

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation, of any newspaper published, in the city of Wilmington.

The "Thirteen Club" of London, at one of their recent dinners, had the menu printed on cards shaped like coffins. This was hardly as cheerful as the skull at the Egyptian banquets.

Roasting witches seems a horrible thing for Western Africa in the nineteenth century, but it is not so very long since the pious New England forefathers were engaged in similar festivities.

A week's record of marriages in Chicago shows that of 223 brides 126 were between 20 and 25 years of age and 60 were 20 and under. Among the grooms 81 were under 25 and 68 between 25 and 30. The average age of the men was 28 years and of the women 24.

Capt. S. A. Ashe, who has been attending the Commencement Exercises at Chapel Hill, writes a very full and interesting report to his paper, the News and Observer. We make some extracts from the report:

The annual address before the two literary societies was delivered, this morning by Chief Justice Manning, of Louisiana. The speaker chose for his subject "Political duties in their highest sense," and the address was an elaborate and finished production. It was eloquent and well received.

Last evening the annual meetings of the societies were held. There was first the admission of honorary members.

The medals awarded by the societies were presented as follows: In the Phi. Society: Declaimer's medal to S C Smith, Goldsboro; Essayist's medal to A W Long, Chapel Hill; Debater's medal to H H Williams, Gates county.

In the D. Society: Declaimer's medal to S W Dick, Greensboro; Essayist's medal to D B Eaton, Mocksville; Debater's medal to Thos Radcliffe, Wilmington.

At 9 a. m. the board of trustees met in the new east building, when degrees were conferred as follows: The degree of LL D, on Hon John Manning, Prof H E Shepherd, Rev S Mendelsohn and Rev A M Shipp, D D, of Vanderbilt University. Dr Mendelsohn is rabbi of the Hebrew synagogue at Wilmington, and this is the first time a degree has been conferred on a Jew in this State.

The degree of D D was conferred upon Rev J E C Smedes, of Raleigh, and on Prof A M Alexander Graham, of Fayetteville. Paul C Cameron, Esq, then submitted a resolution touching the erection of a monument to the memory of Governor Swain, proposing the appointment of a committee to correspond with the alumni with a view to erecting a monument of native granite to his memory.

At 12 m. the Alumni Association met in the chapel. Hon W L Steele was called to the chair. Dr R H Lewis, of Raleigh, reported that $1,110 had been collected for the erection of a gymnasium and the committee was instructed to confer with the executive committee and trustees about the erection of it.

At 5 p m services began in the chapel with a very fervid and eloquent prayer by Rev J L Carroll, formerly of Duplin county. The Baccalaureate sermon was then preached by Dr A B Hepburn, President of Davidson College.

At 8 p m the representatives of the two literary societies delivered original addresses as per following programme: From the Philanthropic Society: John Robert Herring, Jr., Scotland Neck, N. C. Subject: The Mission of the Jews in Europe.

From the Philanthropic Society: James Alexander Bryan, Salters, S C Subject: The Benefits of Organized Charity.

From the Dialectic Society: John Charles Slocumb, Clinton, S C. Subject: Destiny of the Indians.

From the Dialectic Society: Jesse Bowden Hawes, Wilmington, N C. Subject: Perils of Infidelity.

From the Philanthropic Society: William Theophilus Dortch, Goldsboro, N C. Subject: The Rebound of Extremes in Public Sentiment.

From the Dialectic Society: Zebulon Baird Walsler, Yadkin College, N C. Subject: Shall the Land of Washington Survive?

The speeches of Messrs Slocumb and Hawes were the best. That of Mr. Walsler was excellent, while the addresses of Messrs Herring, Bryan and Dortch were very fine.

A brilliant hop was a fitting close to the day's pleasures and intellectual enjoyment.

THURSDAY'S PROCEEDINGS. The trustees held a meeting and took action relative to the enlargement of the chapel and concerning the matter of the gymnasium.

At 11 o'clock senior speaking began, the proceedings being opened with prayer by Dr McKay, of Harnett. The chapel was crowded with loveliness and beauty and men who thoroughly represented North Carolina.

The orations were as follows: Henry Horce Williams, Gates county, N C. Subject—England's Middle Class. Charles Urquhart Hill, Scotland Neck, N C. Subject—Influence of the crusades on modern civilization.

Preston Stamps, Milton, N C.—Subject—The final verdict on the character of the Regulators.

Ira Thomas Burlington, Johnston county, N C. Subject—The immoral influence of our literature.

Charles Lincien Riddle, Chatham county, N C. Subject—The priceless heritage of our English blood.

Thomas Radcliffe, Wilmington, N C

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VII.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1883.

NO. 138

Subject—The ideals of the great civilizations.

Numa Fletcher Heitman, Lexington, N C. Subject—Liberty and law in North Carolina.

John Thomas Strayhorn, Orange county. Subject—Patriot's home.

These addresses were very fine. Some of them were brilliant. Those of Mr. Williams and Mr. Radcliffe, Mr. Strayhorn and Mr. Heitman deserve special mention. But all were worthy of the occasion.

The diplomas were delivered to the graduating class by His Excellency the Governor, who made a short and eloquent address.

Bibles were then presented to each of the graduates by President Hepburn, of Davidson College, who made some very touching remarks on the occasion.

The awards of prizes for scholarship were then made and the roll of merit read. These will appear hereafter. The medal for the best address delivered by the representatives last evening was awarded to Jesse Bowden Hawes, of Wilmington, and was presented by Prof. Mangum.

The Mangum medal was awarded to Numa Fletcher Heitman and handsomely presented by Maj John W. Graham. The degrees were conferred as heretofore announced.

Oakdale Cemetery is indeed a pretty place, and is kept in excellent condition by Mr. Donlan, the efficient Superintendent. The damage done by the storm a few days ago to the avenues and shrubbery has been repaired. Mr. Donlan has just cause to feel proud of Oakdale, and doubtless does, as is evinced by his great care of it.

Damage by the Storm.

We regret very much to hear that the recent rains did much damage to the crops in Caintuck township, Pender county. A gentleman from that section, who arrived here last night, says that the growing crops in many localities in that township were completely drowned out and the efforts of the farmers will result in almost an entire failure.

Oak Grove Cemetery.

We have been informed by Health Officer James, who has the matter in charge, that since the 22nd of March last, there have been 19 interments in Oak Grove Cemetery, formerly known as the "Paupers' Burial Ground." Of this number one was a white man, four were children and the remainder were colored adults.

Preparing to Build.

Excavations are being made on the Southeast corner of Sixth and Princess streets, next to the Lutheran parsonage, preparatory to the erection of a "Session House" for St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, and the building will be pushed as rapidly as circumstances will permit to completion.

Death of Capt. A. P. Hurt.

The sad intelligence reached here this morning of the sudden and entirely unexpected death of Capt. A. P. Hurt, at Fayetteville, yesterday. Our inquiries in the matter have elicited the following, which embrace all the particulars that have yet reached this city. He was about the hotel where he boarded yesterday morning, conversing cheerfully with his many acquaintances and in apparently excellent health and spirits. At about noon he went to his room, leaving orders to be called at dinner time, and when called he was found dead on his bed. The cause of death has not yet been received here.

Capt. Hurt was a Virginian by birth, was between 65 and 70 years of age, and was a widower, having lost his wife several years ago, who left no children. He came to North Carolina quite early in life and for many years was a captain of one of the steamboats running between Fayetteville and this city, in which capacity he secured an excellent reputation, both as a river navigator and as a kind hearted and noble man. He retired from river life about ten years ago, having acquired a competency in the business, and has since been more or less engaged in mercantile pursuits. He was universally respected for his many sterling qualities of head and heart, and his loss will be sorely felt and sincerely mourned by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Rev. Father Gross.

In consequence of the meditated early departure of Rev. Father Gross, and his resignation last Sunday of the pastorate of St. Thomas' Catholic Church, which he had filled for the last fourteen years, a meeting of those worshipping in that church was held last night, with Mr. James Madden in the chair.

On motion of Mr. Frank H. Darby the following address to Rev. Father Gross was unanimously adopted:

The unanimous voice of the congregation of St. Thomas' Church, over which you have for fourteen years held the pastorate, gives forth one lament, that you are to leave us. Your announcement made on last Sunday that you would leave us made our hearts throb with grief, and eyes not given to weeping were moist with emotions of love and affection.

We present to you our heartfelt thanks for the kindness and devotedness with which you have labored in the cause of religion and sound morals and for the earnestness with which you have at all times striven to lead us to things higher, nobler, purer; not only by your teachings from the altar and at the fireside, but by example.

We are conscious that in your departure from us we lose the most devoted of pastors, the kindest of friends, and a Priest whose life with us has drawn forth the utmost of our love and affection. Though you leave us to go to another field of labor, we shall not forget your kindness to us and to others of our community. Through all the vicissitudes of life there will be within the innermost recesses of our hearts a most tender place for Father Gross.

After the address had been read, on motion of Mr. Donlan, a committee was appointed to present it to the Rev. Father Gross.

In a short time the committee, having completed the duty assigned them, returned, escorting Father Gross, who in a brief, touching and appropriate speech, bade his congregation a tender and affectionate farewell.

Call Accepted.

Rev. James Carmichael, D. D., late of the Diocese of Easton, Maryland, has accepted a call tendered him some few weeks since, to the charge of St. John's Church, in this city. He is expected here next week, and will probably preach his first sermon in St. John's to-morrow week. Dr. Carmichael is an elderly man, and is married, and he will reside in the Rectory of the Church.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the first nine days in June, ending with to-day, foot up 721 bales, as against 107 bales for corresponding period of last year, an increase this week of 614 bales.

The receipts of the crop year to date foot up 126,914 bales, as against 135,648 bales to same date last year, a decrease this year of 8,734 bales.

Runaway Accident.

Lewis Martin, an aged colored man, who lives on Middle Sound, was coming down Front street this morning seated in his cart, and when opposite the New Market House, the horse, to which the vehicle was attached, suddenly took fright and ran with all his speed. The old man managed to keep his seat until he reached the corner of Market street, up which the horse turned at a furious rate, upsetting the cart and throwing Martin violently upon the pavement. The horse rushed up Market street, dragging the cart-body, minus the wheels, and was finally caught near the corner of Second street, while men near by picked the old man up and carried him into Dr. W. H. Green's drug store, where his wounds were properly attended to. Singular to relate there were no bones broken and no serious injury, further than a few painful bruises and cuts upon his hands. He says that the horse has heretofore been perfect gentle and docile, and he has not the slightest idea of the cause of the fright in this instance.

A Monument to Capt. Murchison.

A large and very handsome monument to the memory of the late Capt. D. R. Murchison has been erected in Oakdale Cemetery. It is of gray granite and was made at Sharkey's Monumental Works, of Brooklyn, New York. The monument was brought on the Steamer Regulator and was erected by Mr. C. Meister, Superintendent of the Monumental Works; Mr. P. Lovely, Setter for the establishment, and Mr. Donlan, Superintendent of Oakdale, who did much in assisting in the work. The Murchison lot is situated just South of the Confederate lot. The location is a beautiful one, being accessible by six or seven avenues. The monument which will mark the last resting place of the lamented Capt. Murchison is 22 feet high and is surmounted by a colossal granite statue of Hope. The figure is beautiful in model and execution and is 6 feet 6 inches in height. On the North face of the base of the monument, which is 6 feet 6 inches square, is the name MURCHISON, in polished raised letters, while just above it on a smooth tablet is the inscription, "David R. Murchison. Born December 5th, 1837; died February 28th, 1882." The monument is a work of art, is very handsome and is peculiarly attractive by its simplicity.

The ladies are getting interested in the free guessing contest at the Yates Gallery.

We are sorry to hear that Dr. F. C. Miller is on the sick list, but we hope that he will soon be up and out again.

The interments in Pine Forest Cemetery this week were one adult and six children.

There was not a bale of cotton received at this port to-day.
