DIOCESAN CONVENTION.

THIRD DAY.

The discussion that was begun in the convention night before last relative to the division of the Diocese in this State, was continued yesterday morning on the opening of the convention. A rule was adopted limiting each speaker to fifteen minutes, and no one to speak the second time. The discussion was exceedingly animated and interesting, and at its close in the afternoon the question was put to the vote. The result was largely in favor of the division, the vote standing: Ayes—Clergy 41, laity 26. Noes—Clergy 12, laity 11.

FOURTH DAY.

Morning Prayer was said by the Rev. Messrs. N. Harding and Luther Eborn. The Bishop called the House to order, and the Secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting, and the same was accepted by the Convention. The Bishop rose and explained why he had dissented from the line now proposed, the reasons he gave seeming to him to justify him wholly in declining to give his endorsement. However, though he had perhaps had as strong convictions as any one, still he would heartily withdraw all opposition, and give the line now defined his sanction, and expressed the hope that it would even be accorded a unanimous endorsement by the Convention. He was with the clergy and laity of N. C. in his sincere desire to build up the church, and he now yielded all of his own convictions to the will of the Convention, and trusted the result desired would be reached by vote without dissent.

The vote on the resolution of the committee was called for. Mr. Pettigrew offered a substitute embracing another line which was voted down. Col. DeRosset offered a substitute defining an East and West line but withdrew it. The vote was called viva voce and there were two voices dissenting. Mr. Batchelor, one of these, said he thought it probable from what some one had explained to him that he had voted under a misapprehension and asked to have the line indicated to him. After due examination he said he would readily withdraw all opposition, finding that he had mistaken the boundaries of the line reported and voted, aye. The vote was then made unanimous.

The Rev. John Huske offered a resolution providing for an equal division of the permanent funds of the present Diocese of North Carolina between the two hereafter to exist in the same territory. The Rev. J. B. Cheshire, Jr., offered a resolution pertaining to the steps to be taken by the deputies to the general convention relative to the consent of that body to the division of this Diocese.

The line of division adopted by the convention is defined as follows: All that portion of the present Diocese of North Carolina, including and lying East of the counties of Hertford, Bertie, Martin, Pitt, Greene, Wayne, Sampson, Cumberland and Robeson.

The line is different from the first proposed by Dr. Buel's committee in the placing of Cumberland and Robeson in the East instead of the West. The statistics of this line differ from those already given in connection with the line reported by the committee, in so far as the figures embraced in the counties of Cumberland and Robeson are taken from the West and added to the East.

The convention adjourned at a late hour last night. Asheville was the place selected for holding the next session and May 28th, 1884, the time.

STATE NEWS.

Rockingham Rocket. Mrs. Flora R. Morrison died on last Wednesday night. Mrs. Morrison was one of the oldest settlers in the county, being near a hundred years old. She had been living near where she died, on Mark's creek, in Wolf Pit township, for fifty years or more. She was for a long number of years perfectly blind, but a year or two before she died here, she, as if by magic, returned to her sight.

Hickory Press. Mrs. Sionia Fisher, who died three miles of Hickory last week, as announced in last issue, was a daughter of Conrad Yoder, who came from Pennsylvania to this county about 120 years ago. While Mrs. Fisher lived her lifetime—93 years—she was never able to speak the English language without the assistance of her daughter, Melissa, who understands both German and English. Her friends have enjoyed many long and interesting conversations with her about the plans devised to escape attacks of the Indians who so thickly inhabited this section in her early life. For the past 24 years Mrs. Fisher was unable to see.

Statesville Landmark. There was quite a considerable frost Wednesday morning, 23d, over all this section. This is very late in the season for frost, and it is quite remarkable that it did no more damage than it did. Potato and bean tops were blackened in places, but it is not certain that any sort of garden stuff suffered any worth speaking of. It is asserted that some cotton was killed, but this is doubtful. It is not believed that wheat was hurt at all. Fruit was not injured in the least. It is highly fortunate that the weather was so dry. —Rev. Edward Wootten, of Bertie, who has accepted a call to the rectorship of the Episcopal church of this place, preached here last Sunday morning and evening, administering the sacrament after the morning service. Mr. Wootten has bought the place of Mr. H. A. Bost, on Davis avenue, and will enter on his ministerial duties here about July 1st, removing his family to Statesville in the meantime.

News and Observer. The receipts of cotton here for the week ending Thursday were 493 bales, as against 50 for the corresponding week last year. The total receipts this season, from Sept. 1 to Thursday, were 49,700 against 59,055 to the same date last season. Mr. John Saunders died yesterday afternoon at his home on South street. His death was the result of a severe wound received at Gettysburg July 4th, 1863. His funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Honor to the brave soldier who goes to his last rest. —Quite a sensation is reported at Rogers' bridge over Nouse river. Yesterday a number of cattle were noticed near there running wildly as if pursued. Suddenly the cause of their fright appeared in the shape of a black "snake-whip" snake ten feet long. It would thrash the cattle, the blows sounding like those made by a flail. The cattle were nearly exhausted, with outstretched tongues and blood-shot eyes, when a party of the spectators attacked the snake, which manifested no fear of them, and was after much effort killed.

Journal-Observer. Messrs. H. D. Lee & Co., bankers of Shelby, have been badly swindled by a forged check, and will lose $1,200. On the 18th of this month they cashed a check on New York for that amount, and it has since transpired that the check was a forgery. Our informant could not give the name of the party who presented the check, and knew none of the particulars except the fact that Messrs. Lee & Co. had cashed the check, and that the check proved to be a forgery. The bank will lose the full amount paid on the check. —Major J. G. Harris, who recently purchased the old Asbury farm, near the city, has a farmer who did a lively day's plowing yesterday. Mr. F. A. Reeves is the man, and his record is hard to beat. He started to work early in the forenoon and by dinner he had plowed and killed twenty spreading adders and fifteen copperheads, besides dozens of rats, moles and other varmints, but the biggest haul of all was made in the afternoon, when the astonished farmer plowed up a female dog with nine pups at her breast. The plow share was running over a hollow space in the ground where an old stump had stood when it tumbled into this family. This was too much for Mr. Reeves' nerves, and he unhit his horse, firmly declining to plow another furrow of the old land, unless he could get somebody to walk along by him with a double barreled shot gun, as he didn't know what to expect next.
