THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII. WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, MAY 21, 1883. NO. 121

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper published in the city of Wilmington.

The State of Kansas holds 52,000,000 bushels of wheat and corn from last year's harvest.

The grave of Linton Stephens, who Georgians say was an abler man than his brother, Alexander H., is marked only by a mound of jessamines and roses.

Col. Alex. McClure, according to the Chattanooga Times, is not a Democrat but a liberal Republican. He calls himself an Independent. In reality he is a political bastard.

A Georgia colored mother dreamed she was beating up cornmeal for bread, and when she awoke in the morning she found her baby dead, nearly every bone in its body being broken.

Baroness Alphonse de Rothschild, at a recent ball in Paris, wore a "Lord Byron" dress, of which it is said: "It was of black velvet, like his melancholy; covered with diamonds, like his poetry."

The small fry pawnbrokers in New York have been "knocked out" by a law recently signed by the Governor compelling them to pay a license of $500 yearly and to furnish bonds in $20,000.

Miss Lucy Larcom says in her lecture on woman as lyric poets that she ranks Miss Sigourney, Hannah Gould, and Alice and Phebe Cary as the representative women lyricists of America, and she is not far wrong.

Bismarck has bought immense tracts of land in Mexico, hoping to establish there German colonies as a check upon the United States. A vain hope, thinks the Augusta Chronicle, as the naturalized Teuton and the Celt are rapidly taking possession of the United States and will gobble up Mexico later on.

A treaty of peace between Chili and Peru has been signed by Gen. Novoa and Gen. Iglesias, and is said to have been confirmed. Peru cedes Tacna and Arica for ten years. At the end of that time plebiscite is to be taken to determine to which country those provinces shall belong. The country acquiring them will pay indemnity.

The financial position of the city of Berlin is one which compares very strikingly with that of New York. Exclusive of the city hall, schools, and hospitals, the municipality owns in and around the city land worth $10,000,000.
 The debt is $25,950,000, but the city gas works alone are worth that sum. Paris has twelve times the indebtedness of Berlin, and New York about four times.

One of our exchanges has this item: Jones is proud of his wife, and with reason, for Mrs. Jones is pretty as well as smart. She was lecturing on temperance reform in Whitechapel and got naturally worked up as she rehearsed the many things that should be done, but which no one seemed ready to do, "Oh, dear, she exclaimed, 'I wish I were a man!'" "I object," exclaimed Jones rising from his seat. It brought down the house.

It is going the rounds that an English physician has found a cure for rheumatism in total abstinence from food. He declares that many cases of acute articular rheumatism have been cured by fasting from four to eight days, while chronic rheumatism was also alleviated. No medicines were given, but patients could have cold water and lemonade in moderation.— The doctor states that rheumatism is only a phase of indigestion, and, therefore, can be cured by giving complete and continued rest to all the digestive organs.

Forty-eight head of Jersey cattle, the property of T. S. Cooper, of Linden Grove, Coopersburg, Pa., and nearly all of them recently imported, were sold at auction in the America Institute building, New York, last Thursday. They fetched nearly $43,000. The famous bull Pedro was on exhibition, and was led out whenever any of his progeny were under the hammer, but was not himself offered for sale. The New York Sun gives the following report of the sale:

Daisy of St. Peter's, a handsome brown-colored cow, with a distinguished record as a milk giver, was sold for $5, 150. Distaff, a dark, fawn cow, four years old, for $1,500. Sultana, an orange fawn cow, five years old, with a pedigree that filled two pages of the catalogue, and showed some of the best blood of Jersey, for $2,700; Dutchess, a fawn-colored cow, for $1,250; Daisy of St. John's, a gray cow, six years old, $1,500; Cotaway's Daisy, four years younger, for $1,600; Khedive's Fancy, a fawn cow, six years old, for $1,650; Count St. George, a famous bull, a little more than two years old, and the winner of the first prize over all Jersey last year, for $2,600; St. Clementine, a gray fawn cow, twelve years old, the dam of Count St. George, and the winner of the first prize over all Jersey for rich milk when three years old, for $2,600; Khedive's Rosy, a fawn cow, for $1,350; Lydia, a fawn cow, four years old, for $1,050; Lady of Kassassin, a dark fawn cow, with an illustrious pedigree, for $2,350.

A fine assortment of Guns and Pistols at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

The supply of vegetables in our market this season has been plentiful in quantity and exceptionally fine in quality.

Babies' pictures successfully taken at the Yates Gallery. Instantaneous

Ex-Mayor Fishplate, of this city, was registered at Guy's Hotel in Baltimore on Thursday.

An old hen-pecked man from Ohio sprang his back in lighting a fire.
 He got a good drubbing.
 But St. Jacobs Oil rubbing.
 Made him well and very much spryer.

The Pusspout took quite a number of passengers down the river this morning who will try their luck at fishing during the day. It don't appear to us that this is a very fatal day for the fishes.
 It is too windy for them to bit freely.

It has been an open secret for some days past that Capt. Sutherland had bought out Mr. S. A. Currie's sale and livery stables. Mr. Currie retires because of ill health and it is probable that the business will be continued and the stables kept open.

This being a legal holiday there was nothing doing in magisterial circles; the county officers, banks, chamber of commerce, and Produce Exchange were closed, and some of the commercial houses on Water street closed for the day at noon.

There is rather a small supply of quite inferior beef in the market. But very few good cattle have been driven to this market recently, and when they come they are gobbled up so quickly that a hungry mortal who is not there at the right moment to make a "grab" has to content himself as best he can with an inferior quality.

Target Practice.
 A detachment of the Wilmington Light Infantry, in uniform, crossed to the West side of the river this morning to exercise in target practice. It was rather a bad day for the sport on account of the wind, which blew in gusts and squads all through the earlier portion of the day.

A Fine Sermon.
 In accordance with announcement made in the Review on Saturday last, the Rev. D. W. Herring, of Pender county, preached yesterday morning at the First Baptist church. His sermon was a fine effort, and taking into consideration the fact that he is a young man who has not yet graduated, it was a masterly production. He was listened to with much pleasure and edification by a large and interested audience.

THE MEDICOS.

The City of Beautiful Trees—The Doctors in Session—The Address of Welcome—Handsome Speech—The Literary and Professional Contributions—The North Carolina Board of Health—The Board of Examiners—The Banquet.

(Reported for the Daily Review.)

The City of Beautiful Trees had on its handsomest garb of green. The shower of Monday left the streets in good condition, and the air was fresh and invigorating. The invasion of doctors was en masse; carriages and omnibuses disgorging fat doctors and lean, young doctors and old; doctors with plug hats; doctors with crush hats; the gay and festive, the solemn and dignified, the important and the I-don'tcare-a-fig sort; and soon the streets were lively. Generals, and majors, and lawyers, and bookkeepers and school-boys caught the influence of the hour and every one on the street was addressed as "Doctor." Even our neighbor, the dignified Judge, whose office was hard by one of the hotels, talked physic, and put on the airs of a sawbones of distinction.

Promptly to the hour printed in the programme, Dr. Stator, Chairman of the local Society, and master of ceremonies, called the Society to order, and the Divine blessing was invoked by the Rev. Mr. Wales. Dr. Pittman, the venerable representative of the original founders of the Society, introduced Mr.
 Donnell Gillman, who welcomed the Society in a chaste and impressive address. The grace and dignity of the young speaker, and his knowledge of the history of the progress of the medical profession was highly appreciated by his audience who applauded him with unfeigned enthusiasm.

A glance around the hall showed that although there were scattered here and there many of the venerable members so well known to the State, yet the young and middle-aged representatives composed the bulk of the session. The stage was decorated with beautiful flowers in garlands and festoons, and the venerable President seemed to be dazzled by the excess of finery about him.

Dr. Hall, the President, is an elderly gentleman, with gray beard and hair.
 His voice was feeble and carelessly modulated. It is so easy to preside over a meeting of doctors who good-naturedly submit to any sort of a ruling that the President had no chance to display a knowledge of parliamentary information.

The routine business of the day was entered into without delay. Committees were appointed and work for the subsequent session settled upon. The Secretary, with a fine unctious voice and a pronunciation worthy of a son of Erin (which in truth he is not) went through that old roll of members into which he throws all of his energy, and on which occasions he embraces the opportunity of trilling his r's after the approved manner. But by universal consent Picot is considered a complete master of the art of setting a new meeting fairly on its feet.

The literary contributions were many and voluminous; but as far as one can judge by the reading of them, they were less commendable than at the last meeting. Most of them were well studied compilations—very few were original records of clinical or scientific research.
 This is perhaps not so much the lack of such research, as for the fact the society appoints one reporter for each branch of medicine, who gives a synopsis of the progress of the department for a year. These papers are so long that others are silenced. Your correspondent knows that there were some original worker there, one especially who had well sustained the name of a learned scribe by investigations in the domain of physiology. It is not known to many that Dr. Whitehead, junior, had mad some brilliant experiments in the physiology of bone-marrow, for which he carried off the prize of the University of Pennsylvania.

The morning of the second day was devoted in part to the Conjoint Session of the State Board of Health and the Medical Society. The ex-President of the Board, (Dr. M. Whitehead, the Pres-being absent) presided conjointly with the President of the Society over the meeting. The terms of two members having expired by limitation, viz: Dr.
 Chas. J. O'Hagan and Geo. A. Foote, an election resulted in the election of Drs. J. W. Jones of Wake Forest, and Dr. John McDonald of Washington.

Free Music.

Prof. Hobbs has a limited number of copies of five different songs, with music, now at Mr. Heinsberger's Music Store, which he proposes to give away to those who may call for them soon.
 These songs are all by Prof. Hobbs, words and music.

 pictures guaranteed at the Yates Gallery.

Camp Meeting.

There was an immense throng in attendance at the colored camp meeting at "Gander Hall" yesterday, among whom was a "right smart sprinklin'" of whites. There have been various estimates as to the number present, but all agree that the boats returning from the camp ground to the city last night brought more than 1,000 passengers.— Opinions differ and the estimates range from 2,000 to 5,000 persons as having been in attendance yesterday.

Visitors at Waccamaw.

There are a party of gentlemen from Augusta, Ga. who visit Waccamaw Lake regularly every Summer, for a week's fishing and shooting. They arrived last Saturday night, and crossing the lake have pitched their tents on the South side, near the mouth of Waccamaw River. They bring with them a full equipage with a retinue of servants and every thing that may conduce to the comfort and pleasure of the party during their sojourn by the lakeside. These gentlemen are Messrs.
 R. W. Potter, J. O. Matthews, J. A.
 Crutcher, D. H. VanBuren and J.
 W. Evans. They are all cotton merchants, with the exception of Mr. Van-Buren, who is the agent at Augusta for the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta R.
 R. Mr. Potter ships largely to foreign ports and a great deal of his cotton passes out from this port. A party of gentlemen from this city will go up to Waccamaw next Friday on a visit to them in their encampment.

Wilmington Light Infantry.

The target practice of this company this forenoon was not a pronounced success, the wind being such that good shooting was really one of the impossibilities. The prize—a gold badge—was won by private R. L. Allen, who was declared by the judges to have made the best shot.

To-night and to-morrow night the company will hold a Festival at the City Hall for which they have been actively making preparations for several days. The principal features of this evening's entertainment will consist in a competitive drill in the manual of arms by members of the corps, and the distribution of prizes, as follows: A gold badge to the best shot, a silver waiter to the best drilled soldier in the manual of arms and a silver goblet and waiter to the soldier who can show the best record for punctuality during the past year. These prizes have been on exhibition for several days in the window of Mr. George Honnet's jewelry store and are very pretty and unique in design. They will be awarded by a committee who have been appointed to decide the matter. The entertainment will be a pleasant affair, and refreshments in variety, abundance and of the best quality will be served at reasonable prices.

Amusements Ahead.

Sig. Bosco, the wonderful performer of sleight of hand tricks, will give a series of entertainments at the Opera House this week, commencing Tuesday. He gives away valuable presents and will draw large houses. We clip the following from the Millford (Del.) Chronicle:

Signor Bosco has he d forth at Dorsey's Hall the past three evenings, in his unsurpassed representation of leger domain. We might fill a column with interesting particulars of the tricks, which, with the most consummate skill, he performed in quick succession. But as we can tell how he did the tricks, and as every person will think that he, at least, could have seen more than any one else of the how these things were done, we will wait until more of our readers have had an opportunity to attend one of Prof. Bosco's entertainments, before we attempt to tell what we have seen and heard. One thing we will say. We have learned how he did every trick, and though he may be angry with us for divulging his secret, yet we are anxious to instruct. He did them all by the possession of—MOST PERFECT SKILL!

Perfectly pleasing portraits, taken at

 House.
