Carolina Lodge No. 434. Regular meeting this evening at 8 o'clock. Full attendance desired.

Steamboatmen report that the river is getting low again, there being only about three feet of water on the shoals on Saturday last, with the depth perceptibly on the decrease.

The second cotton bloom of the season, but the first in this immediate vicinity, was handed in this morning. It opened yesterday and grew upon the plantation of Mr. E. L. Pearce, on the Sound.

white as the street costume of the ladies. There is a liberal use of gay ribbons Capt. Price, the Harbor Master: this Summer, in the shape of streamers worm at the shoulder, and the effect is very pretty indeed.

A young lad was taken with a fit in front of McIlhenny's drug store this morning, which created a sensation for a few moments. It lasted but a few minutes and was not of a serious character.

We understand from very good authority that the fare to Burgaw on the Fourth will be reduced to one dollar for the round trip. This will be agreeable news to a good many who would like to celebrate the day in the country.

Mr. A. H. Kelley, formerly of this city, but now of West Point, Va., was here yesterday and Saturday on a short visit. He was on his return from Birmingham, Ala., where he had been to attend the wedding of his brother, Mr. Walter Kelley.

We saw a number of our citizens this morning examining a blossom which is quite rare at this season of the year although it is common a little later. None could tell what it was and all differed as to its proper name. It was a cotton bloom!

The News and Observer says that Col. Wharton J. Green and his daughters, Misses Sadie and Mabel, have gone to Boston, Massachusetts. It is probable that they will spend the Summer in Nova Scotia, Miss Sadie's health not being very good.

Jupiter.

Juniter is evening star until the 5th, and then morning star the rest of the month. The giant planet is a busy member of the sola community during the month of July, as the monthly record shows. He figures as chief actor in four of its principal incidents. He is in conjunction with the sun, in conjunction with the moon, in conjunction with Mercury and in conjunction with Venus. On the 5th, at 10 o'clock in the morning, he is in conjunction with the sun, one of the grand epochs of his course. He rises and sets with the sun, and is entirely hidden in its rays; passing behind him and reappearing on his western side, he commences his course as morn-

Alice Hall, a colored woman who figures frequently and prominently in police circles. for disorderly conduct was fined $10, with the alternative of 30 days in the city prison. She took the alternative.

One colored boy, whose tame we suppress, for disorderly conduct in the vicinity of St. Lake's Church, on Seventh and Castle street, thereby disturbing a religious congregation, was fined $5, which was paid.

Very Flattering.

The following, which we clip from the Arkansas Traveler, will be read with much interest by Mr. E. A. Old ham's many friends in this city:

The manuscript of Edward A. Oldham's sonnet, "Her Majesty, My Queen," that has attracted so widespread comment and was published in almost every paper in the country, upon being shown to Paul H. Hayne, the Southern poet, won from him these encomiums: "It seems to me there is w 'first sonnet,' it is assuredly remarkable, and shows that the author has studied a peculiarly difficult sort of composition." In a letter from the poet's wife to Mr. Oldham, she says: your sonnet in print, and he bids me to say that he likes it even better after perusal in print than he did before, and ed, per express a large lot of Children's that you have a very clear conception of the art of sonnet making." These comments, totally unsolicited, from so reat a sonneteer, to as young a man as at astonishingly low prices. Call early Mr. Oldham, and upon his first effort in this species of poetical construction, presages a literary future for the latter.
