THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C. MONDAY, APRIL 30, 1883. NO. 103

PLEASE NOTICE. We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest but the name of the writer must always be attached to the Editor. Communications must be written on one side of the paper. Personalities must be avoided. And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial columns.

The London Times advocates the abolishing of trial by jury in Ireland.

Queen Victoria is now much better and will soon be able to stand without assistance.

The French government has asked for a credit of 5,000,000 francs for the Tonquin expedition.

Mr. Cable's reading and lecture tour was a failure. He is not qualified to shine in that way.

Katie Putnam, the actress, has been elected an honorary member of a fire company of Mobile, Ala.

Seats in the Chicago Produce Exchange are quoted at about $4,000. A large amount of their business is said to come from New York.

France is following the lead of the United States, though rather far in the rear, in refunding her public debt at a lower rate of interest. She will now pay 4 1/2 per cent.

John Bright estimates that since the beginning of the present century Great Britain has spent $22,000,000,000 for war and only about $4,000,000,000 for civil governments.

The cigar manufacturers at Milford, Mass., have increased the price of cigars $1 per thousand. A little more tariff reduction and cigars will be tabooed to poor men.

Gov. Butler has been called upon to account for his absenteeism by the Legislature, which contests a veto on the ground that he was out of the State when it was sent to the House.

A slight notion of the immensity of the cattle business of Texas may be obtained from the fact that 215 trains will be required to move one herd now being transported from Millheim to Wichita Falls.

A few months ago the Southern Pacific Railway syndicate offered the heirs of Charles Morgan $8,000,000 for their steamship line. The purchase has been just made for $500,000 less than the original offer.

The French Government is building two new iron-clads, two of which will carry eighty ton guns—heavy enough to sink the English naval Jumbo, Invincible. The cost of these vessels will be $2,300,000 each.

The fumes from the wine stored in the great wine vaults in London are so strong that a person entering them will immediately become intoxicated unless he fortifies himself beforehand with a glass of strong wine internally.

It is reported that the winter in Iceland has been unusually mild, and the expected famine has not made its appearance. The fishing in all parts of the island has been uncommonly good and Hecla is not in eruption.

A private letter from Captain Boynton, dated at Bordeaux, France, March 24th, states that the famous swimmer was then en route to Spain, where he expects to navigate some of the largest rivers in the kingdom. He was first to visit Madrid.

A fellow who lost a tooth in the Federal Army has applied for a pension and been refused! This is hard on the man with the broken tooth when it is considered how many bummers are drawing pensions who never were in the army at all.

The Birmingham Age remarks that if there had been no protective tariff there would not be a furnace in Alabama to-day. And the Mobile Register adds that half a dozen iron furnaces produce more profit and clear money for the people of Alabama than the entire cotton crop of the State.

Jay Gould has been ciphering and has figured it out that by devoting two years to a voyage around the world he will save $328,000. In other words, allowing an expense of $450 a day for running his yacht, and $100,000 for interest on the investment, he will still live about $7,000 per week cheaper than he lives ashore.

A recent English traveler tells of the Hoffman House, which boasts the finest drinking bar in the world, of which the proprietor is the notorious Fiske, who got off so easily with a brief incarceration for shooting Mr. Seward on the staircase of the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

The bottom seems to have dropped out of the kerosene market.

The Wilson Siftings is trying hard to furnish the citizens of that town with a nicely little daily newspaper. It gives the telegraphic news and markets and should receive that which it merits, the hearty support of the people of Wilson and the surrounding country.

The Cornet Concert Club will meet to-night for practice with a view to appearing on Memorial Day.

Mr. James H. Chadbourn, Jr., has been elected Mayor of the thriving little town of Chadbourn, in Columbus county.

A soldier on guard at Fort Wayne, Mass., was suddenly stricken with pain. He thought he was gone, but when he rubbed on St. Jacobs Oil, was all right again.

"Eye-peeping" is now the favorite game for evenings. Two holes are made in a screen, against which some person hidden behind places his eyes, and the audience in front have to guess to whom the eyes belong.

A match game of base ball will be played at Hilton to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, between two colored clubs the "Wilmington Mutuals" and the "Unknown." The public are invited to witness the game.

Mr. G. W. Linder has just received a fresh stock of carefully selected groceries and offers them for sale at J. H. McGarity & Co's. old stand. He says his new May butter is of superior quality. See ad.

Mr. J. J. Hopkins has resigned his position as one of the city letter carriers to which he was recently appointed, and Mr. J. M. Barlow has been appointed to fill the vacancy. More important duties was the cause of the resignation.

We understand that the market hours will be strictly adhered to by the butchers hereafter. The markets will close promptly at 10 o'clock A. M. and not open again until 4 o'clock P. M. It would be well for housekeepers to bear this fact in mind.

We learn that many of the farmers in Sampson and Duplin counties are busy in replanting their corn, which in many places has been washed out by the recent heavy rains which have prevailed extensively in those sections.

Mr. Louis Dryfoos, who has been absent something more than two weeks on a business trip to New Orleans, returned to the city last night, via Baltimore, where he met Mrs. Dryfoos, who had been on a visit to friends in the North and accompanied him home.

City Court.

John Lucas, colored, was before the Mayor this morning charged with disorderly conduct. He was found guilty and required to pay a fine of $5 or take 20 days in the city prison. He paid the fine.

Lizzie John, colored, was then arraigned upon the same charge with like results except that she was fined $4, which she paid.

River Improvements.

The "new cut" at Snow's Marsh Channel, abreast of New Inlet, has been deepened to such an extent that vessels drawing 14 feet of water can now pass through at half tide with perfect safety. A lighter drawing 13 1/2 feet passed through this cut yesterday. It is expected that this will prove an important feature in the river and harbor improvements now going on.

Look Before you Leap.

A. & I. SHRIER are now showing the best line of Mens, Boys' and Childrens' Clothing that has ever been brought to this Market. Here buyers will find it greatly to their interest, to inspect their stock of Spring Clothing before purchasing elsewhere.

Aaron Burr. Rev. Dr. Milburn, the "blind man eloquent," will deliver his third and last lecture at the Opera House to-morrow night. His subject will be on "The Life and Character of Aaron Burr," one of the most interesting and fruitful subjects in American history. To the hundreds in this city who have heard Dr. Milburn in the pulpit and on the lecture platform any notice in praise of his eloquent oratory and wonderful powers of graphic description would be an act of supererogation, but to those who, unfortunately, have not heard him, the lecture to-morrow night presents an excellent and only opportunity. Those who were instrumental in securing his services here have laid our people under deep and lasting obligations. We bespeak for him a crowded house.

Rev. Dr. Milburn. Rev. Dr. Milburn preached yesterday forenoon at the Front Street M. E. Church, where, notwithstanding the threatening appearance of the weather, there was a large concourse of people in attendance. His was a grand and sublime effort, and was listened to with profound attention, delight and edification by his throng of hearers.

He officiated at the First Baptist Church at night to an audience that filled that large and roomy structure to its utmost capacity. The ordinary seating accommodations were soon fully occupied and chairs were placed all through the several aisles and in every available space throughout the church, yet there were dozens who were compelled to stand during the entire service. People representing nearly every Christian denomination in the city were present and quite a number of persons of the Hebrew faith were also in attendance. The weather was very threatening and undoubtedly many who would have been glad to hear Dr. Milburn and who intended to have been present at the services last night, were deterred from going by the menacing aspect of the weather. Had it been a cheerful, pleasant night there can be no doubt that hundreds would have found it utterly impossible to gain an entrance.

Criminal Carelessness. We learn that in the case of Mr. G. W. Brinkley, at Magnolia, Duplin county, who took a dose of morphine in mistake for quinine, an account of which appeared a week ago to-day in the REVIEW, the escape from fatal consequences to others was almost miraculous. It appears that Mr. Brinkley had ordered a lot of quinine from some Northern druggist, and that the order was filled and the goods sent. Before he had sold any of the supposed quinine however, he had occasion to use some himself, when he found, to his horror, that it was morphine. Through the grossly criminal carelessness of those who put up the medicine, bottles containing morphine had been labelled quinine and shipped as such. Had he sold any of the quinine before testing it himself, as he was very liable to do, to persons living in the country, remote from physicians, death would have been inevitable to those who should have taken it. In his own case it was a most fortunate occurrence that skilled medical attendance was immediately at hand. Mr. Brinkley rejoices to think that he had sold none before it was tested upon himself, but we imagine he would prefer to decline taking such risks as a daily venture.

In this case an awful responsibility and accountability rests upon some one. In the preparation of even one dose of medicine for the relief of the sick and afflicted the greatest care should be taken that a human life should not be jeopardized by improper compounds; but in a wholesale house, whence medicines are shipped to all parts of the country, and liable to be taken by thousands of people, when such a mistake as we have described is made it becomes appalling. There was a certain and speedy death in every dose, however small, unless, as in Mr. Brinkley's case, a physician was immediately at hand to remove the fearful dose from the stomach before it had time to be absorbed in the system.

There are complaints from citizens residing North of the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. that some of the fire companies, when called to a fire in that section, take the sidewalk instead of the middle of the street. Recently an old colored man was knocked down by one of the companies while running on the sidewalk and considerably injured.

Exports Foreign. Swed. barque Thorgny, Andersen, cleared to-day for Riga, Russia, with 3,030 barrels rosin, valued at $4,693.03, shipped by Messrs. ReRosset & Co. Br. barque George Davis, Capt. McCumber, cleared for Glasgow, Scotland, with 1,500 casks spirits turpentine and 3,320 barrels rosin, valued at $35,767, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son. Nor. barque Hjemmet, Capt. Ingemundsen, cleared for Goole, Eng., with 2,790 barrels rosin, valued at $5,397.41, shipped by Messrs. Paterson, Downing & Co.

Removal. Mr. J. R. Melton gives notice elsewhere that he will remove to-morrow to the New Market, on South Front street, where he will occupy Stalls Nos. 1 and 4, as also the circular stand at the head of the market. He will keep nothing but the best and will not only supply splendid meats but tripe and vegetables may be found at his stalls also. The circular stand will be devoted to the sale of confectionery and fruit. Mr. J. J. Hopkins is still with Mr. Melton and will preside with his usual grace and dignity as a Knight of the Cleaver.

St. Thomas' Catholic Church. The services at St. Thomas' Catholic Church yesterday were unusually interesting. Archbishop Gibbons preached in the forenoon a sermon of great interest and beauty. The church was crowded and the ceremonies were conducted with all the dignity and impressive solemnity characteristic of the forms of worship of that body of Christians.

Bishop Northrop preached at night, and was listened to by an audience equally as large as that which gathered at the morning service. His sermon is spoken as having been a fine, scholarly and effective effort. The music upon both occasions was very good.

"Fun in a Boarding School." The performance of the above named musical comedy by the "John E. Ince Comedy Company, at the Opera House, last Saturday night, was well-attended. The play was one of the most ridiculously funny pieces we have ever seen presented here, and was rendered in a style in perfect keeping with its sentiment. Miss Eliani was a charming actress and we think the best vocalist that has appeared here this season. The entire company did well, keeping the audience in roars of laughter from the time the curtain rose until it descended upon the last musical tableaux. Every one was pleased and we have not a doubt that all wished that the day would not be far distant when Mr. Ince and his company would "come again!"
