurer pays the legislators but $240, that is, $4 for each day of their session. The session beginning Wednesday, January 3, sixty days carries it to March 4. The members, as we understand it, will not draw per diem after the 4th of March. This, then, gives only 18 more working days. The more important measures are still to be considered, and the passage of time ought to be duly noted. It is true that the members may remain after the expiration of the sixty days without compensation, but after March 4th the chances of a quorum will diminish with each day.

Senator Pool is—well we're not in a very rhyming humor to-day. Senator Pool is opposed to the sale of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. at public auction. Why? Because "they wouldn't get the value of the road!" Whereas and whereby and wherefore, if the "syndicate" get it they will "pay down each every cent the road is worth". Evidently Mr. Pool has been consulted on the subject and therefore he knows all about it. If the road was put up at auction and somebody should bid more than the "syndicate" are now offering that would be paying more than it is worth, wouldn't it, Mr. Pool?

But Mr. Pool doesn't let us know (which mayhap he doesn't know himself) that the road could be put up at auction with a limitation in price to the, and that limitation could be placed at the amount the "syndicate" offers. But we suppose it's no use talking; the Legislature and the syndicate probably understand each other, and as the knowledge is too difficult of attainment by us, we will not attempt it. Only, we will add, it seems to us that this Legislature is really as harmless as serpents and wise as doves.

A rather cynical lady, somewhat of a flirt, say most men, like colds, are very easily caught but difficult to get rid of. Her mistake is apparent. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure any cold however stubborn it may be. Price 25 cents.

To-Night's Debate.
At the regular meeting of the Literary Club this evening the question to be debated will be "Should Foreign Emigration into this Country be Encouraged" and we think all taking an interest in national affairs should be present to hear the fate of the immigrant decided. Those appointed to decide this momentous question are Messrs. M. S. Willard and James Struthers, in the affirmative, and N. F. Parker and F. L. Meares, in the negative.

Criminal Court.
This tribunal has been quite busy during the day and has made considerable progress in disposing of the docket. Quite a number of cases were dismissed a non pro entered in some, and one or two were continued. The principal cases tried were as follows:

M. J. Corbett, charged with an assault and battery, was found not guilty and the prosecutor was ordered to pay costs and was also ordered into custody. Amos Boston, charged with larceny, was found not guilty and was discharged.

W. H. Campbell, larceny, guilty. Sentence not yet pronounced.

William Larkins, larceny, guilty. Sentence not yet pronounced.

Henry Hall, larceny. Now on trial.

Knights of Pythias.

The Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of North Carolina, met in their 13th annual session at Castle Hall of Germania Lodge, No. 4, K. of P., at 10 o'clock this forenoon, Grand Chancellor, J. L. H. Missillier, of Henderson, presiding. There was quite a large attendance, every Lodge in the State being represented. After the organization of the Lodge, all the Past Chancellors were admitted and the reports of the various committees were submitted and appropriately referred. These reports show that the Order is in a healthy and flourishing condition.

During the last year three new Lodges have been organized and 149 new members added to the Order. The Grand Lodge is now entirely out of debt and has a balance of $406.11 in the treasury. The work of the morning session consisted principally in securing reports and in the appointment of the necessary standing committees, after which the Lodge took a recess until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

In opening the Lodge, Past Chancellor W H Gerken, on behalf of Germania Lodge No. 4, delivered the following address of welcome, which was appropriately and felicitously responded to by Grand Chancellor Missillier: Grand Chancellor, Representatives and Brethren:

At this moment, with feelings of deep gratitude, and a full consciousness of the honor done me, coupled with the keenest appreciation of my privilege, I hereby extend to you on behalf of the brethren of Germania Lodge No. 4, a most cordial and fraternal welcome to the city of Wilmington, regretting, however, that another more amply equipped than myself with eloquent words has not been selected to greet you. I trust, at least, to realize the satisfaction of knowing that in the absence of all those rich and vari-colored flowers of thought which are developed only from the hot bed of greater minds, that the simpler, though equally as fragrant bouquet, gathered from the wild and uncultivated field of my own, may claim your attention for a brief moment.

When I pause to think, my brethren, of the object for which you are all here assembled, I am led in my imagination to conceive of a great heart nobility in its proportions, from whose separate beating the same impulse is echoed in every breast, and the murmur of its echo, as it leaves us, "winging its flight away" and heralding the name of "Friendship" from the north to the south, from the east to the west, from the backwood to the sea, until over the great realm of this country its utterances are known, and may it be, that its silvery cadence never ceases till it has been forwarded beyond the settlements of this continent and has kissed the shores of Europe.

It is a proud fact to consider that the day is not far in the future when the order of Pythianism will rise in the ascendancy to the oldest order in the world and I believe it is to-day beyond the most sanguine expectations of its founders. The outside world has been startled by its rapid progress and has kept a watching eye upon each and every action of the brotherhood. That luminous eye is ever upon us and marks in the book of memory the good as well as the faithful acts of the membership. So far, I am proud to say, the pages of that book are disgraced by no mark of neglect. The blush of shame need not mantle the cheek of any brother, but all may point with pride to the noble deeds which Pythianism has brought to light.

Our duties if fulfilled will show to the world that true chivalry, true manhood and true friendship are as much in existence to-day as they were in the times of our noble heroes, Damon and Pythias, and that those qualities, intermingled with charity and benevolence, are building up a record for the order second to none in the annals of history. Pythianism, my brother, is a gem in the crown of our civilization. Its beauty is only seen when painted like the rainbow on the dark cloud of sickness and distress, sorrow and death. It embosoms an idea that, like a plant hidden under the snow during the ordinary days of life is unseen, but when the heart is still and the strong arm lifeless, and women and little children are wrapped in silence and sorrow, then the hidden plant awakens and puts forth leaves, as if by the season of human want, suffering and bereavement were its natural spring time. In conclusion, Grand Chancellor and Representatives, permit me once more on behalf of Germania Lodge to welcome you. A welcome not only extended to our city and Castle Hall, but a welcome to our hearts and our homes ever trust your stay amongst us will be a pleasant one, and that you will carry back to your homes happy recollections of the 13th annual session of this Grand Lodge.

The alarm of fire this noon was caused by the ignition of the roof of the kitchen on the premises of Mr. L. Volers, corner Orange and Second streets. The flames were soon suppressed and the damage was very light.

Items from Brunswick.

A correspondent in Brunswick county sends us the following items of news from various parts of that county: Runaways are quite frequent of late in Brunswick county. One day last week, near North West Station, on the C. C. Ry, when two ladies were visiting some of their neighbors, they drove over in a buggy, and when they went in the house left the horse standing in the road loose, but with the buggy hitched to him. Soon after the ladies went in, Mr. Lloyd McKoy's little son got up in the vehicle and in some way frightened the animal so that it dashed off down the road toward Livingston Creek. The horse ran about one mile and was stopped by some men who were at work on the railroad, and strange to say neither the child, horse, buggy nor harness were injured.

On Sunday last, just after services at Zion Church, near Town Creek, while Rev. Mr. Watkins was preparing to leave the grounds, his horse took fright, broke loose from him and ran with the buggy hitched to the animal about 150 yards, turning it over three times and making it almost a complete wreck. However, on close examination, it was found that the vehicle was not so badly damaged as was at first thought; and not a soul was hurt, neither did the noise and excitement cause any other horses to run.

And, on Monday, while Mr. J. H. Brooks and a friend were riding in company with several other buggies and were driving rather a "mush" mule, the latter decided to have a smash-up also. The buggy was badly broken up, also the harness. Mr. Dixon, who was riding with Mr. Brooks, was painfully but not seriously injured. Mr. Brooks, though a very old man, escaped without any hurt. Mr. B. was twice a member of the lower house of the State Legislature.

There is now in the vicinity of Lookwood's Ferry, a man who introduces himself as "Dr. Thomas," and claims to be an agent sent out by W. H. Vanderbilt to take a prospective view of a proposed railroad route from Smithville to the coal fields in the central part of the State.
