The lateness of the spring has moved a New England poet to indite a copy of verses for the Boston Transcript: A MAY MAD-RIGAL; NOT A SAT-IRE.

[After Punch.] The house is fragrant with the bloom Of May flowers from the Pilgrim shore.

And cowslip blossoms fill the room, With violets gathered at the door. What else is wanting, young desire? Only some wood upon the fire.

The frogs are trilling such a lay! The insects, they begin to hum, And so does charity, they say; And Hope is waiting, too, to come. What else is wanting, fond Desire? More coal upon the furnace fire.

The birds begin at early morn;

The days are getting less forlorn, And everything seems all astir. What more is wanting, soft Desre? Another blanket I require.

The kine are kindly taking ease; The sheep are shivering on the cliff, And on the broad expanse of seas Half over comes my lover's skiff. What more is wanting, sweet De-

HOME COMFORT. AFTER A RAINY RIDE A COUNTRY PHYSICIAN

TELLS WHAT HE THINKS OF SOME PEOPLE.

"I wish to gracious some people would learn. when they need a doctor and when they don't" exclaimed Dector E---, as he entered his housein a cosey Mittle village in the interior of the State of New York, after a tedious night ride of many miles. "I have been down among the mountains to see a man who, the messenger said, was very sick and not likely to live 'till morning, unless he had immediate help; and found him suffering from a rather sharp attack of colic, which his family might have relieved in ten minutes, if they had a grain of sense and two or three simple remedies in the house. But no; they must remain ignorant as pigs, and when the least ache or pais takes them, send for a doctor, whether they ever pay him or not." "Why, Doctor, what kind of simple remedies, as you call them, do you expect people to keep in the house?" asked his wife, as she pohred him a cup of hot tea.

"In this case," answered the doctor, "it they had only put a BENSON'S CAPCINE PORUS PLASTER on the man's stomach, he would have been all right in an hour, and saved me a dreary ride "

In all ordinary complaints it cures at once. All diseases are eliminated from the system by what may be roughly called expulsion or extraction, or by a union of the two processes. Benson's Plaster promotes both. It incites the torpid organs to act, and sends its healing soothing influence through the myriad pores of the skin. All other plasters oblige the patient to watt. They give him hope for to morrow. Beuson's plasters gives him help to-day Which is better, do you think? Buy the CAP CINE and keep it in the house. Price 25 cents.
