Smithville Light Infantry.

We learn that the Smithville Light Infantry is in a flourishing condition. The membership is increasing and there is a good deal of interest manifested in the drill, in which the corps is becoming quite proficient. The company was out for practice and drill last night with full ranks, and their evolutions, both in marching and in the manual of arms, were highly creditable.

Returned Sick.

Mr. W. W. Barnes, formerly in the employ of Messrs. Parker & Taylor, in this city, but recently a resident of Georgia, returned last night on account of sickness, and is now confined to his room at the residence of the father, Mr. J. W. Barnes. The young man is well known throughout our city and he has many warm and earnest friends who will watch anxiously for his complete restoration to health at an early day.

Not for the Queen.

The gathering at the residence of Mr. W. Roiddock on the night of the 24th inst., was in honor of the 6th anniversary of the birthday of Mr. William Lumb, who makes an annual visit to our city and is known to many of our people. He also was born on the British soil on the 24th of May, 1819, but waited until the Queen was about 25 minutes old before he made his debut. He is engaged in the mechanic arts and is the principal proprietor of the "smokeless and sparkless" engine which is now engaging the attention of railroad magnates.

Dr. Wood's Lecture.

The lecture last night at Tileston Hall, by Dr. Thomas F. Wood, on "Insectivorous Plants of North Carolina," was well attended and listened to with much interest and instruction. The lecturer spoke of many plants in North Carolina which were destructive life, and among others of the plant which is commonly known as the "Carolina Fly Trap." He also mentioned several other plants, and especially those of a trumpet shape, which insects could descend, but from which they could not make an exit on account of the almost impenetrable fuzzy matter with which the plants were lined, all tending downward and preventing the insects from coming to the top, but retaining them prisoners until death ensued. It was a highly entertaining and instructive effort and the audience were much delighted not only with subject but with the manner in which it was discussed.

The musical part of the entertainment, as rendered by Prof. Van Lacer and Master Alrich Adrian, was a very delightful feature of the evening.

Personal.

Painful Accident.

Mr. Willie R. Savage, who works in the carpenter department of the W. & W. Railroad shops, had the misfortune to meet with quite a severe accident this morning, which will probably prevent him from resuming work for a week or two. He was engaged in sharpening a tool at a grindstone, when it slipped and the thumb of his left hand was caught in some of the machinery and the nail torn off and the thumb badly crushed. Dr. A. D. McDonald was promptly in attendance and rendered the necessary surgical assistance. The young man is not yet eighteen years of age, and although an orphan, has many friends and acquaintances who will sympathize with his misfortune. It was very fortunate that it was no worse.

Business is booming with us, good work tells—go to the Yates Gallery. It.

The District Conference.
(Reported for the Daily Review.)
WHITEVILLE, N. C., May 25, 1883.
The Methodist District Conference, in session here, is largely attended. The citizens of the town in this famous old county of Columbus are extending much kindness and hospitality to the members of the Conference and the numerous visitors from various portions of the State.

That grand old hero of Methodism, Rev. R. O. Barton, P. E., presides, with his usual success, and is the same old man eloquent. Rev. J. S. Burkhead, of Newbern, a giant in intellect, and great force of character, is here as a popular visiting brother, with the pleasing and wide-awake Editor of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, Rev. W. S. Black.

There are also other noted Methodist celebrities. Much business is being done. Harmony reigns supreme. Able sermons are delivered twice a day to crowded audiences in the Methodist Church, where the Conference meets. Interest in education, especially in Trinity College, is manifested. The loss of its President, Dr. Craven, receiving proper attention. Dr. S. S. Satchwell, of Pender county, introduced resolutions showing the necessity of sustaining that institution and the importance of selecting the right sort of a man as the successor of Dr. Craven. The Doctor also, at the request of the Conference, read an able and scientific paper on the influence of alcoholic drinks upon health and in causing disease.

It was unanimously adopted by the conference and ordered to be published. By the way, Mr. Editor friends of the Doctor here are somewhat surprised to see his name omitted in the recent interesting account you have given, in your local columns of the recent meeting of the Doctors at Tarboro. Other papers represent him as being present, active as in former years, and Doctors who attended have stated that he read one of the best and ablest papers of his life. A correspondent, as I see, of the News and Observer, writing from Tarboro, giving an account of that meeting, says of him as follows: "But no paper was more able, or excited more interest than a long one by Dr. Satchwell on what is called 'antiseptic medicine and surgery.' It showed insight and progress in the profession. It will read well, too, when published, as he evidently bestowed labor upon it."

The Conference is pushing work with zeal and no time is wasted. The reports of the ministers, from the various circuits of the district, show a good spiritual condition. Hard work is going on for Methodism with evident indications of a revival spirit during the year. I am glad to see that so many of the delegates, laymen as well as ministers, are ready speakers. The reports and discussions are highly interesting.

Large crowds are coming in, and on Sunday all the churches will no doubt be filled. The Conference will adjourn to-morrow evening after holding a mass meeting to promote home missions.

DIED.

MEYER BEAR, at his residence, corner Sixth and Chestnut streets, after an illness of only two weeks, died this morning at 4:30 o'clock. He was born in Bavaria, Germany, but came to Wilmington, N. C., in 1847, where he has engaged in the mercantile business for thirty six years. He was 78 years old when he died, and leaves a wife and three sons to mourn his death. Throughout his life, as an Israelite, he was ever true to his religion, as husband and father he was always kind and social.

The funeral will take place from his residence Sunday morning, at 9 o'clock. Friends and relatives respectfully invited to attend. 21 Charlotte Journal-Observer and Baltimore Sun please copy.
