Mischievous Boys.

Henry Hill and John Watters, two colored lads, were arrested on a complaint made to the Mayor by Amos Alderman, that they caused him great annoyance by throwing rocks against the building in which he was at work. He had tried to stop them by coaxing and threatening, but without avail, and was reluctantly compelled to ask for their arrest. The boys were recognized for their appearance before the Mayor to-morrow morning, to answer to the charges and abide the result.

W. W. & O. R. R.

The Board of Directors of the Wilmington, Wrightville & Onslow Railroad met at the office of the General Superintendent, E. F. Martin, in this city, yesterday.

The office of Secretary and Treasurer was separated, and John C. Daney was retained as Secretary and John O. Nixon, of this city, was made Treasurer. The Board of Directors made an assessment on the capital stock of five per cent., payable forthwith. The capital stock subscribed is $40,000, and the present assessment will be sufficient to complete the grading of the road. It is expected that the road will be ready for the iron in less than a month from this date.

Merely Incidental.

Father Ryan, we understand, was very much pleased with Wilmington and such of its people as he met while here. He left Tuesday night for Augusta, where he is also to lecture. On Tuesday Capt. D. O'Connor invited several gentlemen to meet him at dinner among whom were several old Confederates. Capt. O'Connor himself having served with distinction on the other side, with Gen. Sherman. The conversation turned, during dinner, as a matter of course, on incidents and commanders of the late war and these contending forces, with their feet beneath the mahogany, fought over between them many of their old fights and there was not a ripple of discord heard anywhere, only the flow of the mellow wine as the guests pledged each other and their host. This was practical reconstruction.

Young Mrs. Winthrop.

"Young Mrs. Winthrop," which you will see in a few days," remarked Mr. George L. Smith, agent of the Madison Square Young Mrs. Winthrop Company, "has just concluded a successful run of six months in New York City, where it attracted the largest and most fashionable audiences ever assembled in a New York play house. The play is from the pen of Bronson Howard, and is written in his best vein. The play is one that should be seen by every married couple, as it contains a lesson must needs be studied by young people just entering their married life if they desire love and happiness. The remarkable setting of young Mrs. Winthrop must be seen. Words are inadequate to properly describe it. The play will be produced here with all the splendor which celebrated its run at the Madison Square Theatre."

The Directors of the W. W. & O. R. R. went out this afternoon, in Capt. Southland's four-horse wagonette, for a trip on the line of the road between the city and Wrightsville.

Included in the cast of characters is Miss Maude Stuart as "Edith Chapin," her original part, and played by her through the entire run of the play in New York of over 200 nights.

Mr. Smith is now in the city arranging with Mr. Dyer for the presentation of the beautiful dramatic drama on the evening of April 27th, when Wilmington will have the finest entertainment of the season.

Exports Foreign.

Ger. barque Erna, Capt. Voss, cleared to-day for Liverpool with 1,880 bales cotton, valued at $83,755, shipped by Mr. A. H. Greene, and 600 bales cotton, valued at $27,000, shipped by Mr. Eugene McDonnell, making a total of 2,480 bales, valued at $110,755.

The Blind Preacher.

As stated by us a week or so ago Dr. Wilburn, the blind preacher, will lecture in this city and the dates have now been definitely fixed for the 25th and 26th inst., next Wednesday and Thursday. The lectures will be delivered in the interest of Front Street M. E. Church.

Accident.

Mr. Charles Bonham, who lives about 3 miles from the city, on the road to the Sound, had the misfortune to have his left arm broken last Saturday evening. He was going into the house with a bundle in his arms and his foot slipped on the step causing him to fall with the result above stated.

A War Belle.

There has been a large quantity of old iron, among which are a boiler and portions of machinery, landed on the dock at the foot of Chestnut streets, where it is being broken up as junk. It is a portion of one of the blockade vessels which was run ashore by the Federal cruisers during the War near Bald Head, where it has remained submerged in water and sand ever since, until recently.

Lands Wanted.

Mr. John T. Patrick, State Immigration Agent, advertises in this issue for well-timbered cypress lands. He has an enquiry from a party of gentlemen of means in Pennsylvania, who propose to establish, at a reasonable price, a factory for the manufacture of wood piping. They mean business, and parties in this section who may have such lands to dispose of on reasonable terms are requested to communicate with Mr. Patrick, at Wadesboro, or, if more convenient, with the Editor of this paper.

The Two Lectures.

Rev. Dr. Hoge, of Richmond, Va., arrived in the city this morning and is the guest of Mr. George W. Williams. He will lecture to-night and to-morrow night at the Opera House under the auspices of the Wilmington Library Association, who have done so much to furnish our citizens with first-class literary entertainments. The subject of to-night's lecture will be "Tent Life in the East," while that of to-morrow night will be "Modern Chivalry." Dr. Hoge comes to us with an excellent reputation as a lecturer and orator, and we hope that a crowded house my greet him on both occasions as there is a promise of a treat of rare excellence in store for them.

Southern Telegraph Company.

Dr. W. S. Morris and Col. J. H. Bryant are in the city in the interest of the Southern Telegraph Company, which is now pushing its way South by two lines—the Coast Line and the Richmond and Danville Line. At a meeting of the Produce Exchange, held this noon, these gentlemen were in attendance and presented, in an entirely informal way, the object of the company they represented, and the means by which they expected to carry out that object. There was quite a full attendance of members of the Exchange and a full and free interchange of thought and opinion in the matter, which resulted satisfactorily to all parties.

The representatives of the Telegraph Company express themselves as delighted with the cordial greetings which have been extended them from all with whom they have come in contact, and as gratified at the success which has attended the object of their mission. They state that the line is now completed nearly to Weldon and that it will surely come here at no distant day, and will be extended to Charleston, Savannah and other points farther South.

We were glad to notice that some of our best merchants and far-seeing financiers were deeply interested in the work, giving it encouragement and support, and we learn that the same spirit has actuated all our prominent business men and capitalists.

To Builders and others—Go to JACOB'S for Sash, Blinds and Doors, Glass &c. You can get all sizes and at the lowest prices.

Acme Manufacturing Company.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Acme Manufacturing Company, held at their office yesterday, Mr. M. Cronly was called to the chair and A. M. Waddell, Jr., appointed Secretary.

A committee was appointed to ascertain the amount subscribed to the capital stock, who reported that there were 1,520 shares subscribed, the par value of each share being $100, making $152,000.

On motion, it was resolved to go into an election of eight directors of the corporation to serve for the ensuing year, which resulted in the election of Wm. Latimer, M. Cronly, H. G. Latimer, E. S. Latimer, H. R. Latimer, H. Savage, J. G. Stephens and C. V. Ware.

The directors met immediately after the adjournment of the stockholders' meeting, and elected the following officers of the company for the ensuing year:

A. M. Waddell, Jr., Purchasing Agt.
Cronly & Morris, General Agents.

The Modern Age

for May is in its way a model magazine and should find a place on every library table. Its new serial beginning with this number might well serve as a model for some of our American novelists who are decrying everything in the way of fiction except what originates with their own particular clique. It is by Rudolph Lindau, and entitled The Californians. The opening chapters would show it to be smoothly and elegantly written without any sensational or impossible incidents, yet presenting vivid pictures, of life and possessing an intense interest. A scholarly essay by M. Ernest Renan, the great French ethnographer, is entitled The Jewish Race and the Jewish Religion, and the argument for the suppression of public gambling at Monaco is presented an entertaining shape in the article Monte Carlo. Nihilistic Sketches is compiled and translated from the new book by Stepannik, which gives the world's first glimpse into the inside workings of that mighty conspiracy which goes under the name of Nihilism. The Modern Age is published at Buffalo, N. Y. Price $1.60 per year.
