The Daily Review has the largest bona fide circulation, of any newspaper published, in the city of Wilmington.

Brignoli has written a serenade and dedicated it to the Princess Louise by her permission.

Mme. Modjeska's husband, Charles B. Chlapowski, has been admitted to American citizenship in San Francisco.

There is a big Republican bolt in New Hampshire and Blair and Rollins may not succeed themselves in the Senate.

Congressman Ketchum of New York has been ill in Washington since Congress adjourned, and is only able now to move.

The Chinese Legation attended every performance of a circus at Washington and said they had enjoyed no such treat since Congress adjourned.

George Bridges Rodney, the oldest lawyer of the Delaware bar, died at his home in New castle, Sunday. He was born in 1802, and was twice elected to Congress by the Whigs.

It has taken a State tax of something more than $1,000,000 a year to maintain the Hoosac Tunnel, to bore which through the Hoosac mountain cost Massachusetts about $20,000,000.

The Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, in West Virginia, opened on Saturday with the arrival of 105 guests. Sam. Collier, the ex-pugilist, is the chief of police at the springs to maintain good order.

General George Crook is about 53 years of age, but he looks little more than 40. He is about 5 feet 10 inches high, wiry as a greyhound, and can outstride and outmarch any man in the American army.

The city solicitor of Philadelphia holds that an alien resident of that city who has declared his intention of becoming a citizen, but has not yet received his naturalization papers, cannot take out license to sell liquor.

The New York World says it is not aware that it is giving aid and comfort to Mahone. Well, perhaps not; but the World has evidently made two big mistakes lately, one on the school question and the other in the miscigenation matter. It cannot back too soon for its own good and that of the party.

The late Gen. Alfred Austell's remains repose under a $16,000 mausoleum. This is probably the most expensive tombstone south of the Potomac.—Augusta Chronicle.

All pomp and pride and vanity of vanities. How much better to have taken that $16,000 and endowed some worthy institution of learning or charity! How far nobler such a monument to the memory of a good man!

Sunset Cox has been in Indiana. He was at Indianapolis on Monday, when he was interviewed. His ideas as to the political situation are interesting. We quote:

Mr. S. S. Cox, of New York, has been in the city for a day or two ostensibly to prepare a speech which he is to deliver to-morrow night before the students of Asbury University. The fact, however, that he has spent more of his time in company with two or three democratic Congressmen and the democratic State officers would indicate that he has an eye to other matters as well as is not allowing his canvass for the Speakership to suffer.

There is a very strong prejudice against Mr. Randall on the part of Congressman Ward, Matson, Stock-slayer and others, and there is no doubt that an effort is being made to concentrate the force of the Indiana delegation on Cox. One of the State officers said to your correspondent to-day that Cox "would at least divide the Indiana delegation, if he does not receive its solid support. The sentiment seems to be "anything to defeat Randall." Congressman Ward will vote for anybody can doubtless be secured for Cox.

Mr. Cox stated that he would certainly go into the caucus with the solid support of the New York delegation and he was going to make the liveliest fight he knew how. When interrogated on political matters Mr. Cox said: "I do not care to ruin my own chances by discussing those of others; I am fighting for Cox."

"What do you think of the Ohio campaign?" was asked. "The Democrats will carry the State," he replied, "aided, as they are, by the defections from the Republican ranks on the liquor question. That has already crippled them."

All that Mr. Cox would say of the quarrel between Messrs. McDonald and Hendricks was that Indiana would get nothing in the way of Presidential nominations unless she united on one man.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 7 bales.

There was a large crowd went down the river on the Passport to-day.

The Baptist State Sunday School Convention is in session at Shelby this week.

Mr. C. P. Mebane, of this city, was on Monday last reappointed a Notary Public by Gov. Jarvis.

There was quite a scrimmage near the foot of Princess-street this morning in which two colored men participated.

There was not a candidate for the consideration of the Mayor this morning, and, consequently, there was no City Court.

Mr. D. S. Kennedy, son of Rev. W. M. Kennedy, and principal of Warsaw High School, gave us the pleasure of a call this morning.

See notice of Col. John D. Taylor, City Treasurer, in another column, of payment of bonds and coupons falling due on the 1st of July, 1883.

We are told that the criminal docket of Pender Superior Court is very light and will be entirely disposed of to-day, when the civil docket will be taken up.

The dog cart was making its rounds this morning, and quite a number of canines, minus license badges, were captured and after being kept about an hour, were slaughtered.

Mr. Eli Ellwell, so long and well known as a book binder in this city, leaves to-night to take charge of the bindery department of the Charlotte Journal-Observer office.

His Honor, Mayor Hall, has an important notice in the advertising columns of this issue which it would be well for those interested to read and attend to at once. It means business.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Latimer sail from New York to-morrow, for Europe, on the steamship Celtic, of the White Star Line. Capt. Cazaux and Mr. Pembroke Jones, we understand, were to have sailed to-day.

The death of Mr. Wm. R. Hunter, so well known in North Carolina as the "Children's Friend," who died in Baltimore recently, in his 65th year, will be universally regretted throughout this State, where he had hosts of friends.

Yesterday's News and Observer says: Rev. Dr. J. B. Taylor, of Wilmington, preached Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church and in the evening at Second Baptist church, both sermons being of great power.

A trip to the Sound to-night will be pleasant and interesting. There will be a big full moon and the tides will be unusually high, covering all the marshes with water, whose waves shining in the pure moonlight will make a charming spectacle.

At 9 o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 84 degrees in our office. The showers of yesterday evening cooled the atmosphere for the time and made the night more comfortable for sleeping, but this morning was hot enough to make up for lost time.

Messrs. A. & I. SHIER have received, per express, a large lot of Children's Blouse Suits made up very handsomely in different shades, which they will sell at astonishingly low prices. Call early and procure a suit for the boys.

Yesterday's Excursion.

The excursionists to Waccamaw Lake yesterday returned a little before 8 o'clock last evening. The day passed without accident to any one and had it not been for the showery weather in the afternoon the trip would have been delightful. As it was the excursionists put the best face on the matter possible and notwithstanding the weather, had a very enjoyable time.

To Builders and others—Go to JACOBI'S for Sash, Blinds and Doors, Glass, &c. You can get all sizes and at the lowest prices.

Improvements.

Capt Tom Harper left here last week for the North for the purpose of getting a new boiler for the steamer Passport. During his absence he will examine all the principal machine works in the vicinity of Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston and will select the very best to be obtained from any of the many establishments he may visit. Improvements to the extent of about $4,000 will be made to the Passport next Fall.

To-Night's Excursion.

The moonlight excursion on the Passport, which was to have taken place last night, but was postponed on account of the weather, will be given to-night. Excursionists will have the benefit of the fullest sort of a full moon and the weather has been adjusted on the most favorable terms for complete enjoyment. Many were disappointed last night, but the fun of the occasion will be none the less because it has been unavoidably deferred.

The Excursion To-morrow.

Those who can spare the time (the expense isn't worth nothing) and would like to "put in" a day for pleasure and recreation, will have an opportunity to-morrow by an excursion down the river on the Passport, which will be given under the auspices of the Fifth Street M. E. Sunday School. It will be a pleasant party and the weather is fondly expected to be on its very best behavior for the occasion.

Death of Mrs. Green.

We learn from the News and Observer that the wife of Col. Wharton J. Green, Congressman from the third district, died at his home at Tokay, near Fayetteville, Saturday afternoon, aged about 44 years. For years she had been an invalid, but within the past three months her illness had assumed a more dangerous form. Mrs. Green was a Miss Ellery, and was born in Massachusetts. She had a very large circle of acquaintances in this State.

Why is it?

It is a matter of comment among all who are conversant with the matter, that never in the history of the city have the people been so prompt in coming forward to list their taxable property as they have been thus far this year. In former years frequent advertisements in the newspapers have been necessary, and it has only been during the last few days prescribed by law for listing that a large proportion of the property has been given in. In the present instance, however, all this is changed, and the great rush has been during the early days of listing. No one seems able to tell the cause which has produced this change for the better.

Not Exactly Fallen Off.

It is not worth while to let a wrong impression get abroad as to the receipts of cotton at this port. So far from there having been a falling off during the past few years there has been an absolute and remarkable gain as a summary of the figures will show. It is true that the receipts this year do not equal those of last year but 1882 was an exceptional year with us. Wilmington was, we believe, about the only port which made a gain in that year over 1881 and the increase then was 17,668 bales, a very remarkable one. As compared with 1882 the crop year to date in this year shows a decrease, it is true, of 9,730 bales, but the same figures give an increase over 1881, to same date, of 9,749 bales. That is, we are, so far this year, nearly 10,000 bales behind 1882 and nearly 10,000 bales ahead of 1881, to same dates in crop year. The following figures, taken from the books at the Produce Exchange will explain the situation:

From Sept. 1, 1880, to Sept. 1, 1881, the receipts were 119,713 bales; and from Sept. 1, 1881, to Sept. 1, 1882, they were 137,341 bales.
From Sept. 1, 1880, to June 20, 1881, they were 117,395 bales; from Sept. 1, 1881, to June 20, 1882, they were 136,874 bales; and from Sept. 1, 1882, to June 20, 1883, they are 127,144 bales.

Wilmington is not, by any means, the only point where the receipts thus far in 1883 have fallen short of those to the corresponding date in 1882. Raleigh, for instance, which made heavy gains last year has fallen short this year more than we have in receipts not half as large as ours.

A College Card.

Rev. J. H. Davis, Prest, Wesleyan Female College, Murfreesboro, N. C., wrote of Dr. Worthington's Cholera and Diarrhoea Medicine, that it had been used for many years in his institution with success.

Following the Sun in its Course.

Since 1868 the sun and moon in their courses have not been more accurate to the calculation than the Grand Monthly Drawings of the Louisiana State Lottery, which have occurred on the second Tuesday of each month at noon in New Orleans. The next (the 158th) event will take place on the 10th day of July, when $265,500 will be distributed by Gen's G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va. Any information can be had on application to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La.

The guessing contest closes Saturday evening; register at the Yates Gallery.

The late M. B. Callendine, Esq.

The following tribute to the memory of one who was a useful and honored citizen and a ripe Christian, will be read with interest by many of our readers.
DIED—June 12, 1883, in the 79th year of his age, Mr. M. B. CALLENDINE, leaving a wife and two daughters, Mrs. J. M. Heck, of Raleigh, and Mrs. J. B. Taylor, of Wilmington, besides a wide circle of friends and relatives in Virginia and North Carolina to cherish his memory. The funeral services, appropriate and touching, were held in Raleigh, and conducted by Rev. Dr. Skinner. Messrs. Richard H. Battle and B. P. Williamson, along with the Deacons of the First Baptist Church of Raleigh, acted as pall-bearers. The remains were followed to their last resting place in the beautiful cemetery, by a large number of loving friends.

Mr. Callendine was for over 30 years a successful merchant and highly esteemed and prominent citizen of Morgantown, West Va. He was for more than 40 years a useful and active member of the Baptist Church. He was, early in his Christian course, elected a Deacon, which office he held to the day of his death. During his long life in West Virginia, as well as during his last years in North Carolina, he was held in loving and reverential regard by all who knew him. Though a man of great force of character, he was possessed of "a meek and quiet spirit". Mr. Callendine knew and loved the Scriptures, and was emphatically a man of prayer. Few laymen were so glib in public prayer. For him death had no terrors. When the end came, he was entirely conscious of his condition and said: "I know whom I have believed." "My trust is in Him who died for our offences and rose again for our justification." He repeated as expressive of his own sentiments:
"Jesus can make a dying bed
Feel soft as downy pillows are,
While on His breast I lean my head,
And breathe my life out sweetly there."
The survivors do not "sorrow as those without hope." They may feel that "all is well." Surely it is well when an aged pilgrim is with that Saviour in whom he put all his trust. The infirm, suffering servant has gone to fairer worlds on high, where
"The pilgrim reposes; the fields are all green;
Where day never closes, nor clouds intervene.
Oh, the sights they see there; such is eye bath
Ob, the songs they sing there, with hosannas between"

May the God of all comfort sustain the bereaved family, leading them to rejoice in the will and ways of Him who was the stay and joy of their loved one who has gone on before.
