THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C. FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1883. NO. 48

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Ex-Gov. Morgan was worth $6,000,000 and $795,000 of this was left to children.

There are eleven States in which women can vote at the elections for school directors.

There is a proposition in New York to erect a monument to the memory of Wm. E. Dodge.

Sarah Bernhardt is to write two volumes of artistic memoirs for which she is to receive $20,000 for the copyright.

Ex-Gov. Seymour suggests that Decoration Day, which is now well established as a holiday, should also be made a day for yearly tree planting.

An Illinois girl, who had a wonderful head of hair, was kidnapped, gagged and her hair cut off. This is worthy of the State which produced the runaway heroes of Buena Vista.

Macon Telegraph: The fact of the business is, there are many men in Indiana and Illinois who will never forgive Col. Jefferson Davis for not running at the battle of Buena Vista.

The Asiatic Society of India have taken steps to erect a monument on the site of the Black Hole of Calcutta, the dungeon in which 146 British prisoners were confined on June 20, 1756, of which number 123 died the same night.

In the House yesterday the bill to "sell" the State's interest in the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. passed its second and third readings. On the final vote Representative Green, from New Hanover, voted aye and Waddell, of New Hanover and Frayser, of Pender, voted no.

A Philadelphia policeman struck a novel experience a day or two ago. He clubbed a disorderly stranger and was promptly knocked down, kicked, dragged over the pavement by his hair, and compelled to beg for mercy. He had hit the Samson of a circus side show.

The decree regulating the liquor traffic in Russia, recently signed by the Emperor, is of the most stringent character. There is to be only one liquor shop in a village, and where two or three villages are almost contiguous, one shop must suffice for their combined inhabitants.

Adam and Eve have appeared together in the newspapers in Georgia. We notice in the Augusta Chronicle that George Adam announces himself as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer and directly under this is a notice of election issued by W. F. Eve, of the election to be held. It is a strange conjunction of names.

In response to an inquiry regarding the duties of a local reporter, the Philadelphia Times informs a correspondent that they are "to know everything and write it," whereupon it strikes the Index-Appeal very forcibly that if the local reporter were to write everything he knows, Rome not unfrequently would bowl.

Bro. Stallings, of the Caucasian, is about as effective in the sarcastic as he is in the argumentative line. He will soon begin to comprehend that the biggest dog is not always the hardest to lick, and that the Big Four is about to reorganize as the Little Three. The galaxy is threatened with the loss of its brightest star.

Big fires are sometimes blessings in disguise. A year after the fire which destroyed nearly the whole of Haverhill, the leading shoe men of the town had a dinner and congratulated themselves on what had at the time of its occurrence been regarded as a disaster. Hand-some and solid buildings have replaced the wooden structures in the burned district, the new factories hold more, better goods are produced, and the owners are the best advertised shoemakers in the country.

The vast amount of study and money expended in France to check the ravages of the phylloxera is often spoken of, and it has not been expended in vain. And the New York Sun well says that in the United States the cotton crop is an important element of public prosperity, like the vintage in France; yet the ravages of the cotton worm, which are computed to cost $15,000,000 a year, are not checked. The Agricultural Bureau has sent an expert to Brazil to study to better advantage this pest of vegetation, and it is probable that patient labor will eventually lead to at least partial protection against it.

The colored people in this State need not be alarmed on the school question. The white people are just as much their friends as ever and the blessings of education will be dispensed as unsparringly and as impartially in the future as in the past. The promises made by Gov. Vance to the negroes in 1876 in the name of the Democratic party will be redeemed. This is well evidenced by the fact that every newspaper in the Western part of the State, where the whites are in the ascendant, which has yet spoken on the subject is emphatic in declaring that the promises of the Democratic party to the negro must be redeemed to the uttermost letter.

The new dock at Cardiff, of which Lord Bute cut the first sod the other day, will extend over thirty-five acres, exclusive of timber ponds, and will cost about £600,000. It is to be completed within three years. The dock will be the largest in the world, its dimensions being 80 feet wide and 600 feet long, while the depth of water over the sills will vary from 26 feet to 30 feet. The dock will be 2,400 feet long and 600 feet wide, the depth of water varying between 25 feet and 33 feet, according to tide. There will be timber ponds covering eighteen acres adjoining. All the railway arrangements and the loading and discharging machinery will be of the most complete description. When the new dock is complete there will be a water area in Cardiff basins and docks of 130 acres, and a quayside of five miles.

The Shell Road is in splendid condition now. It only needs shade trees all the way to make it perhaps the handsomest drive in the United States.

The waters of the Atlantic Ocean have made considerable inroads on the banks at Wrightsville this winter. The banks house (what there is of it) stand now on the edge of a miniature precipice, the sand having been washed away up to the walls thereof.

Our thanks are due to Hon. Z. B. Vance for a copy of the Congressional Directory of the Forty-Seventh Congress, compiled by Maj. Ben. Perley Poore, Clerk of Printing Records at Washington, D. C.

Rev. Dr. Deems will lecture at the Opera House in this city on the 13th of March next under the auspices and for the benefit of the Wilmington Library Association. His subject will be "Trifles," which under his skillful treatment will be found to be of importance.

For Pocket Knives or Table Cutlery, go to JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

We again rise to "a pint of order" on the light question. Why is it that the citizens of Wilmington do not get the benefit of the gas they are compelled to pay for? Will those whose duty it is to see the laws and the contracts enforced give a practical answer to this question?

The Spring Fires.
Forest fires have been raging in the woods near the city and the glare is visible in more than one quarter of the horizon. A gentleman who was at Wrightsville on Wednesday says that at a part of the road about four miles from the city the fires were burning in such close proximity to the turnpike that he could not see, clearly ten feet ahead of him. The horses were put to it and a dash was made through the smoke with eyes and mouth firmly closed.

Worth Trying.
The Scientific American, a very reliable paper, gives the following recipe as a sure cure for corns. As the remedy is very simple, if any of our readers are afflicted with corns it would probably be well for them to give it a trial: Take one-fourth cup of strong vinegar; crumble into it some bread. Let it sit and half an hour, or until it softens into a good poultice. Then apply on retiring at night. In the morning the soreness will be gone, and the corn can be picked out. If the corn is a very obstinate one, it may require two or more applications to effect a cure.

The celebrated "Fish Brand" Gills Twine is sold only at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 870 bales.

The freshest in the Cape Fear has subsided as rapidly as it rose, there being now at Fayetteville no extraordinary volume of water.

An old colored woman by the name of Margaret Bradley, aged about 70 years, who has been an inmate of the Poor House for the past fifteen years, died there last night, of dropsy.

Dr. F. W. Potter received information on Wednesday that his wife's aunt, living near Cincinnati, was very ill, and as Mrs. Potter's presence was requested she left here that night for the bedside of her afflicted relative, expecting to arrive there this afternoon.

Owing to some accident to the machinery, the steamer Minnehaha was delayed at her wharf in this city to-day, not getting ready for her trip to Smithville until about noon. The accident was not of a serious nature, as may be known from the fact that it was so soon repaired.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the stock of grocery goods in the store on South Front street to take place to-morrow morning. This sale is made by order of the assignee, Mr. A. G. Ricaud, and is peremptory, as everything must be disposed of. Some excellent bargains may be had there by dealers and housekeepers.

Good style is good sense, good health, good energy and good will, but a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is a good benediction that suffering humanity has already learned to appreciate.

Hall's Journal.

Hall's Journal of Health is little but it is loud. It contains more sound, solid, practical regulations for the benefit of the health than can be found anywhere between two covers. We will avail ourselves of its pages occasionally for the benefit of our readers. The price is only $1 a year and every household should have it. Published at New York.

Lillington River.

Capt. James, the engineer in charge, informs us that the work of cleaning out and making navigable Lillington River (Long Creek) is progressing very favorably. The logs and snags have been removed from the bed of the river and the overhanging trees and bushes cut away, and the force is now engaged in cutting off points and endeavoring to straighten somewhat the tortuous channel of the stream.

"The Cemetery of the Sea."

There was not a large audience in attendance at Library Hall last night to listen to Rev. F. W. E. Peschau in his interesting treatment of the above subject, but those who did attend were agreeably entertained. Mr. Peschau is a graceful and fluent speaker, and his language was clothed in a texture of poetic beauty. The time occupied in the delivery of the lecture was about an hour and twenty minutes, and the speaker was listened to with profound attention during the entire time. It was an interesting and instructive entertainment.

Opera House.

The management of our Opera House is negotiating with the manager of Ford's Opera Company, who are playing in Washington now, to get that excellent company to appear here in the latest success, the opera of "Iolanthe," and if there can be a sufficient guarantee of a large house there is not a doubt that we will have the pleasure of hearing Chas. E. Ford's Comic Opera Company in a short time. We are quite sure that if they appear again this season they will have a rousing house.
