THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1883. NO. 49

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

The annual maple sugar product of Vermont amounts to 35,000,000 pounds.

Geo. W. Childs and Jay Gould each contributed $1,000 to the Cincinnati sufferers.

Senator Bayard is comparatively a poor man, being worth only about $150,000.

The public schools of Georgia had enrolled last year 256,438 scholars, and cost about $600,000.

Eight female clerks are employed in the Massachusetts Insurance Department at $840 a year each.

Ex-Governor Hendricks, of Indiana, has entirely recovered his health and will spend next summer in Europe.

The cultivation of rice in Louisiana affords a livelihood for 50,000 people and its annual product is worth $3,250,000.

Washington has an aesthetic colored citizen, who is said to have purchased $3,000 worth of flowers within the past sixty days.

It is now positively announced that the marriage of Senator David Davis, of Illinois, and Miss Burr will take place at Fayetteville, March 6th.

The present winter in California is said to be more severe than any since American settlements have been formed there.

The Legislature of Tennessee has passed a law prohibiting the sale of toy pistols in that State. Similar measures are pending in New York, Wisconsin, and other States.

Mrs. Susan B. Anthony and Mrs. Lucy Stone Blackwell will receive by the death of a Boston lady $20,000 each as the representative women suffragists, and it is said that they will use the money in advancing the cause.

There are over 4,000 savings institutions in Italy and the total deposits show that the people are saving at the rate of about $15,000,000 a year. There are now on deposit almost $200,000,000, represented by almost 2,000,000 books.

Dayton Journal says the Republican party in Ohio must face the liquor issue squarely, and that the party "will stagger to an untimely grave if it does not," while it is quite certain that it will "stagger to an untimely grave" if it does.

The Southern Industrial Exposition will open at Louisville, Kentucky, on the first of next August, and continue for one hundred days. The grounds will embrace thirteen acres and the buildings be 600 by 600 feet and 75 feet high.

About 4,000 boats and 25,000 fishermen are engaged in the sardine industry on the French coast. There are about 200 factories, in which 15,000 to 17,000 women are employed. A good catch for a boat would be 25,000 fish a day, for which they get about thirty-five francs a thousand.

John Swinton wants a monument erected to the memory of old John Brown at Charlestown, Virginia. He should go ahead and erect it. When he finishes it, says the Macon Telegraph, he could well employ his valuable time by erecting one to Guiteau, up at Chicago and another one to Captain Kidd, some where on the Hudson.

The President will on the last day of the present month issue his proclamation convening the Senate in special session on the 5th of March next. This is always customary, so that the Senate can organize on the 5th of March next twenty six vacancies will be filled by the new Senators elected or old ones re-elected. There will, no doubt, be a reorganization of all the offices of the Senate. This session, it is thought, will last over two weeks, during which the Mexican treaty will be disposed of.

It is but a little more than a dozen years since the war between France and Germany was begun, says the Norfolk Virginian, but the leading figures on the French side are near all dead. Napoleon, Gambetta, Thiers, Trochu, Chanzy and Vinoy have all gone to the undiscovered country. On the German side, the case is different. The three principal figures, the Emperor, Prince Bismarck and the veteran Von Moltke, are yet alive, and there are even chances that each of them will live for a number of years to come.

The duty on potatoes is fifteen cents a bushel. Last year 8,788,208 bushels were imported into the country, valued at $4,956,338, upon which a revenue of $1,318,248 was collected.

It will be seen by the proceedings in the legislature yesterday, as published elsewhere in this issue, that the bill in regard to the State Guard was laid upon the table on its second reading. It is generally supposed that the bill has been finally killed. It will prove one of the most unwise of the many unwise things done by this legislature. It is generally supposed that legislation is made in the interest of the people and not at the caprice of the legislative body but in this we are sometimes mistaken. It is not only in the interest of the people but at their express request that this legislation was desired. The petition sent from this city represented three-fifths of the taxable property of the place and there was not one instance of a refusal to sign. Petitions were also sent forward from other points, all in favor of the proposed legislation and not one in opposition to it, and yet the measure is refused by our wise lawmakers. If that bill is not taken up from the table there will be trouble in the camp.

We are indebted to the courtesy of Mr. M. McGehee, Commissioner of Agriculture, for a copy of the "Hand Book of North Carolina." It is a valuable contribution to the historical literature of the State, treating of hot water resources in a comprehensive style. Although the work is small, the Commissioner has embodied within its pages an account of almost everything produced within its borders from rabbits and possums to diamonds and newspapers. It may well be called a "Hand Book," for it is one of the handiest books of reference in everything pertaining to the productions of the State we have ever seen. Commissioner McGehee deserves the commendation of our citizens for the patient fidelity he has displayed in the compilation of this truly important work.

Muddy street crossings. Third Sunday in Lent to-morrow. Day's length 11 hours and 18 minutes. There were no interments in Bellevue Cemetery this week. Sunset to-morrow afternoon at 51 minutes past 5 o'clock. The almanac promises us high winds for Monday and Tuesday. The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 418 bales. Silver Plated Spoons and Forks, low prices, at JACOBI'S.

There were three interments—all adults—in Pine Forest Cemetery this week. A wet, gloomy, rainy day. February seems determined to die decently and in accordance with its ancient renown.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Edmund Lilly is quite sick at his residence in this city.

There were two interments—one adult and one child—in Oakdale Cemetery this week.

These rains will prove a damper to the fires which have been raging in the woods around the city.

The Register of Deeds issued five marriage licenses this week, three of which were for white and two for colored couples.

For Pocket Knives or Table Cutlery, go to JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

The volume of Southern travels just now, from the West and Northwest, to and Florida, over the Atlantic Coast Line is very heavy and the number of travelers which have been carried over this line during the present month is said to amount to nearly 2,500.

The sale of the stock in Mr. Geo. M. Crapon's store, as advertised in the REVIEW, was begun this morning and continued until 12 o'clock. The sale was well attended and the competition was spirited. It will be continued to-night commencing at 7 1/2 o'clock.

A fine assortment of Guns and Pistols at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

It would be interesting to know how many of the consumptives who pass this point every season for the far South in search of health and strength are carried back to their homes for interment. It is almost a daily event now.

The Modern Age is enlarged to sixty-four pages with the March issue. The number is a brilliant one, and is worthy of the reputation the magazine is creating for itself. Alphonse Daudet, Herbert Spencer, the author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," Justin McCarthy, Ivan Tourgenieff, Wm Beatty-Kington, and a number of other less noted names, guarantee an intellectual feast, such as is rarely found in one number of a magazine.

Good style is good sense, good health, good energy and good will, but a bottle of Dr Bull's Cough Syrup is a good benefactor that suffering humanity has already learned to appreciate.

Exports Foreign. Ger barque Lucy and Paul, Capt. Andries, cleared to-day for New Castle-on-Tyne, Eng., with 3 300 barrels rosin and 75 casks spirits turpentine, valued at $7,575, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son.

Cotton. The receipts of cotton at this port for the week ending with to-day foot up 4,304 bales, as against 2,243 bales for the corresponding week of last year. The receipts of the crop year to date foot up 115,101 bales as against 125,004 to same date last year, a decrease of 9,903 bales.

Unavailable. The following unavailable matter remains in the Postoffice in this city: Luvina Brown, Blacketville, S. C.; Mrs Geo. S. Powell, Asheville, Buncombe Co., N. C.; Mrs B. T. Willard, Hotel St. Stephens, W. 11th st., N. Y.

Wharf Property. The Henning wharf property was sold at auction yesterday morning, by Messrs. Cronly & Morris, for $5,150, one-third cash, balance in six and twelve months. Messrs. Hall & Pearsall were the purchasers. As it will take about $900 to repair the wharf the property was actually sold at a valuation of $6,000.

The gas stock advertised was not sold.

Mr Moses Prag, of Newbern, N. C. says: "I have used Brown's Iron Bit-tors and received great benefit from it."

Passed Through. The body of Mr. Asa A. Packer, son of the late Judge Asa Packer, and President of the Lehigh Valley R. R., passed through this city night before last en route for his home in Pennsylvania. The body was met here by a special car in which it was conveyed the balance of the way. Mr. Packer died of consumption and had gone to Florida hoping for relief. He was a very prominent Democrat and always gave liberally of his very extensive means to aid the party in Pennsylvania. In addition to other resources the income of his share of his father's estate was $3,000,000 a year. Under such circumstances death must have been inexpressibly hideous.

Sacred Puzzles. To-morrow is (or will be) Sunday and as we are aware of this fact, we publish here a few Biblical questions which partake of the nature of puzzles sufficiently to interest our young readers. There will be no harm in solving such puzzles on Sunday:

"From what king did Moses request a free passage across a river and was refused? What river was it that Moses wanted to cross? What tribe of men forcibly obtained wives by stealing the women who were dancing at a feast? What did Aaron's rod do when each prince of the twelve tribes wrote his name on a rod and laid them all up together for the night, to see who should be high priest? Who revolted, and attempted to declare himself king in opposition to Solomon at the time of David's decrepitude? What did Nebuchadnezzar see in his second dream, the destruction of which was commanded by a holy one from heaven? What was the seventh plague upon Egypt? In what wilderness was exile Hagar, when an angel seeing her distress, showed her a well of water? From what place did the 600,000 Israelites start when called forth from Egypt? Who was the father of Jezebel? Who called his wife his sister and would have had her taken from him to become the wife of a king, had not God told the king in a dream she was the man's wife? What did Moses call the place where quails were sent to the Israelites. Another man called his wife his sister because she was so beautiful that he feared envious persecution, and deceived the same king. Who was it? From what place did Moses view the promised land? To whom was Naaman's leprosy transferred? The initials of the answers to the above will give a prevalent sin of the present day.

The Art Amateur for March contains admirable full-sized working designs of clover, azaleas and water-lilies for china painters; a South Kensington chair seat, and a chalice veil for embroiderers; a score of delicious cupids, and a page of fresh and excellent monograms, twenty-six in number, giving the letter A in successive combinations with the entire alphabet. The remaining letters are to be similarly given in future numbers. The leading article in this issue is a capital notice of the Water Color Exhibition, by Edward Strahan, with illustrations of over thirty of the noteworthy pictures. B-night's beautiful painting, "Snow in Spring," is finely reproduced, and there is a good portrait of Deers, with some well-chosen examples of his work. Flower painters, fan painters, china painters and photograph portraitists are remembered in the practical articles and there is much pleasant and copious illustrated talk about French furniture Japanese art, new houses, old fashions, and a variety of other art topics. On the whole, the March number is an excellent specimen of this always attractive magazine. Price, 35 cents. $4 a year. Montague Marks, publisher, 23 Union Square, New York.
