

THIS PAPER published every evening, Sundays excepted by JOSH T. JAMES, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. SUBSCRIPTIONS POSTAGE PAID: One year $4.00. Six months, $2.00. Three months, $1.00; One month, 35 cents. The paper will be delivered by carriers free of charge, in any part of the city, at the above rates, or 10 cents per week. Advertising rates low and liberal. Subscribers will report any and all failures to receive their paper regularly.

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Edison took out only ten patents last week on electrical contrivances.

Pere Hyacinthe and his wife intend to visit America during the summer.

The greatest distress, from famine, since 1847, now exists in the county Mayo, Ireland.

Sir William Armstrong, the English gunmaker, has given $750,000 to New Castle, England, during the last twenty years.

Tabor, of Colorado, was a Senator for six weeks, and his expenses during that period, he says, were more than $10,000.

The Philadelphia Press wants Edmunds, of Vermont, for President and Harrison, of Indiana, for Vice President.

The only seat in the new Senate to be filled is that of Senator Rollins of New Hampshire. His successor will not be elected until June.

Louise Michel, the French female anarchist, is described as an elderly little spinster, with coarse gray hair, twisted up into corker curls.

Capt. George H. Mackenzie of the Manhattan chess club, is to contest in the World's chess tournament which will open in London next month.

Dr. Blackwood, in a paper on minor dyspepsia, read before the Philadelphia Medical Society, states that a good deal of the malaria so fashionable with the fraternity and the laity is only one of the forms of indigestion.

Philadelphia Record: When we reflect that out of 10,670 bills and joint resolutions introduced during the last session of Congress only 163 passed both Houses, have we not reason to rejoice that the Lord is still good to His people?

Professor Schliemann's house is one of the sights of Athens. It is built of white marble, and adorned with numerous statues of the same material. He and his wife talk ancient Greek together and have called their two children Andronache and Agamemnon.

The garrison of Berlin numbers 17,813 men, Metz 14,414, Strasburg 8,965, Mayence 7,713, Cologne 7,655, Potsdam 6,599. Seventy other towns have garrisons over 2,000—3 of these being over 6,000 and 3 over 5,000—and there are 366 garrisons with less than 2,000. And this is a peace establishment!

The tallest electric mast in the country has been erected in Minneapolis, Minnesota. It is surmounted by eight lights, each 4,000 candle power. I lights up the most dangerous portion of the city, and anywhere within a radius of one mile diffuses light enough to enable one to tell the time of night by his watch.

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

The tallest electric mast in the country has been erected in Minneapolis, Minnesota. It is surmounted by eight lights, each 4,000 candle power. I lights up the most dangerous portion of the city, and anywhere within a radius of one mile diffuses light enough to enable one to tell the time of night by his watch.

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

Unless Keifer, the ex Speaker of the House, is possessed of a remarkably thick hide, his mental condition cannot be considered as enviable. Among others, the New York Times has planted him a left-hander directly between the eyes. It declares that "the more his gross abuse of power is laid bare, the more forcible becomes the lesson to the Republican party of the danger of placing such a man in so prominent a position."

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C. TUESDAY, MARCH 13, 1883. NO. 63

BISHOP NORTHROP.

His Installation as Bishop of the Diocese of Charleston.

The Charleston News and Courier, of yesterday's date, publishes a lengthy and interesting account of the installation service in the Cathedral, in that city on Sunday morning of the Rev. H. P. Northrop as Bishop of the diocese Bishop Gibbons was not present and the following is a list of the visiting clergymen:

Bishop Gross, of Savannah; Bishop Moore, of St. Augustine; Bishop Tuigg, of Pittsburg, Pa.; Father O'Shannahan, S. J. of Augusta; Father Quinlan, of Augusta; Dr. Semmes, of Pio Nono (Galega, Macon); Father Fullerton of Columbia; Dr. Murriweather, of Vicksburg; Father Wilson, of Aiken; Father Monahan, of Greenville; Father Gore, of Beaufort; Father Wright, of North Carolina; Father Schachte, of Mountville, and Father McNeil, of Sumter.

The services began at 10:30 o'clock. The procession, which emerged from the vestry room a little before 11 o'clock, was composed of over fifty persons, as follows:

1. The Vicar-General of the Diocese, Very Rev. D. J. Quigley, and two acolytes.
2. Chorister boys, twenty-two in number, bearing baskets of rose leaves, lighted candles and other insignia.
3. The clergymen of the city and visiting clergymen not engaged as officers of the Mass, attired in cassock and surplice.
4. Bishop Moore, of St. Augustine, with two attendant clergymen.
5. Bishop Gross, of Savannah, with two attendant clergymen.
6. Bishop Tuigg, of Pittsburg, Pa., with two attendant clergymen.
7. Bishop Northrop, attired in cope and mitre, and followed by two pages in red and white cassocks and surplices.

The mitre worn on the occasion was of yellow silk richly embroidered with gold; the cope was of silver with gold trimmings.

The priests, acolytes and prelate, having entered the sanctuary ranged themselves to the right and left, the vicar-general and his attendants being provided with seats on the left. The new Bishop, kneeling at the altar, received from the vicar-general the crucifix, which having been kissed by the Bishop was returned to the altar. The vessel containing the holy water and the censers were then handed to the Bishop, who after invoking a blessing advanced to a prie-dieu at the altar steps and knelt in silent prayer while the choir sang an exquisite "Te Deum" by Borletti. The Bishop was then escorted to his throne and the Papal Bull announcing his transfer from the Vicariate Apostolic of North Carolina to the Diocese of Charleston was read from the Predella by the Very Rev. D. J. Quigley and then handed to the Bishop. All the attendant clergymen then advanced to the throne and kissed the new Bishop, kneeling and kissing the Episcopal ring and receiving the Episcopal blessing, the choir during this ceremony singing the "Laudate Dominum" from Millard's Vespers. After this the Bishop, proceeding to the altar, delivered his first Pontifical benediction, the congregation at all the clergymen kneeling.

The Bishop was then escorted back to the throne, and was robed for the solemn Pontifical High Mass which was to follow.

The vestments of the celebrant and the officers of the Mass were in keeping with those of the altar as to color. The chasuble of the Bishop was of rich purple velvet elaborately and exquisitely embroidered with gold. His mitre was of white satin, adorned only with a gold cross. He wore purple gloves and purple slippers. The officers of the Mass were: Celebrant, Right Rev. H. P. Northrop; assistant priest, Very Rev. D. J. Quigley; deacons of the Mass, Rev. F. J. Swisher and Rev. J. J. Woulahan; deacons of honor, Rev. J. J. Monahan and the Rev. C. H. Wright, the last of Wilmington, N. C.; master of ceremonies, Rev. P. L. Dully.

At the close of the Gospel, the "Gloria" as is usual on such days was omitted. Bishop Moore, of Augustine, delivered a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

At the close of the sermon the Mass was proceeded with to the close, and the Pontifical Benediction having been delivered, the organist had already commenced to play the Voluntary which usually announces the end of the services, when Bishop Northrop turned and, facing the congregation, spoke as follows:

I am not surprised that I have been interrupted by the organ at the end of the service, but I cannot refrain, even though it be not in the rubric of the ceremony, from at least saying one little word at the end of the Mass—one little word, not to detain you and tax your patience—only I cannot resist saying something on this day which sees me Bishop of the Diocese of Charleston. The priest is God's own soldier to go wherever he is ordered, and last year I received the order from God, as Abraham did of old to go out of my country, and from my kinsfolk and from my home, which was as dear to me as any other man's home is to him. It was not much, perhaps, for a priest to do. I went, and unto my dear brethren, I said, God be with you. And now I say, God be with you, with a heart full of gratitude to God who has taken me up from my lowliness and made me, most unworthy though I am, one of the princes in His kingdom. He has tried me and now has brought me back again to my own. With a heart full of gratitude I thank God for the pomp and circumstance which surround me. But my brethren, if in these robes of glory wherein my Mother has arrayed me you cannot recognize me, yet I say, even though it be the raiment of Esau, the voice is of Jacob. I am your new Bishop by the Grace of God and the appointment of the Holy See. By the grace of God, who works in wondrous and mysterious ways, I am your new Bishop, but your old friend, and your old servant. I feel strong, my dear brethren, even in my weakness, for God I know has chosen many a time and oft the weak things of this world, perhaps to confound the strong and to do His great work.

I have been entrusted with a work which a strong man might deem too easy a burden. I will carry it, however, confident in the weakness, which God will strengthen. Confident in the weakness and children I know, in whose love and pity and fidelity and loyalty I can trust, and with my brethren, a chief among my equals, and the most unworthy, I feel like a general at the head of soldiers whom he can trust and who is confident of his victory. I trust to you, my dear brethren. I have a wish of my own. As God knows I am your Bishop, and as God sees me I will one day render an account to him. As long as He gives me life I will try to be in all things a Bishop, though not so greatly gifted as these great men who have preceded me. Yet I hope with God's greatest aid your prayers and your help, my dear brethren and children in Christ, that I will at least with the one talent I possess, with all the strength of body and soul that God has given me work for this Diocese as our Holy Father exhorts me to do—prudently and cheerfully.

May this action of the Holy See, strange as it seems—grateful as it is to me—be an act of the greater glory of God—to the salvation of many souls, and to my greater glory and the salvation of my own soul in heaven. God bless you, my dear children, and may you pray for your Bishop that he may do his work faithfully and well.

The only pain we can safely make light of, is the window pane, but the pain that racks our frame and tears our lungs is a matter of serious consequence. To alleviate the latter and effect a permanent cure, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is relied on by all sensible people.

We learn that yesterday afternoon a young lady was out driving with a little child as her companion, and that when at the corner of Fourth and Market streets the horse jumped, causing the child to fall out. We are glad to state that the little one was not much injured.

The Mayor's maternal levees have become things of the dimly remembered past. The guard house continues empty and the books at police headquarters show that only one arrest has been made thus far during this month—Verily, we are a law abiding people.

The steamer John Dawson, Capt. Sherman, brought down yesterday an ox, the gross weight of which was 1,104 pounds. It was a remarkably large animal for this section, and we imagine there will be some good beefsteaks cut up from his carcass. Mr. John R. Melton was the purchaser.

The masquerade on Thursday night, at Germania Hall, under the management of Messrs. S. P. Hardwick & Co., promises much amusement to our young people. It is the wish of the management and all concerned that the ladies will appear in masque as a means of enhancing the pleasures of the evening.

The dwelling of Mrs. Gordon, on Wooster, between Seventh and Eighth streets, caught fire, at about 1 o'clock this afternoon, on the roof, through which it burned a hole before it was extinguished. There was no general alarm given, as the neighbors were promptly on hand and extinguished the flames before they had got under much headway.

Important Notice.
The lecture to be given by Rev. Dr. Doerns, at the Opera House to-night, will begin at 8 o'clock, sharp. Instead of at 8:15, as has been very generally understood.

Magistrate's Court.
Mary Davis, colored, was brought before Justice Gardner this morning, upon a peace warrant sworn out by Lizzie Weigins, colored, and was required to give a bond of $50 for her appearance on the first Monday in June next, and to keep the peace in the meantime.

Extra Terms.
By a law enacted at the recent session of the Legislature, there are to be two additional terms of the Superior Court for New Hanover, in April and October respectively, each term to continue one week. This act has become necessary from the large amount of civil business in the county.

To Builders and others—Go to Jacob's for Sash, Blinds and Doors, Glass, &c. You can get all these and at the lowest prices.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

COWNS AND SKIRTS!

AT PRICES VERY REASONABLE. THESE ARE NEW, AND WE ASK A CRITICAL EXAMINATION.

PARASOLS & SUN SHADES, CHILDREN'S PARASOLS, Brochet Shawls,

VERY DESIRABLE FOR THIS CLIMATE; THESE ARE SINGLE AND REVERSIBLE.

New Worsted Fringes, Extension Cornice, Cornice Poles, &c, DRESS GINGHAMS AND PRINTS.

A FEW PIECES LEFT OF THAT GOOD AND CHEAP WHITE FLANNEL WHITE EMB'D FLANNEL.

Up to 4 o'clock this afternoon 72 persons had registered in the upper division of the First Ward.

Barque Macklenburg Husswirth, Wick-smith, from Tunis for this port, sailed from Gibraltar Feb. 4th.

The latest reports as to the condition of Mrs. Stewart were very favorable. They represent her as able to sit up and she is getting along nicely now.

Mr. Sol. Bear has returned from the Northern markets, and with a large and elegant assortment of Spring and Summer goods, enough, in fact, to fill the three stories of his establishment to overflowing.

The property advertised in the REVIEW as for sale yesterday under foreclosure of mortgage, and located on the northwest corner of Nun and Sixth streets, was purchased by Mr. R. H. McKoy, and the sale will in all probability be confirmed.

The Nor. brig Athalia Lord, (formerly the 2nd of April) Capt. Wohl, which cleared to-day for Hamburg, was gaily decorated with flags and signals during the hours between sunrise and sunset. A lunch was spread in the cabin and representatives of the different consulates were present to make a very pleasant festive occasion and bid Capt. Wohl bon voyage.

First Rosin.
The first new rosin of the crop of 1883 was received here this morning by Mr. S. P. McNair. It is from Marion county, S. C., and was made by Messrs. Willis & Co., and was sold to Messrs. Paterson, Downing & Co., at $3 per barrel.

Unavailable.
Unavailable matter remains in the postoffice in this city, addressed as follows:

Printed address to Sheppard, Knapp & Co., 189 and 191 Sixth ave. cor 13th st.; postal address to Isabella Hall, 209 Queen st.; printed address to Blake, Dowell & Helm, millinery and fancy goods, 238 W. Baltimore st., Baltimore, Md.

New Postal Advantages.
The new law relating to the money order system will be put in operation as soon as the necessary arrangements are perfected. Proposals will soon be requested for furnishing the new style of money order blanks and postal notes provided for in the bill. The new system will enable persons to send by money order or postal note sums not exceeding $5 for three cents, whereas it now costs ten.

The celebrated "Fish Brand" Gills Twine is sold only at JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

St. Patrick's Day.
We learn that there will be no imposing demonstration on the 17th inst. by our Irish friends. The Hibernian Benevolent Association will meet in the morning at Germania Hall, where they will march in procession, with Mr. John W. Reilly as Chief Marshal, to St. Thomas' Catholic Church, where they will listen to a sermon appropriate to the occasion. Thence they will return to Germania Hall, and elect the necessary officers for the ensuing year, after which they will adjourn.

First Installment.
Messrs. A. & I. Shrier, at 34 Market street, have received their first installment of two hundred and fifty Flannel Suits which they warrant fast color. Each coat has a label with their full name sewed on the collar as a guarantee to their genuine quality. Don't fail to get a suit.

A fine assortment of Guns and Pistols at Jacob's Hardware Depot.

A Wilmington Man.
When Wilmingtonians leave their homes to take up a residence and duties in other cities, it is not generally a matter of pleasure. They go on business, and they mean business, and they generally succeed, as an instance in point here well illustrates. A few years ago Mr. Geo. C. Kelley, son of Mr. Geo. H. Kelley, left Wilmington for a residence in Montgomery, Ala., where he embarked in business. He remained there until the spring of 1881, when he removed to the new and thriving manufacturing town of Birmingham, where he established himself in the hardware business, at which we are pleased to learn, he has been very successful, having built up a fine business there.

Birmingham is a wonderful town. Eleven years ago the first building was erected there; in 1880 the population was 4,600 and to-day it is 15,000. There are 7,000 artisans employed there in the coal and iron industries alone, and the annual output of coal approximately 1,500,000 tons. The New Orleans Times-Democrat, in a recent issue, contains a description of the town and its industries, and among the enterprises spoken of is the following description of the business conducted there by Mr. Kelley:

The heavy and shelf hardware, machinery, agricultural implements and mill supply trade of Birmingham is noted for its extent and magnitude. Mr. Geo. C. Kelley, whose establishment here as recently as May, 1881, has secured the heaviest interests, and carries by far the largest stock in the referred-to class of merchandise in this section of the State.

On Second avenue, between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets, Mr. Kelley conducts his sale establishment, where can be found in stock stoves, Babbitt metal, brass goods, packing, belting, rubber hose, shovels, nails, axes, iron bolts, cordage, plows, mills, gins, presses, woodwork, bellows, anvils, vises, hollowware, etc. Steam engines, Howe's standard scales, threshing machines and all practical agricultural implements have an agency vested with this gentleman. Mr. Kelley conducts a warehouse corner Fifth avenue and Twenty-fourth street, 40x70 feet, which is connected by a telephone circuit, including his private residence and sales establishment. His superior facilities and the enterprise and alertness of Mr. Kelley to secure everything new and desirable in his line and to be constantly up with the market, render it to the advantage of dealers to visit or correspond with his house.

Statue to Martin Luther.
The Lutherans, all over the United States, are collecting money to defray the expense of a bronze statue to their illustrious patronymic, which is to be erected at Washington, D. C., November 10th, 1883, that being the 400th anniversary of Luther's birth. It will cost $7,000, and is a copy of the colossal statue of Luther in the group of Reformers, standing in the city of Worms, Germany. The young People's Association, of St. Paul's Lutheran church, in this city, have appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions for the foregoing purpose. The committee would be glad to receive funds from those disposed to give for this laudable object, and while they expect Lutherans to contribute the greater portion, they would thankfully receive donations from those who worship in other churches. They seek small sums from the many rather than large sums from a few, feeling, very reasonable that it is a cause in which all Christians who revere the name of one of the bravest and foremost of the list of Reformers would gladly contribute. Messrs. Helen Schuklen, Wilhelmina Diescher and Lizzie Groten, and Messrs. H. Otten, Carl Polvoigt and E. Schuklen, Jr., constitute the committee.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 330 bales.

PLEASE NOTICE.
We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest but the name of the writer must always be furnished to the Editor.
Communications must be written on only one side of the paper.
Personalities must be avoided.
And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial columns.

The Atlantic Coast Line have again secured the fast mail service. It will be continued, without interruption.

A cooper who lives in Des Moines, Pressed hard on a hoop where it joins, The hoop it flew back, And hit him a whack, But St. Jacobs Oil cured his loins.

Exports Foreign.
Nor. barque Abel, Capt. Damenser, cleared to-day for New Castle on-Tyne with 4,400 barrels rosin, valued at $7,500, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son. Nor. brig Athalia Lord, Capt. Wohl, cleared for Hamburg with 1,000 casks spirits turpentine and 774 barrels rosin, valued at $30,400, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son.

For Pocket Knives or Table Cutlery, go to JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Copartnership Notice.
MR. A. R. CAMPBELL HAVING BEEN admitted a partner in our Lumber Commission business, the same will be continued from this date out the firm name of COLVILLE & CAMPBELL.
Wilmington, N. C., March 12th, 1883.

Mountain Butter.
A FEW PACKAGES IN ROLLS AND TUBS.
FOR SALE AT LOW PRICES.

HALL & PEARSALL
LECTURE.
The Rev. Dr. CHAS. E. DEEMS
Will deliver a LECTURE, for the benefit of the LIBRARY ASSOCIATION, on Tuesday Night, March 13th, at the OPERA HOUSE.
Subject, "TRIFLES" Commencing at 8 o'clock.
Tickets 50 cents. Reserved Seats for sale at 10c.
1st sat 1st mch 8 1/2

Easter Cards.
A LARGE ASSORTMENT. All new designs. Fringed and plain. Steel Engravings, Velvet Frames, Book shelves, Corner brackets, A new lot just received at "EMMERGETZ."
HEINRICH BERGER'S,
Live Book and Music store.

PIANOS & ORGANS FROM ALL THE Best Manufacturers in the Country,
SOLD FOR CASH OR ON THE MONTHLY
INSTALLMENT PLAN.
HEINRICH BERGER'S,
Live Book and Music store.

Easter Cards.
A LARGE VARIETY OF Beautiful New Designs.
Call and see them at
YATES' BOOKSTORE.
mch 5

The Place to Buy
TURPENTINE TOOLS.
PULLEYS, HACKS, WHETTERS, DIPPERS, HA KWEIGHTS, &c., &c. Best of goods at Rock Bottom prices. A full and complete stock of Hardware always on hand.
W. E. SPRINGER & CO.,
Successors to J. H. Dawson & Co.,
mch 12 19, 21 and 23 Market street

Garden Seed!
PEAS, BEANS, CORN, CABBAGE, &c.
Squash, Collard, Radish, &c., &c. A fine selection of flower seed.
For sale by
WILLIAM H. GREEN,
Druggist.

"GARDEN SEEDS."
A FRESH LOT OF ALL KINDS OF
Large and Small Seed, early and late varieties: Collard, Beet and Turnip Seeds, a large stock and an endless variety of Peas and Beans, retailed at the lowest prices by Munds Bros.,
Manufacturing Pharmacists,
125 N. BROADWAY, N. Y. CITY,
AND WILMINGTON, N. C.
Jan 20

If You Would be Happy
BUY A COOK STOVE.
"The Golden Harvest,"
"FARMER,"
"CALUMET,"
Or, "SOUTHERN OAK"
FARMER & TAYLOR,
125 N. BROADWAY, N. Y. CITY.

LOCAL NEWS.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
YATES—Easter Cards
W. H. GREEN—Garden Seed
MUNDS, BROS.—Garden Seed
EMMERGETZ—Easter Cards
R. M. MCINTIRE—Gowns and Skirts
HALL & PEARSALL—Mountain Butter
COLVILLE & CO.—Copartnership Notice

At the hour of closing last night 118 had registered in the Third Ward.

Barque Vasco de Gama, Callus, hence, arrived at Granton, Scotland, Feb. 22nd.

Barque Himmel, Ingemannsen, from Liverpool, for this port, sailed from Scilly Feb 25th.

Mr. A. R. Campbell has been admitted as a partner in Mr. John Colville's lumber commission business and the firm name hereafter will be Colville & Campbell.

We are glad to know that Mr. Edward Lilly has so far recovered from sickness as to be able to be out. He was on the street to-day, for the first time in two or three weeks.