The Rev. Mr. Talmage lectured in New Orleans last week, and in talking with a reporter said that the changes in all phases of Southern life since he visited the South five years ago amount to almost a revolution, and in some particulars to a resurrection.

The Scientific American says that the haulage of our railroads employs over 17,000 locomotives, and that the aggregate cost of running them, such as fuel, water, repairs and engines, is about $90,000,000 or rather more than $5,000 for each engine. The item of fuel alone is $33,000,000, but the waste in fuel is enormous.

The Commercial Gazette estimates the quantity of old whiskeys in bond at 80,000,000 gallons. This is not what is called the whiskey of commerce, but is expected to be used as a beverage. It places the number of drinks in a gallon at 64. The number of drinks in bond, therefore, is 5,120,000,000, or 102 to every man, woman and child in the United States.

The report is authoritatively made that not less than 25,000,000 have been invested by English capitalists in alleged gold mines in India. After nearly three years of working the total yield of those mines does not reach £500. If one fifth of this money had been invested in gold mines in North Carolina the result would have astonished somebody.

The New York World, says that Senator Pugh has a bass voice of tremendous depth, and a correspondent thinks his throat must be coiled up like the stem of a brass horn in order to get it into his body, ample as its proportions are. When he says "no" during roll-call it sounds as if the voice came up through the traps from the sub-basement of the Capitol. Senator Sawyer also has a strong voice. When he responds to his name it sounds like a man balling through the woods. Senator Vance answers "yes" or "no" with a hearty cheerfulness eminently suggestive of the highly entertaining stories he tells in the cloak-room, which provoke so much laughter that it is often necessary to close the cloak-room doors so that the business of the Senate can proceed.

At a meeting of the Democrats of the Fifth Ward, held last night, it was decided not to bring out a candidate for Alderman.

We understand that Mr. Hopkins has withdrawn from the contest for Alderman in the First Ward, and that Mr. E. W. Doscher will run instead. In the Fifth Ward Mr. Loekey declares that he will "stick."

Exports Foreign.
Br. schooner Hattie R., Capt. Cann, cleared to-day for Nassau, N. P., with 41,629 feet lumber and 91,950 shingles, valued at $1,440.94, shipped by Messrs. Northrop & Cumming.

Mrs. Stewart.
We are glad to hear that there has been a marked improvement in the condition of the venerable Mrs. Stewart of Smithville who, it will be remembered, was afflicted with paralysis some time since. She has so far recovered as to be able to sit up and to feed herself. For three weeks she lay in bed unable to see at all, and now she has recovered her faculties and bids fair to recover entirely, which we trust may be the case. It is simply wonderful. Mrs. Stewart is 88 years old and her vitality is marvelous.

Harper's Magazine.

Every article in the April Number of Harper's Magazine for one reason or another, invites especial notice, and no better Number, from an artistic point of view, has ever been issued. The frontispiece is an engraving from the portrait of Washington Irving by Gilbert Stuart Newton, and is published apropos of the centenary of Irving's birth. Mr. George William Curtis gives, in the Editor's Easy Chair, an interesting and appreciative sketch of the writer, whom he styles New York's "most famous son." Phebe Earle Gibbons's "English Farmers" is a close study of rural life in Sussex, and Mr. Reinhart's sketches of the subject are delightful. George H. Boughton's fourth paper on Holland is even more interesting than those which have preceded it; and the illustrations have the same quaintness and novelty that characterize the text. Colonel Higginson, in the sixth chapter of his American History, entitled "An English Nation," gives a concise and comprehensive review of the early English settlement in this country. Mr. George Ticknor Curtis contributes the first of two papers on "The Treaty of Peace and Independence," ratified a century ago, with six portraits. The Hon. John Bigelow, in an article entitled "The Heir-Presumptive to the Imperial Crown of Mexico," gives an interesting chapter of secret history connected with Maximilian's unhappy reign in Mexico. Miss Woolson's "For the Major," and Black's "Shandon Bells" are both concluded in this Number; and a very strong story is contributed by "A Working-Girl." Poems are contributed by F. B. Aldrich, R. H. Stoddard, and John B. Tabb. Besides these, there is a quaint little story in verse, entitled "The Little White Beggars." The Editorial Departments are full of timely and interesting matter. The Drawer for this month is conducted by its earliest editor, Dr. S. I. Prime.

IN MEMORIAM.

Joint Meetings of the Chamber of Commerce and the Produce Exchange and Resolutions Relative to the Death of Mr. Gilbert Potter.

ROOMS PRODUCE EXCHANGE
WILMINGTON, N. C., March 20, '83.
A joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Produce Exchange, called by order of the Presidents, was held at noon this day.

On motion of James Sprunt, President of the Produce Exchange, A. H. VanBokkelen, President of Chamber of Commerce, was called to the Chair.

The Chairman called the attention of the joint meeting to the announcement of the death of Gilbert Potter, of New York, and stated that this meeting had been called to take action thereon.

On motion of F. W. Kerchner, Messrs B. G. Worth and John L. Cantwell were appointed Secretaries of the meeting.

On motion of Dr. A. J. DeRosset, a committee was appointed by the Chair to submit to the meeting suitable resolutions.

The Chair appointed Dr. A. J. DeRosset and Messrs B. F. Mitchell, Alfred Martin, R. E. Calder and Henry C. McQueen as said committee.

The committee retired to frame resolutions. In their absence Mr. B. G. Worth spoke of the deceased and his virtues and his good qualities as a merchant and gentleman.

Mr. A. H. VanBokkelen spoke of the deceased merchant and his business connections with Wilmington and various points in the South and noted that with the exception of Zophar Mills, Gilbert Potter was the oldest naval store merchant in New York city. He also stated that the deceased retained the warmest affection for Wilmington, and that while liberal in his charities at home, he had often contributed to the relief of friends in this city.

The Committee on Resolutions having returned, presented through their chairman, Dr. A. J. DeRosset, the following preamble and resolutions;

The committee who have been charged with the preparation of some suitable action by the Chamber of Commerce and Produce Exchange of this city, now assembled in joint meeting, in regard to the death of Mr. Gilbert Potter, merchant, of the city of New York, respectfully present the following report, and recommend its adoption by this meeting:

This community, in which the late Gilbert Potter was widely known as an upright and successful merchant, a kind-hearted and charitable citizen and a consistent Christian gentleman, was shocked and grieved by the unexpected announcement of his death, which occurred at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., on the night of Sunday, the 18th instant, at the ripe age of three-score and ten. He was personally known to some of us while a resident of this place in his early life (from 1838 to 1844), during which time his active industry in laborious occupation and his high-toned character as a man, gave promise of the future success and elevated standing to which he attained as a citizen and merchant in the great metropolis of our country.

These considerations, and the intimate relations which have existed between Mr. Potter and many of the people of this city, render it highly appropriate that the bodies composing this meeting should not allow an event of so much interest to our community to pass without adopting and recording in their minutes some expression of their sense of the loss which has been sustained by the death of such a citizen.

It is therefore ordered by the Chamber of Commerce and by the Produce Exchange of the city of Wilmington that this minute be entered in their respective books of record, and copies of the same be furnished to the newspapers of this city, the New York Journal of Commerce and the New York Shipping and Commercial List, for publication.

Resolved, also, that we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the family and relatives of the deceased in the great affliction and loss which have befallen them, while rejoicing with them in the rich legacy which they have in the memory of his useful and honorable life, and in the blessed hope of eternal life for him through the merits of the Saviour whom he believed and trusted.

On motion the preamble and resolutions were received and adopted.

On motion the Secretaries were instructed to forward a copy of these resolutions to the family of the deceased.

On motion the meeting adjourned.
JOHN L. CANTWELL,
B. G. WORTH,
Secretaries.

A called meeting of the Wilmington Produce Exchange was held immediately after the joint meeting which was called to order by the President, when on motion of John Daniel it was Resolved, That as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Gilbert Potter, of New York City, this Exchange close from 1 o'clock this 20th day of March, until 12 o'clock on the 22nd day of March, 1883.

Adjourned.
JOHN L. CANTWELL,
Secretary.

Fish Culture.

Within the last two or three years, many of the farmers in different sections of the State have devoted considerable attention to making fish ponds and stocking them with German carp. Previous to that time few had made ponds and stocked them with the fish common to our ponds and streams, in order to have fish upon their tables when desired, without the trouble, fatigue and uncertainty attending a fishing excursion to a distance; but the results, as a general thing, were not satisfactory. Since the introduction of carp culture, however, complete success has resulted from the experiment. Several farmers of our acquaintance have engaged in the enterprise, and in no instance have we heard of a failure. Their success has been so pronounced that others have been induced to try the experiment, and it will be but a few years before every man may have his well-stocked fish pond, from which he can draw at pleasure a generous supply of good, wholesome food. The cost of making and stocking the pond is so very small that it becomes almost nominal.

Among those who have recently embarked in the enterprise is a friend and correspondent at Shellgrove, Pender county, N. C., who has prepared and stocked a pond. His fish were secured from Mr. R. L. Beall, of Lenoir, N. C., a letter from whom concerning fish culture has been handed us, from which we make the following extracts:
LENOIR, N. C., March 2d, 1883.

DEAR SIR:—Yours received last night and I cheerfully answer your inquiries.

1st—The area of my pond, containing 3,000 carp, is three-fourths of an acre; greatest depth 8 feet; average depth 3 feet.

2nd—The nature of the bottom is clay and loam.

3rd—The pond is made by a dam on a very small stream, and is protected from floods by surrounding ditches, and from inflowing sand by an automatic gate.

4th—When placed in the pond (June, 1881) the carp were from 3 to 5 inches long, and by September, following, they were from 12 to 20 inches long and weighed from 1 1/2 pounds to 4 pounds. The largest will now weigh from 6 to 7 pounds.

5th—They were not fed from June to September. I feed them now, as the pond is crowded, with corn mush, scraps of bread and refuse from the table.

6th—They like to take their food as it floats on the surface and will come in schools for it, and will take it from the fingers. The very young seem fond of sucking floating sticks, trash and scum, and as they grow larger they seem fond of rooting in the mud among the flags, grasses and other water plants. These plants are important as in the process of spawning all the eggs that produce fish become attached to them, and those eggs which fall to the bottom are unhatched. You cannot hope for success in carp culture if your pond is infested with predatory fish, such as eels, catfish, perch and river trout.

As to eating qualities I will say that, in flavor and in all other respects, they equal any fish I ever tasted.

Religious Services.

At St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church there will be services in English every afternoon, at 3 o'clock, except on Friday and Saturday. On Friday there will be German service at 11 a. m. and English service at night, commencing at 7.30 o'clock, at which confirmation will be administered to a class of 16, of which 10 will be males and 6 females. This will be the largest class ever confirmed at any one time since the existence of the church here. On Sunday (Easter) morning there will be English services, commencing at 11 o'clock, at which one adult will be confirmed. These confirmations, with those who have been confirmed and added since last Easter, will make a total of 49, a greater number than was ever confirmed in this church in any previous year of its history.

We are glad to learn that Mr. J. W. Avera, of Rocky Mount, the young man who was charged with complicity in a mail robbery, was honorably discharged at the hearing before the U. S. Commissioner yesterday at Goldsboro.

First Installment.

Messrs. A. & I. Shrier, at 34 Market street, have received their first installment of two hundred and fifty Flannel Suits which they warrant fast color. Each coat has a label with their full name sewed on the collar as a guarantee to their genuine quality. Don't fail to get a suit.

A fine assortment of Guns and Pistols at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Literary Club.

Agreeable to announcement the above named organization met at Library Hall last evening.

The question, "Will Railroad Commissions Benefit the South," after discussion by Mr. B. G. Empe, in the affirmative, and Mr. G. P. Macindoe, in the negative, upon a vote being taken, was decided in the negative.

The Club was agreeably entertained by Mr. S. Henry Pincus, of Philadelphia, a young man possessing rare elocutionary and recitative powers. Those who had not the good fortune of listening to his attractive programme of reading, recitations and sketches missed a treat. By the unanimous vote of the club he was tendered a vote of thanks and we hope that we may soon have the pleasure of hearing him again. Upon request Mr. G. P. Macindoe recited, in his usual agreeable manner, one of his numerous selections. Maj. J. W. Dunham having tendered his resignation as President, Mr. B. G. Empe was elected by acclamation to fill the vacancy.

The appointments now stand as follows:
March 29th—Orator—J. B. Aaron.
Declaimers—W. Rutland and James Budd.
Readers—G. S. LeGrand and G. R. Dyer.

April 10th—Query—"Ought a Representative be bound by the instructions of his constituents?"
Affirmative—W. M. Cumming and G. H. Smith.
Negative—H. W. Malloy and W. S. Briggs.

Don't Pay Rent.

DURING THE PAST FIFTEEN years I have sold a large number of houses and lots in this city on the installment plan to parties who are now living free and independent of landlords. If not for that plan many of them would still be paying rent and swearing under landlords' rules. Others, by paying small amounts monthly, now own two to three houses; one party owns six and another owns seven. To begin on an upward path the installment plan has proved to be a glorious success. It is wonderful how rapidly small amounts grow into big figures. Building lots for sale on the installment plan situated on Seventh, Wilson, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Eleventh, Bay, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Castle, Church, Van, Ann, Orange, Chestnut, Walnut, Mulberry, Rod Cross, Gwynn, Charlotte and Rankin streets.
