THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C. TUESDAY, MAY 1, 1883. NO. 104

PLEASE NOTICE. We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest but the name of the writer must always be attached to the Editor. Communications must be written on one side of the paper. Personalities must be avoided. And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial columns.

The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

The first direct importation of goods arrived at the Atlanta Customhouse on Friday last.

Delaware reports say that the peach crop of that State this year will be the largest ever known.

The cyclone killed nearly if not quite 300 persons and wounded 350. Many battles show fewer casualties.

It is expected that work will be at once commenced on the James river improvement and continue until December.

Nineteen applications for divorce were granted by the Supreme Court at Springfield, Mass., last Wednesday afternoon.

The largest mermaid in the world is in the British Museum. It weighs nearly two tons. The largest one in the Smithsonian weighs less than one ton.

Ogden Golet, one of the very wealthy New Yorkers, has sailed from New York for a cruise in his yacht Norseman in Mediterranean waters.

The Baltimore Sun states that of the 600 tornadoes recorded since 1795 there were 164 in the Southern States, and of these 30 were unusually destructive.

Lady Florence Dixie is small, wiry and thirty years old; she swims, rides, drives and shoots. She is accomplished, clever, warm-hearted and sincere.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean makes an analysis of Presidential possibilities, and rather plausibly argues out that Indiana is the pivotal State of 1884.

According to the Boston Post the veto score revised stands: Butler 4, Cleveland 5, Pattison 6. The reform Governments appear to be doing quite well.

Charles Couldock, the actor, who supported Charlotte Cushman through her first American tour in 1867, was seventy-five years of age last Saturday. For the last five years he has sustained the part of Dunstan in "Hazel Kirke."

Early immigration reports down to 1830, or thereabouts, specify among occupations "gentlemen." Thus in 1832 New York received twenty-three "gentlemen" and four ladies, New Orleans two, and Philadelphia one. This form of immigration has practically ceased.

The Augusta Chronicle says that "the two best writers of modern days were Louis Veuillet and Horace Greeley, neither of whom received an academic education and both of whom were bitterly opposed to the custom of making Latin and Greek a part of the course of instruction in public and private schools." Horace Greeley spoke of the public debt of the United States as so many thousand millions of dollars and not as so many billions.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brewer, of Hartford, Connecticut, kept unburied for several months the corpse of their young daughter. It seems that the child had a horror of being buried in the earth, and the parents needed considerable time to prepare "a well-lighted tomb, so arranged in its ornamental architectural character, and in all of its surroundings, as to be as free as possible from the repulsive features and associations of such things."

The celebrated 'Fish Brand Gills' Twine is sold only at JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

Mr. Preston Cumming leaves here to-night for New York, on a visit combining business and pleasure. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Cumming and will be absent two weeks, perhaps longer.

The Scarborough House.

Messrs. Scarborough & Sellers opened their new house this morning under very favorable auspices. It is located at No. 107 N. Water street, near Princess, and is called the Scarborough House. They have been at much pains and expense to prepare the place and will undoubtedly receive a large share of the public patronage.

New Enterprise.

Mr. W. Otersen, corner 5th and Market streets, has a choice selection of groceries and asks the patronage of the public. He keeps his stock replenished with fresh supplies and has further shown his enterprise by having a free delivery wagon and will send goods purchased from him to any part of the city. Read his advertisement and give him a trial.

Presbyterian Assembly.

The General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church convenes in Lexington, Ky., on the 17th of May. Its sessions are always attended by the ablest men in the church, and attract no little attention in all religious circles. Rev. A. Kirkland, of Whiteville, and Mr. John McLaurin, of this city, will attend as delegates from the Wilmington Presbytery, and Rev. Dr. Wilson, of the First Presbyterian church, of this city, will also be in attendance as stated clerk of the Assembly.

The Lecture To-Night.

Rev. Dr. Milburn delivers his last lecture at the Opera House to-night. His subject will be "The Life and Character of Aaron Burr." The times in which Mr. Burr lived and wielded an immense influence upon the destinies of our country are rich in historic interest, and the character of the man who came within one vote of being President of these United States, was a strange combination of good and evil. The pinnacle of fame to which he rose and the abyss of obscurity and neglect to which he finally sank, his almost incomparable talents, devoted solely to his own personal aggrandizement, his duel with Alexander Hamilton, in which the latter was killed, his attempt to found an empire in the Southwest, and the ruin he brought upon others in that effort, together with his unbridled licentiousness, form a character study such as this country has seldom, if ever, produced. Of such a remarkable man, the times in which he lived and the scenes in which he was a conspicuous actor, Dr. Milburn will speak, as he only can speak, to-night. We predict that his lecture to night will be the most interesting and instructive of his course, and those who from any circumstances are kept from an attendance will miss an intellectual treat of rare excellence.

Fish Culture.

A gentleman in this city received a telegram to-day from Mr. S. G. Worth, the efficient and indefatigable Superintendent of the Fish Commission, who is now at the fish hatchery at Avoca, stating that he would send an expert to Wilmington on Thursday next who will look into the practicability of establishing a fish hatchery in the neighborhood of this city.

City Court.

John Brown was drunk and down, and a policeman took him in. He was a jolly tar, who got aground at the bar, by a lack of water in his gin. The Mayor was kind and Brown was not fined when brought up for trial this morning, but was allowed to depart, with joy in his heart and a grin his rough features adorning.

"Chief W. F. D."

Capt. C. D. Myers has received a new fireman's cap which is a very neat and tasteful affair. It is of red leather, of what is known as the "helmet" pattern, with vizzor of black leather, and on an arch in front is the distinguished legend "Chief, W. F. D." by which means he may be readily known in time of fire. It is very becoming, but we must hope that he will seldom have occasion to wear it except upon parade display.

U. S. Court.

The United States District Court, His Honor Judge Seymour presiding, convened at the U. S. Court Room in this city at precisely 10 o'clock this morning. The duty of selecting and impanelling a grand jury was immediately begun and concluded, after which they were charged by the court as to their duties, and were conducted to the jury room. There is but a very small docket, and the term will probably be a very short one.

We understand there is but little probability that any of the cases brought from other counties in the district will be brought to trial at this term of the Court, and that only cases arising in this city will be heard. If this be so many of the witnesses will probably be discharged to-night or tomorrow.

The Market Houses.

The new market houses, which have for so long a time been unoccupied and silent, were the scene of busy life this morning. The marketmen opened there in good force and the several stalls devoted to the sale of meats were well stocked with meats of all kinds, the most of it very good in quality. With one or two exceptions, the vegetable stalls also were occupied and well supplied. The trade was good, and the salesmen appeared to be well contented with the change and conducted business as if they had always been used to the place and not in the least as new comers just "setting up shop." We noticed that quite a number of our citizens paid the markets a visit on this first day's occupation, not particularly as purchasers, but to see "how the thing worked."

The Postal Delivery.

The city postal delivery went into operation this morning, and we are informed that the delivery of postal matter on the several routes was accomplished much more expeditiously on the first two rounds than was anticipated by those having the matter in charge. There was, as might reasonably be expected, a few "hitches," but they were of such a character that they were soon remedied and it is expected that everything pertaining to the working of the free delivery system in this city will be in first-rate order within the week and that the delivery clerks will have everything so arranged and systematized in that time that there will be neither disorder or delay in the distribution of mail matter on their respective routes.

In connection with this matter it becomes of importance to our citizens, who are not already aware of the fact, to know that the postage on all drop letters at free delivery offices (of which this city is one) is now two cents, instead of one, as heretofore. This rule goes into effect to-day, and should be observed, as where only one cent is placed upon a drop letter the postoffice officials are obliged to collect the other cent from the party to whom the letter is addressed.

Mr. John C. Borneman will hereafter be found in the new market. He has stall No. 8, where he is comfortably located and where he promises to do his best by those who may continue to favor him with their patronage. See ad elsewhere.
