THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII.

WILMINGTON, N. C. TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1883.

NO. 110

The Daily Review has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

Miss Mary Shay, of Geneva County, Ala., split one day last week 500 rails, and you can't call her a one-horse shay.

Colonel McDonald, of Coffee County, Ga., looks as happy as a boy with red-tipped boots when he speaks of his "girl-baby No. 92."

It is claimed for Governor Ireland, of Texas, that he has given more away in charities since his election than his salary amounts to.

The Princess of Wales, has of late been wearing a hussar jacket of dark cloth, heavily braided down the front, on the collar, sleeves and basque.

An old Georgia lady, of great experience, says that children born on the decrease of the moon are more than apt to be girls and those on the full moon are boys.

The well-informed Apalachicola (Fla.) Tribune says: Peter Cooper, the great abolitionist, has passed away—a man whose memory deserves to be revered by all civilized nations.

There are six telephone factories in the United States, all doing a prosperous business. In one alone orders have been received for 6,000 instruments in six weeks' time.

The past season in Jacksonville, Fla., though rather short, has been the most prosperous in the city's history. A careful investigation shows that 44,167 tourists have visited the city during the past winter.

An island in Vermillion Bay, on the coast of Louisiana, has a solid mass of salt to a depth of twenty feet, so hard that it requires to be mined with dynamite and ground in steam mills. About 200 tons a day are taken out.

An estimate of the value of the various private picture galleries in Paris gives that of Baron Rothschild $10,000,000; Duc d'Aumale, $15,000,000; Sir Richard Wallace, $8,000,000; M. Secretair, $2,000,000, and Mme. Coscin, $1,000,000.

More than half a million people are employed in the coal mines of Great Britain, and last year more than a thousand were killed in them, the average of accidents being about three for every working day in the year. The annual product is over 150,000,000 tons of more than twice that of the United States.

Washington Critic: The Republican Mayor of Vincennes, Ind., went out yesterday and hung himself because the day before he had been beaten by a Democrat. If every Republican who is beaten by a Democrat in the next few years follows this example, there will be a rapid diminution of our population.

Aprons of Treasurer Worth's return from New York with a carpet-bag full of worthless special tax bonds, the News and Observer recalls the history of a few of the sharp transactions connected with those bonds and the State school fund. It says:

When Treasurer Worth was in New York the other day, he got possession of a legacy left us from the days of 1869, that revives old memories. It was a package of $450,000 in special tax bonds. These bonds had been deposited in a bank in New York for the State, by Treasurer Jenkins in 1869, and quietly remained there until Doctor Worth called for them. Their history should not be forgotten. In 1837, the United States having considerable surplus on hand, arising chiefly from the sales of public lands, deposited it with the several States; North Carolina's share was about $1,400,000, and this became the basis of our school fund. The board of education invested of this money $400,000 in stock of the Wilmington and Weldon railroad company. In April, 1869, the Republican bosses sold this stock for $148,000. This stock is now worth about par, so here is a clear loss of $252,000 in this sale. This money was at once used by the State government to pay the legislators. In order that it could be so used, since the constitution forbade the use of the principal, the proceeds of the sale was just put down on the Treasurer's books as income. As "income," it was used to pay the per diem of the members. In October, 1869, this money was repaid out of the State's taxes to the board of education, of which Treasurer Jenkins was ex-officio treasurer, and it was invested in special tax bonds, at 33 cents on the dollar, the purchase amounting to $450,000.

These are the bonds. Another transaction of about the like kind was as follows: The United States government donated land scrip for an agricultural college. This scrip was sold by the Republicans apparently in November, 1868, for $123,040 and in October, 1869, $120,000 of this fund was likewise invested in 240 State bonds, as follows:

Forty old State bonds; forty new State bonds and 160 special tax bonds— which, says R. W. Lassiter—then treasurer of this fund, were deposited in bank where they are subject to the order of the board. Now, exactly why these investments were made in special tax bonds at that late day would puzzle the inquirer not acquainted with the turns and twists of the times of which we write. Here we find $400,000 worth of stock in the Wilmington & Weldon railroad sacrificed for $150,000—and the land scrip given by the government sacrificed for $122,000, and nearly all the proceeds thrown away in worthless special tax bonds.

The secret history of this transaction was said at the time to be that the ring men found the special tax bonds going down in the N. Y. market so fast that it was necessary to check the fall and bull them up. To that end these funds were then thought of, and the money was thrown in the pockets of the ring to help bull the dishonored bonds that never had any bottom to them, and were fast sinking out of sight. And so the educational fund and land scrip that would now be worth three quarters of a million of dollars to us were both dissipated—and Treasurer Worth brought home with that package of $450,000 of worthless paper all that represents the $400,000 of stock the board of education sold to get the cash to pay the per diem of the Radical legislature. Treasurer Worth found on deposit in New York also $40,000 of the special tax bonds, the proceeds of the agricultural scrip. What times those were!

There is complaint among the butchers of a scarcity of good beef cattle in this market at the present time. We hope our country friends are not going to let us suffer for the want of good beef, but will drive in their beeves at once.

There has been a very general use of the paint pot and brush in the city this Spring and the work is not yet completed. In every direction we notice that the dwellings, outbuildings and fences are having coats of paint by which they are made more pleasing to the eye as well as less liable to decay.

Camp meeting will open on Friday next, at Gander Hall, a point on the East Shore of the Cape Fear, about twelve miles below the city. Capt. Albert Worth, with the steamer Gov. Work and tows, will run there and back Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

A New Invention.

We learn that a man at Rocky Point, Pender county, who is possessed with an inventive genius, has invented, and will soon have patented, a machine for making shingles which bids fair to supersede all other methods and machines now in use. It is claimed that by the use of this new design for shingle making two men can easily manufacture ten thousand good shingles per day. We trust that it may prove an entire success, and that our young friend may reap a rich reward from his invention.

LaGrange Commencement.

The commencement exercises of LaGrange Academy will take place May 30th and 31st. The first day will be devoted to declamations, recitations and dialogues, and at 11 o'clock of the second day the annual address will be delivered by Hon. A. S. Merrimon, the exercises to be concluded with a concert at night. The marshals are K. E. Sutton, H. F. Murphy, E. C. King, J. T. Cobb, D. L. Wooten and Redin Corbet, to whom we tender thanks for an invitation to be present.

Historical and Scientific Society.

Quite a goodly assemblage greeted Mr. Eugene S. Martin at the meeting at this Society last evening. His subject was the recent Comet particularly with a dissertation generally upon the structure, movements and organization of those heavenly bodies and was replete with interest and instruction. The lecturer showed great familiarity with the subject and it is evident that he has been a diligent student of the science of astronomy; and not only a student but that he also possesses the happy faculty of imparting to others in a very pleasing and forcible manner the results of his study and research. It was one of the most interesting meetings of the Society and will be pleasantly remembered by those whose good fortune it was to be present.

Further time was granted the committee on Fire Department in the matter of the petition of the Little Columbia Fire Co. Also, to the Sanitary committee in the matter of removing the city pound. Also, to the Market committee concerning the petition for a Third ward market house. Also, to the Finance committee concerning the claim of Geo. Harriss & Co.

About Report.

The steam yacht Passport has been completely and thoroughly overhauled, refitted and repainted preparatory to the summer excursion business and will begin her regular trips between here and Smithville on Thursday, the 10th inst. She is now in tip-top order and is a "daisy" a craft for her size as any that floats in Southern waters.—Capt. Harper will be her commander, as heretofore, which is a sufficient guarantee that the safety, comfort and enjoyment of excursionists and other passengers will be carefully considered and attended to.

Tertio Millennial.

Our thanks are due the General Manager, Charles W. Green, for an invitation to attend the "Tertio Millennial" (third of a 1,000 years) Anniversary of the settlement of Santa Fe, New Mexico, which is to commence on the 2nd day of July next and continue until August 3d. This is, as the name implies, the 333d anniversary of the settlement of that city, and the interesting features of the occasion will be the introduction of scenes and characters representing the different phases of civilization, from the first settlement by the Spaniards, in the year 1550, to the present time.
