

The Daily Review.

JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1883

Printed at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., as second-class matter.

As many as 200,000 barrels of whiskey will be shipped, principally from Newport News and Petersburg, to foreign ports, mainly Bermuda, and reimported, to evade the tax falling due.

Gen. Thomas W. Conway, during his recent visit to London, effected sales of two large tracts of land in the South. He sold to the Hon. Robert Tennant, director of the London and Northwest-orn Railway, 230,000 acres in the State of Arkansas at $3.50 an acre.

Mr. Maginnis is a Northern Democrat. His oration at the recent reunion of the Army of the Potomac was a very long one, but, says the Alexander Gazette, the word rebel can not be found in it.

The Manual Training School of the Washington University, of St. Louis, is a flourishing institution. Though this is only the third year of the school, the classes now embrace 173 pupils.

It is estimated that California will produce 12,000,000 gallons of wine this season. At the vineyard of San Gabriel, the largest in the State, 500,000 gallons of wine and 100,000 gallons of brandy will be made from this year's crop of grapes.

It looks very much, says the New York World, as if history is going to repeat itself in President Arthur's case—as if, having made up his mind to run next year, he were going to share the fate of Tyler, Fillmore and Johnson, like each of them also inflicting a severe—probably a fatal wound upon his party.

The summer madness is what the New York Journal of Commerce styles the enormous strikes which are now as striking a feature of the warm weather as June bugs and mosquitoes.

Unless the situation greatly changes in the next ten days 100,000 men in the coal and iron regions of Pennsylvania will be thrown out of employment by their own act, greatly to the relief of employers and no less greatly to the loss of the striking men and the general public.

these strikes keep the coal miners and the iron workers impoverished and demoralized. They never go back to work the same men as when they left it. They have either been spending their little hoards or living on alms, have acquired deepened habits of idleness and dissipation, and after all their troubles are generally obliged to yield the points for which they had contended.

SHORTS.

The late Bishop Peck recently gave all his property to the Syracuse University. Major Burke, of the New Orleans Times-Democrat, is said to be worth half a million.

The average period of sunshine for the last three months, in London, has been about half an hour a day, not more, a correspondent writes.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Bayard, who died in New York recently, left property worth $8,000,000 to her three grandsons, W. B. Cutting, R. F. Cutting and M. B. Brown.

MOONSHINE.

The following advertisement appeared lately in an Irish newspaper: "This is to notify Patrick O'Flaherty, who lately left his lodgings, if he does not return soon and pay for the same he shall be advertised."

"Well, I ever saw the like," remarked Mr. Whiskey, as he mopped the perspiration from his brow. "I don't see where all this water comes from that oozes through my pores; I haven't tasted the stuff for ten years."

"Do not know commas when you see them?" said the village school teacher to the bookkeeper of a banking-house, whose education had been neglected.

Police court scene—Judge to an unprepossessing tramp: "What are your means of living?" "I am an inventor." "Ah, indeed. And what have you invented?" "Nothing as yet; but I am on the lookout."

The high license law recently passed by the Missouri Legislature makes the minimum license fee for selling liquor $550 and the maximum $1,200 per year, the courts having discretion to fix the fee at any intermediate sum.

The number of watchmen at the docks of Hull has been doubled in consequence of rumored intention on the part of the dynamites to blow up Hull's valuable marine facilities.

"My hands were covered with little dry scabs. They have disappeared and I'm better than I have been for 20 years, from using Dr. Benson's Skin Cure."

In Paris the postoffice department is at work laying pneumatic tubes which are to be utilized for the prompt delivery of letters from one part of Paris to another.

Woman and her Diseases is the title of a large illustrated treatise by Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., sent to any address for three stamps well-sat.

Try to repress thought, and it is like trying to fasten down steam—an explosion is sure to follow. Let thought be free to work in its own appropriate way, and it turns the machine, drives the wheels, does the work.

U. S. Surgeon Recommends, Dr. J. M. G. Peabody, is a U. S. Ex-Surgeon, residing now at Bloomington, Ind. The Dr. writes to say, "I recommend Samaritan Nervine because it cures epilepsy." Physicians, generally, are its friends.

A Vassar College miss reads the prayer book response thus: "As it was in the beginning, now and ever shall be, word without men. Ah, me."

HAYESVILLE, OHIO, Feb. 11, 1880. I am very glad to say I have tried Hop Bitters, and never took anything that did me as much good. I only took two bottles and I would not take $100 for the good they did me.
