The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 190 bales.

The receipts of rosin were again heavy to-day, amounting to 3 299 bbls.

Ger. barque Thomas Small, Dillwiltz, sailed from Liverpool, Mar. 2nd, for this port.

The celebrated 'Fish Brand' Gills Twine is sold only at JACOBI'S HARDWARE DEPOT.

The new registration in the Third Ward aggregated 160 at the close of the books last night.

Mr. N. Jacobi, accompanied by his wife, has gone North, to be absent about two weeks.

Steamship Regulator, Capt. Doane, from New York arrived at her wharf in this city at about noon to-day.

There are many complaints of colds, headaches, &c., arising from the unpleasant and unsettled weather.

Rev. Dr. Deems left here last night, after the lecture, on the 11:10 p. m. train South, for a visit to his son, who is married and resident in Augusta.

Ger. barque Japan, hence, for Liverpool was abandoned Feb. 14th, in lat. 42 35, lon. 40.05. The pumps were choked and the vessel in a sinking condition when the crew left her.

Turner's almanac wisely refrains from any speculation as to the weather this week. It is a bad week for guessing.

The lucky numbers in the last Louisiana State Lottery drawing, which took place on the 13th, are as follows: Ticket No. 8,574 drew $75,000; No. 99,667 drew $30,000, and Nos. 93,395, 84,710, 91,172, 1,745, 8,284, 25,616, 25,678, and 22,847 drew $6,000 each.

The Chicago, St. Louis & Pittsburgh Railroad Company has made to Conrad Baker of Indianapolis and the Union Trust Company of New York as trustees a first mortgage for $22,000,000, due and payable Oct. 1, 1932, with interest at 5 per cent. The mortgage covers all the property of the company.

A Hamburg correspondent writes to a Nuremberg paper that the divers who have been down into the steamship Cimbria report that there are over 300 corpses in the wrecked vessel, in every imaginable attitude of sudden agony; the action of the water causes them all to sway to and fro in the most ghastly manner, so that the scene is one of inconceivable horror.

Wiggins says: "I told you so." Here is a prediction he makes as to the year generally:

This will be an unusual year for floods, which will occur all over the continent. I may state, what I know to be an absolute fact, the hour at which great storms will arise; whether they will arise at different points, when a severe cold period like January will occur; when remarkable floods will take place; and when winters will be distinguished for great quantities of snow.

There is a story from Bermuda to the effect that there is a plot on foot to assassinate the Princess Louise. A letter from Hamilton, Bermuda, says:

A week ago two men were arrested here on suspicion of having come out from New York with the express intention of shooting at, and presumably hitting, the Princess. The whole matter of the arrest was very quietly managed. The men could give no account of themselves. Though they went round armed with revolvers, they had no credentials about them in the shape of incipient consumption, bronchitis, or even nervous prostration, to establish a fair claim to a right to say in Bermuda. Moreover, the New York police had sent out by the same steamer with them very derogatory references on their character. All this led the authorities here to a determination to lock the men up till the Princess shall have gone. Certain it is that great vigilance is exercised over all the movements of Louise. Last week, for example, a public reception was given her in St. George's, twelve miles from Hamilton. Two roads led to the place, and it was impossible to learn by which she would either go or return. Indeed, she returned by neither, but suddenly embarked on a gunboat that had been sent round and came back by water.

First Installment.
Messrs. A. & I. Shrier, at 34 Market street, have received their first installment of two hundred and fifty Flannel Suits which warrant fast color. Each coat has a label with their full name sewed on the collar as a guarantee to their genuine quality. Don't fail to get a suit.

Episcopal Visitations.

Bishop Lyman will arrive in Wilmington on Saturday night next, and will be the guest while here of Dr. A. J. DeRueset. The visit will be in the course of his regular episcopal visitations, and he will remain here three days, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, visiting the four churches in this city, and also St. Philip's, at Smithville, during his stay here. There are three confirmation classes awaiting his arrival here.

Big Cattle.

We got things slightly mixed yesterday in our account of the large ox which was brought down on the John Dawson when we stated that Mr. John R. Melton was the purchaser. Mr. H. Hiltze bought the ox. Mr. Melton, however, has an ox which was raised in Sampson county, which weighs 1,300 pounds, 200 better than that reported yesterday. It will be slaughtered and will be on sale on Friday and Saturday. With two such large cattle on the market there will be a chance for somebody to have some good beef.

We understand that seal-skin coats are going out of style, and in consequence, colds are increasing among the fair sex. How fortunate there is such a remedy as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Personal.

Hon. Walter L. Steele, of Rockingham, ex-member of Congress from the Sixth district, is in the city to-day.

Mr. R. B. Frayser, member of the House of Representatives from Pender county, is here on his way to his home and family, near Point Caswell. Mr. Frayser did not miss a day of the session, although quite sick for a part of the time.

Col. H. B. Short was in the city to-day, on his way to his home in Columbus county from Hillsboro and Raleigh, where he has been for the past week.

Rev. J. W. Dickson, Register of Columbus county, was in the city to-day.

Bride and Groom.

Hon. David Davis was to have been married to-day, in Fayetteville, at 11 o'clock, to Miss Burr, the near relative of Col. Wharton J. Green's wife. The happy couple probably left Fayetteville about 1 o'clock, on the steamer, and are expected to arrive here to-night or early to-morrow morning. They will come on the D. Murdock, which was detained there until to-day for their accommodation. We could not ascertain how long they would remain in Wilmington but it is said that when they leave it will be for a tour of the South and Southwest and a trip to the Pacific Coast.

Suspension of Blossom, Hayne & Co.

We are very sorry to hear of the suspension of the well known firm of Blossom, Hayne & Co., naval stores dealers in Boston and in this city. The announcement was a very great surprise, as the firm had long been known as a solid and thoroughly solvent. A settlement, we understand, is now in progress. It is said that the liabilities of the firm are mainly to banks on discounted paper, and that some of the banks had already been secured. It is thought that Mr. Blossom will retire, and that the business will be conducted by the Messrs. Hayne. The firm bought largely in Wilmington and Charleston, and exported to London and Trieste. It is said that a few months ago they were regarded as worth at least $200,000.

The business was established in 1865 and has therefore been in existence 23 years. The house in this city is known as J. R. Blossom & Evans, the resident partner being Mr. Thos. Evans. In an interview to-day Mr. Evans told us that he did not know of any particulars connected with the suspension. It was a surprise to him, but he is confident, from a general knowledge of the affairs of the firm that the embarrassment will prove merely temporary and that they will soon pay out and resume operations. He proposes to conduct the business here as usual, at least for the present. A month ago, Mr. Evans said, he himself knew that the credit of the firm was far in excess of $200,000.

The Rocky Mount Matter.

We publish herewith a statement from the Raleigh News and Observer relating the report published in the Review relative to the arrest of Mr. Avera, of Rocky Mount, charged with robbing the mails. Of course we have no desire to do Mr. Avera an injustice and we very willingly give him the benefit of the statement made in the News and Observer, while expressing the hope that the investigation may result in his acquittal. We do not know the young man, had never heard of him before, had never known that he filled the highly honorable position of a drummer for the News and Observer, and had, surely, no wish to do him an injury. We merely stated facts as they were stated to us. There is one thing that we will say to Capt. Ashe, of the News and Observer. His language in his introductory statement is not altogether such as it should be. There is too much of the dictatorial about the News and Observer. There may be misstatements in the report in the Review, (but that is for the law, and not the editor of the News and Observer, to decide), but the assertion that there are unwarranted suggestions is not borne out at all by the facts in the case. Here is what the News and Observer says in full:

The Wilmington Review has an article purporting to give some facts connected with the Rocky Mount mail robberies and the arrest of Mr. Avera for complicity therein. The article abounds in misstatements and in unwarranted suggestions. And the Review, by giving publicity to these misstatements, has done a great injustice to several persons.

Mr. Avera has been for some time an agent of the News and Observer, and immediately on his arrest, we made inquiries, the result of which satisfied us of his innocence. We, however, did not think it proper to publish anything connected with the matter until the evidence was taken at the examination appointed for the 12th of March, before the commission at Goldsboro. We had made arrangements for a report of the testimony, believing that the examination would establish beyond question that the charge against Mr. Avera was without a particle of foundation. That examination, however, has been postponed, because the government was not ready. Its witnesses were not in attendance. Mr. Avera was ready, solicitous and anxious for the examination. It is a grievous disappointment that the witnesses on the part of the government, if any, were not on hand. Mr. Avera is the son of Mr. Avera, formerly a representative of Johnston county in the Legislature, and afterwards the editor of the Rocky Mount Mail and the Goldboro Mail. He was a gentleman of sterling integrity, and of the highest character. His son, arrested in this matter, is esteemed and thought to be as fine a young man as can be found within the limits of North Carolina. It is never guilty of anything wrong no man ever suspected him of it. He is now for the first time under a charge that at once shocks him and all of his friends. No person acquainted with Mr. Avera credits for a moment that he can possibly be guilty.

His brother-in-law, Mr. Arrington, who is also a gentleman of high character, was the Democratic postmaster at Rocky Mount sometime back. He had served faithfully and acceptably. No money was ever missed, nor was there ever any trouble connected with the office while Tom Arrington was the postmaster, assisted by young Avera. Their management was without a single irregularity. They knew their business and conducted it according to the rules of the department. But a change in the policy of the administration brought about the decapitation of Mr. Arrington because he was a Democrat. Mr. Pennington, a Republican, was appointed, and Mr. Avera's connection with the office ceased. After that money sent from and through that office began to be lost. Mr. Pennington was tried, but acquitted. He was succeeded and another Republican was appointed, who employed a Mr. Daughtridge to attend to the business. But still money sent from that office was missed.

While Mr. Avera was connected with the office there were no irregularities; after his connection ceased the money packages began to be lost. These are the facts which we hope the Review will deem it proper to print. The question may then be asked if Mr. Avera had nothing to do with the office why was he arrested?

We think he was arrested without justification. But it is proper to state the circumstances which led to his arrest. Mr. Daughtridge, who acts as postmaster is we understand, a pleasant and popular man and generally liked. Not being very expert in putting up money packages, he one day asked Mr. Avera to help him. Mr. Avera obliged him and helped put up the package, which Mr. Daughtridge then took and placed in a safe in his father's store. Mr. Avera having no more to do with it, that is the only circumstance we believe connecting Mr. Avera with the matter. It is to be regretted that the government was not in a position to have the examination on Monday, the day fixed. Without any grounds on which to base its charge, it is a great wrong to the young man to delay an investigation.

Supreme Court Decisions.

In this court on Monday, the Justices delivered opinions, in causes heretofore argued, as follows:

Duncan McFadyen et al. vs. John T. Council, from Bladen; judgment for the plaintiff.

D. McK. Carmichael vs. J. C. Moore et al. from Robeson; error; action dismissed.

D. B. Bell vs. Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company, from Halifax; no error; judgment affirmed.

F. M. Keathley vs. Branch & Stanford, from Duplin; error; venire de novo.

State vs. Matthew N. Leary, from Cumberland; no error; judgment affirmed.

State vs. John Dickson, from Cumberland; no error; judgment affirmed.

J. L. Santer vs. New York & Wilmington Steamship Company, from New Hanover; no error; judgment affirmed.

State vs. Harrison Jones, from Duplin; no error; judgment affirmed.

"Trifles."

The lecture of Rev. Dr. Deems last night at the Opera House was an occasion long to be pleasantly remembered by the large audience who had the great good fortune to be present. The attendance was unusually large, although the house was not crowded as it ought to have been. The speaker, the subject and the unique but masterly manner in which it was discussed, the flowers of rhetoric and the superb oratory ought to have caused the house to be crowded to its utmost capacity.

Dr. Deems was introduced by Rev. Dr. Wilson, of this city, in a brief but happily conceived speech, and when the former came forward towards the footlights, while there were no outbursts of applause, there was a subdued murmur of cordial welcome permeating the entire house, such as might have been expected from the refined, cultured and appreciative audience. The speaker began by a definition of the term "Trifles," as he found it in the different lexicons, and the causes which led him to write upon such a subject. He argued that things were great or small only by comparison, and cited several examples to illustrate the position; that it was the insignificant things—the apparent trifles—of this world which were in fact the most important, illustrating by the little drops of water and the little grains of sand, which could exist independent of the ocean or mountain, but that the latter could not exist without the aid of the former. In many different ways and by many different illustrations he showed the vital importance of the trifling things, acts and words of this world and their relation to the most momentous consequences.

Our space will not permit us to give even a fair synopsis of the lecture, but it was certainly one of the most interesting, instructive and amusing, withal—for a keen sense of humor pervaded the whole—to which we have ever listened. Nor could we do anything like justice to the excellent elocution and the dramatic power of the speaker. Suffice it to say that it was an exquisite literary treat, with which all were delighted, and to his concluding sentence, "Ladies and gentlemen—there are no such things as trifles, there was a responsive "amen," in the minds of all present.
