

The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation, of any newspaper published, in the city of Wilmington.

Jay Gould's new steam yacht made sixteen knots an hour on her trial trip.

Congressman Sparks, of Illinois, promises that his State will go democratic in 1884.

J. H. Haverly made a large fortune at the theatrical management. He sunk it all in Colorado silver mines.

Milk is selling in New York city at from one to ten cents a quart. Expansion of the dairy business and railway development have wrought this change.

The dynamite scare has completely subsided in London. The English people apparently found out that O'Donovan Rossa is not so dangerous as he pretends to be.

North Carolina spends nearly or quite $1,000,000 annually for hay transported from the North, yet she has within her borders the soil, the climate, and all the requisites for raising enough for her own consumption and to spare.

Gen. Sam Cary, the Ohio Greenbacker, has returned to the Democratic fold. This is bad for the Democrats, as Cary is a hard road for any party to carry, even as a private in the ranks, as he will be certain to find occasion to say foolish and injurious things.

Judge McKinzie, the Democratic nominee for Governor in Iowa, was a Republican up to 1872 when he followed the Greeley movement. Two years ago he was defeated for Governor by sixty thousand majority. If he can overcome that majority, this time, he may have a mild Presidential boom. The German vote will settle it.

The Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal reports Gen. Grant as saying in that city on Sunday last: "I am in favor of wiping out the internal revenue system and making the burden of taxation fall upon the imported articles. The States themselves should have charge of the liquor and tobacco tax to do what they please with it."

The Soldiers' Home estate at Washington covers 502 acres. There are 500 inmates, with 150 out pensioners, who get $8 a month. The revenue is about $160,000 a year, derived in part from $100,000 levied by Gen. Scott on the city of Mexico for having permitted guerrillas to fire on American troops, and from a fee of 12 1/2 cents a month deducted from the pay of all soldiers in the army.

The Inter-Ocean desires to have American industry protected so that there shall be a woolclip of 200,000,000 sheep instead of 50,000,000. Applying the same principle to cotton it says: "We now raise a cotton crop for which we get £180,000,000, while England charges £184,000,000 for spinning and weaving two-thirds of it. If we are to double our population in twenty-five years; occupation must be found by the year 1900 for 50,000,000 of new people."

The London Times has made a classification of the vessels of the English navy, and finds that when all are completed England will have 36 first and second class fighting ships, carrying arms of the average weight of 35 tons and armor of the average thickness of 13 inches, and that France will have the same number of ships, whose guns will average 40 tons, all breech-loaders, and with armor of the average thickness of 14 inches. Should a combination, it says, be made between France and Italy, in case of any Mediterranean trouble, England would be in a minority of twelve vessels, four of the Italian vessels carrying 100 ton guns.

A correspondent of one of the London newspapers—evidently a brother of our own Eli Perkins—writing from Moscow of the coronation ceremonies, says: "I was not one of the favored correspondents admitted to the cathedral during the sacred ceremonies, but I stood outside in the magnificent assemblage of guards and minor courtiers. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the procession moved out of the cathedral to the sound of music and the waving of banners. I caught sight of the Czar as he came down the steps, and I thought I had never seen on his face before such an expression of sadness and weariness. He was carrying his crown in his hand, having replaced it with a neat plug hat which set off with good effect his gorgeous robes. As he passed by me there was a temporary halt in the procession. He turned and recognized me. His eye lighted in a moment. The shadows left his face. He winked in the drollest manner imaginable, and leaning over towards me said in most excellent English: 'I'm a hard man on a dusty road.' The procession of glittering sorrow moved on and I did not see Aleck again for two days."

To-day has been decidedly hot. The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 13 bales.

Send your Friends to the Yates Gallery they will be treated well.

There was a general complaint along the wharves to-day of dull times and hot weather.

See advertisement of Prof. Philippe in another column of the entertainment at Odd Fellows Hall.

Eggs have tumbled in price and could be bought to-day at the rate of six dozen for $1. Good.

Whortleberries have advanced in price; ten cents a quart having been the price asked for them to-day.

Mr. Luke B. Huggins, who has been seriously sick for several days, we are glad to say, was very much better this morning.

The Health Officers are keeping a sharp lookout for the sanitary condition of the city, and so far as our observation extends they have done faithful and efficient work.

The steamer John Dawson, which arrived here last evening from Point Caswell, had one of the largest cargoes ever brought by her. It consisted entirely of Naval Stores.

Dr. J. A. Smith, of Goldsboro, who recently graduated at the University Medical College of New York, is in the city and will be associated with Dr. W. J. Love in the practice of medicine.

It was Mr. Edward Latimer and wife, instead of Mr. Herbert Latimer (as announced yesterday) who will make a trip to Europe. They left here on the last night's train for New York, and will sail thence for Europe by steamer on the 20th inst.

The trip of Mr. Pembroke Jones to Europe, we learn, will be entirely of a business character, connected with the interests of the Carolina Rice Mills. He will return as soon as the business which calls him hence is concluded.

To Builders and others—Go to JACOBI'S for Sash, Blinds and Doors, Glass, &c. You can get all sizes and at the lowest prices.

Miss Mary E. Faison, the fifteen years old daughter of Mr. Lucius Faison, of Clinton, Sampson county, took the first prize for proficiency in playing the piano at Peace Institute, Raleigh, for two consecutive sessions. She is a remarkable musician. Her first instructor was Prof. Hobbs, now of this city.

Personal.

Our young musical friend, Mr. J. D. Smith, leaves to-morrow for the North, where he will spend the Summer. We regret his departure and hope that he will find it to his interest to return before many months.

Mr. Henry Newman, formerly of this city, but now connected with an extensive mercantile house in New York, is here on a brief visit to friends and relatives. He is in good health. A Northern climate and plenty of hard work seems to agree with him.

Along the Line.

We hear that there were very heavy showers of rain, accompanied by thunder and lightning yesterday, at Weldon and Rocky Mount, and intermediate points on the W. & W. Railroad. Our informant had not heard of any serious damage to either person or property in consequence of the storm.

Don't Play with Edged Tools.

Two boys—one white and the other colored—were playing this morning near the corner of Chestnut and Seventh streets, when the latter stuck a knife into the arm of the former, making a deep wound from which the blood flowed profusely for awhile. It was entirely an accident, as the best of feeling existed between the two, and the only blame attaching to the accident is the reprehensible practice of playing or scuffling while edged tools are in the hands.

Superior Court.

The proceedings before this tribunal to-day consisted of a continuation of the case of J. A. Walker, vs. C. P. Mebane and others, which had not concluded when our report closed.

Robbery.

We learn that the store of Mr. M. G. Chadwick, at Castle Hayne, was broken open on Sunday night and goods to the amount of nearly or quite $100 taken therefrom. Suspicious circumstances point very strongly to a certain man as the thief, but we suppress his name for good reasons.

City Court.

William Davis, colored, charged with an assault and battery, was brought before the Mayor this morning. He was found guilty and a fine of $5 and costs was imposed for the offense.

A. H. Culligan, charged with disorderly conduct, was found guilty and a fine of $5 was imposed.

One man charged with disorderly conduct was discharged.

Almost a Fire.

At about 11.30 o'clock this forenoon fire was discovered on the roof of the kitchen in the yard of Col. J. L. Cantwell's residence near the corner of Princess and Ninth streets, and they alarm given. The fire department turned out promptly, but before they reached the place the flames were extinguished and they returned. The damage was small, a slight hole only being burned in the roof.

Pretty effects in posing and lighting on sitters taken by LARDNER, Yates Gallery.

River News.

Steamboatmen report that there is now excellent boating water in the Cape Fear, and that heavily loaded boats can come through without delay. They also state that owing to the recent rains freight has not reached the several landings promptly, and that the boats are running with light downward loads because settled so as to permit of hauling there will be quite an increase in downward freight traffic on the river.

Convalescent.

Capt. R. S. Radcliffe has been quite sick for nearly three weeks. He was taken sick while in Philadelphia, whither he had gone some three weeks ago, in consequence of a severe cold, which settled on his lungs. He returned on Saturday night, the 2nd inst., and was so prostrated that he was compelled to keep in the house for several days. He is now able to be out, although yet quite feeble, but we are glad to state that his health is improving.

Children's Memorial Association.

At a meeting of the Children's Memorial Association, held on Monday, June 11th, the following officers and managers were elected for the ensuing year: President—Mrs. Albert Gore. Vice President—Miss Belle Anderson. Treasurer—Miss Johnnie Quince. Secretary—Miss Eliza Meares. Managers—Misses Janie Northrop, Callie R. French, Athalia Lippitt, Augusta Moore, Maude Hall, Isabella Heinsberger, Katie Harriss and Sue Cumming.

The Medical Uses of Eggs.

For burns and scalds there is nothing more soothing than the white of an egg, which may be poured over the wound. It is softer as a varnish for a burn than a colloid, and being always on hand can be applied immediately. It is also more cooling than the "sweet oil of cotton," which was formerly supposed to be the surest application to allay the smarting pain. It is the contact with the fair which gives the extreme discomfort experienced from ordinary accidents of this kind; and anything which excludes air and prevents inflammation is the thing to be at once applied. The egg is also considered one of the best remedies for dysentery. Beaten up lightly, with or without sugar, and swallowed at a gulp, it tends, by its emollient qualities to lessen the inflammation of the stomach and intestines, and by forming a transient coating on these organs to enable nature to assume her healthful sway over the diseased body. Two, or at most three, eggs per day would be all that would be required in ordinary cases, and, since the egg is not merely a medicine, but food as well, the lighter the diet otherwise, and the quieter the patient is kept, the more certain and rapid is the recovery.
