Days' length 14 hours and 27 minutes.

Keep out of the hot sunshine as much as possible.

Good facilities for grouping at the Yates Gallery. 3t.

There were no interments in Bellevue Cemetery this week.

Sunset to-morrow afternoon at 18 minutes past 7 o'clock.

There was not a bale of cotton received at this port to-day.

There are 10,000 iron workers on a strike in Staffordshire, England.

Don't drive the willing horses too fast this excessively hot weather.

There was one interment—that of a child—in Oakdale Cemetery this week.

Chicken thieves are committing depredations in the Eastern portion of the city.

The wind this morning was hot and gusty, and the streets were dry and dusty.

We notice a good many mangy, flea-bitten, sickly-looking curs roaming about the streets without any badge.

There were five interments in Pine Forest Cemetery this week, three of whom were adults and two were children.

The cholera epidemic in Egypt is something appalling. There were 341 deaths there last Wednesday and Thursday.

The Register of Deeds issued five marriage licenses this week, three of which were for white and two for colored couples.

Rev. W. M. Kennedy was in the city this morning, on his way to Masonboro, where he will preach to-morrow at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

A called meeting of the Carolina Yacht Club will be held on Monday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, at the office of Messrs Norwood Giles & Co.

Steamboatmen report that there has been a slight rise in the river within the last few days, although the water is yet too low for easy navigation.

Chicken cholera prevails quite extensively in the country, a few miles from Wilmington. We hear of one party, who out of a flock of 90 has lost half of them from that disease.

Work on Messrs. Brown & Roddick's new building is being pushed right along. The timbers of the second floor have been placed in position, and the walls of the second story have reached a considerable height.

Sylvester Artis, colored, was drunk and down yesterday, for which the Mayor this morning fined him $2. The money was not forthcoming, and he was sent below for ten days.

The market was well supplied with meats this morning, and some of the beef was much better in quality than that recently displayed there. The supply of vegetables was good both in quality and quantity.

Mr. Fred Shotter, who has been absent ever since last February, at his old home in Cleveland, Ohio, has returned to the city and says he is glad to get back. He ascribes this happy state of his feelings to the effects of the Rock Spring water.

Ex-policeman Watkins was on the streets to-day for the first time in several weeks. He is yet quite feeble and his arm remains almost entirely useless, although there is a prospect that he will eventually be completely restored to health and strength.

June Apples.

Mr. D. S. Alderman, a good friend and subscriber of ours from the Point Caswell section of Pender county, called in to see us to-day and left with us a lot of beautiful June apples, two varieties, the largest and the finest we have seen this season. They were raised by Mr. Owen Alderman, his father, one of the oldest citizens of Pender county who is, by the way, also in the city to-day with the intention of spending a few days at the Sound. Mr. Alderman tells us that the people of his section will make some very interesting displays at the fruit fair if it is held in Wilmington.

Unmarketables.

The following is a list of the unmarketable postal matter remaining in the Postoffice in this city:

Peter Davis, care Mrs. Sarah Lawrence; W. J. Hollingsworth, Boro. N. C.; J. O. Herring, Long Bluff, N. C.

Artistic and pleasing Portraits. LARDNER, Photographer, Yates' Gallery.

Golden Days.

The July number of this excellent periodical is at hand. It is as bright and handsome and attractive as ever and is a great favorite with the young folks. It is replete with interesting matter and the illustrations, of which there are many, are very fine. A beautiful chromo accompanies this number.—Published by James Elverson, Philadelphia, at $3 a year.

Cow Peas.

A little article in a recent issue of the REVIEW, relative to the cultivation of the cow pea, has called the attention of a friend to the fact that the June issue of the North Carolina Medical Journal has an extract from Lawson relative to that product, wherein he speaks of a small red pea which was very common with the Indians, who would "eat a great deal of that and other sorts boiled with their meat or eaten with bear's fat."

Careless Shooting.

Lewis Dry, a well known colored man living on Market, between Ninth and Tenth streets, was taking a nap last Sunday when he was awoke by the report of a gun from which a bullet came crashing through the window and buried itself in the opposite wall. He has no knowledge as to who fired the gun or what was the purpose, but feels that he was fortunate in having laid down instead of standing up at the time.

Didn't Like the Organ.

An organ was loaded into a cart to which a horse was attached, in front of Mr. Heinsberger's Live Book and Music Store, this morning, when just as it was made fast for transportation, from some cause the horse took fright and jumped entirely clear of the shafts and the harness except the bridle. After showing what he could do in the way of unharnessing himself in the shortest possible time, the horse remained perfectly quiet until the harness was readjusted and the cart attached, when he was driven away acting as meek and gentle as a lamb. He was evidently a "readjuster" horse who was dissatisfied with the "organ" of his party.

The Weather in July.

Venor's weather predictions for July are as follows: 1, storms; 2, 3, sultry, with strong warm winds and severe hail storms in western areas; 4, 5, unsettled, with thunder storms; 6, rainy, with thunder storms; 7, cloudy and murky weather; 8, cooler, local rains; 9, 10, dryer weather north, rain in southern and western districts; 11, cool and windy; 12, 13, 14, quite cool; 15, 16, 17, stormy and heated term in most sections, daily thunder and hail storms, nights cooler; 18, 19, warm and favorable weather; 20, 21, storms of rain and wind; 22, windy and unsettled; 23, 24, fine warm weather; 25, 26, 27, 28, cooler weather, stormy in south and west; 29, scattered storms, cool; 30, 31, rains nearly everywhere, cool weather.

The Fruit Fair.

Thursday's issue of the Greensboro Patriot has this to say of the fruit fair which it is proposed to hold in this city at an early day:

A meeting of the North Carolina Fruit Growers' Association has been called at this place July 13. At this meeting it will be determined where and when this year's exhibition shall be held. The initial exhibition of the association was held in Greensboro last year and was a most gratifying success. The proceeds of the exhibition were ample to pay all expenses without calling on contributors for one penny. In the opinion of many it was thought best not to have any fixed locality for these annual exhibitions, allowing each fruit growing section in the State equal advantages in the matter of local exhibitions. They are gotten up with but little cost, and are worth a great deal to the community in which they are held. The fair last year was much to Greensboro, in the way of advertising our fruit in this county and section. It brought customers from every part of the country and discovered markets hitherto unknown to us. The prospect is that the exhibition this year will be held in Wilmington, and we think the point a most excellent one. The energetic president of the association, Capt. Paddison, lives near Wilmington, and is actively at work to make the exhibition a success. Wilmington merchants are becoming interested in the matter, and are reported as making liberal offers of assistance.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the week ending with to-day foot up 10 bales, as against 33 bales for corresponding week of last year, a decrease this week of 23 bales. The receipts of the crop year to date foot up 127,362 bales, against 135,950 bales to same date last year, a decrease this year of 8,668 bales.

The Sunday School connected with St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church will make an excursion to Waccamaw Lake on Wednesday, July 11th. Messrs W. H. Strauss, G. W. Bornemann and J. D. H. Klander are the committee of arrangements, which is a sufficient guarantee that the comfort and pleasure of the excursionists will be cared for.

Present Arms!

Lt. Col. Olds, of the Ordnance Department, N. C. S. G., has written a letter to Brig. Gen. Matthew P. Taylor, of this city, in which he states that the arms for the Smithville Light Infantry have been shipped and will reach here to-night. The Company has been reported to us as being in fine condition, having made commendable proficiency in marching, and upon the receipt of their arms they will begin to feel truly as "soldier boys."
