The Daily Review. JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop. WILMINGTON. N. C.

FRIDAY. JUNE 29. 1883

Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C as second-class matter.

Capt. Holstein, of the Danish army, has invented, for the use of infantry soldiers, a shield, which, though.weighing but seven pounds, is bullet-proof and handy. It is of steel, 20 inches long by 18 broad. Two spikes at the advertising. bottom enable the soldier to fix it firmly in the ground, and a hollow at the top can be used as a rest for his rifle. The experiments that were made with the shield at Copenhagen a short time ago were deemed highly satisfactory, but will be repeated on a larger scale before the Danish Government decides as to its adoption for the army.

The Central Presbyterian says: "Instead of dying out, the Jewish body shows increasing vitality. They cannot be stamped out or swallowed up. They pass from country to country to become practically masters wherever they go. They get the land in Germany and Hungary, and grow rich in Russia; they are the great bankers in London and Paris and the centres of European commerce. Inten (recent) years the Rothschilds furnished £100,000,000 in loans to England, Austria, Prussia, France, Russia and Brazil. They increase faster than Christians, and of every 100,000 persons only 80 Jews die to 143 Christians."

President Arthur has approved the findings and sentence in the case of Major Wasson, an assistant paymaster in the army, in consequence of which one military rogue stands a fair chance of getting his deserts. Major Wasson was short in his accounts to the amount of many thousand dollars, and to ac count for the deficit claimed that he had been robbed. An investigation of the matter, however, led to his arrest and confinement and charges and specifications were preferred against him. Upon these he was tried by a court be present, besides the Prince of Wales. Mr Gladstone, Lord Coleridge, the Earl of Derby, the Marquis of Hartmartial and tound guilty of embezzle- ington, Earl Granville, Mr. Chamberment and the sentence of the court that he be dismissed the service and be imprisoned eighteen months. These being approved by President Arthur, the culprit will be formally dismissed the service by special order and then he will be transferred to the prison selected as his place of confinement. The way of the transgressor is hard in the ariny, sometimes, but it appears to us that where one is punished a score of those who are guilty escape. Heretofore there have been one hundred and twenty-six internal revenue collection districts in the Untied States, but during the present week this number has been made less by forty-six, so that there are now but eighty. The following shows the number of districts reduced in each State and Territory affected by the order: Alabama, 1; Nevada, 1; Connecticut, 1; Georgia, 1; Dakota, 1; Wyoming, 1; Arizona, 1; Pennsylvania, 4; Virginia, 2; North Carolina, 1; Tennessee, 1; Kentucky, 2; Ohio, 4; Indiana, 3; Illinois, 2; Michigan, 2; Wisconsin, 2; Iowa, 1; Missouri, 2; Minnesota, 1; West Virginia, 1; Maryland, 1; Massachusetts, 1; New York, 5; Washington Territory, 1; New Jersey, 1; Idaho, 1; Mon-1ana, I. Total. 46. It is estimated at the Treasury Department that an annual saving of $200,000 will result from this reduction. which is an important item for consideration. The amount that will be saved, however, is of little consequence as compared with the fact that the present reduction of internal revenue collection districts is but the first blow towards the entire system -the beginning of the end, and the end is not far off. The work ought to have been begun years New Orleans Picayune believes the ngo, but it is better late than never .-Once fairly begun there is but little danger that good progress will not be made in the commendable and neces' sary work. It will continue-and we hope, unceasingly-until there is not such a thing as an internal revenue collector, agent, spy, detective, informer or any other hanger on of that delectable system, in the United States.

The Southern Cow Pea.

They have been experimenting with the cow pea at the New York Agricultural Experiment Station with the hope that it may take the place of clover as a forage plant and fertilizer. If they can make it a success, it will in time be extensively cultivated in the Middle and some of the Western States, since this crop comes to maturity in less than three months trom planting, while clover sown in March does not mature such articles as you may purchase in the Maruntil a year from the following summer-fifteen months or more. The ket. field pea of the South may be much more valuable than clover at the North. Southern farmers are slow in securing the full benefits which the pea crop might bestow upon them. It is no ex periment on Southern farms.
