The Fruit Prospect.

Thus far, as we learn from various farmer residents in this section, but little damage has been done to the fruit. The peach and plum trees are generally in full bloom and do not appear to have been injured much. If at any time the cool snaps we have had of late. The apples and pears have not yet put forth. It seems to be agreed upon that if there is no more real cold weather this Spring the fruit crop may be counted on this year.

A Broken Arm.

A little girl about eleven years of age, a niece of Mr. Theo. Evans, and residing with him at the corner of Third and Chestnut streets, fell from a gate this morning and broke her left forearm. It is a simple fracture, and was easily set by the physician who was summoned, and at last accounts the little sufferer was resting comfortably.

Unavailable.

The following is a list of the unmailable postal matter remaining in the Postoffice in this city: C. R. Swain, Mount Vernon, Ga., P. W. & Co.; Miss Alice Register, Whiteville Depot; Mrs. Frank Waddell, Mossfield, N. C.; Mrs. C. A. Hamner, High Point, N. C.; Mr. Bennie Moore, Hillsboro, N. C.; care Abel Payne; Miss Maria M. Hill, Esty Seminary, Raleigh, N. C.

Receipts of Turpentine.

The receipts of crude turpentine at this port to-day amounted to 2,129 barrels, which is unusually large for one day. This turpentine (most of it) came here in rags from the headwaters of Black River, the two Coharies, in Sampson county, where it had been waiting a long time for a freshet to bring it to Wilmington. The water in those streams now is very high, and more turpentine will probably come in on it.

Novel Nursing.

A short time ago in an adjoining county, a farmer had a sheep which gave birth to twin lambs and died soon after. The lambs were bright and healthy, and what to do with the little motherless creatures became a matter of concern. The wife of the farmer happened, as is sometimes the case, to have a nursing infant, and she concluded to try the experiment of letting the lambs share with the little one for nourishment from her own breast. The trial was entirely successful, and the little creatures now come to her regularly for nourishment and are thriving under their novel nursing. It is really peculiar to see the mother take her child and one of the lambs and place them to her breasts, where they take their nourishment as pleasantly as though it was in the regular order of things.

Board of Aldermen.

The Board of Aldermen met in regular monthly session at the City Hall last night. The Special Committee on removal of city pound reported progress and was granted further time to report to a called meeting of the board, but should there be no such meeting, to deposit its final report with the clerk of the board. Petition of Columbia Engine Company for a house for engine was rejected.

Resignation of Rev. Dr. Taylor.

Our citizens generally, and members of the First Baptist Church particularly, will regret to hear that the Rev. Dr. James B. Taylor has sent in his resignation as their pastor. Dr. Taylor has been constantly and earnestly at work in his calling for the past eight years, eight of which he has been pastor of the First Baptist Church, in this city. He has long felt a desire to travel, and as an opportunity has offered he will make it available and will probably make the tour of Europe during the coming year. His time of departure and return is not yet definitely fixed upon, but we learn that during his stay abroad he will visit England, Scotland and Ireland, as well as the principal countries and most important cities and places of historic note in Continental Europe. Of course he will spend a portion of his time with his brother, who is stationed at Rome.

Historical and Scientific Society.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Society, held at Tienken Hall last evening, Dr. Thomas F. Wood, the essayist for the evening, read an essay on "Vaccination." It was expected from the scientific attainments of Dr. W. that a very interesting paper would be submitted, and expectation was not disappointed. The lecture was an exhaustive one, exhibiting great research and a thorough knowledge of the subject, additional interest being given to it by the presentation of plates and engravings illustrating the different phases of inoculation and vaccination and was listened to with marked attention by those present. Many of the engravings were rare and valuable. We were pleased to notice the presence of the gentler sex last evening and hope they will continue to attend.

Committee on Streets and Wharves.

In regard to the opening of South Water street between Orange and Ann streets, reported favorably upon the same and submitted an ordinance authorizing the Mayor to cause the proper survey to be made and the said street to be opened and established; the proper assessments for the owners of land required for said street to be made under the direction of the sheriff by a proper and lawful jury, as provided by law; the said jury to assess, also, the value of the advantages resulting from opening said street to the owners of lots adjoining. The report was received and adopted.

Recommendation of the committee on Fire Department.

For the payment of ten dollars to the Cape Fear Engine Company, for a stove for the company's engine house, was adopted. Reports from the Chief of the Fire Department and the Superintendent of Health for the past month, were received and filed. Alderman Worth offered the following resolution, which was adopted: Resolved, That the Chief of Police is hereby instructed to detail a force for the purpose of taking up hogs and cattle running at large during the night time; and the compensation allowed said force shall be equivalent to half the fines imposed on redeeming said hogs and cattle from the pound, which allowance shall be added to the present fine for redeeming.

Broken Into.

Some stamp broke into the market house of Mr. W. M. Hays, Jr., last night, but nothing was taken. It is supposed that it was the work of a thievish boy, who hoped to find some loose change in the money drawer, but being disappointed in that, saw nothing else which he could make available. The entrance was effected by bursting open the door.

Death of Col. Liles.

We are sorry to learn of the death of Col. Ed. R. Liles, which occurred at Lilesville, Anson county, last Thursday afternoon. He had long been a sufferer from a terrible disease, dropsy, and it was this which caused his death. Col. Liles was formerly connected with the press in Wadesboro and was one of the most manly men it has ever been our good fortune to encounter. He was a man of excellent abilities and would have made his mark in the councils of the State but for the disease which held him in its grasp. Peace to his kindly heart. May he sleep well.

During the year 1882, Germany, including Luxemburg, produced a total of 3,170,957 tons of raw iron, as against 2,914,000 tons in 1881, 2,728,039 tons in 1880, and 2,236,587 tons in 1879. The advocates of protection are naturally proud of this ascending.

The peanut business is assuming large proportions. 1,500,000 bushels are raised in Virginia, 400,000 bushels in Tennessee, and 200,000 bushels in North Carolina. The total value of the annual yield is estimated at $2,000,000, and the question as to whether this traffic should be protected or not threatened last year to become a political issue.

Rents seem to have advanced very heavily in New York, and a man of moderate fortune would be compelled to expend it all in one year if he went to housekeeping there. Here is a specimen from the World: A furnished house in the neighborhood of Fifth Avenue, between the Park and Forty-seventh street, can be secured for little less than $20,000 a year, while unfurnished houses are let for $12,000 and even more.

A bachelor who desires a comfortable home in an agreeable part of the city is compelled to pay for the privilege from $40 to $50 a month, when his meals are taken outside.
